Local Democrats To Rally Behind Party Tomorrow

Students Will Organize As Carolina Young Democrats Club

Hancock To Talk

Pre-election political talk on the campus will end with tomorrow's afternoon and evening Democratic rallies.

At 3 p. m. students interested in supporting the New Deal will meet in Graham Memorial to organize a Carolina Young Democrats club. Blucher Ehringhaus, a law student and son of the governor, will aid in the organization.

Two Carolina alumni will be feature speakers at 8 p. m. in Memorial hall.

Hancock

Congressman Frank Hancock of Oxford will be the chief New Dealer present. Now 42 years old, he has been in the United States House of Representatives six years. Hancock was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity while in school here.

A. A. F. Seawell, attorney-general of the state, will represent the state Democratic party at the rally. He is now 72 years old, and has been in state politics since 1901.

Seawell, whose home is in Chapel Hill, received his Ph.D. here in 1889. After that he attended the University's law school.

McMullan

Mr. Harry McMullan, assistant attorney-general of the state, will also participate in the night rally.

Other speakers will be Miss Mary Henderson of Chapel Hill, first chairwoman of the North Carolina Democratic party, and William H. Griffin, also of Chapel Hill, who was a recent candidate in the United States senatorial race.

ASU, PHI SOCIETY ARRANGE FORUM

Party Representatives To Debate Tuesday

With the tentative acceptance of Jack Frink and Ray Brick to speak for the Socialist and Communist parties, respectively, each major party platform will be represented at the ASU-Phi assembly open forum Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

New Dealer Stuart Rabb, Republicans Frank McGlenn and Leighton Dudley will uphold the right wing parties against Leftists Frink and Brick.

Lemke Man Wanted

No Lemke supporter has been found who is willing to outline the Union party platform. However, if there is such a student on the campus, he may make arrangements to speak by calling either Milton Yudell or Ruth Crowell.

The five debaters will be allowed six minutes for their talks and two minutes for rebuttal. The floor will then be thrown open for discussion and questions.

Sorority Tea

Chi Omega pledges will entertain Pi Phi pledges tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at the Chi Omega house.

It has become customary for the pledges of one sorority to entertain pledges of the other at the beginning of the year.

Daily Tar Heel Social

All editorial and business staff members of the Daily Tar Heel are invited to an open house from 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. J. McKee, 319 Pittsboro street.

This will take the place of the weiner roast originally scheduled for tonight. Amateur talent and other forms of amusement, however, will still be respected.

New Dealer

Frank Hancock, United States representative, who will speak at a Carolina Political union rally tomorrow evening.

Pageant To Review Story Of Fashions From 1776 To 1936

Alpha Kappa Gamma Style Show This Weekend Will Present Dances and Songs

Powdered wigs, hoop skirts, and the bustled Gibson girl will pass in review before the campus Thursday and Friday nights giving way to the styles of the modern coed at Alpha Kappa Gamma's pageant of American styles.

Various scenes will show dress, dances and songs from 1776 to 1936. Following the presentation of the scenes, 10 coed stylists will model late fall and winter fashions of all types, while Elizabeth Keeler, as Dame Fashion, reviews the show.

Music

Nancy Smith, pianist, and Albin Pikutis, violinist, will furnish the music for the minuet, Virginia reel, and square dance, while a radio will supply the rhythm of syncopation for the 1936 scene. The Agonizers, who sang for the recent Playmakers production of "The Drunkard," will appear on the program presenting songs of each period.

Costumes will arrive tomorrow from New York for the show. The Betsy Ann shop of Chapel Hill secured the costumes and will furnish styles for the modern fashion show.

CPU POLL GIVES F. D. R. BIG LEAD

Voting Friday Increases Democratic Majority

Votes of 59 more people in the Carolina Political union's straw presidential poll Friday night brought the Roosevelt majority over Landon well above three-to-one.

Voting took place in Memorial hall before Senator Josiah W. Bailey's address. Votes cast were: Roosevelt, 46; Landon, 12; Browder, 1.

Total Votes

Total votes cast for the two leading candidates during the last four days of the poll now are: Roosevelt, 617; Landon, 192.

Frank McGlenn plans to continue the straw vote tomorrow in the "Y" lobby from 10:30 a. m. until 1 p. m. Final statistics on student preference for president will be published Tuesday.

Prizes Offered For Best Essays On Gymnasium, Swimming Pool

Daily Tar Heel to Sponsor Essay Contest on Benefits of New PWA Project

In order to turn the stream of popular campus comment on a new gymnasium and swimming pool into actively helpful channels, the DAILY TAR HEEL announces an essay contest on the PWA allotment which will bring these two features to the University campus.

The subject of the essay, which will be limited to 500 words, is: "The Benefits To Be Derived from a New Gymnasium and Swimming Pool." The contest is open to all registered students in the University, and the deadline for all entries is 3 o'clock the afternoon of Wednesday, November 4.

Judges

A faculty and administration committee to judge the essays and pick the winners will be announced in the near future. According to Pete Ivey, director of Graham Memorial, the board of directors of the Student Union will discuss at their Tuesday meeting arrangements for awarding prizes to the winning students.

All essays will be turned over, after judging to the proper authorities to be used in raising

Hansen Will Render French Piano Music In Lecture-Recital

Pianist to Discuss, Demonstrate Traits of Works

The University music department announces the second in its series of recitals for the fall quarter, which will be a lecture-recital on French piano music by Peter Hansen, Wednesday night at 8:30 in Hill Music hall.

The program will include: "Gavotte Varie," Rameau; "Le Bavelot Flottant," Couperin; "Les Papillons," Couperin; "Les Petits Moulins a Vent," Couperin; "Le Tombeau de Couperin," Ravel; "Preludes" (Book 11), Debussy; "La Puerta del Vino, Bruyeres, Les Tierces alternees, La terrasse des audiences du clair de lune, Feux d'Artifice," "Prelude," "Chorale," "Fugue," Cesar Franck.

Hansen, a graduate of the University of California and the Eastman school of music, came to the University last year as the graduate assistant and instructor in piano, and has appeared a number of times in Chapel Hill and over the state, in recital, as soloist with the Glee club, and as accompanist.

The public is cordially invited.

Junior-Senior "Y" Group To Discuss Oxford Movement

Cabinet will Hear Report on Greensboro Peace Conference

The Junior-Senior "Y" cabinet will meet tomorrow night at 7:15 to discuss the Buchmann movement, according to Drew Martin, chairman of the program committee.

The peace conference being held today in Greensboro will also be discussed by the students representing the University of North Carolina at the conference.

There will also be a guest speaker from Duke university attending the meeting who will speak on the Buchmann movement, also known as the Oxford movement.

Flyers Will Stunt At Local Airshow

An air show will be staged at the Chapel Hill airport tomorrow and Tuesday, with passenger-hopping between stunts.

Three representatives of the Taylor Cub Aircraft corporation will be at the home port, flying Cubs and giving rides at nominal prices. The pilots and planes are both government licensed. A regular rigamarole of stunts will feature the days' flying. The airport is situated about two miles out of town on the road leading from the stop light past the fire station.

Pea-Vine Special Stops Puffing As Freshmen Hauling Days Cease

Passenger Coach of Ancient Vintage Sings Swan Song After 55 Years of Service

The State University railroad will haul no more freshmen to Chapel Hill.

Yesterday the passenger coach made its last trip over the 10.2 miles between the two terminals, Carrboro and the University station on the Greensboro and Goldsboro line.

Built in 1881 by the University, the railroad has done a decreasing passenger service until this year the revenue has been 21 cents a trip.

Four-Man-Crew

The four-man crew represented 149 years of railroading. Conductor "Captain" Fred Smith has a half-century of service to his credit, while Engineer J. F. Nesbitt has been in the game 47 years.

Express service was removed from the line in September, but Engineer Nesbitt proudly stated, "We brought over 400 trunks to Chapel Hill this year."

Original Run

Originally the train took one hour and ten minutes to make the trip. The little wood-burning engine needed refueling which added to the running time. The final run was made in the record time of 30 minutes, by a train with a top speed of 20 miles per hour.

The last passenger coach, which replaced the original combination baggage and passenger coach, was of ancient vintage. It had mirrors at each end and over the red plush seats, elaborately gilded brass lamps collected dust, unused, "because we do not run at night," explained Captain Fred.

Tulane Green Wave Runs Over Carolina Tar Heels For Impressive 21-7 Win

RALLY TONIGHT

Marvin Allen, president of the Monogram club, issued a statement last night urging students to meet at 8:30 tonight at Swain hall to welcome the returning football squad.

Carolina Fails To Drive Over Scores After Long Marches

Andrews Is Star

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel)

New Orleans, La., Oct. 24—The University of North Carolina's undefeated football team found the Green Wave just a little too much for them this afternoon as the Greenies turned on the power in the last half to run over two touchdowns after the Tar Heels had tied the score to win 21-7.

After winning the toss, Captain Bill Moss of Tulane elected to receive and Mattis, receiving the ball on his own five yard line, brought it back to the 35. With the Green wall opening large holes in the invaders' line, the Wave backs battered their way to the Tar Heels' 32 yard line where a long pass from Bryan to Schneidau gave them a first down with four to go to the goal.

First Blood

After taking time out, Andrews was given the ball and the hard driving fullback went over for the first score of the game. Captain Moss converted.

Carolina in its turn could make no gain against the strong forward wall of the Wave and the play see-sawed back and forth during the quarter till Mattis, Tulane back, raced around right end to the Tar Heels' 14 yard line where he was pulled down by Watson.

The play was called back with an offside penalty and Tulane was set back 15 yards. Not to be deprived, Bryan took the ball on the next play and dashed around left end for a first down on Carolina's 45 yard stripe. Successive rushes and a pass play sent the ball down to the Tar Heels' six yard line.

Determined

The Tar Heel line tightened up and Hutchins, Ed Palmer, and Bartos making the tackles and the entire Carolina team making a determined stand, the Tulane team carried the ball to the one foot line where they lost

DANIELS SEEKING WRITING TALENT

Magazine Issue To Deal With Chapel Hill

The Carolina Magazine, planning a second issue to deal entirely with the village of Chapel Hill, is seeking writers who are either already familiar enough with the subject or are willing to work to become familiar, said Editor Jim Daniels yesterday.

This afternoon at 2:15 these people are asked to meet in Graham Memorial.

Subjects

The second issue of the Magazine will discuss the architecture, the business, the topography, the professional dogs and professorial children, the charity work, the Potters' Field, the interesting places, and people of Chapel Hill.

"The issue will not be about the grand old traditions, the ivy-covered walls, the steps and bells of the University of North Carolina, the oldest state university in the United States," said Daniels.
