CAMPUS TO HEAR DOUGHTON SPEAK ON BEHALF F.D.R.

Prominent Democrat Accepts Invitation To Speak Oct. 26

Democratic Congressman R. L. Doughton, chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, has been secured by the Carolina Political union to speak here October 26, according to an announcement yesterday by President Frank McGlinn.

As a result of previous negotiations, McGlinn received a letter yesterday from Washington stating that Congressman Doughton would speak to the University student body on behalf of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic nominee for reelection to the presidency.

Gardner

McGlinn further announced that O. Max Gardner, former governor of the state, who had been petitioned by the union to speak in October, would be unable to do so because of the pressure of his business.

The Rt. Rev. Paul Jones, prominent socialist and resident minister of Antioch college, was personally selected by Norman Thomas, presidential candidate of the Socialist party, to speak at Chapel Hill at the request of the union. Rev. Jones is scheduled to talk on behalf of the Socialist party Monday night, in Memorial hall.

As announced in yesterday's paper, Colonel Frank Knox, Republican candidate for the vice presidency, will arrive in Chapel Hill October 13 to deliver an address.

DORMITORY MEN VOTE YESTERDAY ON 1936 OFFICERS

Councillors Elected For Each Floor; Many Races Are Close

By JIM SIVERTSEN

Along with the rain yesterday came a flood of votes throughout the dormitories bringing into office the new councillors and the filling of other vacant offices.

Newly elected officers in Old East are: north section, C. C. Armfield; center section, Clarence Klutz; south section, Andy Bershak. Charles Wales went unopposed into office as athletic manager.

Aycock

In Aycock Pete Peterson was elected first floor councillor; the second floor men, Phil Walker and Bill Wilson, tied for the position and a run-off will be necessary; for third floor, William Tenenblott; and Bert Ressler for athletic manager.

In Grimes the running was somewhat closer, a second election being necessary for the fourth floor between Pete Avery and Boone Grant.

Malcomb Allan and Beaty Bass were unopposed as first and second floor representatives, respectively. August Mayland was elected for the third floor. Jim Joyner was unopposed as athletic manager.

Ruffin

Things were still warmer down in Ruffin as Lafayette Wrenn and Gordon Gifford tied for the first floor, the same situation holding true for the second and fourth floor between

Advisers Get Facts Concerning New Men For Student Record

Dean Spruill Tells His Group to Get Good Start Here

Freshmen met their respective advisers yesterday during the regular chapel period in New West, New East, Bingham, Phillips, Venable, Murphy, and Memorial hall.

The object of the meeting, according to the advisers, was to gain a first-hand knowledge of each student, to be kept on record.

Start

Dean C. P. Spruill of the general college told his group in Memorial hall to get a good start and that four years from now they would thank themselves.

"Ask yourself this question!" the dean of the general college demanded. "Are the things I am doing the most worth while? Find what you are especially fitted to do and stick to it. You can't take part in all of the activities, but choose one for yourself and do it well."

Problems

"The main problem in business today is dealing with people. Your problem on this campus is to get acquainted with your fellowmen, so as to learn how to deal with them. Friction may arise, but your task is to study that person and yourself."

ANNUAL SPENCER HOP TOMORROW

'Blind Date' Card Dance To Be Held In Lounge

The annual Spencer hall dance will be held tomorrow night in the main lounge of the woman's dormitory.

Class officers, publications men, representatives from the Interdormitory and Interfraternity councils, the Athletic council, and officers of the campus organizations, have been invited to the affair.

The dance is of the "blind date" type, and each dance by card.

This is the third year that the Shack has staged the affair.

Weather Maps Show How Hurricane Was Deflected From Coast

Charts in Geology Building Trace Path of Tropical Storm

Seeing the recent hurricane charge toward the coast of North Carolina and veer away to skirt the whole Atlantic coastline is made possible by the series of weather maps on exhibit in the geology library.

The path of the storm is traced on a series of maps which are issued every day by the U. S. weather bureau. Beginning on September 17 each day brings the hurricane farther out of the southeast toward Cape Hatteras. When it is about 100 miles out, it is deflected slightly and turns to the northward, coming within 50 miles of Norfolk. The storm is pushed eastward slightly and roars up the coast narrowly missing the port cities.

An explanation of the turning is seen in the high pressure area which centered in the Lake Michigan region and extended to the eastern edge of the United States. The storm was a low pressure area which would have crossed eastern North Carolina, Virginia and other Atlantic states had not the "high" stood guard and bounced it off.

Don Seawell

The University debate squad will hold its first meeting of the year tonight at 9 o'clock on the second floor of Graham Memorial. Don Seawell will speak on the English debate trip.

Seawell was one of the two debaters chosen through the University Debate council by the Student Federation of America to represent the country at large in the British Isles last spring.

Tour

The two debaters spoke in all parts of the Isles. They began in Southampton and went up the west coast through Cardiff, Bristol, Wales, Liverpool, and Glasgow. They then crossed to the eastern coast of Scotland, came down to Edinburgh, thence to Newcastle, Manchester, and London. Following that they spoke in Reading, Cambridge, Oxford and a few other places.

Advisory Board

Alumni Clubs Of Nation To Meet In Celebration Of University Day

New York City Group Planning Dinner Dance Following Carolina-N. Y. U. Game

Alumni clubs all over the nation are planning to hold meetings soon in celebration of the 143rd University Day.

Alumni in and around New York City are planning a dinner dance and other entertainment to be given at the Hotel Ambassador October 17, directly following the Carolina-N. Y. U. game.

An information and registration booth will be established in the same hotel, and students may make reservations for the affair by writing Dr. T. J. Wilson, III, at 1 Park Avenue, New York City, or by notifying J. M. Saunders in the Alumni office here.

In North Carolina the Greensboro, Asheville, and Oxford clubs have almost completed plans for University Day. Dr. Archibald Henderson will address the Greensboro alumni.

New Orleans is also planning a reception for the Carolina team, alumni, and students October 24, after the Tulane game. The headquarters will be at the Bienville Hotel, and alumni from Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, and Texas will gather there.

Other meetings are being planned in Georgia, California, and New York.

Publications Board To Hear Applicants For Buccaneer Post Business Manager to be Chosen At Meeting Wednesday

Applicants for the business management of the Carolina Buccaneer will be heard by the Publications Union board next Wednesday at 3 p. m.

The board, in its first session of the fall, yesterday received and accepted the resignation of Niles Bond from the management of the humor magazine, effective after the publication of the first Buccaneer this year.

Audit

Written applications for the position should be presented Professor J. M. Lear, board adviser, next Monday.

In presenting the audit of the board's account at yesterday's meeting, Mr. Lear announced that profits on the four student publications last year totaled approximately $900.

Students To Choose Coed Stylist Today

Polls Will be Open at "Y" For Dame Fashion Election

Polls will be open all day today in the "Y" for each student to cast his vote for Dame Fashion, the leading figure in Alpha Kappa Gamma's pageant of styles, to be given October 29 and 30.

One of the following five girls will be chosen the outstanding coed stylist: Elizabeth Keeler, Virginia Burd, Mrs. Kirby Smith, Marguerite Morris, and Eliza Rose.

The show will be divided into two acts, depicting old and modern dress styles. Gowns of 1776, 1860, 1880, 1900, and 1936 will be reviewed by Dame Fashion. Both boys and girls will participate in the showing of the styles.

The Betsy Ann Shop of Chapel Hill is making arrangements for securing costumes and gowns in New York for the show.

LANE TO EXHIBIT ART WORK HERE

Subject Matter Taken From South

Beginning today and lasting until October 15, 25 water color paintings by Stephen Lane, young American artist, will be exhibited in Hill Music hall.

His exhibition of water colors is composed chiefly of subject matter found in the vicinity of Baton Rouge and New Orleans. There are several, however, of Greensboro subjects. Mr. Lane is working in Greensboro at present.

According to Mrs. Corinne McNeir, art teacher in the extension division, the artist has "a fresh, spontaneous style of water color painting that is peculiarly suitable to the medium."

Born in 1911 in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Lane studied at Cornell, the Ringling Art school at Sarasota, Florida, the Art Students' league of New York, and Louisiana State University. Several years ago he was one of 10 students selected out of 1,000 from all parts of the United States to win a scholarship to the Art Students' league of New York. These scholarships are awarded on the basis of competitive merit of paintings.

Giant Pep Rally To Be Staged Tomorrow Night At Postoffice

Alumni Association Directors To Meet Session at Carolina Inn Set for October 3

The regular fall meeting of the board of directors of the General Alumni association will be held here October 3 in the Carolina Inn.

The reports of officers and committees will be heard, and plans for the coming year made. At that time a date will be set for the annual Alumni Assembly, and a program to entertain the various representatives of each class and each local club which will attend.

A luncheon at the Carolina Inn will start the meeting, after which the directors will attend the Tennessee-Carolina football game as guests of the University.

Secretary Saunders anticipates a large attendance. President Howard E. Rondthaler, president of Salem College, will preside. Officers R. C. deRossett, J. G. Ramsay, George Watts Hill, and H. B. Haywood along with the board of directors and district directors will be present.

EXTENSION HEADS OPEN INTERVIEWS

Will Hold Conferences At Charlotte Soon

Representatives of the University extension division will visit Charlotte tomorrow for the purpose of interviewing recent high school graduates unable to attend college this year and other prospective students who desire to begin or to continue their college studies at home.

R. M. Grumman, director of the extension bureau, and Miss Mary L. Cobb, in charge of the bureau of correspondence instruction, will represent the University in Charlotte.

Conference

Group and individual conferences with students will be held from 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. in Central high school. Dr. E. H. Garinger, principal of the high school, is co-operating with University officials in making the local arrangements for these educational guidance interviews.

The extension division plans to hold similar guidance conferences in several sections of the state this year, the Charlotte meeting being the first of this series.

"Ram-Tender" For '36 To Be Elected Tonight

University Club to Decide Who Shall Escort Rameses

Members of the University club in their meeting at 7 o'clock tonight in Graham Memorial will elect a student to the important position of ram-tender for the football season of 1936. The winning candidate will lead Carolina's venerable mascot, Rameses, in his first campus appearance tomorrow night at the Tennessee game pep rally.

Members of the club who would like to nominate students for this position are asked to bring their candidates to the meeting in order that all club members may know the nominees on which they will vote.

Plans For Affair Include Parade, Appearance By Rameses III

Mascot to Make Initial Bow

Joy, or something, will reign supreme tomorrow night when the Carolina student body drops its sophisticated composure to join in a parade and pep meeting as a fitting prelude to what will be a mighty good football game between Tennessee and Carolina.

Reasons

The game will be the first home game of the year; it will be Coach Bear Wolf's formal introduction to the greater part of the student body; it will be the University of North Carolina's most potent attempt to beat a Neyland-coached Tennessee team, something it's never done. Reason enough for three pep rallies.

Last year was the first time that the Tar Heels have defeated the Vols since 1909.

Plans

Plans for the occasion include a wildly-cheering horde of students, a torchlight parade, appropriate speakers, rousing cheers led by Hoge Vick and company, and last but not least, the first 1936 appearance of Rameses, a ram extraordinary and a tradition in himself.

The parade will start in front of the post office at 7:15 tomorrow night, proceed up Franklin to the stop light, down Columbia street to Cameron avenue and then to South building, where members of the team and coaching staff will make their appearance.

Complete plans with information about such things as obtaining torches will be published tomorrow. The University club is attending to the details.

WOMEN STUDENTS TO MAKE CHANGES IN ORGANIZATION

Will Revise Constitution To Permit Changes In Elections

At a meeting of the Woman's association yesterday afternoon it was unanimously decided that a change be made in the organization's constitution to the effect that town girls be permitted to elect their own representative to the council.

Erika Zimmermann was selected by this group as their representative for the year. In this office, she automatically becomes chairman of the advisory committee, which acts as go-between of the students and the council, handling probations and smaller projects.

Shack President

By another change in the constitution, the Spencer hall residents will be the only ones to vote in the election of the Shack president, who is also representative to the council. This election will be held in the spring with the general Woman's association election of officers.

Plans

It was also announced that Frances Faust will be the countess (Continued on last page)
