HAYMES TO PLAY FOR FIRST DANCE OF FINALS SERIES

Orchestra Leader Will Bring Band Here for Thursday Night Dance of Set

WILL BRING LORETTA LEE

Joe Haymes and his orchestra have been signed to open the German Club set of Finals here Thursday night, June 4, it was announced last night by officials of that organization.

The announcement came as somewhat of a surprise since it has been the policy recently to open the Finals set with a band of less note and especially since Ray Noble had already been signed to play for the last two days.

Reputation

Haymes has the reputation of being one of the best arrangers and composers of modern dance music. Haymes played piano in Ted Weem's band when that orchestra was at the height of its popularity but has been directing his own musical units for the last five years.

He has a hobby of developing good orchestras and then selling them to other leaders. It is reported that he sold Buddy Rogers and Tommy Dorsey their bands and that Ray Noble also obtained half his men from Haymes.

Loretta Lee

With him Haymes will bring Loretta Lee, Columbia artist who is now on tour with the band. Miss Lee is rated at the top of the present crop of torch singers. Campsites who heard Haymes in Raleigh last Wednesday night reported that he also had another torch singer with the band who compared favorably.

SIGMA XI HOLDS INITIATION RITES

Twenty-Six Inducted into Honorary Scientific Society at Last Meeting of Year

Twenty-six new members were initiated into the North Carolina chapter of Sigma Xi at the final meeting of the year held last night in the Carolina Inn.

Before the formal initiation ceremony Dr. J. P. Harland of the archaeology department addressed the group on the subject "Archaeology and Art." The organization's annual smoker was attended by the members at the end of the meeting.

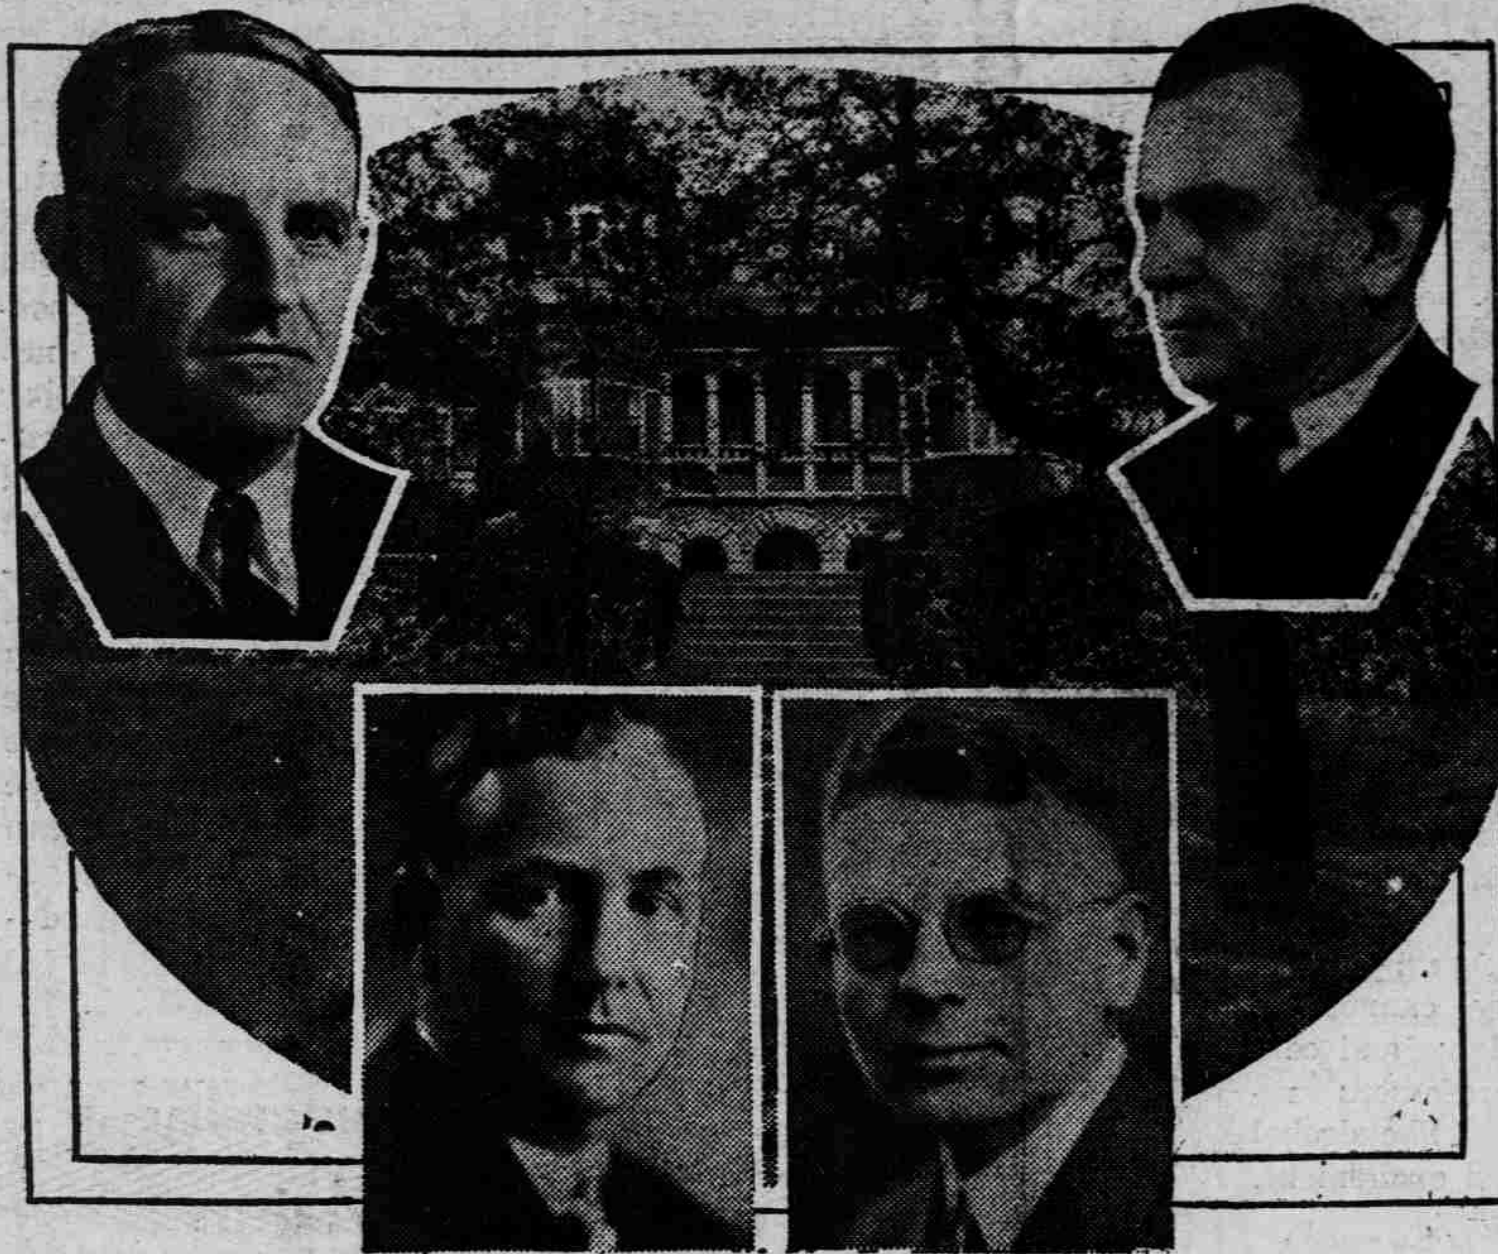

This scholastic fraternity is the state chapter of the national honor scientific society. Full membership into the society involves the writing of a major piece of research worthy of publication.

Graduate students who were initiated are: H. A. Tanner, F. D. Williams, Sherwood Githins Jr., A. R. MacMormac, W. W. Williams, A. G. Lang, Dane Fore Jr., and Miss L. C. Thomas.

Instructors who were initiated are: E. A. Cameron, E. S. Barr, J. C. Ceyer, A. R. Hollett, C. B. Dimmick, R. M. Trimble, and T. P. Noe.

Associate members are asked to join the fraternity after a definite demonstration of their ability. The following were taken in as associate members: P. M. Nicholes, F. B. Culp, A. C. Cornsweet, W. G. Sink, T. L. Lee, Leland Shanor, D. T. Milne, W. A. Perry, E. P. Odum, F. Breazle, and C. E. Prouty.

Dr. Frank P. Graham, and Dr. W. C. Jackson, upper right, who with Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, and the Hon. William E. Dodd, United States ambassador to Germany, will be the principal figures in the 44th commencement at the Woman's College of the University in Greensboro, May 30, 31, and June 1. The Board of Trustees of the University will meet at the same time in the Administration building, shown in the background.

TRUSTEES BOARD TO MEET MAY 30

Commencement at WCUNC Will Include First Meeting of Group on that Campus

The forty-fourth commencement of the Woman's College of the University will include the first meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University ever to be held on the Woman's College campus.

The meeting of the board, over which Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus will preside, is scheduled for Saturday morning, May 30, in the Administration building.

Commencement Address

The Hon. William E. Dodd, United States ambassador to Germany, will deliver the commencement address Monday morning, June 1. Other prominent figures in the commencement exercises will be Dr. Frank P. Graham; Dr. W. C. Jackson, dean of administration of the Woman's College; and Dr. R. H. Stafford, pastor of Old South Church, Boston, who will deliver the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning in Aycock auditorium.

Saturday, May 30, is also Alumnae Day at the college, and an all-reunion supper in which members of 44 classes will participate is planned for 6 o'clock.

Murphey Will Teach At Iowa University

Graduate Goes to English Department of Mid-West School

Dennis Murphey, former student in the graduate school here, has received an appointment to the English department of the University of Iowa for the scholastic year 1936-37.

Murphey is now studying for his Ph. D. in English under Dr. Norman Foerster, former member of the English department here and now head of the department of letters at the University of Montana. Murphey is the author of a book of poems titled "The Boy with the Silver Plow," which was printed a few years ago.

Broadway Star

Alma Brock, an important player in the recent production of T. S. Eliot's Broadway success, "Murder in the Cathedral," who will appear here Tuesday night in the Federal Theater production of "Post Road."

Players To Give Hit Production

"Post Road" Will Be Given Here in First Stop of Southern Tour

"Post Road," which the Federal Theater Touring company will present in Memorial hall Tuesday night has had 375 performances to its credit, having played long runs in New York, Boston, and Chicago.

Written by Wilbur Daniel Steele in collaboration with Norman Mitchell, the play is now reaching a southern audience for the first time. With Charles Schofield directing, the Federal touring company, recently sent out from New York, has prepared a production which is said to equal the original New York version, according to southern critics.

Chosen by Koch

"Post Road" was chosen as the opening vehicle of the new company by Dr. Frederick Koch, regional adviser for the Federal theater venture.

Mr. Steele wrote the play while a resident of Chapel Hill in 1932.

FINLAY TO HEAD MONOGRAM CLUB

Members Select Allen, Gammon, Wright, Buck as Other Officers; Induct New Men

Jim Finlay was elected president of the Monogram Club at a meeting last night.

The other officers chosen for next year are:

Marvin Allen, vice-president; Graham Gammon, secretary; Irby Wright, treasurer; and Dick Buck, member of the Athletic Council.

Coach Wolf was introduced to the members and related his experiences at T. C. U. and told of his impression of Carolina. John Vaught, new head line coach, was welcomed by President Hubbard.

New Members

E. L. Peterson, B. "Latch" Webster, C. H. Groome, Jr., Nick S. Kaluk, Sam C. Lytle, and John R. Edwards were inducted into the club and given copies of the monogram code, which was read by Charlie Hubbard, outgoing president.

Numerous certificates were awarded to freshman athletes who participated in basketball, cross country, football, boxing, and wrestling.

Varsity certificates, which show that the bearer is entitled to wear the monogram, were given for the winter sports of boxing, wrestling, and basketball.

Dr. Ericson Speaks On Thomas Carlyle

Professor Says Writer's Beliefs Are Same as Fascists

Dr. E. E. Ericson of the English department gave a lecture to a group of students during the chapel period Tuesday on "The Hero as a Fascist—Thomas Carlyle."

In his talk Dr. Ericson pointed out that the beliefs of Carlyle are about the same as the present fascists groups. Dr. Ericson quoted Carlyle as saying Heine was "a slimy and greasy Jew fit only to eat sausages made of toads."

Tonight's Showing To Be Last For Playmakers' "Lysistrata"

Faculty Meeting

President Frank Graham has called a general faculty for next Tuesday afternoon at 4.

The nature of the session has not been disclosed, however it is believed that there will be further discussion on the University consolidation program.

A week and a half ago the faculty passed resolutions opposing consolidation of the University's engineering school with that at State.

CO-OP MEMBERS VOICE APPROVAL OF TRUST PLAN

Vote of 142 to 9 Sets Up Carolina Co-operative Association with Trust Status

FIVE TRUSTEES CHOSEN

By a vote of 142 to 9 the trust agreement setting up the Carolina Co-operative Association was approved yesterday by the members, and the trustees who had been nominated were chosen to take over the administration of the Co-op's affairs.

This vote gives the legal status of a trust to the Co-op Association.

Francis Anderson received 132 votes; Harper Barnes, 127; M. S. Breckenridge, 133; F. W. Hanft, 124; Haywood Weeks, 133; while independent choices for trustees came to a total of 25.

Lear, Wolfe

J. M. Lear and H. D. Wolfe, professors of the school of commerce, were elected permanent members of the Board of Referees with votes of 130 and 123 respectively. The ballots for other men members totaled 26.

The permanent Board of Referees, as provided for in the agreement, shall be composed of the two permanent members, the president of the student body, the president of the Interfraternity council, and the president of the law school association.

Student Members

For this year, these three are John J. Parker, who will be chairman of the board, Henry Clark, Interfraternity Council president, and John Williams, president of the law school association.

The two permanent members serve until death or resignation, and in that case, the three ex-officio members, who hold office for as long a time as their term in their other office lasts, choose men to replace the ones who leave.

The clothiers shall henceforth be known as the Carolina Co-operative Store, and the cleaners will be called the Carolina Co-operative Cleaners. The name of the association is now the Carolina Co-operative Association.

P. T. A. To Meet Here

With the general theme, "Modern Living," the ninth annual State Parent-Teacher institute will be held in Chapel Hill August 3 to 7.

Elizabeth Farrar Stars In Aristophanes' Comedy-Riot

DRAMA TO BEGIN AT 8:30

The Playmakers' second and last performance of the one and only "sex strike" comedy-drama, "Lysistrata," will take place tonight at 8:30 in the Forest theater.

"So women have no part in the burdens of war... we, who stand at the threshold of death at the moment of bringing forth life. You sit in council chambers, and vote for war and send out expeditionary forces.

Burden

"But the young men who die are the children we bore and gave our strength to. When their bodies lie buried in strange ground, a part of us is buried there. That is our burden of war," cries Lysistrata as she leads the most amazing strike of which the world has ever heard.

Elizabeth Farrar, who plays the title role, has been on the professional stage for the last two years. After several years of work with the Playmakers, she received a scholarship to study with the Neighborhood Players in 1930.

Break

The best break which she has had, says Miss Farrar, was the chance to work with Edith Evans, famous English actress. Next she secured a job with Mrs. Pat Campbell and then played with Blanche Yurka in "Electra."

"Y" TO REGISTER STUDENT RIDERS

Miss Hodges Will Manage Student Travel Bureau for Persons Leaving School

Miss Helen Hodges, office secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has been appointed chairman of the Students' Travel Bureau, whose purpose is to provide means of transportation for the coming summer holidays to various sections of the country at a lower rate than that offered by railroads and buses.

Miss Hodges requests that any traveler having room for one or more passengers notify her of the vacancy.

Destinations

Rides are desired to New York, Washington, New Brunswick, Baltimore, Knoxville, and Asheville.

Rides are offered to Boston, Philadelphia, Alabama, and California. There is also a vacancy for a round trip to Brooklyn, if the passenger is returning for summer school.

Scholarships Given Two Local Students

Cotten, Hulme, English Department Men, Get Scholarships

Two students in the English department have been given scholarships. Lyman A. Cotten of Chapel Hill was given a scholarship for graduate work in English at Yale University. Francis P. Hulme of Asheville was given a scholarship to do graduate work at Emory University. Both scholarships are for the scholastic year 1936-37.
