CPU To Hear McDonald In Forming Future Plans

Former Gubernatorial Candidate On Bill For Tonight

Hoey Talks Next

Dr. Ralph McDonald, student at the University and former candidate for governor, will meet with the Carolina Political union tonight at 8:30 in Graham Memorial, at which time plans will be made for the future around a definite organization.

Dr. McDonald will speak on what he thinks are the purposes of such an organization. Freshmen and sophomores are especially urged to attend, since they make up the future members of the group.

Governors

According to Frank McGlinn, president of the C.P.U., plans will be made in regard to a definite date of appearance for Governor Earle of Pennsylvania, Governor Hoey of North Carolina and Governor Johnston of South Carolina, who have accepted invitations to speak here.

Invitations have also been extended to John L. Lewis, president of the United Iron Workers, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, Mayor LaGuardia of New York City, and Newton D. Baker.

Committee

President McGlinn urges all campus organizations to send representatives to the meeting. The executive committee for the organization will be appointed from among students, faculty, administration and townspeople. Dean F. F. Bradshaw, Dean D. D. Carroll, Harry F. Comer and Dr. McDonald have already been appointed to serve on the committee.

"We are also planning to have members of the legislature come over and speak to us," stated McGlinn, "as soon as the legislature convenes."

GRAHAM TO LEAD TAX CONFERENCE

University To Sponsor December Meeting

Plans for a conference on social security taxes, to be held on Monday and Tuesday, December 7 and 8, at the Carolina Inn, under the auspices of the University of North Carolina, were announced yesterday by Dean M. T. Van Hecke of the Law school.

The conference has been arranged primarily to meet the needs of the lawyers, accountants and corporation executives who are faced with questions of interpretation and application of the present Federal social security tax laws. It also will attempt to aid the state officers and members of the General Assembly who are confronted by difficult fiscal and tax problems growing out of the various proposals for a 1937 North Carolina social security act.

Leaders

Among those who will lead the discussion at the conference are: Frank P. Graham, president of the University and chairman of President Roosevelt's advisory committee on social security; Ralph A. Gilchrist, of the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C.; C. H. Robertson, U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue, Greensboro;

DORM FIREWORKS BANNED BY ELLIS

Council Probes Deeper Into Gambling

Last night in Graham Memorial Albert Ellis, president of the Interdormitory council, gathered the presidents of the various dormitories and delved further into the problem of gambling that has recently been noticeable in particular dormitories.

Situation Improved

Reports were given that the situation was improved upon due to the last warning. The shooting of firecrackers in the dormitories was brought up and Ellis stated that any one caught or convicted of this would be removed from the dormitory for the first offense.

Dashiell Will Discuss Psychology Problems Before Faculty Club

Speaker's Talk will be Made Tonight at 8 p. m. in Smith

Dr. J. F. Dashiell, head of the psychology department, will address the Faculty Philosophy of Science club at 8 o'clock tonight in the lounge room of the Graduate club on the "Methodological Problems of Modern Psychology."

Dr. Dashiell's talk will be, in part, a contrast of scientific attitudes to others, and will deal indirectly with the relationships between art and science.

The speaker will discuss some misunderstandings about the kind of problems in which psychologists are interested and will point out some critical movements within the field.

All faculty members are invited to attend the meeting and take part in the discussion.

Meeting To Be Held By German Society

Frau Scheu-Riesz will Speak at Tomorrow's Gathering

The Deutsche Gesellschaft will meet tomorrow night at 8:15 in Brooks cafeteria and will hold a social after hearing Frau Scheu-Riesz give a talk in German.

Frau Helene Scheu-Riesz of Vienna will speak on the "Post War Problems in Vienna." She and her husband have written several books for children and on international questions. She's now touring this country giving lectures.

CLASS OFFICIALS ASK SOPHOMORES TO GATHER AGAIN

Tomorrow At 10:30 Is Selected As Time For Meeting

Tomorrow morning at 10:30 the sophomore class will attempt for a third time to hold a meeting in Memorial hall.

The two scheduled assemblies of the class were not attended by a sufficient number of members, and consequently no official action could be taken on the plans for the sophomore dance or any other class function.

Council Ruling

Class officials attempted to have their action at the last meeting made official by petitioning the Student council, but the council ruled that no approval could be given unless at least half of the class was present at the meeting.

"The Student council has refused the budget approval by petition. If sophomores do not attend this meeting there will be no social functions this year. Since the meeting will take only five minutes, I am sure that everyone can attend," said Carl Fistel, chairman of the sophomore executive committee.

All Important People

All the important people on the campus are asked to gather at 10:35 this morning on the back steps of South building to have a picture made for the DAILY TAR HEEL. Jerry Kisner's photography staff will take pictures promptly at this time.

Professors are also invited to pose.

Di Favors State-Owned Lotteries; Phi Carries Over League Argument

Kendrick Gives Data For Affirmative

The Di senate last night voted to uphold the bill stating that North Carolina should establish and control lotteries for the benefit of state institutions.

Senator Kendrick approved of the bill by stating that lotteries are used in many foreign countries. He pointed out that in the early years of our country lotteries were used for the support of schools and churches. As an example he said that in 1801 $100,000 was made from lotteries and seven-eighths of this was used for the benefit of schools. He pointed out that people are always gambling and that such gambling should be used for the benefit of the state.

Steele Opposes

Senator Steele opposed the bill by first defining the word "justice." He believed that lotteries should not be permitted because they give the winners more than they put into them which is in opposition to the definition of justice. The winners, he added, receive a great deal of money for which they did nothing.

Senator Hobbs believed that lotteries would not work unless adopted by all states because the mailing of lottery tickets in some states would be illegal.

Other speakers with reference to the bill were Senators Craig, Howard, Large and Kluttz. The

Baxter Taylor Party Sweeps Polls To Garner Every Freshman Office; Votes Cast By 481 First Year Men

Defeated Officeseekers Make Statement On Election

Uphold Victors

"The freshman class has decided what it wants. We believe that the candidates chosen will be more than satisfactory. We will stand behind them in any way to see that we get representation on the Student council and in any other worthy measure that they may bring before the freshman class. We hope that next year there will be a larger percentage of the class voting and that more interest will be shown in campus affairs," said the candidates of the defeated Student party in a joint statement last night.

Congratulations

Edwin Hubbard, presidential candidate; Edward Dickerson, named to run for vice-president; A. C. Hall, nominee for secretary; and Bennett Hunter, candidate for the treasury post on the Student ticket, along with their campaign manager, Mitchell Britt, asked that they be allowed to express congratulations to the victorious Baxter Taylor party through the medium of the DAILY TAR HEEL.

YWCA Guest Speaker

Floyd Patterson, a graduate student in religion at Duke university, was guest speaker for the Y. W. C. A. last night. In his talk he brought out the point that so many organizations, Christian and otherwise, keep the individual so busy that he misses the fundamental aims of life.

Organist

Dr. Jan Philip Schinhan, teacher of organ in the music department, who will give an organ recital tomorrow night in Hill Music hall at 8:30.

DR. J. P. SCHINHAN TO GIVE RECITAL

Organist Will Present Hymns, Spirituals

The program of Dr. Jan Philip Schinhan whose organ recital will be presented tomorrow night in Hill Music hall at 8:30 has been announced as follows: "As Jesus Stood Beside the Cross," Samuel Scheidt, German school; "From God I Ne'er Will Turn Me," Dietrich Buxtenude, Danish school; "Good News From Heaven the Angels Bring," Johann Pchebel, German school.

"Fantasia and Fugue in G Minor," Johann Sebastian Bach; "Daguerreotype of an Old Mother," Harvey B. Gaul; "Song of the Basket Weaver," Alexander Russel; two organ transcriptions of Negro spirituals, "Please Don't Let This Harvest Pass," Horace Alden Miller; "Steal Away," Jan Philip Schinhan.

An improvisation will be made on a theme given by a member of the audience.

Geo-Physics Device Used By Geologists To Locate Deposits

Students Find New Campus Chug-Chug On New East Lawn

A curious sight met the eye in front of New East the other afternoon. An electric contrivance was chugging away on the grass, and a man with earphones was walking around amid a maze of wires, sticking a couple of electrodes into the ground every few inches.

When questioned, Dr. Edward Mack revealed that the strange goings-on were the work of a class in geo-physics. The problem was to locate two spots having the same potential. The method used was the same as that of locating lost water pipes, or ore deposits.

An electric generator activated by a small gasoline engine is set up to send alternating current through a group of wires inserted in the ground. These wires are connected to two rods put in the headphone circuit. The person listening on the headphones can tell when he has located what he is looking for by the sound that he hears.

Race Closer This Fall Than Office Bouts Of Year Ago

Majority Is Small

With an average majority of 75 votes over his closest opponent, every member of the Baxter Taylor party was swept into freshman class office yesterday by the votes of 481 first year men.

President Taylor polled 244 votes, against 184 for Ed Hubbard, and 53 for Phil Walker.

Foy Roberson, candidate for vice-president, polled the largest single vote, winning from Ed Dickerson 300-179.

C. J. Hine became class secretary by the vote of 272 against 153 for A. C. Hall, and 52 for Jack Barringer.

Treasurer Stuart Ficklen polled 273 votes against 214 for Ben Hunter.

Two-Thirds Turn Out

Approximately two-thirds of the 706 freshmen participated in the election, which was held in Graham Memorial throughout the day.

Taylor could not be located last night for a statement concerning his policy. At a rally last week, however, he advocated formation of a self-help committee and the boosting of class spirit as a means of stopping "dissension existing among fraternity and non-fraternity men."

Yesterday's voting was closer between opposing candidates than has been usual in recent years. The Bill Stronach and Pete Mullis freshman class parties of 1935 and 1934 won much more one-sided victories.

President Taylor, a non-fraternity man, is from Asheville and is at present a member of the freshman football squad. Vice-President Roberson, an S.A.E. pledge, is from Durham and is a prominent athlete and journalist.

FACULTY HELPING COUNTY PROGRAM

Series Of Gatherings Begun In Guilford

Dr. M. R. Trabue, Professor A. K. King, Dr. C. E. Preston, Professor G. B. Phillips and Miss Nena DeBerry began a series of four meetings in Greensboro with the public school teachers of Guilford county Saturday morning.

The teachers were divided into groups in accordance with the subjects they teach, and each of the University representatives conducted a conference with a different section. Superintendent of education for Guilford county, S. R. Foust, requested this service from the University educational department.

The remaining meetings of this series will be held in December, March, and April. This is the first school which has applied for this "means of serving teachers who are now in service," Professor Phillips announced.

Bernstein To Speak

Dr. E. M. Bernstein, University economics professor, will speak before the Foreign Policy league tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the small lounge of Graham Memorial.
