BEERS WILL TALK HERE ON MENTAL HYGIENE TUESDAY

Famous Author of "The Mind That Found Itself" to Speak At Hill Music Hall

ASYLUM REFORM AGITATOR

Clifford W. Beers, secretary of the National Association for Mental Hygiene and nationally prominent agitator for reform in the treatment of the insane, will speak here Tuesday under the auspices of the North Carolina Neuro-psychiatric Society, which is beginning a movement to organize a mental hygiene society in Durham and Orange counties.

Beers, who shortly after his graduation from Yale, was afflicted with a brief mental disorder which made it necessary for him to spend some time in an asylum, is the author of "The Mind that Found Itself." For more than 30 years he has worked to educate both the public and the medical profession to a new attitude toward the insane. He believes that one-half of the cases of insanity in this country could have been prevented by proper treatment and education in childhood and adolescence.

Purpose

The North Carolina Neuro-psychiatric Society, a subsidiary of the North Carolina Medical Society, was formed about two years ago to assist in the movement for more humane and more helpful treatment of the insane. Its purpose is to awaken the public to the fact that proper treatment and preventive measures are necessary if mentally deranged persons are ever to be helped. The society has sponsored the formation of several mental hygiene societies throughout the state and is now planning to organize such a society for this and Durham counties.

Beers, who will spend the next week in this state studying conditions, will address the Neuro-psychiatric Society Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in Hill hall. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

BILKING CAFE MEN TO FACE JUSTICE HERE TOMORROW

Allgood, Saunders and Jones to Go on Trial After Initial Postponement

JUDGE PHIPPS TO PRESIDE

The trial of the Tar Heel Cafe proprietors will be held tomorrow morning in Chapel Hill recorder's court.

The case had been scheduled for trial April 14 but was postponed at the request of Roy W. McGinnis, prosecuting attorney, and Henry A. Whitfield, defending lawyer.

Allgood and Saunders are both under $500 bond, while Jones is being held under $250 bond. Hoping to lighten their sentences the three cafe proprietors have been making attempts to reimburse holders of bad checks and meal tickets, which amount to nearly $600.

Absconded

After having completed a drive for the sale of meal tickets late in February, the proprietors left Chapel Hill without notice. They were located a month later. Officer C. H. Wright of the town police department apprehended Allgood in Washington, D. C., from whence the cafe owner had sent a letter to a University student demanding payment of a bill.

Having learned through Allgood that Saunders was in Spencer, Chief of Police W. T. Sloan and Officer Wright arrested Saunders the same day. He put up $500 bond, however, and remained in Spencer. Jones voluntarily returned to Chapel Hill. The case will be tried under Judge L. J. Phipps.

Prominent Student Stresses Importance of Keeping Demonstration Unemotional

In the eyes of Joe Barnett, former president of the Foreign Policy League, the anti-war demonstration to be held Wednesday morning is a life insurance policy guaranteeing to the participants the "good life."

Barnett stressed the importance of an unemotional mass-demonstration against war. He urged the use of reason in avoiding another world war with its destruction and degrading aftermath.

Living Insurance

"Our generation," Barnett said, "has realized that the best kind of living insurance is co-operative expression of opinion against war that has taken from us the chance to get things we want from life."

"Wednesday this campus, with hundreds of other campuses in the country, will meet to register in an unemotional way its demand to do our work unhindered by insanely-erected obstacles."
