Carolina And Duke Lose Undefeated Rank

Volunteers Upset Devils By Safety In 15-13 Win

Vols Come From Behind To Give Wademen First Defeat

Devils Outplayed

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel)
Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 24—Major Bob Neyland's crew of hard-fighting, never-say-die Tennessee Vols pulled the major upset of the nation here today as they turned back the undefeated Blue Devils to the lilting melody of 15-13.

With the Tennessee line turning back the Devils' early scoring threats during the first quarter, the ball worked back and forth and up and down the field but with the greater part of the play being in the shadow of the Tennessee goal posts.

First Threat

The Blue Devils first threatened when Liana blocked Dickens' punt and Parker recovered on the ten yard line. Tipton and Hackney failed to make the precious yards on successive plays and the Vols took over possession of the ball.

The Dukesters seemed to have a touchdown in the bag later in the first quarter when Hackney returned Dickens' punt 25 yards to the Vols 30 yard line but once again the Devils failed to put it over from the six inch line.

... And Again

And once again, early in the second quarter, the Vols' line staunchly held its ground as the Devils failed to put the ball over from the four yard line.

But soon after, Hackney shook his way through the maze of Tennessee tacklers and carried the ball from midfield for a touchdown. Hackney failed to convert.

Tennessee was handed a safety late in the third quarter when the referee ruled that the pass from Parker who was standing in the end zone had been picked off the ground by Smith in the end zone, automatically giving Tennessee a safety.

The Vols made a score on their own hook when Dickens passed to Wyatt for 12 yards and a touchdown. The placement was good and Tennessee went into the fourth quarter leading 9-6.

Early in the fourth quarter, after a march down the field on power plays, the pass play from Hackney to Parker clicked and Duke made their second touchdown and then converted to take over a 13-9 lead.

STATE CONTINUES COMEBACK TRAIL OVER V. P. I., 13-0

Dickerson's Play Saves Gobblers From Worse Trouncing

By FLETCHER W. FERGUSON

Riddick stadium, Raleigh, Oct. 24—N. C. State's Wolfpack continued its comeback march here this afternoon as it defeated Virginia Polytechnical Institute 13-0 before 7,000 Homecoming day fans. Hunk Anderson's boys were superior in every department of play excepting punting.

And it was due to this fine kicking by Foots Dickerson that enabled the Gobblers to keep the score as low as it did. The visitors displayed absolutely no offense at all—having a net yardage gain of five for their afternoon efforts.

State Strong

Meanwhile State piled up 21 first downs, had a net yardage gain rushing of 208, and completed eight out of 21 passes for 142 more yards. Along with Dickerson, George Sodaro, Wilson Brown, and Captain Dave Jones were the only boys that caused any crimp in the Wolfpack offense.

State was partly responsible for its own low score, failing to complete 13 of its passes. Most of these aerials went straight to their intended receivers, but poor reception saw them fall incomplete and on few occasions broken up by Brown or Sodaro.

For the major portion of the first period, the Wolfpack pounded hard at the V. P. I. defense, several times getting down within the shadows of the Gobbler goal post, only to have the visitors tighten. The prettiest run of the quarter came when State held the ball on its own 40. Robinson then cut over right tackle, reversed his field, and went down the left sidelines to the Gobbler 30-yd. line where he was forced out of bounds by Sodaro.

Foiled

Two reverses, Robinson to Ryneska, carried to the 20. Ryneska added two yards at center and Robinson lost one. Robinson then stepped back and hurled a bullet pass—intended for Tatum—that was intercepted by Sodaro. Thus it was Mr. Sodaro that smothered the Wolf-

Outstanding Player

ANDY BERSHAK
- END -

Andy Bershak made a bid for all-America recognition yesterday as he blocked a Tulane punt and then fell on it over the goal line for the Tar Heels' only score of the game. His fine defensive performance brought favorable comments from sports writers and spectators.

Play By Play

First Quarter

Tulane won the toss and elected to receive, defending the north goal. Burnette kicked off to Tulane's 7-yard line, Mattis taking the ball and bringing it back to the 15. Mattis took the ball and went off left tackle for four yards. Adams made the tackle. Andrews hit the center for two yards, stopped by Webb. Mattis made it a first down on Tulane's 47.

Bryan went off right tackle for eight yards, tackled by Webb and Watson. Andrews hit the center of the line for another first down on Carolina's 42. Mattis went off left tackle for five yards. A lateral from Bryan to Mattis was good for two yards. Bryan passed to Schniedau for a first down on Carolina's 4-yard line. Tulane called time out. Andrews went over left guard for the first touchdown of the game. Moss added the extra point from placement. Score: Tulane, 7; Carolina, 0.

Moss kicked off for Tulane, Burnette taking the ball on the 13 and bringing it back to the 34 where he was stopped by Buckner. Ditt got a yard at center of the line. Ditt fumbled but recovered for a two-yard loss. Burnette kicked to Bryan on the Tulane 13, Bryan being stopped by Buck on the 36.

Andrews got a yard at the line, Bartos making the tackle. Andrews picked up four at right guard. Mattis went around left end for four yards before being stopped by Ditt. Mattis kicked out of bounds on the Tar Heel 22.

Little was stopped at the line of scrimmage for no gain. Burnette punted to the Tulane 27, where Bryan took the ball and was run out of bounds on the 30. Tulane called for time out. Bryan failed to gain at the line, stopped by Buck. Mattis was dropped by Bershak for a yard loss. Mattis kicked out of bounds on the Carolina 42.

Burnette got two yards at right guard, stopped by Schneidau. Little went off right tackle for five yards. Ditt failed to gain at the center of the line, but the play was recalled and Tulane was penalized five yards for offsides. The penalty gave Carolina a first down. Watson went off left tackle for six yards. Miller of Tulane was hurt on the play and the Greensies called time out. Friedrichs replaced Miller.

Ditt's attempted pass to Buck was incomplete. Ditt got a yard at the line. Burnette kicked, the ball being downed by Trimpey on the Tulane 6. Mattis kicked out to midfield, Little carrying the oval back to the Tulane 43. Little's attempted pass to Buck was intercepted by Bryan, who was downed on the Tulane 30.

Andrews went over left guard for four yards. Mattis, going around left end, went to the Tar Heel 14 before he was stopped by Watson, but the play was recalled and Tulane was penalized 15 yards for holding. Hutchins went into the game for Carolina, replacing Ditt at fullback. Bryan went around left end for a first down on the Tar Heel 15 as the quarter ended with the score: Tulane, 7; Carolina, 0.

Second Quarter

Loftin plunged through to the Carolina 36 for a first down. Bryan cut around right tackle behind good blocking to the 25. Tulane got first down on the 20 on an offsides penalty. Bryan's pass was tipped by Carolina, but Moss caught it on the 10 and was run out of bounds on the Carolina 7. The Carolina line stiffened and the ball went over on the half yard line. Burnette punted 60 yards to Bryan on the Tulane 40 where he was downed. Bryan punted and the ball rolled to the Carolina 7.

Burnette, Hutchins and Little ploughed to the Tulane 5 but with one yard to go for a first down Burnette was held without gain and the ball went over. Mattis punted to the Tulane 46. Stewart fumbled on an attempted right end run and the ball was recovered by Tull of Tulane in midfield. Loftin went through the line to the Carolina 34. Mattis picked up 10 for a first down but the threat ended at the half.

Third Quarter

Bryan fumbled the Carolina kickoff on his 26 and Carolina recovered. Bryan intercepted a pass on his own six yard line but Mattis' attempted punt was blocked and Bershak recovered behind the goal line for a touchdown. Burnette's placement for the next point was good, tying the score. Carolina kicked off and Tulane returned the ball to its own 42. On a triple pass behind the line Bryan made 20 yards around right end to the Carolina 21. Tulane made a first down on the nine but Carolina held and the ball went over. Burnette punted to midfield and Bryan took it to the Carolina 40.

Bryan passed 25 yards from the 40

HARRIERS DEFEAT GENERALS 20-35 IN DECISIVE WIN

Hendrix Leads Harriers For Second First In Two Days

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel)

Lexington, Va., Oct. 24—The Carolina harriers, led by Bill Hendrix, Mark Aderholt and Andy Jones, who tied for first place, annexed their first win of the season when they trimmed the Washington and Lee hill and dalers 20-32.

Leading the field for the second time in as many days, Bill Hendrix, winner of the Navy meet Friday, crossed the finish line in 30 minutes, 16 seconds to tie with Aderholt and Jones for first honors.

Bob Gardiner and Phil Kind were the next to cross the line for the Tar Heels, running in fifth and ninth places respectively. Kind was the only man accounting for Carolina's score the ball on downs. Burnette punted a long 60 yard kick from in back of his goal line and Bryan was downed in his tracks by McIver.

Little Stars

In the last of the second quarter, Little Crowell Little brought the stands to their feet as he received Mattis' punt on his own 15 yard line and weaved and cut his way through Tulane tacklers before he was downed by Bryan and Bond on their 27 yard line.

Hutchins picked up a first down on Tulane's 13 yard line after Little's pass to Watson fell incomplete and then the Tar Heels were forced to give up the ball after power plays failed to net them a first down.

Tar Heel hopes brightened early in the third quarter when Maronic recovered Bryan's fumble on Tulane's 22 but faded out when Bryan intercepted Hutchins' pass on his own 4 yard line where he was stopped dead by Watson.

Touchdown!

Mattis stepped back in punt formation but the kick was blocked when Andy Bershak crashed through and blocked the punt and fell on it over the goal line for the Tar Heels' only touchdown.

Burnette kept his record clean as he converted for the ninth time this season.

The Carolinians made another goal line stand in the last of the third quarter when the Tulane backs, after marching the ball down the field on successive plays, failed to pierce the rejuvenated Tar Heel forward wall
