ALL ARE INVITED TO FLEECE RITES TUESDAY EVENING

None to Be Admitted to Mysterious Ceremony in Memorial Hall After 8:30

NEW TAPPING THIS YEAR

Students, faculty members and townspeople are invited to the 33rd annual tapping rites of the Order of the Golden Fleece Tuesday night at 8:30.

A new type of ceremony, the first departure from a standard tapping program in the Fleece's history, will be inaugurated. Crowds are asked to be present early, as the doors of Memorial hall will be closed promptly at 8:30 and the lights put out.

No Speaker

The entire program this year will last scarcely an hour. The custom of having a featured speaker will be discontinued. Further details of the ceremony, however, have not been revealed by Fleece members.

Outstanding student leaders will be publicly recognized. Membership in the Fleece constitutes the highest honor which a Carolina student can attain.

Establishment

The Order of the Golden Fleece was established in 1903 by three men whose lives on the campus had been outstanding. One, Dr. Horace Williams, is still on the campus, recognized as one of the great philosophers of his day.

The order was originally created (Continued on last page)

DANCERS TO GIVE COMPLETE SHOW TOMORROW NIGHT

Expert Lighting, Technical Effects Will Enhance Program Of Phoebe Barr's Group

WILL USE MANY COSTUMES

Not only a program of dances, but a complete show with expert lighting and effective costumes will be Phoebe Barr's presentation of her group tomorrow night at 8:30 in Memorial hall.

The regular Playmaker lighting and stage crew, under the direction of Harry Davis, is arranging the technical effects of the program, and all of the costumes will be designed and made by Ora Mae Davis. According to Harry Davis, the lighting promises to be much more effective this year than last year since more units are being used. No actual scenery will be used, but platform and step arrangements to make different levels on the (Continued on last page)

Student Government Activities Summarized

Fairley Says Council Tried To Clarify Its Position

Judicial Body Has Handled Over 140 Cases Since Inauguration Last May

By WILL AREY

President of the Student Body Francis Fairley yesterday released a brief summary of the year's activities in University student government.

"The council this year has made a sincere attempt to clarify the position of the student government and to work for the best interests of the student body," Fairley stated.

Activity

The council has handled a greater number of individual cases than any preceding council. Since its inauguration in May, 1935, the judicial body has handled over 140 cases and has suspended 71 students: 69 of these for cheating or lying; one for bad check writing; and one for forgery.

Out of the enormous number of cases handled, the approximate report specifies that six students have been placed on probation for violation of the honor system involving cheating, lying, and stealing; eight more students have been similarly punished for violation of the campus code involving ungentlemanly conduct; and some 45 individuals have been acquitted during the year for various charges.

Efficiency, Justice

The student body president said that the council has "earnestly striven to administer its judicial functions as effectively and justly as possible. We have further tried to stimulate campus thought on student government and on the honor system."

In the winter quarter of this year the retiring Student Council appointed a committee to make a study through a questionnaire of student and faculty opinion on the honor system under the supervision of the council. The council saw fit to publish the results of the questionnaire which was so successful in carrying out its purpose, and the group is now considering the report with a view to improvement in the operation of the student government.

Co-operation

Specified in yesterday's report was the improvement in the sincere attempts made to co-operate with faculty and administration. Five professors have reported cases of cheating to the Student Council, and closer co-operation in the future in administering the honor system was seen at the Student Council-Faculty committee dinner meeting last Tuesday.

New Ruling

In a recent ruling, the council has decided that all students suspended from now on will not be allowed to return to the University for any social functions or for any reason without the persuasion of the Student Council or of the administration.

With the co-operation of the business administration of the University, the student advisory committee, appointed by the council to advise business office on University relationships of students, has done excellent work this year.

At present the Student Council is drawing plans for improvement in the student government and in the administration of the honor principle. These plans, when completely drawn up, will be submitted to the vote of the student body.

The council has done much this year to clarify the position of the (Continued on last page)

Faculty Members Scorn 'Ball Club Of Senior Class

Babe Ruth Expected to Scout For Big Leagues at Faculty-Senior Game Tomorrow

By GEORGE MOORE

Babe Ruth has been invited to attend the Senior-Faculty baseball game which will begin tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 sharp. It is not yet known whether the Bambino will attend but all the big league scouts are expected to fill Emerson field to make offers to the great baseball players of the faculty.

Dr. Frank P. Graham, first baseman and local lad, said yesterday, "It's in the bag. The seniors will be too slow for us."

"Doom" Hobbs, of the liberal arts school, would not commit himself on the final outcome, but indicated his pitching arm was in condition for the fray.

Tuesday night the Golden Fleece will tap. Wednesday night will be the advent of stunt night. On Thursday morning in chapel, J. C. Maryon "Spike" Saunders, alumni secretary, will tell the seniors of the hazardous lives of alumni.

Caps And Gowns

Next Saturday will be the last day that seniors will be able to get measured for caps and gowns. All seniors who have not yet done so should report to the Book Exchange to be fitted. No down payment is required on the cap and gown, and if after ordering one, the senior decides not to use it, no charge will be made.

BAND WILL GIVE PROGRAM TODAY

University Concert Band to Honor National Music Week This Afternoon at 4 O'clock

Honoring National Music Week, which is now being observed throughout the country, the University Concert Band will give the first program of its out-door concert series this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the campus near the Davie Poplar.

Feature

Featuring Cailliet's "Memories of Stephen Foster," which has never been played on the campus before, the band will present a light semi-classical program.

Seniors Prepare For Stunt Night At Hurried Pace

Program Is Getting Larger, More Interesting Every Day; Many Acts Scheduled

By PETE IVEY

It's a good thing the senior stunt night program will come as early as Wednesday, because the program is getting larger and more interesting every day. If it were delayed a week, an analogy of the Zeigfeld Follies would probably result.

Attractions

Miss Betty Tandy, Durham dancer, is expected to attract most of the masculine element of the campus, and Jake Snyder and Francis Fairley will draw the females.

Hester Barlow, May Queen and actress extraordinary, and Dick Burnette, terpsichorean instructor, have a new number for a special duet dance.

"Bunk," the play made to order for the occasion, will last about half an hour. The play ought to go off all right if the sound effect noises don't drown out the voices.

Officers To Be Installed At Assembly Tomorrow

Greensboro, Chapel Hill Students Have May Day Festivals

May Day at Woman's College Celebrated Yesterday; Alice Dunlap Crowned Queen

While the co-eds here plan their first May Day, the University's sister institution at Greensboro held their annual celebration yesterday afternoon.

The Woman's College used for the theme of their pageant, the courtship of the seasons following with the wedding of the queen. The University May Day will revert to the traditional Robin Hood pageant used frequently in medieval England, in which Robin's Merry Men entertain the queen with dances and songs.

Miss Alice Dunlap of Albemarle was crowned Queen of the May in the Greensboro festivities with two maids of honor and 12 ladies in her court.

Miss Hester Barlow, who will be crowned queen here, will have one maid of honor, Miss Mary Pride Cruikshank, and 16 ladies in her court.

DI SENATE PLANS DEBATE ON A. S. U.

Russell, Read, Crowell to Answer Questions of Senators Tuesday Night

Campus liberals and conservatives will clash on the floor of the Di Senate Tuesday night when representatives of the local American Student Union will be questioned by the senators.

The privilege of the floor will be given any student, whether or not a member, who is interested in the debate. It is expected that many Phi Assemblymen will join the discussion after their meeting in New East.

The bill for discussion will be Resolved, That the ASU be removed from the campus as a subversive organization.

Bob Russell, Nick Read, and Ruth Crowell, all prominent in ASU activities, will be present to participate in the discussion and answer the many questions which are expected to be hurled at them.

According to senate heads, a group of campus conservatives will be on hand to uphold the right wing argument.

The meeting follows a growing antagonism to the anti-war strike held April 22, the Veterans of Future Wars, and the Gold Star Mothers, all programs of the local ASU group. A heated discussion on these and other ASU activities is expected by Di Senate leaders.

GARDEN PARTY

The ladies of the University faculty will entertain the ladies of the State College faculty with a garden party at the home of Mrs. Frank P. Graham, from 4:30 to 6 p. m., Tuesday.

The party is being arranged by Mrs. Graham and Mrs. R. B. House, with the aid of several committees from the ladies of the faculty. The ladies of the faculty will be further notified and invited through the wives of the various department heads, or by some other ladies in the several departments.

House To Open Program By Reading List Of Officers

Fairley, Parker Will Discuss Past, Future Student Government; Bradshaw to Talk

GRAHAM TO SPEAK

The official installation of new campus officers will be held at a convocation tomorrow morning at 10:10 in Memorial hall, with Dean R. B. House presiding.

Dean House will start the program by reading the list of the new student officers. As he calls the names of the new Student Council officers and woman's association officers, they will arise from the audience and join the group on the stage.

Graham To Speak

Dr. Frank P. Graham will then speak on student government and the honor system. Francis H. Fairley, president of the student body, will review student government and its accomplishments of the current year.

John J. "Judge" Parker, secretary and president-elect of the Student Council, will talk of the plans for the coming year in student government. Following his talk, either Jane Ross or Margaret Jordan will make a short talk on women's student government.

CANDIDATE CLYDE HOEY WILL SPEAK HERE ON TUESDAY

Political Union to Bring Aspirant to Governorship to Campus Tuesday Morning

WILL BE FOURTH IN SERIES

"The Printer's Devil," Hon. Clyde Roark Hoey is scheduled to speak before the student body of the University on Tuesday morning.

Mr. Hoey is the fourth in the series of gubernatorial candidates being brought to Chapel Hill under the sponsorship of Floyd Fletcher's Carolina Political Union and is the third alumnus of the University in the race for the governorship of the state.

The Shelby candidate comes here after revealing his views upon vital issues before the citizenship to throngs throughout the state.

Fine Speaker

Regarded as one of the finest speakers in the South, Mr. Hoey has elaborated his platform as including further advancement of public schools, retention of the sales tax but elimination of basic food-stuffs and restaurant meals from its provisions, willingness for the people to settle the liquor problem by popular vote, and provision for North Carolina to share the full benefits of recently enacted Federal security legislation.

Mr. Hoey is regarded as one of the most successful lawyers of the state and for 14 years has served as a member of the state legislature and as a representative to Congress. He was for a number of years a member of the state Democratic executive committee.
