

University Club Elects Nick Read New President

Berg Named Secretary;
Rogers Becomes
Treasurer

NEW CONSTITUTION READ

An enthusiastic group of University Club members last night elected Nick Read to take the leadership of the "spirit" organization on the campus during the next year.

Some forty-odd old and new members of the club continued the balloting for a 1936-37 administrative rein under the Read order and chose Randall Berg as secretary and Frank Rogers as treasurer.

Record Attendance

A lively number of members filled the Graham Memorial club room last night to set an almost perfect attendance record as the last vestiges of the old order under the lead of Julian Warran were removed from office.

Among the business items considered during the session the organization discussed its part in the co-operation in the officers' training courses to be conducted on parliamentary procedure. Tentative plans were also made for the club's activities in connection with the high school debates being conducted here this week.

Before adjournment the attendance rules and the revised University Club constitution was read to the new members.

The University Club was founded in the spring of 1933 by Claiborn M. Carr, then editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL. The group's first president was Agnew Bahnsen, who was also business manager of the Yackety Yack and president of the Foreign Policy League. Bahnsen was followed by Phillip Gibbon Hammer, present editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL. Hammer was succeeded by Frank Willingham. During the past year, the club has been guided by Julian Warren.

Barnes Endorses Anti-War Rally, Urges Wide Student Participation

Calls April 22 Demonstration
"Effective Method" of Voicing
Desire to Preserve Peace

"The projected anti-war demonstration is an effective method of showing that Carolina students are vitally concerned with the cause of peace," Harper Barnes, director of Graham Memorial, treasurer of the National Student Federation of America, and two years ago president of the student body, said in part yesterday in a written statement on the rally to be held Wednesday morning as a protest against war.

Barnes said that the National Student Federation of America supported the April 22 demonstration which is part of a nation-wide movement.

Won't Fight

He recalled that as a group of student body presidents, the Kansas City convention of the federation last Christmas voted almost unanimously not to fight in any foreign war outside the borders of the United States. Barnes believes the attitude of the convention typifies college sentiment in general.

Referring to the willingness

(Continued on page two)

Senior Regalia

All seniors are urged to go by the Student Co-op to be measured for senior week regalia as the order will be sent off tomorrow morning.

Cost for the outfit will be 95 cents, including tax. A sample sweater is now on display and is of white terry cloth with an N. C. monogram on the pocket.

BANKERS TO MEET AT INN TOMORROW

Division of North Carolina Bankers' Association to Hear Woosley on Inflation

Potential inflation is to be the chief topic of discussion when some 150 bankers meet at the Carolina Inn tomorrow night.

Professor John B. Woosley of the University school of commerce will be the speaker of the evening at a banquet which will be held at 7 o'clock.

The members of group four of the North Carolina Bankers' Association will also "pay honor," said Secretary R. C. deRossett of the Security National Bank of Raleigh, to M. E. Hogan of the Bank of Chapel Hill. Mr. Hogan, who is now first vice-president of the North Carolina Bankers' Association, will be installed as president at the annual convention in June.

Following Professor Woosley's address, an entertainment program and dance will be given in honor of the visiting bankers.

CORNSWEET READS PAPER

A. G. Cornsweet presented the paper "Organic Conditions in the Pregnant Female Rat Prior to Intra-Uterine Activity of the Fetus," at the regular monthly meeting of Alpha Psi Delta, psychology fraternity, Wednesday night in New West.

Six Faculty Members Attending Convention

Henderson, Hoyle and Cameron
Will Present Papers

Six University faculty men left Chapel Hill yesterday to attend the annual meeting of the southeastern section of the Mathematical Association of America, which is being held at the University of South Carolina in Columbia today and tomorrow.

Three of them will present papers. Dr. Archibald Henderson will speak on "New Slants on Relativity" this afternoon. "Differential Equations of Projective Transformations" will be the subject of a talk by Dr. V. A. Hoyle. This talk and E. A. Cameron's "Some Remarks on Osculants to Plane Curves" will both be presented tomorrow morning.

Downs in Washington

R. B. Downs, head of the University library, is spending today and tomorrow in Washington, D. C. and will attend a meeting called by the Carnegie Foundation while he is there.

HOMER CUMMINGS WILL SPEAK HERE

United States Attorney General
To Make Special Address in Memorial Hall, April 28

United States Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, who is the principal speaker at the state conference for social service in Durham next weekend, will make a special address here in Memorial hall April 28.

The address will be at 11:30 a. m. and 11 o'clock classes will be dismissed in time for the address. The 12 o'clock classes will meet at the regular time.

Dean M. T. Van Hecke of the University law school, instrumental in bringing the attorney general to the University, reported that Cummings' topic has not as yet been announced.

Attorney General Cummings speaks April 27 at the Durham civil service on the general conference topic, "The Administration of Criminal Justice."

Included in the series of talks Cummings will make during his tour south will be an address at Duke University at 10 a. m. April 27. Following his speech here, the attorney general will leave for Pinehurst.

MAGAZINE COPY

Sunday afternoon is the absolute deadline for copy for the April issue of the Carolina Magazine, says Editor Charlie Poe.

High School Week Begins With Welcome To Visitors

Debaters and Athletes from High Schools Greeted Yesterday
By Professor McKie

Professor George McKie opened Chapel Hill's 24th annual High School Week yesterday afternoon in Memorial hall, bidding over 250 debate delegates welcome to the University.

In the evening, preliminary debates were held in preparation for tonight's finals, the winner of which will be given the Aycock Memorial Cup.

Final Contest

Tonight President Graham will preside over the final contest, and Dean R. B. House will award the Aycock Cup to the winning school.

In greeting the visitors at the opening of the two-day session, Professor McKie declared, "This is your University and its sole purpose is to serve you in all your wants and needs."

(Continued on page two)

New Cabinet Officers Selected By Y. W. C. A.

Old Members Appoint Committee
Heads for Next Year

Cabinet officers in the Y. W. C. A. for the next year were selected yesterday afternoon by the old officers.

Polly Pollock was chosen chairman of the finance committee; Elva Ann Ranson, meetings; Molly Rumsey, art and publicity; Jody Kesler and Julia Peebles, co-chairmen of social service; Julia Folsom, worship; Katherine Murphey, membership; Mary Louise Stone, race relations; Helen Pritchard and Lucinda Brown, co-chairmen of world fellowship; Nancy Smith, music; Ruth Walston, room; Eliza Rose, social, and Ruth Crowell, publicity.

All Class Officers But Presidencies Go To University Party; Sororities Take Woman's Association Positions

Margaret Jordan Made
Co-ed President
By 73 Votes

PARTY GIVEN OPPOSITION

Sweeping all of their candidates into office, the sorority girls' party won a decisive victory over the non-sorority party in the Woman's Association elections yesterday afternoon.

Margaret Jordan was elected president of the Woman's Association over Sadie Markowitz by a vote of 140 to 67. Anita de Monseigle defeated Mary Lindsay for the office of vice-president, 140 to 68.

With 125 votes to her credit, Elva Ann Ranson was elected secretary of the Woman's Association over Erika Zimmerman who received 79 votes. Nancy Kyser won the office of treasurer, defeating Mary McKee, 119 to 85.

Reid House President

Lola Reid was the only nominee for house president of Spencer hall and automatically went into office without being voted upon.

Ida Winstead was elected president of the Athletic Association with 124 votes to Evelyn Barker's 83. Eliza Rose defeated Eileen Smith for secretary,

(Continued on page two)

Campus Ratifies Board's New Law

The revised Carolina Publications Union constitution was ratified by a vote of 603 to 164 yesterday.

One or two of the more important provisions of the new constitution:

Membership—Every student of the University shall have the privilege of voting at every election.

Purpose—It shall be the purpose of the union, through its representatives, to exercise complete supervision over all student publications which may be brought under control of the union, and to provide for their financing, and administration as stated in the revised constitution.

OLSEN ARRANGES OFFICERS COURSE

Definite Outline of Material to Covered Drawn Up

A definite outline of the material to be covered in the officers' training course next week was arranged yesterday afternoon by Professor W. A. Olsen.

A group discussion of the pamphlet on "Parliamentary Law and Procedure" will be held Monday and Tuesday during chapel period in New East. A question box will be in the Y. M. C. A. Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday for the new officers to clear up any points they are not sure of, and these will be answered in Thursday's class.

A model meeting will be conducted Friday, after which there will be a meeting of incoming and outgoing officers of each organization to discuss problems peculiar to certain groups.

Professor Olsen will lead the class.

Henderson Knows Einstein But Can't Guess So Well

ARTIST TO OFFER
PAINTING COURSE
ON WATERCOLORS

Boston Artist Woodward Will Give Three Weeks Course

Stanley Woodward, noted Boston artist, will teach a three week's course in watercolor painting here, April 27 to May 16, under the sponsorship of the University extension division.

Fees for the course will be $5 for students and teachers and $10 for amateur artists, according to an announcement by Mrs. Corinne McNeir, extension director in art.

Stanley Woodward, Mrs. McNeir says, is prominent as a painter, illustrator and etcher. Born in Malden, Mass., in 1890, he studied in Boston under Benson, Hale, and Blashfield, and at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia.

His works have been exhibited by the Grand Central Art Galleries of New York, and with the Guild of Boston Artists. A number of his water-colors were shown here in January. He is regarded as one of the most outstanding of the living American marine painters.

(Continued on page three)

Reuben Graham Wins Junior Leadership Over Mullis

VICTORIOUS BY 161 VOTES

The University party took all offices except class presidencies in yesterday's election.

Reuben Graham defeated Clyde "Pete" Mullis for president of the rising junior class by 161 votes to 123 in one of the most closely contested elections of the day.

Most of the contested offices for the rising sophomore class were won by comparatively large majorities.

Sophomore Class

The closest election in the rising sophomore class was over the office of Student Council representative, Keith Eustler defeating Bill Stronach by the narrow margin of 191 votes to 173.

Henry Hudson beat his opponent Sam Davis for the office of president, receiving 203 votes to Davis' 162. Johnston King decisively defeated Charley Robinson for the vice-presidency, 210 votes being cast for King and 151 for Robinson.

Billy Campbell was swept into the office of secretary over Charles "Chuck" Kline. Campbell received 234 votes to Kline's 132.

Joe Cheatham defeated M. A. Stroup for treasurer of the rising sophomore class by 239 votes to 129 for Stroup.

The elections yesterday were supervised by Student Councilman Jimmy Craighill, who also conducted the counting of ballots.

BULL'S HEAD

Dr. J. M. Booker of the English department will be the guest speaker of the Bull's Head meeting Tuesday.

Lowly Senior Robert L. Henson Wins Alumni Association Contest and Five Dollars

By Pete Ivey

Robert L. Henson, senior student of Ruffin dormitory, was victorious over such prognosticators as Dean R. B. House, R. W. Madry, Professor Harld D. Meyer, Dr. W. C. Coker, Dean C. P. Spruill, Dean Francis F. Bradshaw, Jim Hutchins, Ben Neville and Don Becker in the guessing contest sponsored by the General Alumni Association.

Henson came nearest to the total number of living and dead alumni of the University and will receive the $5.00 prize. His guess was 27,589. The correct number is 26,972.

Higher Math Fails

Dr. Archibald Henderson, head of the University department of mathematics and eminent authority on the Einstein Theory, was way off in his guess. Dr. Henderson, after carefully looking at the card files and measuring distances from the various stacks, recorded his estimate as 69,321. Not only did he calculate the number of cards by arithmetic, geometry, calculus, trigonometry, algebra

(Continued on page two)