Blue Devils Outplay Red Raiders In 6-0 Win

Dick Buck And Little Score To Give Tar Heels Victory

Tar Heels Miss Score As Half Ends

period, - Carolina found itself and started a comeback behind the brilliant running of Burnette and Art Ditt, who, with the aid of Hutchins, Watson and Little, carried the ball from their own 40 yard marker to the Deacons' 8 before the whistle ended the goal march.

The third period saw Carolina continue to carry the game to their opponents, driving deep into enemy territory but each time the Deacon defense tightened and almost certain touchdown threats were stalled.

At the start of the final quarter, Dashiell passed to Buck for a first down on the Baptists' 14 yard stripe but failed to gain the necessary ten yards for another first down by rushing.

The Wake Foresters took possession of the ball and Daniel finally kicked, the ball going out on the Deacons' 47 yard line. Alternations by Dashiell, Hutchins and Watson carried the ball back to the Deacons' 26 where Little sent a long pass to the arms of Dick Buck in the end zone. Burnette's placement with Little holding the ball tied up the ball game 7-7.

Little Scores

Shortly after, Little fumbled Daniel's punt on his own 46 yard mark where it was recovered by Burnette who raced around right end to Wake Forest's 46 yard line. Little and Hutchins added 10 yards and then a reverse from Hutchins to Watson gave Carolina a first down on the Deacons' 11 yard mark. With perfect interference, Little raced around right end, evading two tacklers, sending the Tar Heels to the fore. Burnette's second placement completed the scoring.

With only two minutes of play remaining, the Tar Heels threatened to score again. Following Burnette's punt to Wirtz on his own 25, Kitchins fumbled the ball on the 33 yard stripe and Andy Bershak promptly fell on it.

Hutchins added three yards through the center and Burnette duplicated as the whistle sounded.

Here's How

Pictured is the method used by Captain Dick Buck in scoring the first Tar Heel touchdown of the 1936 season. Another touchdown by Little in the last quarter gave the Carolina team a 14-7 triumph over Wake Forest in Charlotte yesterday.

Blue Devils Have Visions Of Rose Bowl Bid

By R. R. HOWE

Duke Stadium, Durham, N. C., Sept. 26—In a tight, heads-up game of football here this afternoon, 30,000 people saw a classy bunch of Blue Devils outsmart a supposedly tricky crew of Red Raiders to the tune of 6-0 in an effort to start the heart-breaking march to the Rose Bowl.

Before an enthusiastic mob of Homecoming alumni, students and visitors, Duke University announced through the medium of their plunging, sharpshooting, accurately kicking backs during the game and gaily colored tableaux between the halves that they were all set to go Pasadena-wards.

Hackney Stars

With Honey Hackney, Captain Ace Parker, and Fullback Tipton reeling off yardage, Wallace Wade's silk pantalooned charges smeared Colgate's trick plays and intercepted their long passes to outplay the slow starting, red and white clad Raiders.

With Parker and Marshall doing the kicking for the Devils and Raiders respectively, the first quarter resulted in a punting duel at 50 yards with all the smoke of battle hovering over Colgate territory.

False Hope

On the first play of the second quarter Hackney passed to Parker on Colgate's 26 yard line and Parker dashed over the goal line. However, Duke was ruled offsidelines and the play was called back with a five yard penalty.

A play later, the pass was tried again with Jaeger intercepting Hackney's toss. On the next play Colgate was penalized 15 yards for holding and the ball was escorted to Colgate's six yard line. Marshall kicked out to Hackney who received on Colgate's 46, returning the ball to the 35 before being downed. The Wademen picked up more yardage on rushes by Parker, Hackney and Smith but lost the ball on incomplete pass plays.

After a couple of rushes, Marshall kicked out of danger and neither team threatened for the rest of the half.

Reminiscent

Colorful Homecoming ceremonies featuring talks by Governor Ehringhaus and student sponsors, gaudy and numerous floats depicting Duke's Rose Bowl ambitions, and music by six uniformed bands kept the fans in their seats during the intermission.

Both teams returned to the field at the beginning of the third determined to cease all shilly-shally and settle down to a little serious scoring. Duke threatened when the brilliant and stubborn running of Captain Parker and Hackney and the line bucks of Tipton gave Duke a first down on Colgate's 22 yard line.

Touchdown!

Two plays later, Hackney tossed the ball to Parker for a first down on the 11 yard line. Tipton crashed through the center of the line for a first down and then hit the middle again for a touchdown.

Hackney's attempted extra point place kick was wild, making the score 6-0 in favor of the Devils.

Duke threatened again when Marshall's kick was blocked after four downs giving the Blue Devils the ball on Colgate's 30 yard line. Tipton and Hackney carried the ball to the 18 but Parker fumbled on the 15 yard line with Colgate recovering on the 20. The quarter ended soon afterwards.

Fourth Quarter

In the fourth quarter, the Devils had another heart breaker when Taliaferro had to step out of of bounds on Colgate's 10 yard line to catch Hackney's heave from the 34. The play was called incomplete and Colgate took possession of the ball.

The Raiders' scoring threat later in the period was stopped when the red-headed Duke center, Danny Hill, intercepted Marshall's pass on his own 35 and carried the ball to the 45. Neither team was in a position to score during the rest of the quarter.

Parker and Marshall competently handled the punting situation, averaging about 45 yards, but Duke outrushed the Raiders 180 yards to 63 yards. The Devils ran up nine first downs to Colgate's four and all in all looked far better than they did against Davidson last Saturday.

When a chess set was found in King Tut's tomb it fractured the contention of historians that Han Sing, a Chinese Mandarin, during the reign of Kao Tsu, originated chess. Kao Tsu was a Chinese emperor in 174 B. C., whereas Tut was a king of Egypt about 1350 B. C., nearly 12 centuries ahead of Han Sing.

"Hello, Advises Vick

"One of the easiest ways to create a campus spirit, Head Cheerleader Hoge Vick explained at the pep meeting Friday morning, "is to meet every person with a cheery "Hello," a nod of the head, or some manner of recognition.

"This would tend to give everyone a feeling of friendship," he added, "and give our games much more color."

Berlinski Is Injured In State's Last Quarter Drive

Fumble Leads To Touchdown

By KARLIN KAPLAN

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 26—A thoroughly outclassed Wolfpack went down to defeat, 6-2, here tonight as Teeney Lafferty kicked, passed and ran all over Riddick stadium behind the excellent blocking of Dennis and Corbin.

Davidson made their score in the third quarter when McClell recovered Entwistle's fumble of Lafferty's kick on the three yard line. The ball was given to the Wildcat quarterback, Armfield, who promptly plunged over for the touchdown. The attempt at conversion was unsuccessful.

State rallied in the last quarter and, sparkplugged by Eddie Berlinski shot a series of passes down the field, but the Wildcat forward wall and pass defense tightened and they met the challenge successfully. The rally fizzled out when Berlinski was taken from the field badly hurt.
