G. O. P. CANDIDATE KNOX WILL MAKE STATE TALK HERE

Thomas Dixon To Speak On C. P. U. Program For Democrats

Late yesterday afternoon came the report from Frank McGlinn, president of the Carolina Political Union, that Colonel Frank Knox, Republican candidate for vice president, has personally cancelled all his appearances in this state with the exception of the one here October 13.

On the following day Thomas Dixon, famous North Carolina novelist and reputed to be one of the greatest speakers in America, will speak in Memorial hall representing Jeffersonian Democrats. Both speakers are being brought here under the auspices of the C. P. U.

More Meetings

President McGlinn invited everyone interested in the election of Landon to be present at the C. P. U. meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. "The Roosevelt for President club," also sponsored by the C. P. U., will meet some time next week.

McGlinn says that 15 cars are needed to escort Colonel Knox from the train to Memorial hall and urges that anyone willing to volunteer his car, contact him as soon as possible.

Knox will speak at 9:30 Tuesday morning, chapel period being changed to that time in order for students to attend. All townspeople are invited.

SCHOOLS DESIRE MALE TEACHERS

Ten High School Jobs Cannot Be Filled

The placement bureau of the education department received over 10 requests during the first two weeks of this scholastic term for men to teach in high schools throughout the state which could not be filled.

Since such a shortage of well qualified male teachers has developed within this state, out of state teachers are being sought, Guy Phillips of the education department announced.

Higher Salaries

Observers of the state public school situation are convinced that within the next few years salaries for men teachers especially, will continue to rise, and that the demand for them will also increase.

"Teachers cannot be qualified to meet the high standards now in effect in a short time. The fact that during recent years many men have selected other work who would have been excellent teachers, now promises a period when men teachers will be hard to secure," Mr. Phillips stated.

The local placement bureau and Mr. Phillips will be glad to cooperate in any way with students who are interested in adopting teaching as a profession.

P. U. Board Meeting

The Publications Union board will meet today at 3 o'clock to select a business manager of the Buccaneer. Written applications for the position were submitted Monday, and personal interviews with applicants will be held today.

Coeds Miss Chance To See Movie Star Here In Chapel Hill

Fair Sex to Get Second Chance At Maryland Game

Carolina's coeds missed the thrill of a lifetime when they passed up a chance to see a real-honest-to-goodness movie star in the flesh.

Randolph Scott is the gentleman's name and he stopped off for lunch yesterday at the Carolina Inn, according to Manager Haywood Duke.

The cinema star, a native of Charlotte, was on his way to Camden, S. C., and didn't linger long in Chapel Hill. However, he plans to be back in Chapel Hill next Saturday for the Maryland game, giving the coeds another chance.

Scott was a former student here in the spring of 1920, having gone to Georgia Tech the preceding year. According to Mr. Duke, who was the only person in the Inn to recognize the star, Scott was very much impressed with the changes that have taken place in the University.

Di Senators Favor Petition To Extend Christmas Holidays

Resolution Suggested by Lodge Carried by 12 to Three

The visitors to the Di Senate meeting last night were successful in carrying through the resolution suggested by Lee Lodge that the administration be petitioned to "extend the Christmas holidays to January 4."

John Ramsey, president of Di, said, "The winter quarter is only ten weeks long, which makes the work so compressed that a single day's absence will make a great burden on the student. The administration thinks it advisable to start school on Friday so that the students can spend the whole weekend getting their first assignment. The opening of school will keep a lot of students from starting the new year under the influence of intoxicants."

John Busby, freshman visitor, took the floor to defend the resolution. The vote of the eleven visitors and four officers resulted in a 12 to 3 acceptance of the motion.

Lodge said that the DAILY TAR HEEL and the Duke Chronicle were both backing the movement to get students of each institution a reduced rate at each other's home football games. He spoke of the "amiable relationship" which exists between the two schools.

Tau Beta Pi Head Leaves To Attend National Meeting

President Sharp to Represent Engineering Society at Troy

Tom Sharp, president of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, left last night for Troy, N. Y., where he will attend the national convention of that organization as representative of the local chapter.

Sharp expects to arrive in Troy in time for the Wednesday afternoon re-installation of the Gamma chapter of New York. After the ceremonies in Troy are completed, he will journey to Syracuse to attend two business sessions at the University of Syracuse, and inspect the Crouse-Hinds works. A smoker is on the roster for that night.

Leaving Syracuse late Thursday night, Sharp will go to

Influence Of Ballet Director Causes Reform In Dance World

Dancer

Noelle de Mosa, danseuse of the Jooss European Ballet, as she will appear in the medieval "Ballade" on the Student Entertainment program tomorrow night in Memorial hall.

TEAM SCHEDULES BRITISH DEBATE

Match In Chapel Hill Set For November

The highlight of the debate squad's activities for this year will be a match with the British Union of Students here November 9, according to W. A. Olsen, coach of the squad.

At Thursday night's meeting it was not known what would be the question for discussion, but Mr. Olsen announced that at next week's meeting a discussion of the questions submitted would be held and a decision reached.

British Team

The British team which will arrive here November 7, will spend the weekend here.

Last year on the same schedule the University squad met Cambridge here. Other debates held were with Wake Forest, universities of Georgia, Puerto Rico, and Vermont, in addition to the foreign trip.

Violinist Engaged For Third Program At Student Union

Mrs. Defenbacher to Perform Sunday at 5 P. M.

Kay Rickert Defenbacher, violinist, assisted by Peter Hansen at the piano, will be the soloist at the third Graham Memorial concert Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by Pete Ivey, director of Graham Memorial.

Mrs. Defenbacher is well known as a concert artist. During the spring she was soloist in the Mendelssohn Concert Columbia Music festival. Other artists participating in the festival were Richard Crooks, tenor of the Metropolitan, Harold Bauer, and Hans Kindler, conductor of the National Symphony orchestra.

Next month Mrs. Defenbacher will appear as soloist with the Boston Civic Symphony orchestra.

Mr. Hansen is a graduate assistant in piano at the University, and has appeared in frequent concerts on the campus.

Band Rehearsal

An important marching rehearsal for the University band will be held in Kenan stadium this afternoon at 5 o'clock. All members are asked to be present without instruments.

Kurt Jooss Born and Reared on Farm; Later Organizes Prize Winning Group

Kurt Jooss, creator and director of the Jooss European ballet, which will appear here tomorrow night on the student entertainment series, may not look like a revolutionist. Yet it has been said his influence in the dance world brought about the abandonment of many old forms, traditions, and beliefs.

Born and reared on a farm, Jooss' father had intended for him to become a farmer, and thus continue the ancestral traditions. He milked cows in the afternoon and played the piano at night.

Career

He was 18 when he finally won the consent of his parents to attend an art school in the nearby city. For two years he dabbled in paint and took lessons in acting and dancing.

At the end of that time, in collaboration with Fritz Cohen, the composer, he gathered around him a little circle of young men and women interested in the ballet. This was the nucleus which later developed into the Jooss ballet which is now making its third American tour after winning the 1932 prize at the International Dance congress.

Havana Student Sees Continued Peace For Cuba

Chief of the Army is the Real Power in the Republic, Opines Erstwhile Cuban

"In Cuba, things are different," stated George Puig, University student from Havana, yesterday afternoon. "Over here, when the students protest against something, the government does not send the army over."

"But I think things will be quieter now," the pre-medical student continued. "Gomez, the president, is a good man, but Batista, the chief of the army, is the real man in power."

According to Puig, there is little, if any, communism or fascism now in Cuba, although, in his opinion, Batista may be trying to introduce communism. "A little bomb over there—" a shrug and a movement of the hand "and they say 'Communists,' but I don't believe so."

Situation

Although Puig has taken out first citizenship papers, he remains in touch with his homeland through letters and visits, and remains interested in Cuban affairs. Economically, in his opinion, the Cuban lower classes are in a bad position, due to the low price of sugar, the principal export, and the consequent unemployment. Ignorant and gullible, they are easily misled, but better conditions are foreseen as a result of Gomez's efforts.

"Too many little politicians have ambitions. They want the power, but I think Batista will be too strong," continued Puig.

He explained that there has been some disturbances, in sympathy with the Spanish rebellion, since a large proportion of the population is Spanish by birth, but discounted the possibility of any wide-spread revolt in Cuba.

Puig outlined briefly Cuba's political history, since the ad-

PHI DISAPPROVES SHORT VACATION

Representatives Induct Fifteen New Men

"It's bad enough to look at instructors and professors on ordinary days, but at 8:30 on January 1, it's terrible," stated Representative Bob Browder at the meeting of the Phi assembly last night.

That was the unanimous opinion of the Phi, and a committee composed of Frank McGlinn, Harvey Ganderson, and Harry Dewey were appointed to investigate the matter and report to the assembly next Tuesday when a course of action will be decided upon. The bill opposing the beginning of the winter quarter on January 1 will be held over until then.

To Assist A.S.U.

A number of Phi representatives volunteered to assist the American Student Union in passing out petitions asking the admittance of local coeds to the freshman and sophomore classes of the University. The local coed bill was passed at last week's meeting of the Phi, and action is being taken upon it by the assembly in accordance with Speaker McGlinn's new policy to make the Phi an active organization.

The student entertainment committee was scheduled to make a report to the assembly, but this was deferred to the next meeting, due to shortness of time.

Fifteen new members were initiated into the Phi assembly, as follows: Harvey Ganderson, Bob Cunningham, S. B. Bradley, Jack F. Lynch, Jack Fairley, Robert Spanier, Herbert Smith, Platt Davis, Paul Wallach, Weldon Lewis, Julius Hilfman, Theodore Gores, Newby Crowell, Frank McDonald, and Harry Dewey.

A. S. U. Meeting

Organization for the circulation of petitions concerning the admittance of local coeds into the freshman and sophomore classes of the University will be outlined at a meeting of the A.S.U. tonight at 7 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

Anybody interested in assisting with these petitions is asked to the meeting, according to Jack Frink, president.

STUDENT PETITION AGAINST HOLIDAY RULING PLANNED

Sponsors Of Move Plan To Secure 1500 Signatures

A petition to the administration requesting that the students be given permission to return to the University on Monday, January 4, instead of Friday, January 1, is being circulated on the campus by Richard Gips, freshman at the University this year.

"We are planning to get from 1200 to 1500 names before we talk to the proper authorities," said Gips, in a statement made yesterday.

To Registrar

It was understood that the petition will be taken to T. J. Wilson, registrar, when the desired number of names have been received. Gips is working on the petition in collaboration with Mac Smith.

The petition reads as follows: "We, the undersigned, do hereby contend that it would be to the satisfaction and advantage of the student body if the administration would grant permission to the student body to return to classes on Monday, January 4, instead of Friday, January 1."

STAGE MAGAZINE TO BE RELEASED

John W. Parker Edits New Publication

Announcement has been made of the release of the September issue of "The Carolina Stage," edited by John W. Parker, and published by the Carolina Dramatic association at the University.

The "Carolina Stage" is a supplement to the "Carolina Play-Book," and has for its advisory editors, Professor Frederick H. Koch and Russell M. Grumman. Walter Preston and Wautell Selden are the art editors for the publication.

Feature

A feature in this issue is an article by Ella Mae Daniel on the meeting of the directors of the Carolina Dramatic association to be held in Chapel Hill October 9 and 10.

The bulk of the issue is devoted to the Pageant of Education in celebration of the centennial anniversary of the beginning of public education in North Carolina, to be held at the Western Carolina Teachers College at Cullowhee, North Carolina. The magazine contains a copy of the directors' script for the pageant.

Transfer Students Are Entertained By Carolina Ensemble

Spoonerizer Van Nietsin-Hoopft Parades Vocal Antics

Transfer students, new to the University this year, were entertained last night at Graham Memorial by the Carolina Salon ensemble, and the vocal antics of Pete Ivey's amateur discovery, Alovwiscius Van Nietsin-Hoopft, local spoonerizer.

In a one-hour program, over which Dean R. B. House presided, the many men and women from other universities of the country were given their first official recognition on the campus.

Dean House addressed the group informally. Following a short musical program by the
