Though nestling down around fifth place in the Conference ladder, Coach Walter Skidmore's inconsistent White Phantoms have had the most interesting season so far. No definite lease has been taken on that lower berth and Duke and State are tottering a bit precariously way up there in those first and second places. It's not hard to maintain that everything is relative and point out that Mississippi State beat Duke, St. Joseph's beat Mississippi State and the Phantoms beat St. Joseph's.

Hank Wright stole the show from his more publicized teammates at the Garden in the last ten minutes of play. An appreciative audience watched and applauded his inspired shooting and dribbling. The nonchalance with which he flipped in trick shots amazed the 10,000 gathered and the Tar Heels were given audible recognition leaving the floor.

Infinitely better was the Tar Heels' play against St. Joseph's. Tied up and with ten seconds to play it fell to Bill McCachren to jump against a St. Joseph man in the foul lane before the Pennsylvanians' basket. Bill Mac got the jump, tapped it over his head to the waiting Earl Ruth, cut around his man, dashed under the basket, received a pass from Ruth and slipped in the winning basket as the final whistle blew. And so, dear reader, the Rover boys won again.

Correction: Joe Fisher's withdrawal from the collegiate boxing ring was prompted by his lack of time for study, something which he came to college to do in the first place. . . . Giant-Killer Bitsy Grant racked up another win against Don Budge in the finals of the Dixie tourney at Tampa Sunday. . . . Head Football Coach Ray Wolf was called home to Texas this week because of the serious illness of Mrs. Wolf's mother. He will be on hand to start spring practice Monday. . . . Ed Coffin knows a good deal more about the far from gentle game of fence than appears on the surface. . . .

Manager Red McKee did a splendid job of keeping us in contact with the basketball team during its northern trip. . . . Foots "Pooshin" Knight refereed the Duquesne-State game Thursday night, officiated at the Carolina-N. Y. U. game Friday night and bobbed up again in his green shirt at the Carolina-St. Joe game in Philadelphia Saturday night. . . . We miss the smiling faces and subdued modesty of Ernie Byfield and Mace Gwyer on the campus this quarter. . . . Don't take too seriously the serio-comic retorts of night sports editors bothered over the telephone by interested followers when the Phantoms play away. . . . Former sports editor Ira Sarasohn watched the Tar Heels in action Saturday night. . . .

It was boxing Coach Michael Ronman's honest opinion that Wally Dunham's fight against V. P. I.'s Captain Sheppard was the best bout of the evening. Wally carried the first round and Sheppard the third with the middle minutes pretty much of a toss-up. Had Wally been able to get into better shape before meeting competition the judges might have nodded in another direction.

V. P. I. boxers were fighting for the last time under the tutelage of Bill Portersfield and were determined to turn in a win as a parting tribute. He resigned to enter business. Captain Sheppard will probably direct the boxers until another coach is appointed.

The 4-4 meet between Duke and Catholic University and the tie between V. M. I. and the University of Virginia, Southern Conference champions, make it an open race. The Terrible Terps and gruesome Ivan Nedomatsky will be the next hurdle for the Tar Heels. They make their first appearance in the Tin Can the last day of this month.

Local Boys May Make Good

Varsity Managers Lindley, Hart
File Applications for State Coachship

Perhaps Heartly Hunk Anderson's long vacated head coachship at North Carolina State College may be filled by Local Boys Paul Lindley and Perk Hart, student managers of the 1936 Carolina varsity, it was rumored last night.

Managers Lindley and Hart, when contacted, had not yet mailed Dean W. B. Harrelson, head of the University at Raleigh, their application which reads:

Dean W. B. Harrelson
State College
Raleigh, N. C.

Dear Dean Harrelson:
Let it hereby be known that we, the undersigned, wish to apply for the head coach's job at North Carolina State. For the past four years we have been closely affiliated with football at the University of North Caro-

Opponents For Two Extra Periods

S.A.E. monopolized the courts yesterday afternoon in the intramural basketball campaign as both the No. 1 and 2 teams came through to victories in two of the only three games played. The other contest resulted in a 36-32 win for Steele after two overtime periods had been played.

With Charley Poe leading the way, S.A.E. chalked up their second consecutive win as they bottled up Alpha Chi Sigma to take the game by a 28-6 margin. Poe with 17 markers was easily the outstanding man on the courts as he tossed in point after point.

S.A.E. split the scoring evenly with 14 points in each period while Alpha Chi Sigma was held to two field goals in the initial chapter with one more being added in the final period. Frye tallied all of his team's six points.

A.T.O. Outscores

Keeping right in step with the No. 1 team, the S.A.E. No. 2 quintet outscores A.T.O. by a close count of 23-21 to make it an S.A.E. day. The entire game was closely fought with both teams taking the lead and again. S.A.E.'s last minute drive tucked the game safely away with McCulloch garnering 8 points to show the way.

Aycock and Steele put on a real thriller to close the day's play as they battled through two extra periods before Steele was returned the victor by a 36-32 margin. The regular session ended with the teams locked in a 28-all tie. Both teams scored once in the first extra period to tie it up again at 30-all. With Marks getting hot for Steele in the final extra period, Aycock folded up under the barrage and dropped a close contest.

Pleased with Opening Meet; Will Meet Last Year's Conference
Champions Saturday

Coach P. H. Quinlan started preparing his wrestling squad for the W. & L. meet which is to be held up at Lexington this weekend. The W. & L. Generals won the Southern conference last year and should be able to offer the Tar Heels plenty of competition when they crash Saturday.

Coach Quinlan stated that he was well pleased with the way that team came out in the meet Saturday against V. P. I. although Davis of V. P. I. pulled a surprise victory over Crystal. He showed the different wrestlers their mistakes and stressed the fact that they needed to develop more speed and get in better condition for the next meet.

Win in Debut

Harriss and Woodson won against their opponents as they made their varsity debut while Crystal, a sophomore, Davidson, a junior wrestling in his first wrestling match, and Herring, a senior, lost as they made their debut. Although these three men lost their first fights, Coach Quinlan was well pleased with their performance.

Cagers To Meet State

On Sick List

Blood poisoning in the leg has placed "Handy Andy" Bershak, White Phantom guard, on the sick list this week and will prevent him from participating in tonight's game with the State Wolfpack.

With Win Over VPI;
Murnick Out

With a 4½ to 3½ victory over Virginia Poly Tech safely nestled under their belts, Carolina's varsity boxers returned to the Tin Can yesterday afternoon and launched preparations for Saturday's engagement with Maryland at College Park.

Everyone excepting Joe Murnick was on hand for the workout. Murnick, 125-lb. knockout victor at Blacksburg, is confined to the infirmary with a sore throat and fever. It is not known whether he will be able to box this week.

Previous Competitors

Captain Max Novich, Jule Medwin, and Murnick were the only members of the team who had competed in varsity intercollegiate competition before the V. P. I. match. Bert Ressler, Wally Dunham, and Tom Vanderford have all taken mural crowns, Tom Bass had boxed freshmen, and Gene Woody had never entered competition.

But Woody scored the sensation of the meet with his spectacular knockout victory over Brown. The Carolina 115-pounder did exactly as Coach Ronman had instructed—when Brown rushed at him, Woody let go a straight left jab. Brown went down for an eight-count.

Again Brown rushed the Tar

Wright May Be Sub

The jinx which thus far this season has seemed to stalk Carolina's White Phantoms once again reared its ugly head with removal of Bershak to a local hospital suffering from blood poisoning in the leg. Coach Walter Skidmore announced that the star Carolina forward would be definitely out of the North Carolina State game in Raleigh tonight.

Until this latest mishap there had been a great possibility that the State team, ranking second only to Duke in conference circles, might be upset by the fast improving Tar Heel quintet. How the team will fare with Hank Wright, promising substitute, attempting to fill the shoes of the Carolina star is a matter of conjecture, but the spirit and co-operation thus far shown by the team gives excellent cause for optimism in tonight's contest.

Captain Mac Berry

Connie Mac Berry, varsity letterman from last year, is expected to lead the attack of the State team tonight, an attack which already this season has been sufficient to afford the margin of victory in contests with Wake Forest, and Davidson. The only defeat up to this time by the State team came at the hands of Duquesne, a non-conference opponent.

Much will depend upon the outcome of this game in determining the standing of the three major teams in the conference. State and Duke meet Saturday to continue the three-way rivalry.

Duke at Top

The Duke Blue Devils are setting the pace in the Southern Conference basketball race so far with seven victories in as many starts and closely followed by the Red Terrors from State who have won five straight with no losses.

Washington and Lee, runners-up to the title last year, are the

Vaught, Lange Meet
Candidates For New 1937 Gridiron Players

Equipment Will Be Assigned
Friday Afternoon; Practice Starts Monday

In the temporary absence of Head Coach Ray Wolf, coaches Lange and Vaught met with new candidates for next year's football team in Graham Memorial yesterday afternoon and discussed plans for spring practice.

Varsity and freshman players of last quarter were excluded from the meeting and discussion was limited mainly to data and abilities of the new men.

Lange

Coach Lange stressed the point that all men will be given an equal opportunity to earn places and that the squad will not be cut. Spring practice will be devoted mainly to coaching of inexperienced players and conditioning of seasoned men since fall practice will be turned over mainly to those players who, through their attitude and performance during spring practice, will be candidates for starting posts in the opening game.

Men who were unable to report because of conflicting classes are requested to leave their names in the coaches' office in Graham Memorial any time after 10:30 in the morning and between 2 and 4 in the afternoon.

Equipment will be assigned Friday afternoon from 3 o'clock on and practice will start Monday at 2:30 on Fetzer field.
