Secretary Wallace Will Be Weil Lecturer For 1937 Human Relations Program

Cabinet Member Will Come To Campus On April 1st

Father Of Ex-AAA

Secretary of agriculture Henry Wallace will make the Weil lectures here April 1, 2, and 3, as a part of the Human Relations Institute program.

Dean D. D. Carroll, chairman of the Weil Lecture committee administering the fund established in 1915 when ex-President Taft made the first series of addresses, received Secretary Wallace's acceptance late yesterday.

New Dealer

Wallace is father of the "fated" AAA; and his agricultural policies have been some of the most distinctive parts of the New Deal program. The Roosevelt cabinet man was formerly a Republican.

This year the annual Weil lectures will come at the conclusion of the Human Relations Institute, "Y" Secretary Harry Comer declared yesterday. The Wallace speeches are scheduled the last three nights of the Institute week.

Last Year

Felix Frankfurter, Harvard law professor and alleged "power behind the Roosevelt administration," filled the lectureship last year.

Besides Messrs. Taft and Frankfurter, other Weil lecturers have included Historian Charles Beard, Editor of the New Republic George Soule, Londoner Howard Laski, and others. That part of the fund must be spent for publication of the lecture papers each year is provided in the endowment.

Homero Seris To Talk Here

Professor From Spain To Discuss Crisis

Professor Homero Seris of Cadiz, Spain, will speak on the present Spanish conflict in Memorial hall on the evening of February 10 at 8:30 as an advance lecturer of the Human Relations institute.

Seris left Spain recently after a personal survey of the condition of his country and is on a lecture tour in the United States, sponsored by the Institute of International Education.

Because the Human Relations institute was unable to secure him for appearance during the week of March 28-April 3, "Y" Secretary Harry Comer yesterday stated that it had arranged his address here next week.

Seris is secretary of the Centro de Estudios Historicos, and a member of the Academia Hispano-Americana de Ciencias and Arts of Cadiz.

Debate Council

At the recent meeting of the Debate council, Don Seawell, and Harry McMullan, of overseas fame, described British debating to the council and made a few suggestions as to how to improve the system here.

Among the changes adopted are shortening the set speeches, more open forums, analogous to the British system, and votes

Band Leader

Maestro Tommy Dorsey who may well play for mid-winter dances in place of Shep Fields as originally scheduled.

Dorsey Band May Be Here For Germans

German Club Announces Bid Reduction From $9 to $7.50

Negotiations were begun yesterday by the German club to secure Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra for the mid-winter dances to substitute for Shep Fields, who has asked to be relieved from his contract due to a New York radio engagement.

The German club officers also wish to announce that the cost of bids to the set of four dances has been reduced from $9 to $7.50 for the set. Initiation fees remain the same—one dollar for seniors and $5 for all others.

Pennsylvania

Dorsey, whom the club hopes to secure to provide for the coming dance set, brought his band to the Carolina campus for the fall dances during the Thanksgiving holidays in 1935. He is a native of Pennsylvania and was born and educated in Shenandoah, where he was taught to play the trombone by his father, an accomplished instrumentalist.

His professional orchestra career began on a large scale when he joined Jean Goldkette's band in Detroit in 1924. A year later he went with the California Ramblers and successively with Roger Kahn, Vincent Lopez, Eddie Elkins

Graham Introduces Plans For Novel Dating Parlor

Dance and Welfare Committee's Approval Needed For Installation of New Department

Tentative plans were announced yesterday by Reuben Graham for the new dating parlor which, if approved by the University dance committee and the student welfare committee, will be instituted in the near future in the banquet hall of Graham Memorial.

Graham has proposed a plan that he says has never been tried on this campus. "In line with the rest of the program that the board of directors has adopted to make Graham Memorial more popular, this experiment differs in that it is directed toward the romantic ele-

Labor's Lewis To Talk Here On CPU Bill

U. S. Congressman To Make Visit Here In February

Congressman Davis J. Lewis (Dem. Maryland) will deliver an address Monday night, Feb. 8 at 8:30 in Hill Music hall on the "Future of the Constitution," under the joint sponsorship of the Carolina Political union and the Committee on the Sesquicentennial of the Formation of the Constitution.

Lewis, who hails from Cumberland, Maryland, never attended school and learned to read and write in Sunday school. He was employed in a coal mine from the age of 9 until he was 23 years old.

His address will be the first of a series of addresses by leading thinkers in the field of constitutional theory and history that the committee is arranging for the sesquicentennial celebration.

Lewis has become one of the most outspoken critics in the Congress of the power of judicial review of legislation. He views the Constitution from the standpoint of the lawmaker rather than that of the lawyer and has worked out his own plan for curbing the power of the Supreme Court over acts of Congress. Recently he has been working with a group under the chairmanship of Senator Norris which is interested in formulating an amendment to the Constitution which would confer on Congress the power to enact minimum wage, and maximum hour legislation.

Tramp Ball Last On Gala Program

Fuller and Johnson to Play for Student-Faculty Day Frolic

A Grail-sponsored "Tramp's Ball" to end the festivities of Student-Faculty day next Tuesday was announced yesterday by Sub-Chairmen George MacFarland and Jim Finlay.

The orchestras of Jimmy Fuller and Freddy Johnson will alternate in providing music for the dancers in Bynum gym. Dancing will be between 9 and midnight, and script will be $1.

MacFarland says that to compete for the five prizes students should wear "any decorative old clothes." Awards will be given

Ballots For Queen Fraudulently Cast

American History

Junior and senior majors in American history, only, will meet at 5 p. m. tomorrow in 314 Saunders. Anyone not able to attend the meeting is requested to notify Dr. H. K. Beale.

Queen Election Brought To Halt By Ballot Theft

Many Campus Political Groups Sponsor Candidates for Student-Faculty Day Queen

By KEN MURPHY

The various political factions operating on the campus were only mildly surprised when their efforts towards electing a queen for the Student-Faculty day celebration came to a temporary standstill this morning when it was disclosed that the main ballot box in the Book Exchange had been stolen.

Whether the theft was the natural outgrowth of bitter struggle for supremacy or whether it was the last resort of some despairing group remains to be seen, but there is still the fact that there are factions and cliques and groups attempting to swing the tide of campus support towards their favorite candidate.

Politicians

Chi Psi's Sam Engs heads a group supporting Patty Penn for top honors in opposition to dormitoryite Albert Ellis and his henchmen backing Marguerite Morris. Involved in the battle as still another power are Rabble-Rouser Hoge Vick and lieutenants, working for Elizabeth Keeler.

From big fraternity court and D. K. E. precincts, Esther Mebane is drawing a large but unorganized vote.

Under such pressure and torn between the numerous party powers, election of a queen for Student-Faculty day remains a problem to be solved by popular campus vote.

Tryouts For Bill Of Campus Plays To Start Today

All Students Urged To Take Advantage of 30 Parts Left Uncast In Dramas

Tryouts for the fourth major production of the Carolina Playmakers nineteenth season will be held today at 4 o'clock and again at 7:30 in the Playmaker theater.

The bill will consist of four new one-act plays, and will represent the selection of the best plays written and submitted by students in the dramatic arts' playwrighting classes of the past three quarters.

It was announced by Samuel Selden, associate director of the Playmakers, that the material presented in the four plays is varied and interesting, and that there will be opportunities for about 30 actors and actresses in the production. Mr. Selden further announced that lack of previous experience need keep no one away from the tryouts; everyone will be given ample opportunity to try for parts.

New Election System To Be Initiated In "Y" Today

Must Vote Today

Fraudulent balloting has invalidated the election of the Student-Faculty day queen, according to the committee on elections, which called late yesterday for a new vote and nullified all ballots cast through last night.

All ballots for the new election will be handled and given out by the committee in the Y. M. C. A. lobby, where the only ballot box will be placed. Voters, who must sign their ballots, will be checked against the student directory to prevent repeating.

Today Only

Only one day, today, will be set aside for voting purposes, Chairman Shaffner said last night. Hours for voting will be 9 to 5 o'clock.

It was also announced yesterday that Virginia LaRochelle of Longmeadow, Mass., had withdrawn her name from the slate.

The queen will be elected from the following group: Mary Lillian Speck, Eliza Rose, Virginia Lee, Elizabeth Keeler, Marguerite Morris, Patty Penn, Esther Mebane, Virginia Hodges, and Mary McKee.

Last week's voting on the faculty-member king and the court jester were considered honest by the committee. The results of today's returns for the queen will be announced in tomorrow's DAILY TAR HEEL.

The committee charged that there were several cases of ballot-box stuffing. One student, using the name of Howard Smith, had 1,000 ballots printed and used to stuff boxes. Another student stole the ballot box in the Y. M. C. A. lobby.

Faculty Guest Plan Finished

Societies May Yet Ask Professors To Dine

Faculty members who are to be guests of student groups on Student-Faculty day were assigned to the members of the University club at its meeting last night in Graham Memorial.

The students who have received names of faculty members for their group are urged to go by the "Y" office and sign their names opposite these faculty members.

"Y" List

Nick Read, president of the University club, announces that there are now a few remaining uninvited faculty members, and any groups who aren't entertaining members and would like to do so are requested to go by the "Y" and leave their name and the number of men they can take out. The list will be available in the "Y" today.

Crowell To Speak

Mr. C. M. Crowell will address the meeting of the University of North Carolina branch of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical association in Howell hall tonight.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m.
