

NEW PLEDGE SET WILL BE INVITED BY FRATERNITIES

Names Of Rushees Due At Student Union Late Tomorrow

After a week and a half of playing host to new men the campus fraternities will extend to approximately 225 of these visitors tomorrow afternoon between 2 and 6 o'clock in Graham Memorial the invitation to join them.

Henry Clark, president of the Interfraternity council, urges that all fraternities turn in to Pete Ivey at Graham Memorial a card for each rushee that is to be invited to join as soon as possible after the close of rushing tonight.

Blank Cards

Blank cards for this purpose may be obtained from Ed Green at the Phi Kappa Sigma house; Clark also requests that with these cards a typewritten sheet containing the names and addresses of all boys asked to join be turned in.

Clark explains that these cards will be arranged alphabetically and postal cards will be mailed out the following day notifying the boys to the effect that they have been invited to pledge. In case a person who expects an invitation does not receive one and has a reasonable right to expect it, Clark urges that he consult a master bulletin in Pete Ivey's office tomorrow between 1 and 2 o'clock.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Woodhouse Makes Talk On Political Issue

Professor E. J. Woodhouse of the department of political science addressed the first meeting of the Undergraduate Philosophy club Tuesday night on "The Political-Philosophical Issues of the 1936 Presidential Campaign."

Preceding the address, Frank Wells was nominated and elected president of the club and Miss Sue Sandlin was nominated and elected secretary. Both candidates gained their offices without opposition.

Personalities

Professor Woodhouse in his address touched on the various phases of politics and compared the more outstanding personalities in the field.

Warning his listeners that they were going to hear a biased opinion, the speaker outlined his ideas and beliefs on the present situation. "I believe," he stated, "that the political philosophy the man holds will be the determining factor in the present campaign. . . . Party platforms mean very little, though they should mean more. We have 48 parties in this country, one in each state. How can they possibly agree on any platform . . . or group of compromises?"

Mr. Woodhouse gave the members of the club a number of excellent criteria for judging public figures, and the meeting closed after a brief business session.

Wilson Is Lecturer

Ramsel-Damsel Leg Pulling

Claiborn "Benny" Carr, former editor of the Daily Tar Heel, is shown putting his best foot forward as the late Ross, Negro trainer, asks, "Who stole Rameses?" Carr is now preparing to steal the Fordham ram in conjunction with Carolina's meeting with N. Y. U. next Saturday. Harvard will also play.

Memories of Rameses Kidnapping Called Up By Letter From Carr

Former Editor of the Daily Tar Heel Tells of Plans for N. Y. U. Game

Pete Ivey received a card in his usual morning's mail yesterday that will again bring into prominence the story of the kidnapping of Rameses III and Benny Carr.

Only seniors will remember the occasion of this hoax when on the morning of Friday, November 17, 1933, at 2 a. m. the entire campus was alarmed by the ringing of the South building bell and the announcement by Benny Carr that Rameses had been snatched by Duke students.

Havoc

An assembly of about 400 loyal Carolina men were worked into a boiling rage by Carr's exhortations. About half of this number invaded the Duke campus and wreaked havoc in general. On the following evening Duke repaid the compliment and invaded Chapel Hill in strong force.

After the battle that had waxed heavy on both campuses the truth came out. The entire story of the kidnapping was pure fiction. Rameses III was still safe on the farm where he was always kept.

Plans Being Drawn For New Reservoir By Local Engineers

Faulty Generator Insulation Believed to Be Cause of Tuesday's Mishap

Plans are being drawn up by Consolidated Service plant for a new reservoir which will hold 2,000,000 gallons of water to replace the old one which held only 250,000 gallons to alleviate the strain now placed on the present water storage plant.

J. C. Little, assistant of H. E. Thompson, supervising engineer of power and water estimated yesterday that if the 12 inch water main which leads from University lake to the filter house were to break that Chapel Hill would have only enough water to last for one day.

It was estimated that 150 gallons of water per person is used each day here. University lake contains approximately 680,000,000 gallons of water. If there were no more rain the supply would last a year.

mere, Long Island, is again active in the ram market. In the card which he wrote to Ivey he discloses the negotiations in which he is engaged. Carr is conferring with Fordham officials in an attempt to borrow the Fordham ram with which to encourage the Tar Heels when they meet N. Y. U. in the Yankee stadium in New York this Saturday.

Carr, editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL in 1933-34, suggests also that the band rehearse "Dixie" before coming north. Since the game is to be played in the "Yankee" stadium, "Dixie" he believes, will be an appropriate number.

Foreign Films

Mr. E. Carrington Smith has agreed to show the foreign pictures for the different language departments, according to a statement made by Dr. W. P. Friederich of the German department.

This will permit students to see the picture without spending his next morning's "eight-thirty" in bed.

The former plans of putting the University equipment to use have not materialized.

Trustee Committee To Be Given Petition

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees in Raleigh Monday morning, the American Student union will present a petition asking the admittance of University employees' daughters into the freshman and sophomore classes of the University.

Petition

The petition to be considered by the committee is one signed last spring by all but three professors of the faculty. If the committee approves, the petition will be brought before the Board of Trustees at their next meeting.

Jack Frink, president of the A. S. U., made arrangements for this action after an interview with John Sprunt Hill, member of the Board of Trustees, yesterday morning. The union voted at a meeting last night to present the faculty petition to the committee Monday in the hope that the committee will approve its presentation to the board meeting.

Dixon Hits At New Deal In Memorial Hall Speech

Power Plant Blaze Causes Disruption Of Current Supply

New Two Million-Gallon Basin To Alleviate Strain On Old Plant

Action a-plenty was seen at the University power plant Tuesday afternoon when the main generator caught fire and burned for five minutes, until fireman Charles Maynor and engineer J. M. Pendergrass subdued it with four fire-extinguishers.

Supervising engineer H. E. Thompson hazarded the opinion that insulation, which had broken down because of heat and old age, was the cause of the fire. It is estimated that half of the coils have burned out, and it will take at least a few days to put the generator back in condition.

During that time, power for the University and Chapel Hill will be taken care of by the Duke power plant, with whom the University Service plant has a standby agreement. Electricians started work immediately disassembling part of the generator to get at the burned out coils which will have to be replaced.

Jeffersonian Democrat Blasts Policies Of Roosevelt Group

CPU Plays Host

"The New Deal is an illegitimate child; I disown it," barked Thomas Dixon last night in Memorial hall in the fieriest political speech the Carolina Political union has given the campus this fall.

Citing the Roosevelt administration for a violation of the federal constitution and for an alarming tendency toward socialism and communism, the Jeffersonian Democrat declared that at the coming presidential election, America "will be at the cross roads."

Crisis

Dixon, a vigorous 72-year-old native North Carolinian, has returned to political campaigning this fall for the first time in 50 years, because he feels "we are in a crisis."

With mingled humor and pathos he smattered the present administration unmercifully.

"There is no such thing as a democratic principle in the New Deal," he cried to his medium-sized audience.

Debt

"Instead of economy we have billions piled on billions. Our national debt has risen 13 billion."

"Democracy stands for states' rights. The New Deal stands for the destruction of states' rights."

"Democracy stands for simplicity in government. The New Deal stands for the multiplication of everything."

"Democracy stands for a government of law. The New Deal stands for a government of men."

"Democracy stands for freedom. The New Deal stands for slavery," he asserted.

Concession

He conceded the New Deal only one point. "The President," he said, "has adopted at least one plank of the Democratic platform of 1932—he did give us 'more abundant life' of liquor."
