OVENS STRESSES NEED OF WORLD FOR SPECIALISTS

Charlotte Department Store Executive Outlines Requirements For Business Men

TALK GLORIFIES BUSINESS

Emphasizing the need for trained and highly specialized men in the business world of today, David Owens, department store executive of Charlotte, outlined the main requirements for a good business executive under present conditions in an address in Bingham hall last night.

The main objective of Mr. Owens' talk was "to glorify business" and to show that business is not the looked-down-upon occupation it used to be. As a man who has been to large and small business meetings in most of the large cities of this country, Mr. Owens spoke with authority on the general type of keen, intelligent man who holds the executive position in large business concerns. He stressed the fact that modern business called for accurate trade management.

Training

Mr. Owens explained that the man at college who is planning to make a success of his business career must be prepared to spend time and energy on the study of his future work. The general idea that business does not require as thorough a training as law and medicine is a bad mistake.

Mr. Owens' advice to men who are hoping to obtain jobs in the business world, was to be proud of their chosen future occupation.

PHARMACY GROUP TO MEET TODAY

Branch of North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association Formed Here

The initial meeting of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association at the University will be held this morning at 10:30 in the Pharmacy building.

The local chapter was organized after 32 students petitioned the North Carolina Pharmaceutical association for a branch to be located here.

The local organization is unique in that it is the first time that a pharmaceutical association has recognized the mutual value of an intimate relationship between its older pharmacists and students who after graduation are expected to use their best endeavors to stimulate new practices in their chosen field of effort.

Charter Members

The following thirty-two students have been made charter members of the local branch: James Fox, Sherrod Wells, T. Wayne Russell, M. N. Goodwin, Solon Minton, Jr., Wm. Proctor, Marguerite Tonkel, K. Edwards, T. M. Bruce, J. L. Creech, C. E. Page, Jr., C. C. Oates, Jr., E. P. Gaddy, W. C. Simmons, Phil Gaddy, Blanche Bullock, A. W. Jackson, C. W. Waller, J. W. Watson, H. J. Kee, E. V. Seniors Must Get Invitations Today

Invitations Will Be Distributed at Y. M. C. A.

Today is the last chance for seniors to secure their commencement invitations. The booklets will be distributed in the Y. M. C. A. lobby from 2-5 o'clock this afternoon.

"After today," says Jake Snyder, chairman of the invitations committee, "all invitations ordered by students will be sold and the deposits refunded."

Seniors who wish to order extra invitations should see Chairman Snyder tomorrow morning in the Y. M. C. A. lobby during assembly period.

Beard Elected

At the recent meeting of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical association in Greensboro J. G. Beard was installed as secretary-treasurer for the twenty-fifth consecutive year. He was also nominated as secretary-treasurer for 1937-38, the election to be by mail ballot.

Glee Club To Complete Season With Concerts, Radio Program

Will Sing for Greensboro Rotary Club and in Odell Auditorium over WBIG

The University Glee club, under the direction of H. Grady Miller, will round out this season's work with two concerts and a radio broadcast in Greensboro today, and a concert on the campus tomorrow night.

Dr. Sherman Smith, baritone, and Peter Hansen, pianist, will be soloists in the three programs today. Tomorrow's concert will have as soloists Walter Vassar and Mark Hoffman of the Greensboro College music department.

Concerts

The first concert is to be given at the Greensboro Rotary club luncheon. At 5 o'clock the group will broadcast by remote control from Odell Memorial auditorium through WBIG, the Greensboro radio station. This evening the group will sing in the Odell auditorium at 8:30. The concert will be sponsored by the circles of the West Market Street Methodist Church.

All four programs will include solos, numbers by the girls' group, the men's group, and the combined chorus.

Officers

Officers of the glee club are Alice Edison, president; Nancy Lawlor, vice-president; Erika Zimmermann, secretary; Lucinda Brown, librarian; and Mary Pride Cruikshank, business manager.

The personnel of the men's group is composed of J. I. Anderson, C. C. Armfield, J. E. Barney, H. A. Bartlett, E. R. Brietz, J. T. Brooks, E. S. Bullins, J. E. Byerly, G. C. Courtney, C. B. FEDERAL TROUPE TO GIVE VERSION OF BROADWAY HIT

"Post Road" To Be Given in Memorial Hall Tonight At 8:30

ALL STAR CAST FEATURED

The Federal Theater touring company will present the Broadway success, "Post Road," tonight at 8:30 in Memorial hall. "Post Road" is not a great play if you stand it up beside Ibsen or O'Neill, but the comedy-mystery by Greensboro's Wilbur Steele and Norma Mitchell moves swiftly, builds up suspense to a tense climax and has a hilarious denouement," says the Raleigh paper in reviewing the recent performance there.

Stage Veteran

"Miss Fassett, a stage veteran whose character acting has won acclaim had reason to remember past triumphs. Playing the part of a realistic and aggressive spinster, she brought to her part, which might easily have been overacted, the wisdom of long years in the theater. She took five curtain calls."

Tonight's presentation, according to report, should be a polished, professional performance equal to any of the 375 which the play had in northern towns in which it has recently played.

Tom Carnahan

The part of the husband in the comedy is played by Tom Carnahan who entered the theatrical profession at the age of four; and before he was old enough to spell it, his name appeared in the cast of dozens of silent pictures. "What Price Glory," in

SENIORS TO HEAR DODGE IN CHAPEL

Staff Member of North Carolina Employment Bureau Will Speak Tomorrow

Seniors will be told of employment possibilities in North Carolina at a chapel period talk tomorrow in Memorial hall.

Mayne Albright, president of the University student body in 1931-32, who is now director of the North Carolina Employment Bureau, has arranged for Major James P. Dodge, of his staff, to explain to seniors the work of the bureau.

Outlook Bright

I. C. Griffin, of the office of the dean of students, reports that in arranging tomorrow's talk with Albright, he has found the young director extremely enthusiastic over the possibilities of employment for seniors.

Following his talk, Major Dodge will remain to interview seniors personally regarding positions.

DEGREE CANDIDATES

All undergraduate and graduate students who expect to receive degrees at commencement this year are requested to meet with Dean House and the faculty marshal, Dr. W. M. Dey, Thursday at 10:30 a. m., in Memorial hall.

The meeting will be brief, but attendance is compulsory as certain information as to procedure at commencement will be given.

SKINNER TO GET PRIZE FOR BEST PRIVATE LIBRARY

Pre-medical Student First Undergraduate to Win Award; Has Unusual Collection

WANG'S ENTRY IS SECOND

Louis C. Skinner will receive the first award to be made to an undergraduate student for the best private library collected while a student in the University, it was announced yesterday by Nora Beust, chairman of the library award committee.

In addition to the $25 award to be made to Skinner, William H. Wang will receive the second prize of $5 in books for the next best collection. Miss Beust reports that a gratifying number of students entered the contest.

Skinner's Collection

"As he is a pre-medical student, Skinner's entire collection shows the influence of his interest in that field," says Miss Beust. Included in his collection were novels with a strong psychological basis, books on witchcraft, psychology, and sociology, biographies of men of science, and an unusual collection of es-

BLUE RIDGE FEE PAYABLE JUNE 1

Comer Advises Payment of Conference Expenses Soon

According to Harry F. Comer, all registration fees must be paid by June 1 for the conference at Blue Ridge this summer. The registration fee is $6 with $10 to be paid for meals after the arrival at Blue Ridge.

Between 160 and 165 universities will be represented at this gathering and opportunities for different groups on the campus to check their activities on other well known campuses of the South will therefore be numerous. A representative from the Student Council will attend to make notes on student government in other universities and compare their methods to those used here.

STUDENTS URGED TO ARRANGE NOW FOR FALL COURSE

Rising Juniors and Seniors Must Consult Heads of Major Departments

SUMMER COURSES OPEN

Announcement concerning the summer session and fall registration was yesterday made by Assistant Registrar Ben Husbands.

Upperclassmen now enrolled and who wish to register for the fall quarter may consult with their deans or advisers this week to declare a study program. Program changes may be made during the summer.

Rising juniors and seniors in the college of arts and sciences should consult their major heads before calling at the college office for formal registration.

General College

General college students and commerce students may begin and complete registration in the offices of Deans Spruill and Carroll.

Rising sophomores are registering all this week with their advisers in the general college.

NEW UNION HEAD NOT YET CHOSEN

Directors Will Endeavor to Pick New Manager Later in Week

After a three-hour meeting, the board of directors of Graham Memorial adjourned late yesterday afternoon still at a deadlock as to choosing the manager of the Student Union for next year.

At the opening of the meeting yesterday the directors decided to contribute $100 to the University club for use in financing next fall's freshman week events. This present will be made immediately.

The group will convene again during the latter part of this week in a third attempt to definitely decide the manager for next year who will succeed Harper Barnes.

HILL WILL SEEK TO RENEW FIGHT AGAINST MERGER

Graham and House Will Be Present at Trustee Meeting in Greensboro Saturday

EHRINGHAUS TO PRESIDE

When the 100 trustees of the Greater University of North Carolina meet Saturday in Greensboro, parties favoring retention of Chapel Hill's engineering school will swing into a climatic battle for reopening of discussion on the controversial issues of consolidation.

John Sprunt Hill, ardent pro-Chapel Hill trustee, is known to be preparing arguments against the consolidation of the local engineering unit with the Raleigh unit.

Resolutions

Copies of the resolutions made two weeks ago by the local faculty opposing the removal of the engineering school have already been distributed to each of the trustees.

Despite the recent flurry of opposition, however, it is felt that a number of the trustees will come to Greensboro on May 30 still satisfied with the consolidation program approved last spring.

MILLER ACCEPTS NORTHERN OFFER

University Music Instructor Will Organize Choral Group in Garden City, N. Y.

H. Grady Miller, instructor in music and director of the University glee clubs, has accepted an appointment as supervisor of music and choral director in the schools of Garden City, N. Y.

An important part of Professor Miller's new duties will be the organization of a choral group in conjunction with the Nassau County Philharmonic Society, which is under the leadership of Gene Porter Smith.

Carrying with it a salary three times the one he is receiving here, the offer comes in recognition of Professor Miller's signal success in the development of the music in the Greensboro schools and his work in choral music, which has attracted wide attention.

With this change Professor Miller goes to a nationally important position, and his absence will be keenly felt by the department and by his many
