NEW RULE MADE FOR ENGLISH CC

Diagnostic Tests Will Determine Ability

The University committee on English composition announced today that it has adopted a new policy regarding the removal of composition condition grades. Student laxity in removing such conditions has necessitated the committee's action.

The committee ruled "that a competent diagnostic test be given at once to all students now having composition conditions, and within each quarter to all students receiving composition conditions in the previous quarter."

Requirements

This test will determine whether conditioned students are, "(1) competent in composition, but conditioned for carelessness, (2) slightly deficient in composition, or (3) seriously deficient."

"Students of the first class may be dismissed as 'passed' with a warning that if they receive a second condition they must prepare a suitable paper to exhibit to the secretary their competence to write carefully. Students of the second class may

Ancient Chinese Dramatic Genre To Be Revived By Players Today

P.-T. A. will Sponsor Two Performances of Red Gate
Shadow Play

Unique is the word for the Chinese Shadow plays that will be given here this afternoon and tonight by the Red Gate Shadow players presented by the Parent-Teachers association.

Though new to the American audiences the shadow play is an ancient Chinese art. The characters are made from thin donkey-skin parchment resembling puppets and manipulated in much the same fashion as puppets. These figures are projected on a brightly illuminated screen and are dyed to give the effect of a technicolor motion picture.

Players

The players in the performance include Pauline Benton who has just returned from China where she has been studying the shadow play from an old master who formerly gave performances at the old imperial court. Miss Benton has brought back with her many materials to be used in the performances. She will be assisted by Lee Ruttle and William Russell, who have both done work in this line.

The afternoon performance for children will be given at 3:30 in the grade school auditorium. The program will include "A Street in China," "Why Dogs Chase Cats," "Elephant Gay," and "The Legend of Willow Plate."

The evening performance will be given in Hill Music hall. The program will include "Sword Dance," from the "White Snake," "The Burning of the Bamboo Grove," and "The Cowherd and the Weaving Maid."

Children and adults will be admitted to both performances, and the price is 15 cents for children and 30 cents for adults.

Eight Major Cases Of Thefts Reported In School This Fall

Spectators at Game Saturday
Advised to be On Guard

To date there have been eight major cases of thefts reported to the University authorities this fall.

Besides the two dormitory cases where over $100 worth of articles have been stolen, there have been four pickpocket cases.

Coupons Stolen

The most recent case of this type occurred at the Carolina-State game. G. C. Bush, student in the University, had a $150 worth of past due Clay county coupons taken from his pocket-book.

Bush stated that these coupons were worth $75 to him and nothing to "the other fellow."

On October 13 two University professors, O. J. Coffin and C. B. Robson had their wallets taken while attending Colonel Knox's speech in Memorial hall. Chapel Hill Police Chief Sloan, in a statement yesterday afternoon, requested that all persons at the football game Saturday be constantly on the watch for pickpockets.

There have also been several cases of articles stolen in the class rooms while classes were in session.

Annual Budget Presented By Graham To Committee

Jazz Critic Rates Barnet Among Best Tenor Saxophonists

M. Hugh Panassie Pays High
Tribute to Charlie Barnet
In "Hot Jazz"

M. Hugh Panassie, regarded by many as "the ace" of the so-called jazz music critics, pays tribute to Charlie Barnet, featured by the German club at their Fall Germans, in his new book, "Hot Jazz."

He wrote as follows: "There is no doubt in any musician's mind that Coleman Hawkins is the best tenor saxophonist in the world. Of his talented disciples the three best are Johnny Russell, Babe Rusin and Charlie Barnet. Barnet is, in my humble opinion, the best."

Hot Tempo

Barnet goes in for "swing" music with a torrid Harlem tempo, but does not believe in overdoing it. As he explains it, "mix my swing with the smooth silky rhythms."

The German club, which is bringing Barnet to the campus, will sponsor four dances this weekend: tomorrow afternoon and night and Saturday afternoon and night. Tickets may be secured from any member of the executive committee of the club. These members are Randolph Rowland, Morris Fitts, Louis Schaffner, Jim Finlay, Bill Scott, Bill Lamm, Sam Neaves, Boylan Carr, Bill McClelland and Oscar Tyree.

Tapping

In a tapping ceremony Rho Chi selected C. C. Oates to become a member of the fraternity.

On the program for the evening were J. A. Way, Jr., who discussed "Digitalis," and C. C. Oates, who spoke on "Pharmacy as a Career." Oates pointed out the excellent opportunities for pharmacists in this state, particularly in the rural communities.

Several New Buildings May Be Approved For Campus

Increase Asked

President Frank Graham asked the state Tuesday to grant the Chapel Hill unit of the Greater University $1,009,500 for permanent improvements on the campus in its 1937-38 budget.

The amount included $200,000 for a new medical building, $220,000 for a biology building, $200,000 for power extension, and $50,000 for the improvement of grounds.

Med School

The president asserted that unless the medical school's physical equipment is improved the school might be dropped from the approved list of the American Medical society.

An additional amount of $819,000 was asked of the budget commission as the routine maintenance appropriation for the Chapel Hill unit. It is an increase of several thousand dollars over the current fiscal budget as the result of Dr. Graham's request for restoration of professors' salaries to pre-depression normal.

Salaries

The local delegation, composed of Dr. Graham, Controller C. T. Woollen and Dean R. B. House, emphasized to the commission the necessity of salary increases.

A total of $675,000 was asked for improvements in housing at the Woman's college, the equipment of which was termed "nothing but a fire trap" by W. C. Jackson, dean of administration there.

President Graham's requests will be submitted to the governor by the budget commission. It will then be passed on to the state legislature and its approval or rejection will be announced early next spring.
