RHODES ENTRIES WILL BE PICKED THIS AFTERNOON

Scholarship Committee
To Interview Men
At 4 O'Clock

Selection of students to enter the national competition for Rhodes scholarships will be made in the office of Dean A. W. Hobbs this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Applications for a scholarship must be in the same office by noon.

Several students secured application blanks during the weekend. Their general qualifications will be considered by the University Rhodes scholarship committee in its selection of men to compete with representatives of other state schools.

Interviews

Interviews of all applicants from this state will be held in December. Final selection of Rhodes scholars from this region of the United States will be held in Atlanta on December 21.

Applicants must be unmarried males between the ages of 19 and 25, and of at least junior rank in school.

Every year 32 Americans are sent to Oxford university for two years of study through the assistance of the Rhodes foundation. Each student is allowed a stipend of 400 pounds.

The University's last representative at Oxford on a Rhodes scholarship was Bob Barnett. He began his scholarship in 1934, and finished last spring.

FRESHMEN HEAR TALK BY COMER

"Y" Council Discusses
Problems Of Peace

"If we are to be pacifists we must build our own convictions, strengthen the organizations which are working for peace, and think over and study international affairs so as to be well informed in time of war," Harry Comer, general Y. M. C. A. secretary, told the Freshman Friendship council last night.

Comer, speaking autobiographically, described the hardships a pacifist encounters during times of war. He told how the press, the ministers, social life, business and home life all unite in making a pacifist forego his principles. He described how he tried to work for peace during the World War, and how he finally ended by joining the army.

To Continue Discussion

Next week the peace discussion will be continued when Mr. Eugene Barnett, missionary to China for 26 years, will speak to a joint meeting of all the "Y" groups. The meeting will be held in the banquet hall of Graham Memorial, Monday night at 7:15.

The freshmen elected John Lynch to serve as treasurer for the council. Lynch filled the place left vacant by the resignation of Harvey Pittman.

"Y" Cabinets

All members of the Sophomore and Junior-Senior "Y" cabinets are asked to meet this morning at chapel period on the steps of South building to have group pictures made for the Yackety Yack.

Y. M. C. A. Worker

Eugene E. Barnett, international Y. M. C. A. worker from Shanghai, China, and New York, who will speak in freshman assembly Friday morning.

DAILY TAR HEEL ESSAY CONTEST ENDS TOMORROW

Judges To Consider All
Entries, Award $15
To Winners

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock the DAILY TAR HEEL essay contest will officially close and all entries will be turned over to the judges who will award $15 in prizes to two winners.

All essays on the subject "The Benefits To Be Derived from a New Gymnasium and Swimming Pool" should be turned in to the city editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL as soon as possible. No essays will be accepted after tomorrow afternoon.

Basis

The essays should be based entirely around the benefits which the author believes will result from a new University gymnasium which would house a swimming pool. The judges will pick the winning essays on the merit of these suggestions.

O. K. Cornwell, head of the physical education department; Dr. R. W. Lawson, director of Bynum gymnasium; and C. T. Woollen, controller of the Greater University, will act as judges. Their decision as to the winner of the first prize of $10 and a second prize of $5 must be regarded as final.

Use

The points which are brought out in the essays will be used in raising the University's share of the PWA allotment. According to authorities, the essays will be of valuable assistance in raising the necessary funds.

Playmakers To Hold Tryouts For Second Big Play Tomorrow

Plan Production of Josephine
Niggli's "The Malinshe"

In order that rehearsals may begin as soon as possible, tryouts for the second major Playmaker production of the year will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock and again at 7:30.

The play to be produced is "The Malinshe," the story of the life of Emperor Maximilian written this year by Josephine Niggli of Monterey, Mex.

An exceptionally large cast will be necessary according to Director Samuel Selden, and copies of the play are being placed on reserve in the library so that those trying out will have an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the characters and situations.

EUGENE BARNETT TO APPEAR HERE FRIDAY MORNING

International Y.M.C.A.
Worker Will Speak
In Assembly

Eugene E. Barnett, international Y. M. C. A. worker from Shanghai, China, and New York and former general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A. will speak in the freshman assembly Friday morning at 10:30.

Barnett is the father of Robert Barnett who graduated from the University two years ago and finished as a Rhodes scholar last spring. He also has a son, DeWitt Barnett, who is a freshman here this year.

Work

He was born in Florida and received his A. B. degree from Emory university and his masters degree here. He has lived in China for 26 years and was in charge of Y. M. C. A. work over the nation. He was also connected with various educational and political enterprises and is a thorough student on Chinese life and Communism in China.

Barnett was at the University for two years as general secretary of the "Y" and as a graduate student. While here he won a championship debate medal and was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary fraternity, and Alpha Tau Omega.

Worked With Graham

It was while Dr. Frank Graham was a senior and president of the "Y" that Barnett was general secretary. He also did graduate work at Vanderbilt and Columbia universities.

He is now back from China to take over the New York office of the international Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Barnett will also speak at a joint meeting of the Union Young People's forum and the four "Y" cabinets at the Baptist Sunday School room Sunday night at 7:30. All interested faculty members, students and townspeople are invited to attend the meeting.

First National Archivist Connor Returns For Visit To University

Former Professor of History
Spends Weekend With Registrar T. J. Wilson

By BETTY KEELER

Dr. R. D. W. Connor, first appointee to the office of National Archivist of the U. S. A., was a weekend visitor in the home of Dr. T. J. Wilson, registrar of the University.

Serving as professor of history in the University from 1921-1934, Dr. Connor was appointed in October, 1934, to fill the position of national archivist created by an act passed by congress in that year.

Problem

Lack of space for the records in offices at Washington and the need for permanent preservation of them made the problem of a central repository for these records apparent. Practically every president and many officers of the cabinet have, since 1877 urged congress to establish an organization whose duty would be the collection, care and preservation of such documents.

In 1926, therefore, congress appropriated $14,000,000 for the construction of the National Archives building.

Talks To 'Y' Cabinet

E. J. Woodhouse, University government professor, who last night spoke to the Junior-Senior Y. M. C. A. Cabinet on Democracy.

FRESHMEN HEAR RED CROSS MEN TALK IN CHAPEL

Organization's Program
Stressed By Grumman
In Short Address

Describing the Red Cross and its work, a number of local leaders of the national organization gave short talks in freshman assembly yesterday.

The first speaker was Russell Grumman, head of the local chapter of the Red Cross, who emphasized the program of the organization. He gave as purposes "to establish first aid stations on the highways, to further education in accident prevention, and to aid needy boys by loans to cover hospitalization costs."

Williams

Bob Williams, a law student, stressed the realization of the three objects of the Red Cross last year, provision for swimming and life saving instruction, provision for an adequate life saving and emergency crew, and the success of the campaign for a swimming pool. He further

Davidson President Seeks To De-Emphasize Football

Fresh Nominations

Nomination of officers for the freshman class will be conducted Tuesday, November 10, in Memorial hall; elections are scheduled for the following week, November 17, in Graham Memorial. These dates were set last night by the Student council.

YWCA Committee To Give Silver Tea Thursday Afternoon

Finance Group Seeks to Raise Funds for Year's Activities

A silver tea, sponsored by the finance committee of the Y. W. C. A. will be given in Graham Memorial Thursday from 4:30 to 6 o'clock.

At each door there will be placed a small silver tray in which voluntary contributions to Y. W. C. A. funds may be left. These funds are to be used to finance the activities of the Y. W. C. A. throughout the year.

Merchants of Chapel Hill have donated prizes to be distributed among contributors to this fund.

LIBRARY MEETING HELD LAST WEEK

UNC Librarians Attend
Asheville Session

Miss Elizabeth Thompson, Clyde Chantrell and R. B. Downs represented the University library at the meeting of the Southeastern Library association held last week in Asheville.

Among the speakers at the session were Mr. Malcolm G. Wyer, president of the American Library association and Dr. B. B. Kendrick of the Woman's college of the University.

Reports

Mr. Downs, University librarian, reported on the work of the Committee on Resources of Southern libraries, and Miss Thompson reported on the Carolina-Duke duplicate catalogues at the meeting of the cataloguing section. Mr. Chantrell read a paper for O. V. Cook on Medical Libraries in the Southeastern States.

Dr. Susan B. Aikers, from the University school of library science, was elected chairman of the catalogue section of the association and summarized the discussion at the general session Thursday morning.

Miss Nora Beust, also of the school of library science, spoke on "Sampling New Juvenile Books."

Friday noon, the alumni of the library school and several of the students made up a luncheon, 21 being present in all.

Freshman Assembly

Freshman assembly this morning will be the last of the regular Tuesday musical programs and following this week chapel will meet only on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

On this basis it will not be possible to give one day a week for musical programs.

Dr. B. F. Swalin is to give a group of modern violin compositions this morning, accompanied by Mrs. Swalin at the piano. Dr. Swalin will play from the works of Debussy, Kreisler, and Pizzetti-Corti, and an arrangement of his own.

Dr. T. W. Lingle Issues "Athletic Manifesto" To Conference

Expounds Ideals

An "athletic manifesto" to de-emphasize football was released yesterday to the Greensboro News by Dr. Thomas W. Lingle, president of Davidson college.

The paper will be considered by the North Carolina College conference at its annual meeting Friday and Saturday in Greensboro and has as its objective the setting forth of "ideals toward which the North Carolina College conference urges every member institution to strive most earnestly."

Responsibilities

The committee which drew up the "manifesto" aims to lay the responsibility for clean sports on the institution and the responsible organizations which act for it instead of on the student and the folks back home who are not easy to control.

Dr. Lingle and the other members of his committee, Dr. Raymond Binford, of Guilford, and Dr. Charles S. Mangum, of North Carolina, recognize in the plan the contribution which athletics makes toward mental development, but they say that it is imperative that all forms of professionalism be banished from college sports if a high standard of ethics is to prevail.

Professionalism

The paper enlists the following forms of professionalism which must be abolished along with other well known forms:

(1) "Demands by alumni for the removal of coaches, while they do not demand the removal"

"Y" GROUP HEARS WOODHOUSE TALK

Democracy Must Come,
States Professor

"Democracy is one of the most misunderstood things in the world today," stated E. J. Woodhouse, professor of political science, at a meeting of the Junior-Senior Y. M. C. A. cabinet last night. "But democracy is bound to come, it is like an irresistible tide."

"One of the most forgotten things about democracy is that it implies the highest and finest kind of leadership. To me, the government is best which guarantees the best security for everyone, not certain masses, and guarantees everyone a chance to develop himself."

Democracy Inborn

"Democracy cannot be denied, it's natural. It's inborn. We may never see, our grandchildren may never see democracy, but it's bound to come. It's the natural instinct of everyone to want to lead his own life," continued Woodhouse.

"I believe in freedom and individualism, but freedom and cooperation must go hand in hand. Democracy, to me, is coincident with Christianity. You have the democratic principle and philosophy in the Golden Rule."

"I, personally, will be disappointed in President Roosevelt if something isn't done about 11 million unemployed. Democracy implies spending every cent of money if it is needed to give every man a chance to develop himself."
