

Clyde Hoey, Fourth Candidate For Governor To Speak Here, Gives Platform At Convocation

Interest In Education Is Expressed By Shelby Man

Favors Free Textbooks, Transportation, Instruction; Opposes Sales Tax

WOULD IMPROVE ROADS

"I not only favor free instruction and free transportation for the children in our educational system, but also provision for free textbooks," said Clyde R. Hoey at yesterday's convocation. In elaborating his platform before the student body yesterday, the gubernatorial candidate expressed his interest in education and proposed the use of free text books in order to give all students an "equal chance and full benefit of each school day."

Gratitude

Mr. Hoey paused to pay regards to the "underpaid" teachers in the state who have sacrificed themselves during the past few years, "but," he said, "we must not continue to pay gratitude, for pay must be made in some other way."

"Neither can we escape the tax issue," he said. Mr. Hoey discussed the wealth, income, and spending of the state and said that taxes must be levied in relation with other states. "I do not indorse the sales tax, but I do approve of the emergency basis upon which it was justly begun," the Shelby aspirant continued. He favored the removal of the sales tax from necessities and proposed that a plan be drawn up whereby the tax could be collected with less irritation to the people and the merchants.

UNIVERSITY CLUB WILL BROADCAST

WPTF Program Tonight at 10:05 Will Publicize Fetzner Day, Navy Track Meet

The University Club will sponsor a broadcast over station WPTF in Raleigh tonight at 10:05 publicizing the Carolina-Navy track meet on Fetzner Day. A brief sketch of the events that have been interesting on the campus during the spring quarter will be given, and the program for commencement outlined, stressing the features that will be of particular interest to visitors and alumni.

Program

Randall Berg, chairman of the arrangements committee which handles radio programs will act as master of ceremonies introducing the speakers. President Nick Read will give a short summary of the outstanding events on the campus this quarter and announce the program for commencement. He will touch on the importance of Fetzner Day and after some music Charley Hubbard will tell of the Navy-Carolina meet at Chapel Hill two years ago.

Tom Hawthorne, the last speaker, will discuss the comparative chances of the two teams and describe the featured events that will be of most interest to the spectators.

YWCA WILL SEND CO-EDS TO BLUE RIDGE GATHERING

Conference Will Be Held in Western North Carolina in June

Eleven girls have definitely decided to attend the Blue Ridge conference this summer, according to a report from the Y. W. C. A. cabinet which met Monday night.

The conference meets during the latter part of June for ten days in western North Carolina and offers many educational and religious discussions led by nationally-known speakers.

Reports were heard from the various committee chairmen in the cabinet as to the work that they have done during the past week. Ruth Walston, chairman of the room committee, announced that curtains had been put up in the cabinet room and that the furniture had been upholstered.

Jody Kessler, in charge of the social service group, has been working with the Girl Scout troop and plans to have the troop co-operate with the county welfare organization. Nancy Smith, chairman of the music committee, reported that she was organizing a toy orchestra and planned to give a program at a country church.

At the meeting next Monday night, there will be a discussion of the inter-racial conference.

SPENCERITES EAT MEALS ON LAWN

Co-eds Enjoy Fried Chicken, Waffles on Greensward

The first Sunday in May is always hailed with satisfaction by the girls of Spencer hall, and last Sunday proved no exception to the rule. For several years it has been the custom of the co-ed dormitory to have breakfast and lunch on the lawn upon the appearance of the first warm, clear Sunday in May.

The breakfast was an old-fashioned one of a very popular type, featuring fried chicken and waffles. The lunch was equally as successful.

TOMORROW IS DEADLINE

Dance bids for the annual set of Junior-Seniors will be distributed today and tomorrow in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A., starting this afternoon at 2 o'clock, it was announced last night by Charlie Edwards, chairman of the junior-senior dance committee.

Members of the dance committee will give out the bids this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. No extra bids will be issued and members of the two upper classes must call for their bids in person.

No bids may be obtained after tomorrow afternoon.

Four Dances

Four dances will make up the set, which starts Friday afternoon in the Tin Can with a tea dance. The Junior Prom follows on Friday evening; another tea dance is set for Saturday afternoon; and the dances end Saturday night with the Senior Ball. Harry Reser and his Cliquot Club Eskimos will play.

Senior Invitations

Seniors are urged by Jake Snyder, chairman of the invitations committee, to order their commencement invitations immediately in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A.

Invitations are on sale during chapel period and from 2 to 5 o'clock every afternoon. Saturday morning is the absolute deadline for the orders to be placed.

Undress Artist Dunham To Pull Sally Rand Act As Stunt Tonight

Stunt Night Chairman Beacham Announces New Talent as Champion Bugler, Chapel Hill Billies, Carolina Carolers, and Mellow-Drama Stars Sign on Dotted Line for Program Tonight

The senior stunt night extravaganza will be given tonight in Memorial hall at 8:30.

Wallace Dunham, fan and bubble dancer and blocking back, is keeping details of his performance dark. A hurried trip was made to Durham yesterday afternoon to procure Wally some feathers to make fans. "I'll make Sally Rand blush with envy," boasted Chapel Hill's champion undress artist.

Hazel Beacham, chairman of the stunt program, announced additional talent yesterday.

The world's champion bugler is a student in Chapel Hill this quarter and has agreed to herald the various acts with brass bugles and silver bugles. The bugler, Sergeant Bill Williamson, knows more than 110 calls and is prepared to give his all tonight.

The Chapel Hill Billies and the Carolina Carolers, both from the wilds of East Franklin street, are prepared, as all good girl scouts are. Misses Eloise Sheppard, Lola Reid, Dorothy Snyder, Eloise Gibbs, Helen Pritchard, Marjorie Usher, and Josephine Oettinger are in training for their songs.

MAESTRO

Harry Reser, shown above, will bring his famous Cliquot Club Eskimos to this campus Friday to play for the annual Junior-Senior dance set.

COUNCIL TO HOLD INITIAL MEETING

New Council to Meet Jointly With Old; Med Representative Elected Tomorrow

The 1936-37 Student Council will meet tomorrow night at 9 o'clock for the first time since its inauguration Monday.

Both the new and the old council will assemble for what will probably be the last joint meeting of the two this quarter.

Members of the new council are as follows:

The medical school's representative will be chosen at a meeting of that school today or tomorrow.

Golden Fleece Taps Nine In Impressive Ceremony

VICE AND VIRTUE WILL BE THEME OF FRENCH PLAY

French Club to Present "La Porteuse de Pain" May 14

The public will be afforded an opportunity to witness the age-old conflict of vice and virtue when the French Club presents the melodrama "The Old Bread Carrier" or "Innocence Persecuted" Thursday, May 14, on the Playmaker stage.

This drama, "La Porteuse de Pain," was first produced in France in 1889, and has been steadily played ever since. Its perennial success might be compared to that of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," though it belongs more properly to the school of melodrama of which "Nellie, The Beautiful Cloak Model" and "After Dark," or "Neither Maid, Wife nor Widow" are notable examples.

The play contains all the fascinating elements usually found in a melodrama of this type, showing innocence falsely accused, long lost children restored, diabolically villainous plots foiled, and "the long arm of coincidence stretched out of joint."

Those taking part in the production are to be Mary Leigh Scales, Lucy Watson, Jean Morrison, Julia Peebles, Alfred Barrett, Bob Coker, George Adams, Fred Alred, Scott Hunter, Henry Bluestone, D. A. Hackney, L. L. Barrett, and Jose Zayas.

SWALIN TO GIVE RECITAL TONIGHT

Will Play Adagio and Fugue From Bach Sonata in C Major

Dr. Benjamin F. Swalin, violinist, assisted by Peter Hansen at the piano, will give his third recital of the year in Hill Music hall tonight at 8:30.

The two musicians will play the Schumann sonata for violin and pianoforte in A minor, and the sonata in C minor, opus 30, number two, by Beethoven.

Dr. Swalin will also play the adagio and fugue from the Bach sonata in C major for solo violin. This fugue is considered very difficult and complex and is seldom performed.

Dr. Swalin has a degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Vienna, and diplomas in violin and conducting from the Hochschule of the Staatsakademie of Vienna.

Committee Sets Date For CC Examination

Seniors Are Advised to Remove Composition Conditions

Dr. J. O. Bailey, secretary of the University Committee on English Composition, announces that the next examination to remove composition conditions will be given on Saturday, May 9, at 2:30 in the afternoon. Students taking the examination will meet in Saunders 112.

It has been announced that it is imperative that any seniors who have composition conditions take the examination to remove them. Any senior with a composition condition who fails to take the examination will be in grave difficulty, if he hopes to graduate in June.

Different Procedure Is Used During Tense Ritual

BANQUET FOLLOWS

Before a tense throng in darkened Memorial hall, nine campus leaders were last night tapped by the Order of the Golden Fleece.

The men were: Nat Townsend, Fred Weaver, Ben Willis, Harry Williamson, Francis Willingham, Joe Barnett, Niles Bond, Jake Snyder, and Don McKee.

Procedure

A new procedure followed during the one-hour ceremony. Two hooded Fleece members spent 30 minutes tapping the nine students, as Professor-organist Jan Schinhan played the dirgeful "Giant's Theme" from Wagner's "Rheingold."

Professor Urban T. Holmes read selections from "The Voyage of the Argus" as the ceremony began. Indirect lights illuminated the painting of a golden ram on the stage's drop-curtain.

President Frank Graham appeared before the tapping and explained the position of the Golden Fleece on the campus.

Tom Evins, Jason of the Fleece during the past year, surveyed the order's work. "Student history is summarized by the Fleece," he concluded.

Qualifications

Character, service, and achievements are chief qualifications for Fleece members. Membership is regarded as the highest honor a student can achieve.

Fleece members, new and old, proceeded to a Carolina Inn banquet following the tapping. Two-thirds of Memorial hall was filled by last night's audience. Among notables present was Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus.

LEAGUE DIRECTOR WILL COME HERE

Conference on the League of Nations and International Security Will Begin Sunday

A conference on the League of Nations and International Security will open Sunday night with a mass meeting in Memorial hall.

Sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and the Foreign Policy League in co-operation with the political science department of the University, the speeches and discussions are held for the benefit of the public, who are invited to attend.

The purpose of the conference is to discuss the problems of the League and the means and value of international security.

Speakers

The principal speakers are Dr. Clark M. Eichelberger, director of the League of Nations Association of America, and Grover Clark, eminent authority on far Eastern questions and author of numerous books, among which is "Today's Governments."

Clark was formerly the editor of the "Peking Leader," a Chinese daily newspaper, and has spent most of his life in the far East.

The League of Nations Association, whose purpose is to stim-
