COEDS MAY VISIT ANY FRATERNITY ON LIST OF DEAN

Permission To Entertain
Coeds Given Today
By Mrs. Stacy

Today women students will be allowed to visit fraternity houses which have petitioned for this privilege, according to Mrs. M. H. Stacy, adviser to women.

The fraternities on Mrs. Stacy's list who may entertain girls are: Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Chi Psi, Chi Phi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Alpha, Sigma Chi, Tau Epsilon Phi, Theta Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Phi Kappa Sigma, and Pi Kappa Alpha. Mrs. Stacy requests that coeds not visit any fraternity house not on this list, except for approved social functions.

Visiting Hours

Hours for visiting are from 1 p. m. to 10:15 p. m. except on Friday and Saturday nights when visiting hours are extended to 10:45. Each fraternity on the list agreed to accept responsibility for the preservation of the standards of the University for student conduct. Any breach of this trust is to be reported to the Interfraternity council and to the president of the Woman's association.

Failure to maintain the conditions under which the privilege of visiting is granted will necessitate the withdrawal of the privilege for a minimum of three months.

Sociologist's Book On Tenant Farming Released By Press

University Press Publishes Raper's Work on Share-Croppers

Arthur F. Raper's latest work in the field of social study, "Preface to Peasantry," has been recently released by the University Press.

Delving into the field of interracial co-operation, with emphasis on the present share-cropping and tenant farming system so prevalent in the middle South's black belt, Mr. Raper's book deals with the plight of the worker, reduced to a sub-peasant plane of existence by the collapse of the black belt plantation system.

Deplorable Plight

"Schooling in dependency and without experience in community leadership, the plight of these 'peasants' is deplorable." It is Mr. Raper's opinion that "the New Deal has done much for these workers . . . but reclamation awaits a constructive land policy."

Mr. Raper is also the author of "The Tragedy of Lynching," released by the University Press in 1933. He is a member of the Commission on Interracial Co-operation.

Grumman Addresses Parents, Teachers

Extension Director Presents Institute Certificates

Addressing a group of parents and teachers on "Trained Leadership" at a meeting of the parent-teacher association held in Kinston Monday, R. M. Grumman, director of the University Extension bureau, presented Parent-Teacher Institute certificates to those who qualified for them at the annual state-wide meeting held at Chapel Hill in August.

Author

Professor Samuel Selden, of the dramatic arts department, whose revision of "Stage Scenery and Lighting" has been released by the publishers.

UNION STUDENTS TO DEBATE HERE

Debate Council Picks
Question For Meet

"Resolved, That the constitution of the United States is a menace to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," will be the question debated here on November 20 with two representatives of the National Union of Students of England.

After the Debate council had voted a tie on the questions submitted by the National Student federation of America, the matter was referred to the public speaking classes of Professors McKie, Olsen and Woodhouse. The result was a vote of 60 to 12 in favor of the constitutional question.

The English representatives in this debate are Asher Sheinfeld, of the University of Wales and the University of Birmingham, and J. R. Young, of the London School of Economics. The visitors will uphold the affirmative side of the question.

At the meeting of the debate squad Thursday evening, the question was analyzed and a bibliography suggested by Professor Woodhouse. The next meeting was set for this coming Thursday, when each man must present an outline of his argument and an analysis of the issues.

New Men Favor Delayed Rushing In Preference To Early Tapping

A group of new pledges yesterday expressed themselves as being in favor of delayed rushing. Out of six new men interviewed at Memorial hall, where they went to receive bids, only one desired rushing at the first of the year.

The dissenting voice was that of Hay Armentrout, pledged to Chi Psi. Armentrout said that the delay in rushing was a hardship. "At the beginning of the year our work was light and we didn't have many assignments. Rushing wouldn't have bothered our studying as much as it did when work became heavier and more difficult," said Armentrout. "Delayed rushing made me bust two quizzes."

Wants Delay

William Ruger, Deke pledge and of the majority opinion, liked the idea of delayed rushing better because it gave the freshmen an opportunity to hear the opinions of other people on the fraternities of the campus. He also believed that the newcomers

CPU TO SPONSOR TALK BY SPARGO

Doughton Will Present
Side Of Democrats

Again the Carolina Political union will stir up national political talk on the campus next Tuesday night when John Spargo, onetime secretary of the Socialist party, and now an avid Republican, appears in Memorial hall.

At chapel period Wednesday, Representative Robert L. Doughton of North Carolina will speak in behalf of President Roosevelt.

Straw Vote

Following next week's speeches, the union will hold a campus straw vote for presidential candidates.

Spargo, who came to America from England 30 years ago, is noted for his score of books on social issues, industrial democracy, foreign relations, the Russian revolution, and general economic problems.

Educated at Oxford and Cambridge, he has grown famous in this country as a speaker and authority on social issues.

Although once a powerful force in the Socialist party, Mr. Spargo will appear on this campus as a supporter of the Republican party.

Friendship Council To Sponsor Social In Graham Memorial

Group to Hold First Affair of Season Monday Evening

The Freshman Friendship council's first social of the year will be held in the lounge of Graham Memorial on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The program will consist of talks by Dean R. B. House, Ramsey Potts, and Fred Weaver; songs by Dr. Sherman Smith and the newly organized freshman quartet; games free of charge in the University game room; and refreshments served by young ladies from the Y. W. C. A.

President Bonner announced that an effort had been made to invite each freshman individually, but he urged each member of the class to come whether he had been contacted or not.

Chancellor

Harry Woodburn Chase, president of the University of North Carolina from 1919-1930, who is now chancellor of New York university, whose football team meets the Tar Heels in Yankee stadium today.

MAGAZINE ISSUE OUT OCTOBER 26

Parody By Stuart Rabb
Will Be Featured

Editor Jim Daniel announced yesterday that the first issue of the Carolina Magazine will be out on October 26. "The initial issue of this year will contain a policy article advocating a self-help protective association for the 500 self-help students in the University," said Daniel.

A parody on "Green Pastures" by Stuart Rabb will also be featured. "Green Masters," the title of Rabb's drama, is a story of consolidation with a cast made up chiefly of "Lawd Gadnab Almighty," Josy, and Grabraham.

Sketches of C.C.C. life as seen by a former member of the organization, Gordon Mull, and an article on Mexico as seen this summer by Nick Read will be included in the magazine. A long review of the "Village Chronicle" by Bill Hudson will be the main feature in the review department.

Hal Gordon has written an article on the past, present and future significance of "swing" music.

Deputation Squads Will Organize Soon

Teams will Visit Cities Throughout North Carolina

The first freshman deputation teams of 1936 will be organized at the end of this month, Harry Comer, "Y" secretary, announced yesterday.

Organized by the Y. M. C. A. the University's deputation teams each fall visit cities throughout the state explaining features of the University to Hi-Y groups and high school student bodies.

Dentists Will Open Graduate Curricula

Under the leadership of Director R. M. Grumman, the University extension division is co-operating with the North Carolina Dental society to form a post graduate educational program for members of the society.

Grumman has attended the meetings of the district dental society both in Statesville Monday, and in Raleigh Tuesday. Representatives of the University extension division will attend three other district meetings which are to be held soon.

239 New Men Given Bids By Fraternities Yesterday

Band To Broadcast

Station WABC of the Columbia Broadcasting system will feature a program by the Carolina band today at 12 noon. This program by Carolina men will be broadcast from Columbia's West 45th street playhouse. The concert will come over the stations of Charlotte, Durham, and Greensboro in this state.

The program is as follows: "Hark the Sound"; "Entry of the Gladiators," Fucik; "Headline Rhapsody," Colby; "His Honor March," Filmore; "Tar Heels On Hand," Kay Kyser; Carolina cheers led by Hoge Vick; Alma Mater of N. Y. U.; Carolina Alma Mater and "Tar Heel Born."

The band on its first northern tour of the year will be directed by Earl A. Slocum, professor of music. The program today is the University band's first radio broadcast this fall.

Mangum Gives Talk On Biologic Cells In Freshman Chapel

Medical Head Emphasizes Importance of Every-Day Living

"It is your duty to think about the effect of your life on future generations," said Dr. Charles Mangum in freshman assembly yesterday.

After tracing the biologic history of the cell as it grows into a human being, Dr. Mangum continued, "The developed body contains two types of cells, body cells and germ cells. As you live your life, the way you think and act can not help but affect the quality of those cells which are the seeds of the perpetuation of the human race."

The devotional service was conducted by the Rev. W. C. Elzy, of the Carrboro Methodist church. He said, "Most of your miseries are the results of mistaken attempts to find happiness, which is the thing that all of you want most. The greatest teacher of all time said that the best way to do this is by giving happiness to someone else. I don't ask you to believe this; I ask you to try it."

Selden and Sellman Revise Stage Text

New Material Added to "Stage Scenery and Lighting"

Written in 1930 and now in its fourth printing, "Stage Scenery and Lighting," a book on the technical stage by Professor Samuel Selden and H. D. Sellman has recently been revised by the authors.

Endorsed by such notable scenic designers as Lee Simonson, Albert Bliss, and Cleon Throckmorton, 8,000 copies of the book have been released by the publishers.

Professor Selden of the dramatic arts department, author of the first portion of the book, has added a new chapter written especially for those whose funds for building scenery is limited. The chapter concerns the "cut-away" type of stage set which can be constructed at a cost much less than is usual for the ordinary scenery.
