YW To Celebrate First Anniversary

Mrs. Milner Will Speak To Group Tonight At Banquet

Last Tickets Today

By DELETTE RUFFIN
The celebration of the first anniversary of the Y. W. C. A. will be held in the Graham Memorial banquet hall tonight at 6 o'clock. Mary Lillian Speck, who is in charge of the banquet, is responsible for the program.

LaRochelle to Decorate
Virginia La Rochelle is in charge of the decoration committee, and working with her are Mary Elizabeth King, Marion Taylor, Alice Elam, Peggy Johnston, and Polly Pollock. The chairman of the menu committee is Lillian Hughes.

The largest gathering of women students this year is expected at the banquet. Over 100 students in addition to guests are expected to attend. The celebration is not limited to members of the Y. W. C. A. only; other women interested in coming may do so.

Milner Speaks
Mrs. Clyde A. Milner, personnel director at Guilford college, will make the principal address of the evening. Mrs. Milner was a leader of the all-southern Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. conference held at Blue Ridge this summer.

Jane Ross, president of the Alpha Kappa Gamma, the organization instrumental in founding the Y. W. C. A. last winter, will make a short talk. A survey of the year's work of the "Y" will be given by Elva Ann Ranson.

The guests for the evening will be Mrs. Milner; Ruth Gorman, president of the Y. W. C. A. at W. C. U. N. C.; and Edith Snooks, president of the Duke "Y."

ASU To Plan Labor Policy

Open Forum Program To Be Discussed

The American Student union will make concluding plans for collecting all coed petitions and presenting them to the board of trustees when the members meet tonight at 8:30 in the Grail room of Graham Memorial.

Also to be considered are the final figures secured in the investigation of labor conditions in local stores and eating houses. The union will probably formulate some policy of action to be taken in regard to this question, according to President Tommy Meder.

Open Forum
Plans will be made concerning the open forum program of speakers to be held each week starting January 26. An attempt is being made to secure a Spanish speaker to inform the campus of the present crisis in Spain. All members are urged to attend and bring their completed coed petitions to the meeting.

No Chapel Today

The general assembly in Memorial hall will not be held today, so that the social science classes may have a special meeting in 111 Murphy, according to Dean Spruill.

Further announcements will be made in the classes.

Library Display Shows Volumes Of 14th Century

Yellowed Book of Gutenberg Apprentice Is One of Main Features of Exhibition

A yellowed romantic-looking old book printed in Mainz in 1476 by Peter Schoeffer, one of the best early German printers and an apprentice of John Gutenberg, inventor of printing, is a part of the display of 14th century books on exhibition in the library foyer.

Another was printed in Paris in 1472 by Friedburger, Gering and Krantz, the first printers in France. Still another was printed in Rome in 1472 by Conrad Sweynheym and Arnold Pannartz the first printers in Italy.

An important feature of the display is Ralph Higden's "Polychronicon," printed by Wynkyn de Worde in London, 1495. Wynkyn de Worde was the foreman for William Caxton, first English printer, and took over the press after Caxton's death. This is the only example of 15th century English printing in the University library.

The books on display are from the collection of fifteenth century books from the Hanes foundation for the study of the origin and development of the book.

Banquet Tickets

It is imperative that all girls planning to attend the Y. W. C. A. anniversary banquet tonight get their tickets before 11 this morning, according to the chairman of the social committee. They may be obtained in the "Y" lobby or from Mary Lillian Speck in Spencer hall.

Spalding States Attitude Of Audience To Musicians

Leading Violinist Explains That Artist Must Play "Dangerously" to Hold Interest

The element of danger or the unexpected is the difference between canned music and a concert performance, to paraphrase Albert Spalding's remark following his concert in Memorial hall Monday night.

America's leading violinist continued with an anecdote about a lion tamer, and an Englishman who went to every performance of the circus. When the tamer asked him about his interest, the Englishman replied that he was waiting for the time when the lions would "eat the tamer."

Tension
According to Spalding, although the audience may not realize it except subconsciously, and probably hopes nothing will happen to spoil the concert, it develops a tenseness expecting something to happen.

So if an artist really expects to hold an audience, he must put in the background carefully, technical playing and play "dangerously." Listening to a

Files Of Campus Daily Adequately Prove Old Adage

Issue of 12 Years Past Carries Same Stories Now Being Run; Nothing's New

By RAYMOND LOWERY

Upon discovering a battered old issue of the DAILY TAR HEEL of about 12 years ago, the old adage "everything's been done before" seemed to quite accurately apply to contemporary campus news stories in comparison with former ones.

The order of the Grail had announced its winter quarter dances and members were hoping for a large crowd of out of town belles to insure an adequate number of girls. Tony Sarg's Marionettes were all set to perform almost precisely like the performance to be given here next week. And a story about the recent violin concert by America's greatest living violinist was probably the leading story.

Further proving our old proverb, it appeared that Professor Koch had returned again from his annual visit to New York and had given his ideas on plays he had reported seeing. The Carolina Playmakers were contemporary.

Sarg To Present Marionette Show "Mikado" Tonight

Scenes from Mark Twain, Sinbad, and Faust To Be Given at 3:30 This Afternoon

What historians call one of the oldest forms of theater entertainment will be presented by Tony Sarg and his marionettes at 3:30 this afternoon and at 8:30 tonight in the Playmaker theater.

The marionette theater started centuries ago when a doll merchant jointed his dolls so they might act more natural. For centuries this form of dramatic entertainment has flourished in the Old World, where highly trained actors devote their lives to the profession.

Mr. Sarg first became interested in puppets nearly 20 years ago. His marionettes are operated entirely by wires and strings from above. As many as nine strings are used to manipulate each marionette. Heads, eyes, legs, arms, hands, feet and bodies can be manipulated.

At the afternoon performance scenes from Mark Twain, Sinbad, Rip Van Winkle, Faust, and Alice in Wonderland will be given. Tonight a puppet version of the "Mikado" by Gilbert and Sullivan will be given.

Freddy Johnson's Band To Furnish Coed Hop Music

Regular Quarterly Dance To Be Held Saturday Night in Bynum Gym

The winter quarter coed dance will be held Saturday in Bynum gym from 9 to 12 p. m. Freddie Johnson and his band will furnish the music.

The affair will be formal, and there will be one escort, no break. The Woman's council will be given corsages.

Tickets will go on sale this afternoon in the Woman's association room in Graham Memorial, and in Spencer hall from 2 to 6 o'clock.

Students To Play Hosts To Chemists Here Next Spring

Student-Faculty Day Votes Cast For King, Queen

Committee Receiving Nominations for Queen; Election February 1-3

No reports on the early ballots for the queen of Student-Faculty day are available as yet, according to Newton Craig, chairman of the sub-committee on voting.

Votes will be collected on Saturday of this week, and the results will appear in the January 26 issue of the DAILY TAR HEEL, he said.

BALLOTS!

Voters are reminded that ballots for the election of the queen of Student-Faculty day are on the back page of this issue.

Blank ballots will be run in the DAILY TAR HEEL for the rest of the week, and all voters are urged to turn in their choices as soon as possible.

Collection boxes have been placed in each of the dormitories, and in Graham Memorial and the Y. M. C. A.

Voters are reminded that there are three blank spaces for the choice of the queen. Either one or all may be filled in with the voter's selection. When the election results are announced pictures of the 10 coeds receiving the most votes will appear in the DAILY TAR HEEL.

This week's balloting for the queen is a nominating vote. The 10 girls receiving the most votes will compete in a final deciding election for the honor of the queenship, and the positions of two ladies-in-waiting.

The king, who must be a member of the faculty, and the court jester, to be chosen from among the men in the student body, will be elected from the results of this week's voting.

Movies Of Holy Land To Be Shown Here

Local Churches to Sponsor Musical Travelog Tomorrow

A musical travelogue, "Christian Palestine," will be presented by Estephanious Antonius Habboosh, a native Galilean shepherd, tonight at 8 o'clock in Hill Music hall.

The program is being sponsored by the Baptist and Methodist churches of Chapel Hill. Madame Habboosh will assist the lecturer in costumes and in the presentation of "The Lost Coin."

Mr. Habboosh will show several thousand feet of natural color motion picture film of scenes in the Holy Land.

President To Speak

President Roosevelt's second inaugural address will be amplified in the Graham Memorial lounge at noon today. The plans for reception of the broadcast are being made under the sponsorship of the C. P. U.

Campus Leaders Discuss Housing Program For Session

Details Announced

Campus Cabinet members last night heard plans for the University's spring reception of the American Chemical society and immediately allied its student body interests with those of the alumni and the administration in playing host to the "biggest convention ever to come to North Carolina."

The 30-odd student leaders, representing every activity and organization on the campus, arranged student details, with representatives of the administration, for entertaining and housing the 2,000 society delegates who will come to Chapel Hill from all parts of the world during the spring holidays.

Dormitory Residents
Dormitory residents will be asked to store their clothes and open valuables in their trunks and in one of their room closets, in the case of the two-closet dormitories, so that that closet can be locked for the vacation period.

The visiting delegates will be given "hotel service" in the dormitories with bell boys and information desks. Departing students will also be asked to leave a blanket and a pillow, which items the University will have laundered at the close of the convention. No student's linen will be needed.

Reimbursement
For the possible inconvenience of close packing in the one closet by the two room-mates, the University will reimburse each dormitory resident $1. Complete care of the closeted property will

Dean To Talk On Education

Faculty Club To Hear Bradshaw Tonight

Dean Francis F. Bradshaw will speak tonight at 8 o'clock in the lounge of the graduate club at the first winter quarter meeting of the Faculty Philosophy of Science club. His subject will be the conflict between those who sponsor education for self-expression and those who sponsor education for discipline.

Both sides of the conflict will be outlined and the views of such schools as the University of Chicago, which leans toward education for discipline, will be presented.

All members of the faculty are invited to attend this address and take part in the discussion.

French Club

The French club will hold its first meeting of the winter quarter tonight at 7:15 in the parish house of the Episcopal church.

The purpose of the club is to further interest in spoken French and the program will consist of conversation carried on in that language. All persons interested in spoken French are invited to attend.
