

Upperclassmen To Have First Assemblies Of Year Thursday

Presidents Of Three Upper Classes To Speak

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors will get their first proof of the executive puddings they elected last spring when Presidents Eutsler, Graham, and Bond, respectively, led them in their first official class assemblies Thursday night.

Meeting separately in Bingham, Graham Memorial, and Memorial hall, the upperclassmen will hear briefly from their class presidents and their Student council representatives.

Honor Councils

Following the introduction of the newly-formed class honor councils and consideration of certain matters pertaining to class functions, annual dance, etc., class members will probably participate in a short discussion of the merits of the new honor council and its relation to the disciplinary status of the class itself.

The Thursday night meetings are the first class organization meetings to have been called this early in the fall quarter in a number of years. That all the classes are meeting on the same night is also unusual.

INITIAL TRYOUTS FOR FOLK PLAYS BEGIN TOMORROW

Plays To Be Selected By Dramatic Staff From Scripts

Beginning another year of experimental productions written by students in the University, the Playmakers announce tryouts for the first bill of these plays to be held tomorrow afternoon at 4:30.

The plays, to be produced on the stage of the Playmaker theater, will be chosen from several scripts submitted to the dramatic arts staff.

Dramas

Among the plays are: "The Barren Year," a play of a South Carolina farm woman by David Beaty; "And Things Happen," a play of post-war shadows by Don Waters; "Waitin'," a drama of the southwest Virginia mountains by William Peery; "Founded on Sand," a play on church strife by Eleanor Lane. "Ugly Hands," a tragedy of factory women by Kate May Rutherford; "The Best Gifts," a drama of the labor front; and "Tidal Wave," a tragedy of the South Carolina low country by Evelyn Snider.

Tea Will Be Given For Art Teachers

Mrs. Selden, Scotts to be Honored This Afternoon

In honor of Mrs. Sam Selden and Mr. and Mrs. Scott, members of the new Art department of the University, a reception will be held in Hill Music hall this afternoon from 4 to 6 p. m., sponsored jointly by the University and the art department of the Chapel Hill Community club.

There will be on exhibit the first of the season's groups of paintings, eight oils and 12 watercolors of North Carolina artists. Refreshments will be served and the public is cordially invited.

Final Notice

Eli Joyner, business manager of the DAILY TAR HEEL, yesterday issued a last call for those going out for the paper's business staff. Those interested are asked to see Joyner in his Graham Memorial office at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

N. C. NEW DEALER WILL SPEAK HERE

Doughton Will Defend Roosevelt Regime

Congressman Robert M. Doughton will speak in Memorial hall at 10:23 o'clock tomorrow morning as the Carolina Political union's first guest to champion the re-election of President Roosevelt in the University's series of political addresses this fall.

Nationally prominent as chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, the North Carolina representative is expected to defend the New Deal from recent blistering attacks made upon it by G. O. P. spokesmen.

"Farmer Bob" Doughton's address will be the first of a series of Democratic speakers scheduled to appear on the campus under the auspices of the union.

Di Group To Debate UNC Grading System

Committee to Report on Reciprocal Passbooks

At the meeting of the Di Senate tonight, the senators will discuss the present grading system of the University of North Carolina.

Lee Large, chairman of the committee on student passbooks, will give a report on the investigations of the committee. The plan under consideration is to issue passbooks to the students of Carolina and Duke which will admit Carolina students to Duke games and Duke students to Carolina games.

Miss Wisner Speaks At Conference Here

Social Work Discussed at Carolina Inn Luncheon

Miss Elizabeth Wisner, director of the Tulane school of social work and president of the association of schools of social work, was the guest of honor at a recent luncheon and business discussion at the Carolina Inn.

The special luncheon conference, with covers for 14, was attended by the faculty of the department of sociology and the faculty of the school of public administration. Mrs. W. T. Bost, commissioner of public welfare in North Carolina, and Dr. Persons, of the Duke university medical staff, were also present.

Dean R. B. House presided at the discussion, and Dr. H. W. Odum presented the guest. Miss Wisner spoke on "The Organizations and Aims of the Association of Schools of Social Work."

Freshman Chapel

The captains of the nine varsity sports will appear in freshman chapel this morning, each making a short talk. The program is under the direction of the Monogram club, of which Marvin Allen is president.

Loyal Ivey Men Stage Times Square Rally In Spite Of Shower

Only 30 Rooters Find Their Way To Times Square, Scene Of Pep Meeting

Pete Ivey held his scheduled pep rally at Times Square, New York, on Saturday before the game. The total attendance was 30 Carolina men. Pete said, "We couldn't make a bonfire because it was raining, and it is also against the law."

According to Ivey, the main mass meeting was not the only pep meeting held in New York. He said that individual rallies were being held all over the city. Carolina men were singing songs on practically every street corner and New Yorkers were lending their moral support.

Benny Carr failed in his attempt to borrow the Fordham ram. Fordham was very sorry, but they were using the ram on last Saturday. Ivey said that a sheep raiser from the West promised him a ram, but did not make any promises as to the date of delivery.

BAILEY TO SPEAK HERE THIS WEEK

U. S. Senator To Appear As Guest Of CPU

Senator Josiah W. Bailey, United States Senator, will speak here in Memorial hall Friday night at 8:00 o'clock in behalf of himself and the Democratic party.

The Carolina Political union, which is sponsoring Sen. Bailey's speech, will conduct a straw vote for students, faculty members and townspeople in the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow.

This is the sixth in a series of speakers sponsored by the C. P. U. Future speakers include Attorney General Seawell and Congressman Frank Hancock from Oxford.

Just Kids

When the special train carrying Carolina fans to the N. Y. U. game pulled out of the Washington station, several boys turned up missing. They had last been seen walking around the platform barefooted, in shorts and top-coats. After the conductor had wired back to have them put on the next train it was discovered they had occupied one of the Pullmans up ahead, climbed into berths, gone to sleep.

Woodhouse Classes Hear Former Secretary Of N. C. Socialist Party

Alton Lawrence Speaks On Socialist, Communist Strategy In Presidential Campaign

Alton Lawrence, former secretary of the North Carolina Socialist party, gave a talk before Dr. Woodhouse's political parties class yesterday on the issues of the presidential campaign from the standpoint of the Socialist and his interpretation of the Socialist and Communist strategy in this campaign.

Lawrence's main point was that the left-wing group prefers Roosevelt to Landon as a defense to the rise of Fascism in the United States. They regard Roosevelt and the Democratic party as a stop-gap until a Farm-Labor party can be formed.

Premier Pianist

Josef Hofman, famed pianist and composer, who will give a concert in Page auditorium, Duke university, October 29.

UNC Band Is Soaked In Rainy Broadcast

Bandsmen Sit for Hour in Down-pour at Yankee Stadium

Showing true Carolina spirit, the University band sat in a pouring rain for an hour in order to give the broadcast which was heard over CBS at 12:15 last Saturday.

Changed plans at the last minute placed the broadcast in the open bleachers of Yankee stadium. The moisture-soaked clouds did the rest.

Congratulations from all over the country have been received by E. A. Slocum and members of the band on the excellence of the broadcast.

Originally scheduled for 12 o'clock the program had to be postponed 15 minutes due to electrical difficulties at the stadium.

Beale Will Address Bookshop Audience

New Professor will Speak on American Teachers

Dr. H. K. Beale, new professor in the history department, will be the featured speaker at the Bull's Head tea this afternoon at 4:15.

Dr. Beale, a native of Vermont, will speak on his new book, "Are American Teachers Free?" This book is one in a series making up the report of the Commission on the Social Studies of the American Historical association.

In the preface to his book, Dr. Beale acknowledges the help of Miss Georgia Faison and Dr. J. C. Russell, of the University faculty.

No Action Taken On Local Coed Petition By Trustee Group; Fight To Continue

Fashion Show Groups Rehearse This Week For Display Oct. 29

Scenes To Depict Fashions from 1776 to 1936

Practice for Alpha Kappa Gamma's fashion show will start this week, with the full cast participating.

On Monday and Thursday evenings, girls and boys in the Shack scene will practice at 6:30 in Spencer, and Chi Omega's scene will be rehearsed at the Chi O house at 7:30.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. scene will practice at Spencer on Tuesday and Friday nights at 6:30. Pi Beta Phi's scene will be rehearsed at their house Tuesday and Friday nights at 7:30.

The show will be given the nights of October 29 and 30 in Memorial hall. To facilitate practice, the five scenes in the show depicting fashions of 1776, 1860, 1890, 1900, and 1936 were given to Spencer hall girls, town girls, Chi Omega, Pi Phi, and the Y. W. C. A. These groups are responsible for each scene.

DUKE WILL HEAR FAMOUS PIANIST

Hofman Widely Praised By American Press

Josef Hofman, world-renowned pianist, will appear in concert at Page auditorium, Duke university, October 29 at 8:15.

Since the age of nine, when he electrified European music circles with his performances, Hofman has been touring Europe and America. His present American tour started in January, 1936.

Praised

The New York Times says of Hofman: "His artistry brings a potent beauty to familiar music in piano literature." The New York Evening Post acclaims him as "the foremost pianist of our time."

Tickets costing $1.10, $1.65, and $2.20 went on sale at the Duke box office yesterday. Mail orders may be secured now from J. Foster Barnes at Duke.

Spargo Cancels Talk To Phi This Evening

Landon Advocate Unable to Arrive in Time to Speak

Contrary to previous announcement, John Spargo, former Socialist, will not appear at the meeting of the Phi Assembly tonight at 7:15.

Spargo will be unable to arrive in time to speak before the Phi before his main address at Memorial hall. In spite of the absence of the Landonite, Speaker Frank McGlenn said that he expected a lively debate on the question, "Will America be forced to choose between Communism and Fascism within the next four years?"

The second bill for discussion is, Resolved: That students are not being prepared for the future by attending the University of North Carolina.

Graduate Women

Due to the number of activities being staged this week, the graduate women have decided to postpone their benefit bridge party until the winter quarter.

Hill, Presiding, Unable To Make Motion For Recommendation

Graham Present

The executive committee of the Board of Trustees failed yesterday to recommend that the faculty and local coed petitions be placed before the meeting of the board this fall.

After presentation of the petitions by Judge L. J. Phipps of Chapel Hill, John Sprunt Hill (presiding in place of the governor) asked if anyone desired to make a motion that the coed proposition be placed on the agenda of the fall meeting of the board. No motion was made, according to Controller C. T. Woolen.

Mr. Hill Hamstrung

Mr. Hill, who favors admittance of local girls, could not make the motion, because he was presiding.

The only power the trustee executive committee had was to recommend that the full board reconsider the coed problem.

Cause Not Lost

All that yesterday's refusal means, said Judge Phipps, is that at the next trustee meeting in December or January the coed petition "won't be on as a special item of business."

But the faction advocating admission of local girls, according to Mr. Phipps, will carry their cause straight to the next meeting of the trustees and try to get a special hearing.

Those Present

Only seven members of the executive committee were present at the session:

SPARGO TO TALK FOR GOP TONIGHT ON UNION SERIES

Ex-Socialist To Appear Here On Behalf Of Republicans

Republican John Spargo appears at 8:45 o'clock tonight in Memorial hall in behalf of Alf M. Landon.

Once secretary of the American Socialist party, the speaker has changed his allegiance this fall and is appearing in a series of lectures sponsored by the G. O. P. He is brought to this campus by the Carolina Political union.

Writer

Spargo was born in England and first entered politics there. Thirty years ago he came to the United States, where he has since been prominent as a Socialist and as a writer.

He is a reputed authority on social issues, industrial democracy, religion, foreign relations, history, art, economic problems, the Russian revolution, and commerce.

Tonight's program will be the fourth of a series of political discussions by national leaders.

Spargo's address will be the second favoring the Republicans, the first being made by Col. Frank Knox last week. Socialism was discussed in early October by Bishop Paul Jones, and Jeffersonian Democracy was represented last week by Thomas Dixon.
