MILLER RESIGNS HERE TO ACCEPT JOB AT ALABAMA

Dean Baity To Direct Major Policies Of Engineers

William J. Miller, acting head of the University's engineering school for the past three years in the absence of Dean Herman G. Baity, has resigned to accept an appointment at the University of Alabama as head of the electrical engineering department.

Dean Baity will continue his work as state director of the PWA for the present, but will direct the major policies of the engineering school, which under the consolidation program, has been reduced to courses for juniors, seniors, and graduates.

Eight Resign

During the past year eight members of the engineering faculty here have resigned, three of which have become members of the engineering school at State.

Professor Miller came to the University five years ago from the Texas Technological College where he was dean of the engineering school and electrical engineering department head.

Aside from his classroom and administrative activities, Professor Miller has been associated in research and consulting capacities with the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone company, the General Electric company, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, the Texas Power and Light company, and other organizations.

DONNELLY'S BOOK USED IN SCHOOLS

State Book Commission Accepts New Text

"Alcohol and the Habit-Forming Drugs," a book by Dr. G. L. Donnelly, associate professor of pharmacology in the University, with illustrations by Mary deB. Graves, has been accepted by the State Elementary Text Book Commission and will be used in the sixth grades of the state public schools. The book is now in the process of being printed.

The book was written as a result of the 1935 legislature enacting a law requiring that the school curriculum include instruction about the effects of alcohol and narcotics. Alfred Williams and Company, the publishers, proposed to Dr. William deB. MacNider that he write one. Dr. MacNider was unable to take time away from other work and recommended Dr. Donnelly, who has done extensive work as a research assistant in pharmacology.

Begun in April

Dr. Donnelly began the book in April and completed it about the middle of August. There is no attempt at moralizing in the book. Its purpose is to present in simple scientific language the effects of alcohol and narcotics on the human body and mind.

Wanted: Music Critic

The DAILY TAR HEEL needs a capable music critic to act as staff reviewer this year. Any student, graduate or undergraduate, interested in trying out for this position should contact Bill Hudson, in charge of reviews, before the end of next week.

6 Resigns

W. J. Miller, acting head of the engineering school, who has accepted a position at the University of Alabama as head of the electrical engineering department.

INSTITUTE GROUP WILL MEET SOON

Yeatman Plans Meeting Of Executive Body

The Human Relations Institute, a campus organization the purpose of which is the extensive and intensive study of major social, racial, and economic affairs of the world, will have its first executive committee meeting in a few days, according to Trez P. Yeatman, chairman of the committee.

Through the institute, nationally important figures are brought to the University campus in discussion of current world conditions.

So that each college generation might see the organization active, programs were formerly launched every four years, but for the benefit of transfers, the time has been changed to every two years.

Friendship Council

The Freshman Friendship council will meet tomorrow night at 7:15 in Di hall.

All freshmen interested in "Y" work are cordially invited to attend. Talks will be made by John Parker, president of the student body; and Andy Bershak, vice president of the Athletic association, who is also star end on this year's Tar Heel eleven.

A short business session will conclude the meeting.

Proff Koch Dons Unique Garb For Solo Hike Over Sierras

Playmaker Chief Treks 100 Miles Over Mountains at Daily Expense of $3.04

By R. W. MADRY

Returning to their desks this week, University professors, who vacationed or taught in other sections during the summer, brought back some interesting stories, but to Dr. Frederick H. Koch, director of the Carolina Playmakers, must go the laurels for the best adventure story.

Hiking for six days alone and afoot over the trails of the High Sierras above the Yosemite Valley, Dr. Koch slept under the stars at night, ate his fill of palatable mountain trout, fraternized with wild deer and bears, bathed in the cooling waters of

A. S. U. OFFICERS TO MEET TODAY

Executive Committee To Plan Policies

The executive committee of the American Student Union will meet this afternoon at 2:30 in the Grail room of Graham Memorial to formulate policies of the organization for the year.

Organized last January by Irving Suss, the Union staged an anti-war convocation on the University campus in April. Other of its activities during the year were a panel debate and open forum discussion of war, and talks by outside speakers on problems of national and international significance. One speaker from the International Labor office in Geneva was secured last spring.

Purpose

The American Student Union is an organization primarily devoted to taking action on issues which affect students of colleges throughout the country. The chapter here is a branch of the national organization which has its headquarters in New York.

Jack Frink, president of the local chapter, stated yesterday that no definite date had been set for the first meeting of the entire A. S. U. but that upon its announcement he wished all new students interested to attend.

Dope Racket

After selling "dopes" to weary bystanders-in-line during the two days of registration at the Tin Can, the Y. W. C. A. girls emerged with $12.40 profit and a knowledge of the liquid capacity of a large number of students.

Car Registration

All students operating their own cars in Chapel Hill will be required by the town authorities to pay the town license unless their car carries a special student windshield sticker.

These stickers can be obtained from the office of the dean of students, 205 South building, between the hours of 10:30 and 1 o'clock and 2 to 5 o'clock any day this week. Owners of cars having stickers carried over from last term should register their cars just the same. Prompt completion of this registration is requested.

Heads Barbers

Y. Z. Cannon, who was unanimously elected president of the Association of Master Barbers of North Carolina at their convention in Winston-Salem.

Business for Girls

All girls interested in working with the business department of the DAILY TAR HEEL in soliciting advertisements here, in Raleigh, and in Durham will please report to Eli Joyner in the business office in Graham Memorial tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Four "Y" Cabinets Meet Monday Night To Plan Activities

Reorganization Will Be Discussed; Speakers on Programs

All of the "Y" cabinets will hold their first regular meetings tomorrow night at 7:15.

Girls of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet will hold a business meeting on the second floor of the Y. M. C. A. building.

The junior-senior cabinet, Mr. Comer thinks, will be wrapped up in organizing their many committees.

Chairman of Program Committee Bob Dalton, will have a speaker for the sophomore cabinet meeting.

"Judge" Parker, president of the student body, and Dick Buck, star end of the football team, will speak briefly to the Freshman Friendship Council after the business session.

Local Man To Head Barber Association

Y. Z. Cannon Elected at Winston-Salem Convention

Y. Z. Cannon, long-time member of Chapel Hill's Carolina Barber Shop, climaxed his career in the Association of Master Barbers of North Carolina when he was unanimously elected president at the organization's annual convention held in Winston-Salem September 7 and 8.

After serving for three years as secretary of the association, Cannon held many positions, including membership on the executive board. He has not yet revealed his policies as administration leader.

This year's convention, he stated, emphasized scientific barbering methods by demonstrations, and a drive toward even more sanitary barber shops. Durham was selected as next year's convention city.

Executive Meeting

There will be an important meeting of the Senior Executive committee tonight at 8:30 in Graham Memorial.

Coed Rushing Rules Issued By Pan Hellenic Councilors

Janitor Jim Jumps Into Thick Of Fray In Th' Nick Of Time

Infantry of U. N. C. Plumbers Quell Dawn Sewer Uprising

Storm warnings issued Thursday were followed by a flood in Chapel Hill.

Yesterday morning Jim, the University press janitor, opened up as usual.

Small pools of water led him from one room to another until he finally came to the store room. Cases of new books, some 70-odd in number, were nearly three inches deep in slowly rising water.

"That was about 6:30," Jim said. "There wasn't nobody to help me," he laughed, "so I just started moving the books by myself. About 7:30 the plumbers came, but they couldn't stop it either," continued Jim, "so we called the buildings department."

With a recruit of six men, equipped with buckets, brooms and mops, by 10:30 most of the water had been removed. Outside, the plumbers had dug down to the sewerage pipe and cut off the flow, thus removing the source.

At the present the damage has not been estimated but it will, according to the press staff, run into hundreds of dollars. Some of the books cannot be replaced because the type has been melted for resetting.

Personnel Department To Be First Project Of Honor Fraternity

Alpha Kappa Gamma Meeting Tomorrow Night

The first meeting of Alpha Kappa Gamma for the year will be held tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. M. H. Stacy at 8 o'clock.

The number one project of the year for the woman's leadership fraternity will be an attempt to secure a personnel department for women and a vocational guidance bureau as a regular department of the University. Work was started on this plan last spring, and complete the idea, according to Jane Ross, president.

Other activities of Alpha Kappa Gamma will be the sponsoring of May Day this spring, and plans will be discussed for putting on a fashion show to increase the finances of the fraternity. Another project to be considered at tomorrow night's meeting is the building of a new woman's dormitory. All members are urged to be present.

Newspapermen

Students interested in becoming members of the staff of the DAILY TAR HEEL are invited to attend a meeting in 214 Graham Memorial at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

All that is necessary for one to qualify for trying out for a position on the staff is a willingness to work and an interest in people and affairs.

Those showing an interest by coming to the meeting will be put through a three-weeks period of observation and training before being told whether or not they have earned places on the paper.

Each Sorority To Give Four Rush Parties For New Coeds Silence To Last Two Weeks

Announcement of rushing rules governing the two women's fraternities was made yesterday following a recent meeting of the Pan-Hellenic council.

Rushing will start Monday, October 5, and will end Friday, October 9. For the two weeks prior to rushing, no mention of fraternities shall be made to new women students and no "rushing" will be allowed.

Definition

Rushing is defined in the Pan-Hellenic rules as:

"(1)—Talking fraternity matters at teas or parties at which new students are present."

(2)—Spending money on intended rushees.

(3)—Discussing fraternity matters at teas or parties at which new students are present."

The rules state further that there shall be a definite period of silence between rushers and rushees between rush parties. When each fraternity is rushing, its members shall not talk to or associate with other rushees. Men shall in no way participate with rushing.

Four Parties

Four rush parties will be given by each fraternity during rush week, and bids will be sent to rushees through Mrs. Stacy's office October 13. From October 9 to October 13, a period of silence will be maintained between fraternity members and rushees.

The Pan-Hellenic council members are Helen Pritchard, president; Virginia Lee, secretary and treasurer; Kay Murphy, Leigh Scales, Virginia Burd, Laura Ross, and Mrs. W. R. Berryhill.

NEW POSTOFFICE IS ASSURED HERE

Eubanks Says Present Stand Inadequate

According to a statement made recently in the Chapel Hill Weekly, Chapel Hill is to have a new postoffice.

No decision has been made yet however, as to size, cost or type of building the new structure will be, nor has it been decided when construction will begin.

According to Postmaster Robert A. Eubanks, the present structure is too small to accommodate the growing volume of Chapel Hill mail and his statement was verified by a postal inspector from Washington who recommended a new building.

"For a while, after it was settled that we must have more space, the department considered putting an addition at the rear of the present building," stated Mr. Eubanks. "Four engineers came at different times, to study the structural and the operating aspects of the problem. Termites had done considerable damage, and there were other conditions that would make a great deal of reconstruction necessary."

"The experts finally came to the conclusion that an addition would not meet the permanent needs of the office here, and that a new building was the only satisfactory solution of the problem," concluded Mr. Eubanks.
