ROOSEVELT GIVEN LARGE MAJORITY IN CPU ELECTIONS

Voting To Continue For Two Days More In YMCA Lobby

Franklin D. Roosevelt was a sweeping three-to-one favorite over Alf Landon in the first day of the student body's presidential vote yesterday.

Tabulation of votes cast in the Carolina Political Union's Y. M. C. A. polls last night showed:

Roosevelt, 221;
Landon, 63;
Thomas, 16;
Browder, 10;
Lemke, 0.

Polls

Two days remain in which students and professors may signify their presidential preference. Today the polls will be open in the "Y" lobby from 10:30 a. m. until 1 p. m.

Voting for gubernatorial candidates, which is arranged for on the same vote blanks, yesterday showed the preference for Hoey over Grissom 202 to 56.

Blanks

On each blank is space for statement of the voter's residence, his age, his class, his presidential and gubernatorial preference, his choice for president in 1932, and his choice in the primary for governorship of North Carolina.

Frank McGlinn and Carl Jeffress, leaders of the C. P. U., yesterday showed pleasure over the number of straw votes cast. They expect the majority of the 3100 students to have voted before the polls close.

Henderson To Speak To Philosophy Club On Art And Science

Faculty Organization to Meet at Graduate Club

Dr. Archibald Henderson addresses the Faculty Philosophy of Science club tonight at 8 o'clock in the lounge room of the Graduate club. Dr. Henderson will speak on "Art and Science, a Modern Rapprochement."

Illustrating the artistic character of scientific development, the speaker will point out certain modern developments in mathematics and physics as well as revealing information recently advanced by Einstein and other prominent scientists.

All faculty members are invited to attend and to take part in the discussion.

Professors To Star In Nautical Farce

Play to be Given for New High School Benefit

Sacrificing their dignity on the altar of community beautification, university faculty members, clergy, and townspeople are presenting Saturday night at the new high school a one-act farce of sailors, "Pirate's Prize," written by Professor P. C. Farrar, of the sociology department.

The profits will be applied to covering the new high school lot with grass and shrubs, and it is hoped that enough will be raised to start a fund for this purpose.

The play will be presented at 8 and 9 o'clock in conjunction with the "High School Fair" which includes side shows, games of chance, and exhibits. After the last showing of the play the stage of the new auditorium will be cleared for dancing.

Pete Ivey Releases Plans For Displays For Homecoming

Fraternities, Dormitories, Stores Eligible for Prizes

The approach of Homecoming is being foreshadowed by plans released yesterday by Pete Ivey. Prizes for decorations are being offered to fraternities, dormitories, and stores in Chapel Hill.

For the best decorations by a fraternity a cup is to be awarded, the best display by a dormitory is to be rewarded by a party at Graham Memorial and passes to a movie at the Carolina theater.

Windows

The store in Chapel Hill which has the best window is to be given a pass to the N. C. State-Carolina football game.

No fraternity is to be allowed to spend more than $15 on its display and dormitory displays are to be limited to $6. Any student who has ideas for decoration should report to Pete Ivey in Graham Memorial.

At 8 p. m., Friday, October 30, there is to be a Homecoming celebration held in Memorial hall. The celebration will be in the form of a stunt night program.

On Saturday before the game there will be another program in Graham Memorial. Exact plans for this event will be released by Ivey at a later date. There is a possibility that this program will be broadcast.

CLASS MEETINGS SET FOR TONIGHT

Sessions Scheduled To Start At 7 P. M.

First class meetings of the year are scheduled for 7 o'clock tonight, the seniors in Memorial hall, juniors in 103 Bingham, and sophomores in Graham Memorial lounge.

Class Presidents Niles Bond, Reuben Graham, Bud Hudson, respectively, will call their cohorts to arms for the year that is still ahead.

Presentation

Student council representatives, Senior Fred Weaver, in the immediate absence of Bill Daniel, Junior Bob Magill, and Sophomore Keith Eutsler, will, during the evening's order of business, present the new honor councils to their classmates, explain the set-up, and lead the short class discussion of the sub-tribunals' functions and relative merits.

Members of the three honor councils, as elected last spring by the classes, are: Senior—Marvin Allen, Joe Grier, Bill Lamm, Louis Shaffner, Julien Warren, and Robert E. Williams.

Junior—Gene Bricklemeyer, Warren Haddaway, Joe Patterson, Carl Peiffer, Ramsay Potts, and Mac Smith.

Archer Dance

Archer House will continue their fall social activities when they stage a phonograph dance Saturday night from 9 to 12. The old maids' victrola has been duly cleaned and oiled and is in prime condition.

In order to supplement Archer's coed residents, a number of other girls have been invited along with 60 men.

Mrs. Victor Humphries, house mother, and Miss Lucille Kelling have been invited to help the girls in entertaining their friends.

Pianist

Miss Helen McGraw, who will appear Sunday afternoon in a Graham Memorial musical recital.

M'GRAW TO GIVE CONCERT SUNDAY

Pianist Will Perform In Student Union

Helen McGraw, young American musician of considerable recognition in this country and Europe, will be heard in a concert of piano music at Graham Memorial, Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, in the regular series of Sunday musical recitals arranged by Pete Ivey, director of the student union.

Recital

Miss McGraw, who gives her New York recital for this season at Town Hall on December 8, will play music representative of both her repertoire and her extensive musical understanding. Although her interpretation of the classics has won her wide attention, her preferences lie with compositions in the modern manner.

Highest Degree

A graduate of the Peabody Conservatory of Music, Miss McGraw received in 1930 the Artists Diploma, the highest degree awarded at that school. During the same year she gained nationwide attention when she won the Walter W. Naumburg Foundation Music Contest. This entitled her to a debut in New York's Town Hall.

Her career later carried her to Paris where she studied under Alfred Cortot at the Ecole Normale de Musique. While abroad she was heard in Paris, London and other cities of England and the Continent.

Playmakers To Give Melodrama Tonight In Gay Nineties Style

Elaborate Stage and Costume Effects Planned

"Aha, me proud beauty," will ring forth tonight in the Playmaker theater when the Carolina Playmakers present the first of three performances of "The Drunkard," or "The Fallen Saved."

Beginning at 8:30, the play's 17 scenes will run with only one intermission. Interspersed throughout the evening are to be entr'acts by various members of the cast including Bob Nachtmann, Bill Hirsch, Christine Maynard, the Haynsworth twins while The Agonizers, "a quartet of four voices," will sing songs of the 1840's.

Costumes

Ora Mae Davis has organized the costuming of the cast of 30.

New Deal Democrats Get Opportunity To Flay Republicans As CPU Brings Congressmen Doughton, Bailey Here

Defense Of Democrats Will Be Continued By Sen. Bailey

Jubilee Planned

Pre-election politics, well warmed by the Carolina Political Union's series of speakers during the past month, grow to white heat this weekend and Monday.

Just behind John Spargo and Representative Bob Doughton comes Senator Josiah Bailey tomorrow night, to speak for himself and the entire Democratic party.

Jubilee

Monday night a Democratic jubilee, featuring Representative Frank Hancock, Harry McMullen, and other state Democratic leaders, will be staged in Memorial hall.

The C. P. U. has secured the promise of Earl Browder, Communist party candidate for the presidency, to appear on the campus after the election.

Bailey, who speaks tomorrow night at 8 p. m. in Memorial hall, has been a United States senator since 1931.

ECONOMIST GIVES SPEECH ON ITALY

Deutsche Clubbers Hear Dr. Von Beckerath

Dr. Herbert von Beckerath of the economics department spoke in German to the first meeting of the faculty-student Deutsche Gesellschaft on "Faschisms" at Brooks cafeteria Tuesday night.

The speaker traced the development of Mussolini's movement out of economic conditions on the Italian peninsula, out of the great disappointment of the Italian people after the Versailles Peace conference which denied them any fruits from the allied victory, and out of the personal and rationalistic ambitions of Mussolini.

Meetings

The Deutsche Gesellschaft meets monthly for the purpose of hearing lectures in the German language. All persons interested in hearing and speaking German are welcome. A short social hour, including the singing of German songs, concludes the session.

Third Party Plans To Organize Attack At Graham Memorial

Campus Farm-Laborites to Hear Professor Olsen Tonight

Campus Farm-Laborites following the example set by the Democrats and the Republicans and anxious to unite themselves are asking all those that are interested in this party to meet tonight at 7:45 p. m. in the small lounge of Graham Memorial.

Speech

Professor W. A. Olsen of the English department will speak on "Political Trends in the 1936 Election."

Following the talk by Dr. Olsen the meeting will be turned into an open forum to discuss liberal, labor, and radical groups and the stand they are taking in the coming election. One of the topics to be discussed will be the possible realignment of political parties in 1940.

The committee in charge of arranging the meeting are George Stoney, Marty Watkins, and T. P. Yeatman.

LIBRARIANS PLAN ASHEVILLE MEET

Five Staff Members, 19 Students To Attend

Five members of the library school staff and 19 students will represent the library school of the University at the Southeastern Library association meeting in Asheville, October 28 through October 31.

The staff members include Dr. Susan Grey Akers, Miss Nora Beust, Miss Lucile Kelling, Mr. R. B. Downs, and Miss Evelyn Day Mullen.

Group

The association is one of the regional groups in the American Library association and comprises the 13 Southeastern states.

Miss Akers, Miss Beust and Mr. Downs are scheduled to make contributions to the program. Dr. B. B. Kendrick of the Woman's college will speak at the general session Thursday night, October 29, on "Why Southerners Read So Little, Historically Considered."

Odum's Book

The general session Thursday morning will include a discussion of Dr. H. W. Odum's book, "Southern Regions."

There are tentative plans for a breakfast meeting Friday morning of all alumni of the library school who attend the meetings.

Pi Phi Dance

Pi Beta Phi sorority will honor its pledges with a dance at the Carolina Inn tomorrow night from 9:30 to 1 o'clock. Bids have been sent out to the fraternities and a blanket bid has been issued to Beta Theta Pi, brother fraternity of Pi Beta Phi.

The dance will be preceded by a banquet given by the pledges for the active members of the sorority. Hal Thurston's orchestra from the Rocky Mount country club will furnish music for the dance, which will feature a pledge no-break and an active no-break.

Doughton Given Cheers As He Makes Initial New Deal Speech

Lauds Roosevelt

Old time political rally cheers echoed in Memorial hall yesterday as Representative Bob Doughton, ardent New Dealer, decried the Republican party as "a party of privilege . . . inaction . . . stagnation . . . hesitation . . . economic abomination . . . and starvation."

Praise

With the eloquence and persuasiveness which his 26 years of service in the United States House of Representatives have produced, the senior statesman showed no hesitation in his praise of the Democratic administration.

"The Democratic party is the party of progress . . . opportunity . . . and prosperity," he asserted.

He sounded a New Deal keynote:

"The Democratic party is glorying in its record. The Republican party is running away from its record."

Administration

With an occasional Rooseveltian "My occasions" in his address, Doughton referred to the administration in which he is a prime figure as "great" and "humanitarian."

"It has helped agriculture . . . industry . . . and general business," he argued.

"Under President Roosevelt, agricultural prices have increased from 100 to 300 per cent. Banks have been saved. Six million have been put to work."

"Farmer Bob," who has kept his home at Laurel Springs, N. C., all the 73 years of his life, had his audience recall the Republican administration under Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover.

Upset

During that twelve-year period, he said, a complete upset of the United States occurred. "Under Hoover there was an outrageous neglect of farmers—and agriculture is a fundamental economic principle," he said.

During the 30 minutes in which he spoke, Doughton delivered, according to many political observers, one of the most forceful and informed campaign speeches yet heard on the Carolina Political Union's fall series.

Sophomores To Hear Elizabethan Music In Hill Hall Tonight

English Department Offers Lec- ture on Period Music

Class-weary sophomore English students will have something different to stir their interest when they hear the victrola sound forth soon with Elizabethan music in Hill Music hall tonight at 8:30 p. m.

According to Dr. Raymond Adams, head of sophomore English, this lecture will include a short talk by a member of the English department on music of Queen Elizabeth's time, which consisted mostly of lyrics and folk music. A short talk on the musical instruments used in the music and the music itself will be given by a member of the music department. Most of the time will be devoted to the recordings.
