

BULLETINS

Football Ushers — Those selected to work for the Maryland game will be posted today at Emerson stadium and will be listed in tomorrow's DAILY TAR HEEL.

Jewish Students — Hillel foundation reception at 7:15 tonight. Carolina Inn ballroom.

Boy Scouts — Will be in dormitories at 3:30 this afternoon to collect old clothes and shoes for the Community club.

Phonograph Concert — In Hill Music hall today at 1:25 will include excerpts from "Die Walkure" by Wagner. Lawrence Tibbett will be the soloist with the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra under Stokowski.

Practice — Brasses and woodwinds of the University orchestra will hold a combined rehearsal today at 5 o'clock in Hill Music hall.

All Boys — Interested in trying out for freshman tennis team manager report to Frank Farrell or Jack Cox at the tennis courts this afternoon at 2:30. Four boys will be needed.

Infirmiry — Those confined to the infirmiry yesterday were: John Crawford, D. A. Berini, N. J. Blue, W. Graham, J. S. Currie, George Steele, L. Brunner, J. Peterson, M. Rhodes, Nancy Nesbitt, and Charlotte Wright.

Men and Women's Glee Club — Meets this afternoon, 5 o'clock, Hill Music hall.

Staff Bulletin

Reporters' Classes—Both classes to meet today at 2 p. m. in 214 Graham Memorial.

Jooss Interview

(Continued from first page)
way once again.

"Officially, I am the choreographic assistant to Mr. Jooss. I must look at the performance from the point of view of the audience. If something strikes me as being ineffective or vague, I call out, and we have a conference.

"All the dancers participate in the conferences, new ideas are tried out, and sometimes the result is that we go back to the original and sometimes we change the interpretation."

"Nein," she calls, and once again she is on the stage correcting some flaw which would hardly be perceptible to the average observer.

LOST — Brown suede jacket with zipper front. Has William Harris written on inside of back. Return to Daily Tar Heel business office.

WHEN WINTER Comes

Colder weather increases the possibility of fire destroying your property. Your only protection against serious financial loss is adequate and dependable fire insurance.

Slippery streets increase the hazard of driving your automobile without proper and dependable automobile insurance.

By allowing me to place your fire and automobile insurance in strong mutual companies—your insurance will cost you from 20% to 25% less.

See me before insuring or renewing. No cost or obligation, of course.

Preson P. Phillips
Mutual Insurance
Phone J-8311, 317 E. Chapel Hill St. Durham, N. C.

Dramatic Meet

(Continued from page one)
marionettes in the theater. A report of the Neighborhood theater under WPR by Mabel Bacon follows.

Harry Davis will speak on the trends of Broadway and the Summer theaters after which A. T. West, director of the Duke university players will give a demonstration in directing, using by way of illustration, the one-act play "Red Carnations." Also tomorrow morning Dr. Koch is to talk on "The Pageant of the Centennial of Education" which will be produced next April in Raleigh.

Open Forum

An open forum concludes the morning session with talks by Florence Busby, of Catawba college, Ella Mae Daniels, assisting editor of the Carolina Stage; and Ruth Everett of Seaboard high school.

Adjournment until after the football game, the conference will meet again in the theater at 7:30 when Samuel Selden, associate director of the Carolina Playmakers will give an illustrated lecture on modern stage scenery. Mr. Selden will be followed by Lois Drew, director of the Kennel workshop who is to talk on "Marionettes in Our Recreational Program." "Madame Curie," a radio broadcast by the Raleigh Little theater; and scenes from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by Dr. Koch will close the conference.

Harvard Club

(Continued from first page)
are expected to attend from various parts of the state.

President W. A. Lambeth of High Point will preside and Richard P. Bond, of the English department of the University, is in charge of arrangements.

Patricia Ellis

Patricia Ellis featured with Mickey Rooney and Dennis Moore in the First National romance of the race tracks, "Down the Stretch," which is now showing at the Carolina theater.

Len' Your Ears

(Continued from page three)
Hero—Jake Powell, Yanks, with .454, 10 hits out of 22 tries. All around goat—Travis Jackson for miserable fielding and .190 batting. Hitting goat—Our own Phi Bete Tar Heel, Burgess Whitehead, with a solitary hit in 22 trips to the platter.

During the season when the Giants were submerged in the second division, a mournful Owner Stoneham stated, "The club shall be rebuilt for 1937. This can't go on!" . . . Came the miracle and the Giants slid into the pennant. The pallor of mourning turned to the crimson of pride. All was forgiven . . . Came the World Series. And now Mr. Stoneham, start that chant again. You were right the first time.

Frosh Gymnast

(Continued from page three)
name of Dutcher, freshman from New York, and a Mr. Tucker of the zoology department, not to mention a Gordon Smith, who finished his pre-med course at Davidson this past year and is now trying for half his M.D. here. Tucker is the most versatile of the three, but Smith ranks with him in smoothness. Johnny Shirey, also an ex-Davidsonian (no relation to Smithsonian), and one of the only three in school who can execute the giant swing, won't be around much this year, because of studies.

"As for Me . . ."

Well, I was fooling around and imitating a newspaper man one day (I was about two years old then), and my Pop saw me.

He told me if I didn't write a sports story every day good for three columns, he would cut my ears off. . . . And now look at me, a bum like Ray Howe.

One of these Saturdays, the cheering squad is apparently going to cut loose and go crazy—or maybe everybody will think so. But it won't be a disease of the mind; it will be the product and results of strenuous work in Bynum. The boys, headed by Hoge Vick, have been practicing some tumbling for the past three weeks. None of them knew much about the work, but progress has been pretty fast.

Flippers

They have been practicing handsprings and back flips mostly to fit into the cheering. This will be the first acrobatic cheering squad Carolina has had in over ten years. It is unique in procedure. Cheer leaders are being converted into acrobats. The program carried on at schools with such cheering squads aims to make cheerleaders out of gymnasts.

Current history: Dizzy Dean demands $40,000. Governor Allred asks to have his roof patched.

See the latest designs in watch bracelets in the city
L. R. DEKLE
Jeweler
Over Andrews-Henninger

Stagger the Campus With Fashion FASHIONS

No matter what the occasion . . . you are Tops with Fashion Togs! At the games . . . on the campus . . . at the afternoon and evening affairs. No matter where you go, our new arrivals put you away out in front.

- CORRECT STYLES
- CORRECT FITTING
- CORRECT MATERIALS
- CORRECT ATTENTION

We Solicit Charge Accounts

the Fashion
LADIES' OUTFITTERS
129 East Main Street — Durham, N. C.
Be Sure It's A FASHION Fashion

"YOU CAN FOOL THE HANGMAN . . . BUT YOU CAN'T CHEAT THE SEA!"

ISLE OF FURY

Based on a famous novel by W. Somerset Maugham, with
HUMPHREY BOGART
MARGARET LINDSAY
DONALD WOODS
Paul Graetz - Gordon Hart - E. E. Cline
Directed by FRANK MCDONALD
A WARNER BROS. PICTURE

MIDNIGHT SHOW TONIGHT
Doors Open At 11:15 P. M.
CAROLINA

Chesterfield Wins

... they're milder
they have a more pleasing taste and aroma