

RECENT DECISION FORMS DRAMATIC ART DEPARTMENT

Administrative Edict Provides Separate Department for Koch's Organization

PAUL GREEN TO RETURN

A separate department of dramatic art to begin activities next fall has been formed by the University with Dr. Frederick H. Koch as head, the Playmakers as the producing organization, and a faculty consisting of Paul Green, Samuel Selden, Harry Davis, and John W. Parker, it was announced by the administration yesterday.

The formation of the department will mark Paul Green's return to active professional duties at the University since he has gained national prominence as one of the leading playwrights of the country.

Broadened Scope

Both graduate and undergraduate degrees will be given by the new department to students in dramatic art. Several new courses will be added to the curriculum and students will be given training in the practical, literary, and scholarly aspects of the drama.

The new department has been created because of the great number of students who come to the University from all over the United States and from several foreign countries especially for work in the drama. This year there are students from all

(Continued on last page)

Russell Announces Second Cash Award For Student Library

Contest Committee Now Offers
$25 and $5 Prizes for Best Collection

A second prize of $5, in addition to the first prize of $25, will be awarded in June by the student library contest committee for the best student library.

Dr. H. K. Russell, English professor, announced recently that awards will also be presented for the best collection of books made by a student while in college rather than for those acquired during the year.

Rules

Eight principal rules will be considered in judging.

1. All books shall be the personal property of the contestant and shall bear a suitable book plate or other ownership inscription and shall show evidence of having been used profitably.

2. Neither the total number of books nor their money value shall be a determining factor in making the award.

3. Titles of a distinctly text book character shall be excluded.

4. Consideration will be given to well edited and effectively printed

(Continued on page three)

Gussie Guesses:

Selassie says he's going to build a big Ethiopian air force. Only trouble is that he's starting a little late. When they get it built there won't be enough of Ethiopia left to take off from.

Fair, somewhat cooler.

PLAYERS PUT OUT DRAMA MAGAZINE

Carolina Dramatic Association
Issues First Number of Its Own Publication

"The Carolina Stage," a new bulletin for members of the Carolina Dramatic Association, has been distributed for the first time during the last month.

The mimeographed magazine is a supplement to the eight-year-old "Carolina Play-Book." Edited by John W. Parker, it will feature reviews of statewide dramatic activities, and will offer suggestions for dramatic problems.

First Issue

The magazine's first issue contains an introduction by Frederick Koch, director of the Carolina Playmakers. In the suggestion columns is an article by Professor Walter Spearman.

Staff members of the new publication include Frederick Koch, R. M. Grumman, Irene H. Fussler, and Harry Davis.

The magazine's next issue will appear in June.

Seniors To Give Semi-Comic Play As Final Spurt

A play to end plays is one of the features of Senior Week. The performance will be in Memorial hall Wednesday evening, May 6.

The play is a gift, as it were, to the student body and faculty of the University. It is an expression of the heartfelt thanks and gratitude outgoing seniors owe to their professors and fellow students. It is also a token of their esteem.

Besides the play, which is to be an antique melodrama, several acts, including Betty Tandy from Durham, will be vulnerable to the audience's applause.

Merry Trio

Billy Yandell, Parks Austin, Hazel Beacham, and a mammoth committee had been working on arrangements for a Senior Carnival, but Swain hall was not available and it was thought best to abandon the idea of a carnival. As an alternative, it was decided to have a special evening program in Memorial hall.

A comic play has been ordered from a New York publishing company. Participating in the melodrama will be several campus lights and satellites. A director who knows nothing about directing plays has been engaged. Local and semi-local talent will occupy the stage between the acts.

The play is expected to arrive from New York either today or tomorrow, but as yet not but two

(Continued on page two)

Have You Written Your Essay Yet?

Today is the last day on which essays may be contributed in the essay contest being sponsored by E. Carrington Smith on "How to Spent $20,000,000 on This University."

Essays will be received at the Carolina theater or in the DAILY TAR HEEL office until 6 o'clock this afternoon.

Prizes will be: first, one week pass to the theater; second, three day pass; third, two day pass; fourth, one day pass.

(Continued on last page)

CAMPUS TO HEAR CUMMINGS TALK IN CHAPEL TODAY

U. S. Attorney General Will Speak This Morning in Memorial Hall at 11:30

CLASSES TO BE LET OUT

United States Attorney General Homer S. Cummings will make a special address this morning before a student convocation in Memorial hall at 11:30.

Dean M. T. Van Hecke of the University law school, instrumental in bringing the attorney general to the University, stated, that as yet no announcement had been made on the topic of Cumming's talk.

The 11 o'clock classes will be dismissed in time for the address. The 12 o'clock classes will meet at the regular time.

Attorney General

Cummings has risen steadily in the legal profession. From corporation counsel of Stamford and legal representative of Fairfield County, Conn., he became a prominent member of the New York bar and was then made chairman of the committee on state prison conditions in Connecticut. For the past three years he has held one of the highest legal positions in the United States—that of Attorney General.

Cummings arrived in Durham yesterday, and delivered the principal address at the North Carolina Social Service Conference there last night. He spoke on "Progress Toward a Modern Administration of Criminal Justice in the United States." Following his address here the Attorney General will leave for Pinehurst.

Stewart To Discuss Scepticism With Phi

Di Senate Declines to Debate
Upon Topic Without Data

The Rev. Mr. Donald Stewart will lead a discussion tonight at 7:30 in the weekly meeting of the Phi Assembly on "Scepticism and Is There a Life After Death."

The Phi Assembly had anticipated a debate with the Di Senate tonight on this subject, but the Di complained that they did not know enough about it. The topic was voted down in meeting.

Speaker Durfee of the Phi replied that neither were the members of the Phi well informed on the question, but that they were willing to learn.

"Y" Cabinets Have Elections, Talks

Freshman Friendship Council
Elects Sophomore Officers;
Plans Relief Project

The Freshman Friendship council held its election for officers of the rising sophomore cabinet last night at its regular weekly meeting. The following officers were elected: President, Bob Dalton; Vice-President, Mace Gwyer; Secretary, Don Ward; Treasurer, George Nethercutt.

Each fraternity and dormitory is urged to get a bundle of old clothes together which will be committee of the council. These clothes are to be turned over to the relief committee of Orange county.

KOCH TO DIRECT FOREST COMEDY

Playmakers to Produce "Lysistrata," Old Greek Comedy,
As Forest Theatre Play

"Lysistrata," an old Greek comedy which is considered as modern as the latest comedy hit on Broadway, (has been selected by the Playmakers for their annual Forest theatre production, it was announced yesterday by Professor Koch. He will personally direct the production.

The play is an anti-war drama, but unlike similar plays of today it is comic in treatment. It shows the women of Athens and Sparta uniting to keep their husbands at home and to put a stop to the continual warfare.

Revel Scene

Professor Koch says the play ends with a revel scene which promises to be one of the most interesting seen on local stages.

Additional try-outs for "Lysistrata" will be held this afternoon at 4:30 in the Playmakers theatre. All interested in appearing in the play are asked to be present. About 50 actors will be needed and there will be an opportunity for many to take part.

MAY DAY GIRLS MEET

All girls who have been asked to take part in the May Day celebration are urged to appear for the rehearsals now being held.

It is also asked that everyone be on time to the rehearsals.

All girls who want to be in May Day, and who have not been asked to take part in it, are requested to meet Frances Cafey in Graham Memorial this afternoon at 4:30. Additional girls are needed for the dances.

Noted Artist Holds Classes In Painting

Woodward Will Give Three-Weeks Watercolor Course

Stanley Woodward, Boston artist, yesterday began a three-weeks course in watercolor painting with headquarters in Hill hall.

Mr. Woodward's class is composed of students and townspeople. Painting instruction will be given on various parts of the campus.

The instructor is noted as a painter, illustrator, and an etcher. He has exhibited with the Grand Central Art Galleries of New York and with the Guild of Boston artists.

Classes are held six days weekly.

Candidate John McRae To Talk Tomorrow On C.P.U. Program

Late Bulletins

Student Council

Definite action on the honor principle code was postponed for one week by the Student Council last night.

Other activity at last night's session included reinstatement of two suspended students, the acquittal of one student accused of honor code violation, and the denial of admission to one previously suspended student. A ruling was also passed that no suspended students will be allowed at University social functions in the future.

A. S. U.

An informal meeting of the American Student Union was held last night, with R. W. Linker, professor of French, making a talk on his reactions to war and the way to combat it successfully.

Elections will be held at the next meeting of the A. S. U. tomorrow night at 8:30 in Graham Memorial to select permanent officers for next year.

Campus Men Air Different Views On Co-ed Status

By ALLEN MERRILL

While co-eds wholeheartedly disapprove of the rules debarring freshman and sophomore women from admission to the University, campus men disagree among themselves as to the advisability of requiring upper-class status of all co-eds.

John Parker, president-elect of the student body, although he favors the admittance of local girls to freshman and sophomore classes, is against admitting women who live in other parts of the state for the first two years of their college career.

Go to Greensboro

Parker stated "I'm not much in favor of freshman and sophomore co-eds, personally. There is a girls' college in Greensboro, branch of the Greater University, and sufficient enough reason for them to go there.

"When a woman student is a junior or a senior," he continued, "there's a different problem. They need courses of a higher education which are available here."

Fairley Opposes Parker

Francis Fairley, president of the student body, definitely opposes his successor with the statement, "I'm all for 'em. The women might want courses that they can't get anywhere else and must come here."

Fairley claims that freshman.

(Continued on last page)

Bull Moose Horn Breaks Air Valve

Residents of Chapel Hill heard a new series of sounds from Chapel Hill's loud-mouthed fire horn yesterday as it failed to stop after the regular momentary blast denoting 12 o'clock noon.

At the moment its regular blast was set off, the control valve broke and several minutes of blasts followed before the noise was stopped.

All afternoon one of the town's two paid firemen worked over the broken part.

Alumnus Will Speak Here In Hill Hall

Gubernatorial Aspirant is Third
On Series Sponsored by Re-
juvenated Political Union

SON IS SOPHOMORE HERE

John Albert McRae, University alumnus and state gubernatorial candidate, will speak here tomorrow night at 8:30 in Hill Music hall, according to an announcement made last night by Floyd Fletcher, president of the rejuvenated Carolina Political Union.

Third in Series

The prominent Charlotte lawyer will be the third in the series of candidates for the governorship of the state to speak on the campus under the sponsorship of the revived Political Union.

Lawyer McRae has not only been connected with the University since he graduated, but he is also the father of John McRae, Jr., who is a member of the sophomore class and of the Chi Psi fraternity.

In his talk here he is expected to outline the major planks of his platform. He will probably include his views on the liquor and the sales tax. He is known to favor local-option liquor control and abolition of the present sales tax, if other means of revenue are discovered to replace it.

STUDENT OPINION GROUP INACTIVE DUE TO ABSENCES

Three Members of Committee
Investigating Comprehensives
Fail to Return

The student committee appointed last quarter to study student opinion concerning the value of comprehensive examinations as a pre-requisite to graduation has become inactive since three of its six members failed to return to school this quarter.

The group is now awaiting Dean R. B. House's appointment of new student representatives to fill the places left vacant.

The committee, composed of "Trip" Rand, chairman, Jake Snyder, Irving Suss, Jack Pool, Harper Barnes and Charlie Poe, advocated in a meeting with the faculty a revision of the comprehensive system with the inclusion of a course which would serve as a general review for the examinations.

The committee felt that this revision was necessary because few students were able to prepare for the examinations and that they were thus useless in the student's eyes.

"Under the present system," said Committee Member Jake Snyder, "these examinations serve absolutely no purpose except as a time waster."

The faculty was convinced that the system might be improved, but it held that the examinations themselves were not responsible for the deficiency as much as the individual departments.

PI PHI INITIATES

Pi Beta Phi initiated five neophytes last night and entertained them at a banquet afterwards. The new initiates are Mildred LeFevre, Patty Penn, Martha Wyant, Julia Folsom, and Carolyn Winston.