

Student Officers For Coming Year Installed At Assembly

Graham Gives Talk On Honor Principle

Fairley Outlines History of Past Term and Parker Outlines Plans for Future

Dr. Frank Porter Graham emphasized the importance of every student's reporting violators of the honor principle, and clarified what constitutes dishonor in his talk at the convocation yesterday morning in Memorial hall, held for the purpose of officially installing the new campus officers.

Dean R. B. House, presiding over the assembly, read the names of all the new officers. The new members of the Student Council and the Woman's Association arose from the audience to take their places on the platform.

No Degrees

Dr. Graham showed in his talk that there could be no degrees of cheating. He stated that lying, cheating, and stealing were violations of the honor principle, and that cheating was both lying and stealing, stealing someone else's idea, and lying by handing it in as your own.

He forcefully presented the importance of making the time come soon when men will not cheat because they dare not cheat, for fear of being a social

JUNIORS, SENIORS TO HOLD DANCES BEGINNING FRIDAY

Harry Reser to Play for Series, Which Will Conclude Senior Week

BIDS TO BE AT Y. M. C. A.

The junior and senior classes will get together in the Tin Can this weekend to stage their annual set of co-operative class dances, the Junior-Seniors.

Harry Reser and his Clicquot Club Eskimos have been secured to play for the four dances, which open Friday afternoon with a tea dance, continue that evening with the formal Junior Prom and another tea dance Saturday afternoon, and conclude Saturday evening with the formal Senior Ball.

Student Tells How Letter Trapped Cafe Embezzlers

Sidney C. Ruppman Gives Inside Story of His Part in Algood's Arrest

Ed. Note: This story is the account given Herbert H. Hirschfeld, DAILY TAR HEEL reporter, by Sidney C. Ruppman, who was immediately responsible for the apprehension of the Tar Heel Cafe owners.

When the owners of the Tar Heel Cafe left town, leaving a string of bad checks and paid-in-advance meal tickets, I was in the more fortunate position of having owed them money. I had been eating there regularly, and the money was due on a meal ticket I had bought and not paid for.

Letter

March 10 I received the following letter from Washington, D. C.

Mr. Ruppman:

We find in checking our

Senior Baseballers Prepare For Battle With Faculty Today

President Graham and Dean Hobbs Will Star for Professors In Spirited Clash

By PETE IVEY

The subversive faculty baseball nine will meet the subsidized senior class team this afternoon at 3 o'clock on Fetzer field.

Big league scouts, including Babe Ruth, Lou Gherig, Dizzy Dean and the Mighty Casey, will witness the performance of Carolina's dangerous desperadoes of the diamond.

Chief among the faculty sandlot heroes are Frank P. Graham, A. W. Hobbs, J. P. "Home Run" Harland, C. P. "Pinch Hitter" Spruill, and William A. "Slide Kelly, Slide" Olsen. There are many other professorial luminaries who are even better than the ones mentioned, but their ability has to be seen to be fully appreciated or believed.

The senior class squad, after spirited pep talks by Harper Barnes, Haywood Weeks, and Albert Ellis, are chuckling.

"All the faculty team knows is theory," said Senior Class President Morris Rhodes. "They don't know the practicalities of baseballing."

Parks Austin, who is umpire of the big game, has been calling "Ball! Strike! Strike! Ball!" alternately since last week. Austin says he will do his best to call a fair game although he does need some good grades.

Dress Rehearsals

A dress rehearsal of the play for senior stunt night will be held tonight at 9:30 in Memorial hall, after the tapping of the Golden Fleece.

Clyde R. Hoey

Hoey Will Address Student Body At Convocation Today

Candidate for State Governorship Favors Educational Advancement, Sales Tax

The Hon. Clyde Roark Hoey, candidate for the state governorship will speak to the student body at 10:30 this morning in Memorial hall.

Regarded as one of the finest speakers in the South, Mr. Hoey, better known as the "Printer's Devil," has elaborated his platform as including further advancement of public schools, re-elimination of the sales tax, but elimination of basic food-stuffs and restaurant meals from its provisions, and willingness for the people to settle the liquor problem by popular vote. He al-

WRITERS ARRIVE TO STUDY PLAYS

Professional Playwrights Will Do Research Work for Federal Theater Project

Four professional playwrights have been sent to Chapel Hill in connection with the Federal Theater Project, announces Professor F. H. Koch, regional adviser of the project.

The writers, Betty Smith, Grace Murphy, Herbert Meadow, and Robert Finch, arrived in Chapel Hill last week and will work under the supervision of Professor Koch.

While here they will work on plays to be used in connection with the Federal Theater Project and will do research work in the field of dramatic art.

Consulting

In connection with their work the playwrights are consulting with Paul Green, and are attending Professor Koch's courses in playwriting and modern drama.

Mrs. Smith was the first woman to win the Avery Hopwood award of $1,200 for work in the drama. In collaboration with her brother Miss Murphy composed and directed the musical comedy, "Knee Deep in June."

so makes provisions for North Carolina to share the full benefits of recently enacted federal security legislation.

The Shelby aspirant for governor has served for 14 years as a member of the state legislature and as a representative to congress. He was for a number of years a member of the state Democratic executive committee.

Mr. Hoey is the third alumnus of the University in the race for the governorship of the state. His name has been closely associated with the dry cause in North Carolina, and when the 21st amendment was repudiated in this state last year he was conceded one of the most important political figures in the state.

DI WILL DEBATE ON ASU TONIGHT

Several Members of Local ASU Chapter Will Be Present to Answer Questions

The floor of the Di Senate will be opened to the student body at large this evening and the privilege of discussing the bill, Resolved: That the ASU be removed from the campus as a subversive organization, will be extended to any interested persons.

Several members of the local branch of the American Student Union will be present as representatives of that group and will answer any questions concerning their organization.

The meeting, in connection with the Di Senate's regular sessions, will start at 7:15 in New West.

Debate

The debate topic grew out of campus comment on the ASU handling of the anti-war strike last month, their advocacy of the Veterans of Future Wars as a protest against war, and other local activities of the group, according to senate members.

A heated debate is expected from this meeting of campus conservatives and radicals.

Golden Fleece Will Have Annual Tapping Tonight

Record Of Past Track Teams Prove Ability Of Coach Bob Fetzer

Students, Alumni and Friends Will Honor Veteran Coach Saturday

Ambition, imagination and courage are the three favorite words of Coach Bob Fetzer, Carolina track leader for the past 15 years.

According to Coach Bob, any normal boy who will work consistently and become imbued with these three essentials can develop into a creditable performer in one or more of the 14 events in track. It is for this reason that Coach Bob prefers track to all sports.

Saturday students, alumni and friends of Carolina will pay homage to the man who has done more than anyone else to raise the level of Tar Heel athletics to its present height.

The new track stadium is a permanent memorial to the imagination and perseverance of Coach Bob. It was through his untiring efforts that the field was completed and put in shape for competition.

There is one thing certain about running for Coach Bob. When he comes over and tells a boy to "go get 'em" the opposition better clear the track because in most instances a Tar Heel, or even three Tar Heels, come racing home ahead of the pack.

Seniors

Because so many seniors were late in placing their orders for regalia, and because of a hold-up at the factory, the regalia has been delayed for two or three days. It will probably be here Thursday or Friday. There will be an announcement later in the DAILY TAR HEEL.

Although the seniors are to have no free show during senior week, the management of the Carolina theater has promised one for the near future. All seniors wearing regalia will be admitted as originally planned.

As an additional feature to senior week, Graham Memorial has declared open-house for seniors on Thursday night.

Students Are Invited To Ceremonial At 8:30

PROGRAM IS NEW

The Order of the Golden Fleece, highest campus honorary society, will conduct its 33rd annual tapping rites tonight at 8:30 in Memorial hall. Students, faculty members and townspeople are invited to attend.

In an unprecedented ceremonial program which will mark a distinct departure from the customary tapping procedure, the Fleece will single out for membership the outstanding students on the campus.

Shut Tight

Doors will be closed and locked promptly at 8:30, making it urgent that everyone planning to be present arrive at the hall before that hour. All visitors have been requested to sit downstairs in the auditorium unless an overflow crowd makes this impossible.

Founded in 1903 to promote a better feeling between dormitory and fraternity men, and subsequently growing into an order whose membership is regarded as the highest order a student can achieve, the Fleece makes only one public appearance a year, at the spring tapping ceremonies.

DEAN VAN HECKE ANNOUNCES LISTS OF LAW AWARDS

Parker, Markham and Booth Are Elected to the North Carolina Order of the Coif

STERN TO EDIT REVIEW

At the annual dinner of the law school association of the University of North Carolina, held at the Carolina Inn last night, the honors and awards for the year were announced by Dean M. T. Van Hecke as follows:

Because they stood among the highest ten percent of their class in scholarship, Francis Marion Parker, of Asheville; Donald William Markham, of Earlville, N. Y.; and William Robert Booth, of Pollockville, were elected to the North Carolina chapter of the Order of the Coif.
