CONTEST JUDGES CHOSEN TO PICK BEST GYM ESSAY

Ten Dollar First Prize To Be Given Writer Of Best Paper

Three judges who are deeply interested in the construction of a new gymnasium and swimming pool will award the $15 in prizes for the two best essays submitted to the DAILY TAR HEEL contest.

C. T. Woolen, controller of the Greater University; Dr. R. B. Lawson, director of Bynum gym; and O. K. Cornwell, head of the physical education department, have been appointed to select the winning essays on the subject "The Benefits To Be Derived from a New Gymnasium and Swimming Pool."

For the essay giving, in the opinion of the judges, the best benefits that students can gain from a new physical education outlay, a prize of $10 will be awarded the author. The writer of the second prize essay will receive $5.

Attention is called to the fact that only seven days remain before the deadline at 3 o'clock, the afternoon of November 4. All entries should be turned in to the city editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL in Graham Memorial.

The rules of the contest are: 1. The essay shall consist of not more than 500 words on the subject, "The Benefits To Be Derived from a New Gymnasium and Swimming Pool."

2. All entries must be turned into the DAILY TAR HEEL office by 3 o'clock, Wednesday, November 4. No entries will be returned, and the decision of the judges is to be regarded as final.

3. Prizes will be awarded only on the merit of reasons given.

4. All students registered in the University, except members of the DAILY TAR HEEL staff, are eligible to compete in the contest

Y. W. COMMITTEES FORMULATE PLANS

Group Aim To Sponsor Christian Attitude

Eight committees of the Y. W. C. A. met for the first time Monday night to formulate tentative plans for their respective programs during the coming year.

The worship committee adopted as its primary aim this year the creation and maintenance of a Christian attitude in student activity at the University. Their program will begin with a devotional consisting chiefly of a short forum at the next regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A.

The short discussion of renaissance art, which will be led by Molly Rumsey Monday at 5 p. m., 401 Spencer, will initiate the program adopted by the art committee. This will be the first of a series of studies in art appreciation and periods of sketching given by the committee.

Programs

A list of subjects and men who are prominent in a particular field here was made by the program committee. This list will be used for preparation of tentative programs given by the Y. W. C. A. throughout the year. The committee also decided to make a short study of modern fiction and operas in which the members themselves are interested.

Pageant Of Fashion To Be Held Tonight

Group To Show Evolution of American Dress Styles

A pageant of dress will be given tonight at 8 o'clock in Memorial hall by Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Seventy-two men and women will show the evolution of American dress styles from 1776 to 1936 as they wear costumes of five periods, 1776, 1860, 1880, 1900, and 1936. In each scene, they will dance the steps in mode at that time, and will sing songs that were popular then.

Dances

From the minuet, Virginia reel, and square dance to dances of modern tempo, the couples will demonstrate how our great grandmothers and grandfathers stepped out.

The Agonizers, a quartet composed of Ernest Vanderberg, Frank Turner, Gene Turner, and DeWitt Bartlett, will sing songs representative of each scene before the curtain rises. Nancy Smith and Albin Pikutis will furnish the music for the dances.

Fashion Show

The second part of the pageant will be a fashion show in which 10 of the campus coed stylists will wear advanced fall and winter gowns, furnished by the Betsy Ann shop of Chapel Hill. Dame Fashion Elizabeth Keeler will review this display with the cast of the former periods looking on at the young moderns.

Admission to the pageant is 30 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. It will be given again tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Memorial hall.

Playmakers Will Give Experimentals Friday

Authors Represent Four States; Durham Stage Manager

Under the supervision of Samuel Selden, the first bill of experimental productions for the current season will be presented at the Playmaker theater tomorrow night at 7:30.

The plays represent the work of playwrights from Indiana, Ohio, North Carolina and South Carolina. The audience, after each play has been presented, is invited to make individual comments and observations.

Stage-managing the production is Frank Durham. He will be assisted by a staff of four.

GRAIL WILL GIVE WEEKEND DANCES

Club Enlarges Program Of Homecoming Day

Expanding its usual program in honor of Homecoming day, the Order of the Grail will sponsor two dances in the Tin Can this coming week, the first on Friday night, and the second Saturday night.

The dance Friday night will also honor the University and Monogram clubs, announced Treasurer of the Grail George MacFarland. A percentage of the proceeds will go to the two societies.

Music By Poyner

Freshmen will be admitted to both affairs, and the music will be furnished by Jimmy Poyner and his N. C. State Collegians.

Officials of the Grail assisting in forming the plans for the Homecoming dances are President Jim Finlay, Secretary Fred Weaver and Treasurer George MacFarland.

Steir Gives Address In Freshman Chapel

Secretary of Emergency Peace Campaign Appears Here

"Americans don't like war!" said Donald E. Steir, regional secretary of the Emergency Peace campaign, in freshman assembly yesterday morning.

After emphasizing the probability of war in the near future, Mr. Steir traced the path of America's actions that led us into the last war through our commercial greed. He also described the preparations being made by nations at the present time.

"Our task is the salvation of society," continued Mr. Steir. "We must secure the passage of legislation changing our foreign policy, expose military propaganda, help everyone understand the causes of wars, and unite in a powerful movement to keep us out of them. We must face this problem, for if we cannot prevent war the youth of this generation are doomed to destruction."

"There are several methods of staying out of war," the speaker said. "Preparedness has been suggested by some, and it is not

Alumni Headquarters

The Carolina Inn will be headquarters for alumni returning for the Homecoming weekend this week. All old grads should register there and receive their colors to be worn at the game.

Also at the Carolina Inn will be the meeting of the Alumni Loyalty Fund council at 11 a. m. Saturday.

Lytt Gardner Tells Dionnes How In Prize Letter To Cosmopolitan

Declared Most Capable Male To Raise Quintuplets

By BOB PERKINS

Lytt Gardner, 19-year-old University junior and DAILY TAR HEEL news editor, was selected by Cosmopolitan magazine as the most capable male in the United States for raising quintuplets.

In the August issue Cosmopolitan offered a prize of $25 for the best letter written on how to raise the Dionne quintuplets. Gardner, tempted by a new typewriter which he wanted to try out, sat down and wrote his

Campus Maestro

Bob McManeus, University junior, who has organized a student dance orchestra, which will play, according to Leader McManeus, "sweet music mixed with swing."

McManeus Organizes Student Jazz Band

Third Dance Orchestra Crashes Campus Rhythm World

A third dance orchestra, organized by Bob McManeus, has crashed the campus rhythm world with the avowed intention of playing "sweet" music mixed with the present "swing" fads.

According to McManeus, who has had previous experience in band organizations, his orchestra will cater to dances on the campus and near vicinity. Recently, however, the student orchestra has been furnishing music for the Palais d'Or, Durham night club, and has broadcast over WDNC.

Contracts

McManeus has selected 10 students who have had previous dance band experience to form the group. To date McManeus has signed contracts to play for three dances, the Chi Omega pledge dance on November 6; the Zeta Beta Tau house party, November 13-14; and the Kappa Alpha pledge dance November 20.

Besides McManeus, who will lead and play trombone, the orchestra membership includes Charles Miller, first trumpet; Bob Knickerbocker, second trumpet; Carl Pugh, third trumpet; Derrick Giles, first saxophone; Frank Rogers, second saxophone; David Henderson, third sax; and Bill Weil, fourth sax; Jere King, drums; David Bennett, bass violin; and Dan Waynick, piano.

ideas of just how to raise quintuplets.

Surprise

He had entirely forgotten the incident, and expressed great surprise the other day when he received a check for $25 from the Hearst publications.

Following a rather hectic press interview, Gardner stated laconically: "I know now how Mr. Dionne must have felt."

Comer Issues Invitations To Institute Lecturers

Playmakers' Annual Tour Set To Begin Early In November

New Paul Green Play Is Added To Repertoire

After concluding a three night run of The Drunkard, the Carolina Playmakers announced yesterday that their next major venture would be the thirty-fourth tour, which will begin on November 13 when the company takes to the road.

The plays to be given this season will be the same as those of last year with one exception: Paul Green's Quare Medicine to be given instead of Cottie Mourns by Patsy McMullan. The two other presentations are Tooth or Shave, a Mexican comedy by Josephine Niggli, and New Nigger, a tragedy of the tobacco country by Fred Howard, a graduate of the class of 1934, who is now connected with Ted Shawn's dance group.

Playwrights

All three plays were written in Chapel Hill under the direction of Dr. Frederick H. Koch in his playwriting classes, and are representative of the work done by students in the department of dramatic arts.

Quare Medicine centers around a quack doctor whose solution of a domestic difficulty in the Jernigan household by the use of fake medicines is as startling to him as it is to the Jernigans themselves.

The Mexican folk play, Tooth or Shave, has to do with an ignorant barber and "tooth puller," a sly carpenter, and ten pieces of Mexican currency.

New Nigger is the story of the tenant farmers in Eastern North Carolina; the share-croppers whose trials and disagreements the author well knows. Tragedy comes when Big John, a tenant farmer, attempts to assert his rights.

Ivey Announces Stunt Program

Henderson Will Head Gala Event

Pete Ivey yesterday announced the events of the Homecoming stunt night program which will be held tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in Memorial hall. The gala occasion will be headed by "Admiral" Archibald Henderson as the principal attraction.

A girls' trio, as yet unnamed, made up of Helen Pritchard, Mary Crockett Evans, and Marjorie Usher will perform. Bob Kirschner will do imitations of Rubino and his violin.

Speaker

Bill Aycock, who last year was the president of the student body at State and this year is doing graduate work at Carolina, will make a short speech. Awards to the merchants having the best window display will be made by J. Maryon Saunders, alumni secretary.

Incidental music will be supplied by the University band. "Our program will be the greatest thing since the ice age," promised Ivey when he released the details yesterday.

Immediately after the program, there will be a short pep rally in front of South building. The festivities there will be led by Hoge Vick, chief noise maker.

Notables Contacted By YMCA Head On Trip To New York City

List Tentative

First plans for the 1937 Human Relations institute were begun by Harry Comer, "Y" secretary, during the past four days when he visited New York City to secure institute speakers.

Speakers

Returning yesterday, he announced "the following men were contacted and invited to speak at the institute:"

Clark Eichelberger, director of the League of Nations institute of the United States;

James T. Shotwell, Columbia university professor, and president of the U. S. League of Nations institute;

Dr. Grover Clark, eminent author and authority on the Orient;

Dr. Stephen P. Duggan, director of the Institute of International Education;

Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, of Union Theological seminary.

Invitations

Mr. Comer emphasized that these men have not been definitely secured as speakers, but were interviewed and found interested in being present.

"Approaches for invitations were set up with six or eight other people," he stated yesterday.

Eichelberger and Clark appeared on the campus last spring at the League of Nations institute program.

The Human Relations institute will be held next spring from March 28 through April 1. It is directed by the Y. M. C. A., in co-operation with other campus organizations.

German Club Elects Leaders For Dances Of Current Season

Men To Participate In Figure Chosen by Club Members

The University German club met yesterday afternoon in Bingham hall to select dance leaders and assistants for the proms planned for this year.

Sandy Graham was elected to lead the dance, with Don Gilliam and Erskine Clements chosen as first and second assistants.

Paul Buck was elected as leader for the second dance in the set to be held Saturday night, November 14, following the sophomore hop. Bob Howison and Yates Mason were named as his first and second assistants.

The following selections for dance leaders were also made yesterday for the mid-winter dances to be held in the winter quarter: Connor Feimster, leader for the Junior Prom with John McDevitt and Bill Jones as first and second assistants; John Satterfield, leader for the ball on the following night with Jimmy Carr and Clarence Courtney as first and second assistants.

Carolina Political Union

All members of the Carolina Political union are urged to assemble at 10:35 this morning in front of Memorial hall to have a picture taken for the press.

President Frank McGlenn urges all students who have been interested in the union to be present.
