

Publications Planning Dance To Be Held In Carolina Inn

Formal Affair Will Be
First In Proposed
Annual Series

February 19 Set

Sponsored by the four campus publications, the first annual Publications ball will be held Friday night, February 19, in the ballroom of Carolina inn, it was announced yesterday by Fletcher W. Ferguson, chairman of the dance committee.

This formal dance will be the first in a proposed annual series and will culminate the previous attempts of the publications staffs to hold some sort of organizational affair.

Committee

The dance committee, composed of Fletcher W. Ferguson, chairman; Glenn Davis of the Yackety Yack staff; Carl Pugh of the Buccaneer; Ralph Miller of the Carolina Magazine and Kenneth Murphy of the DAILY TAR HEEL met yesterday afternoon and drew up a list of expenses and discussed proposed novelties and forms of entertainment.

Among the various forms of entertainment offered for discussion was a spot dance to be held during the one escort no-break dance of the evening.

Novelty

On a given signal the music stops and a prize is awarded to the lucky couple dancing on the prize spot.

An orchestra is yet to be selected for the occasion and interested bands should submit written bids to Fletcher W. Ferguson, chairman dance committee, Publications ball, in care of the Carolina Buccaneer.

There will be a meeting of the entire staffs, business and editorial, of all the publications in the banquet room of Graham Memorial this afternoon at 2 o'clock for discussion of the ball.

Students See Hygiene Film

Topic Of Reproduction
Carefully Studied

A film depicting the results of social diseases was shown yesterday to the freshman hygiene classes through the co-operation of the State Health department.

The picture, a three reel silent film, depicts human reproduction and shows the results of syphilis and gonorrhea upon the male and female.

After the picture is finished, a discussion period follows in which time different students have a chance to question a physician who is present at the showings.

This film will be shown each day this week and Monday and Tuesday of next week. All freshmen will see the picture, and any other students who desire may attend.

Grumman Speaks

R. M. Grumman, extension division head, spoke to the American Business club of Greensboro yesterday, describing the work and accomplishments of his division since its establishment 25 years ago.

Mr. Grumman estimated that during 1935-36 the extension division contacted 100,000 North Carolinians through its courses.

Chairman

Fletcher Ferguson, who is in charge of the committee on arrangements for the Publications ball to be held on February 19.

Comer Relates Rise Of Human Relations Meet

"Y" Secretary Cites Rapid Growth in Prominent Institute Week

By VOIT GILMORE

"Y" Secretary Harry Comer has seen the Human Relations institute rise during the past 10 years from a cherished dream of the Y. M. C. A. cabinets of 1926 to a week of significant social and political discussions by national authorities.

The institute from March 28 through April 3 this year will be the fourth held on the campus. It will, thinks Mr. Comer, be the most successful of all.

Biennial

Although the original intention of the "Y" cabinets was to have institutes quadrennially, the last one was held only two years ago.

More frequent institutes were suggested by the committee which handled the program in 1935, for it felt that the increased tempo of current affairs deserved study oftener than just once each college generation.

Meetings

At the first institute there were 20 mass meetings within a five-day period during which visiting speakers discussed social, economic, international, political, and interracial problems of the day.

Four years later—1931—a total of 25,000 attended the six days of lectures. Interest in, and prestige of, the Human Relations institute was growing.

In 1935, 32,000 attended the 21 mass meetings and 130 class seminars at which discussions were led by such institute speakers as Representative Hamilton Fish, Dr. Everett Dean Martin, Norman Thomas, and George Soule, and the program was received enthusiastically by students and faculty members.

PUBLICATIONS STAFFS

All members of both editorial and business staffs of the Buccaneer, Carolina Magazine, Yackety Yack and DAILY TAR HEEL. There will be a meeting of all staffs this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the banquet room of Graham Memorial for discussion of the coming Publications ball. PLEASE be present.

Students Urged To Submit Votes For Queen Choice

Early Election Returns Indicate
Rising Enthusiasm for Student-Faculty Program

As there are only three days left in which to record nominations for the queen, king, and jester of Student-Faculty Day, all voters are urged not to delay in submitting their ballots.

Early election returns indicate that the students and faculty are enthusiastically entering into the spirit of Student-Faculty Day, announced Newton Craig, chairman of the sub-committee on publicity.

Craig stated that the fraternity vote would be the hardest to collect, and urged all fraternity voters to give their ballots to the chapter president, who is requested to put the total vote in a ballot box either in Graham Memorial or the Y. M. C. A. Each dormitory has been equipped with a convenient collection box.

Freshman Maestro Creates New Band

Cousin of Former Bandleader to Take 'Buccaneers' to Roxboro
for President's Ball

On January 29 Sam McPherson, freshman S. A. E. pledge, and his newly organized band, "The Buccaneers," will furnish the music for the President's ball at Roxboro.

McPherson's band succeeds the original "Buccaneers" who back in 1926-27 played under the direction of Bill Anderson, a cousin of the present bandleader.

While a student at the Durham high school, McPherson organized his first dance band. "We had a very successful year, and I am hoping for even better results with the 'Buccaneers,'" said McPherson.

Economics Students

Kendall Weisiger, personnel manager of the Southern Bell Telephone company, will speak to seniors and other interested students in the school of commerce at 10:30 this morning at 103 Bingham.

Big Migration Of Robins Stops In Orange County

Adams, Wilson Find Location of Birds Five Miles West of Chapel Hill

By BEN DIXON

Accounts that a tremendous migration of robins had stopped in southeast Orange county led Dr. Raymond Adams and Mr. W. L. Wilson of the English department to search for the location of these birds. Finally after some search the two men came upon the robins about five miles west of Chapel Hill near the Greensboro highway.

The News and Observer has estimated that there are from 75 to 100 million robins covering an area of 10 square miles starting a few miles west of here and extending to the Alamance boundary.

Some people seeking to cash in on the robins clubbed bags of the birds to sell, and sales have been reported as far away as Greensboro. In order to prevent this malpractice the government has

Ellis For Jester!

Albert Ellis, who late last night was reported as leading the field in his race for jester of the Student-Faculty Day court. Rumor has it that from a number of quarters have come criticisms of Ellis' vigor in his campaign as being incompatible with the spirit of the day, but several persons in the know attributed this to sour grapes.

Chemistry Society Sponsors Coaching Class For Students

Alpha Chi Sigma to Hold Discussion in Venable Hall
Every Wednesday

Intending to aid students having difficulty in their work, Alpha Chi Sigma, professional chemistry fraternity, held its first coaching class last night.

Fraternity officials plan to hold the gathering every Wednesday night in the chapter room, 301 Venable hall, from 8:30 to 10 o'clock.

Although primarily intended to aid students in the elementary courses of the undergraduate school, anyone interested in discussing any branch of chemistry is invited.

COED DANCE TICKETS

Tickets to the coed dance Saturday night will be on sale in the Woman's association room in Graham Memorial, in Spencer hall, and in the Chi Omega and Pi Phi houses today, tomorrow, and Saturday from 10:30 to 11 a. m. and from 2 to 6 p. m., according to an announcement made yesterday by the chairman of the dance committee.

YWCA Celebrates First Anniversary

ORCHESTRAS

All orchestras interested in furnishing music for the Publications ball to be held in the Carolina inn February 19, should submit sealed bids to Fletcher W. Ferguson, Chairman, Publications ball dance committee, in care of the Buccaneer.

Student-Faculty Carnival Takes Definite Shape

Meyer, Read and Co.'s Plans Pre-sage History-Making Fete
For Holiday Afternoon

Fan-dancers and freaks, jackpots and barkers should fill the Tin Can jam full of carnival spirit the afternoon of Student-Faculty Day, if advance "dope" from the Nick Read-Harold D. Meyer headquarters can be relied upon.

All the fancy concessions which will form the carnival midway from one end of the Tin Can to the other will carry one cent ($.01) admission charges, and there'll be general dancing to one of the Carolina orchestras in the center of the auditorium.

Circus Layout

The regular basketball bleachers will remain intact, say the Student-Faculty Day planners, and the forty-odd decorated booths will form a long oval between the two end doors of the Tin Can, passing behind the bleachers at the middle. The grand dance floor and "free acts" spot will be the basketball space in the center.

Carnival-goers will be able to see and do everything inside the circus—at a penny a shot—for a grand total of 30 cents, say Dr. Meyer, Read & Company.

Tin Can festivities begin at 2:15 o'clock the afternoon of Student-Faculty Day and will continue, with alternating dance.

Med Fraternity Adds Honoraries

MacNider, Rosenau Made Members of Pre-Medical Organization

Honorary Pre-Medical Fraternity A.E.D. Tuesday night added to its membership Dr. W. B. MacNider and Dr. M. J. Rosenau as honoraries.

Dr. MacNider is a professor in the medical school and a celebrated kidney authority. Dr. Rosenau is the head of the division of public health.

President Patterson outlined plans for a winter quarter program which will include a February 9 campus presentation of specialized moving pictures for all medical and pre-medical students in the University.

The movies will be shown in Venable hall, where also A.E.D. will bring its February 23 speaker, an outstanding authority in his particular field of medicine, declared Joe Patterson, president of the organization.

The lecture will be open to the public at large. A tentative program for the first presentation of motion pictures includes two reels on "plastic surgery," one on malaria, and one on rabies.

Mrs. Clyde A. Milner Delivers Address At Banquet

Several Skits Held

By RUTH CROWELL

Nearly 100 girls, celebrating the first birthday of the Y. W. C. A. last night at a banquet in Graham Memorial, heard Mrs. Clyde A. Milner, personnel director of Guilford college, speak on "The Heritage of the Y. W. C. A."

"The Y. W. C. A. was begun with the ideal of service and has continued growing through this ideal," said Mrs. Milner. She outlined the ideals of worship, of initiative and creativeness, of tolerance, of the urge to think out problems, and of making opportunities for women as the purposes of the organization.

Examples

Mrs. Milner illustrated her talk with numerous examples of experiences she has had in her work with the Y. W. C. A., both on the college campus and in national organization.

Mamie Rose McGinnis, president of the Y. W. C. A., presided over the banquet, introducing the speakers.

The decorations carried out the birthday party motif. In front of the speaker's table was a doll, representing the "Y," and around it were grouped presents appropriate for a baby's first birthday.

Jane Ross, president of Alpha Kappa Gamma, the organization instrumental in founding the Y. W. C. A. last winter, made a brief talk commending the group for work done during the first

Kendrick Elected New Di President

Usual Discussion Is Omitted to Allow Election

The Di senate in its semi-annual election of officers Tuesday night chose John W. Kendrick of Greensboro as its new president. Kendrick, a senior in the University, will succeed George S. Steele, Jr., of Rockingham.

Other newly elected officers include Newton Craig, critic, George A. Heard, treasurer, and Sam Hobbs, clerk. Two new members were accepted into the organization.

Although usual business was omitted, a discussion of the organization's constitutional laws was brought out by various members when fear was expressed that some of the laws had been violated.

The two bills planned for discussion last night were not brought up; however, it was decided that preparations would be made for their discussion at the next meeting.

Peggy Makes Good

Peggy (nee: Lillian Louise) Woodard, songstress during 1935 and '36 for Jimmy Fuller's dance band, is making good in the singing game, according to reports from her home town.

The vocalist at many of the campus dances during the past two years has completed an engagement at a Montreal, Canada, grill, and is now starring at the Gatineau Country club, Ottawa.
