Cornwell Tells Latest Plans For New Gym

Swimming Pool 165 Feet Long Provided In Building

The first real light on the leading campus mystery, the new gymnasium, was shed yesterday when Oliver K. Cornwell gave the first authentic description of it in freshman assembly.

Cornwell said, describing the purpose of the building, "We are not designing this plant as an exhibition hall for a few students. We wish to provide recreation facilities for 3,000 students that are 'physically wholesome, mentally stimulating, and socially sound'. If the building is not serviceable in terms of the whole student body, it has no place on the campus.

Optional Play

"We wish that play could be optional here at the University," he said, "but it just won't work that way. Those that need it most fight shy of it. It has been tried at other schools, and it just won't work. It can't be optional."

The physical education director described the new swimming pool provided for in the building as being 165 feet long, 65 feet wide, up to four or one half feet for the first 70 feet, and then grading down to 12 feet in the deep end. "About 70 per cent of the swimmers prefer to swim in shallow water," he said.

Cornwell stated that the hope of the physical education department was to have a student register at the same time as regular registration for a basket in the new gym. He also told of a possible plan to have each student pay a compulsory fee at the beginning of each quarter that would cover all athletic goods used during the quarter, the clothes, balls, implements and

Weil To Play For Writers

Local Band Signed For Publications Ball

According to Fletcher W. Ferguson, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the first annual Publications ball to be held in the ballroom of the Carolina Inn February 19, Bill Weil and his orchestra have been definitely signed to play for the celebration.

Columnist

Weil, who was recently featured in the Batons Raised column of the DAILY TAR HEEL, is making some additions to his band and promises music comparable to the best for the writer's annual affair.

Bids for the ball are now available to staff members of the campus publications and should be secured from dance committeemen as soon as possible.

Tar Heel Meeting

Editorialists and columnists of the Daily Tar Heel will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Grail room. Merrill, V. Gilmore, Smith, Rabb, Perkins, Crowell, Burns, Miller, Zimmermann, Langsam, Stanback, Hyatt, and Pugh are requested to be present.

Swalin Will Give Concert Tonight In Hill Music Hall

Music Professor Studied in Vienna; Is Graduate of Juilliard School

The violin recital presented by Dr. Benjamin Swalin of the music department, at 8:30 tonight in Hill Music hall will include the music of Debussy, Brahms, Tschaiikowsky, and Chausson.

Dr. Swalin received his bachelor of arts degree from Columbia Teachers college in 1928. In subsequent years he received his master's degree from Columbia university, and his doctor's degree from the University of Vienna.

Teachers

Later in New York Dr. Swalin studied at the Institute of Musical Art of the Juilliard School of Music. His teachers were Leopold Auer and Kneisel.

Mr. Peter Hansen of the music department will accompany Dr. Swalin instead of Mrs. Swalin as previously announced.

The program for the evening will be as follows: "Sonata for Pianoforte and Violin in A major," op. 100, Brahms; "La Pisanella," Pizetti-Corti; "Minstrels," Debussy; "O Cessate," Scarlatti - Swalin; "Poème," Chausson; "Concerto in D major," op. 35, Tschaiikowsky.

Theater To Give Foreign Picture

French Film to Co-Star Lili Damita and Henry Garat

Lili Damita and Henry Garat will play the leads in the French picture "On a Vole un Homme" which will be presented tonight at 9 o'clock in the Carolina Theater.

This story of a man who is kidnapped and falls in love with his abductress is a drama of mystery and love on the Rivera. The picture is filmed in Cannes, where Mrs. Wally Simpson is sojourning. According to Walter Creech, of the French department, Lili Damita and Henry Garat are the most popular young actors in France.

The French picture will have English subtitles and those going early enough may see the Hollywood production as well as the French production.

Verdict Pending On Date Parlor

Faculty Committee Will Render Final Decision

The Faculty Administration committee headed by Dean R. B. House, will render a final decision on the establishment of the Graham Memorial date parlor suggested by Reuben Graham and endorsed by Pete Ivey's Graham Memorial board of directors.

Ivey declared yesterday that the prospects were good for a favorable decision for establishing the parlor, which would be located on the second floor of the building and opened every night for the convenience of students.

Recommend

At its last meeting the Student Welfare board, composed of faculty members and students serving in an advisory capacity, unanimously recommended the date parlor to the administrative committee.

If the faculty committee approves of the undertaking, Dean House will appoint another committee to make arrangements for furnishing the parlor.

Administrative power after the date parlor has been established will be delegated to Pete Ivey and the Graham Memorial board of directors.

Registrar Husbands Plans Revision of Registration

Tentative Plans of Registrar Would Eliminate Long Waiting During Registration

By VOIT GILMORE

Members of the committee on registration have recently shown an encouraging interest in the efforts of Ben Husbands to develop for the University an improved system of registration.

Although his many duties as associate registrar have delayed Husbands' presenting specific recommendations for changes to the committee, he has some potential ideas in mind.

Husbands agrees with some of the deans on the registrations committee that greater economy in both time and money can be effected in the University registration system.

Duke System

On their own initiative, he and I. C. Griffin, Jr., a South building official who majored in college administration at Columbia, toured Duke recently and saw a registration system that Hus-

YMCA Deputation Team Leaves Today For Visit To Dunn

Group to Sing, Make Talks before Schools, Civic and Religious Organizations

A "Y" deputation team leaves this afternoon for a three-day visit in Dunn, the first of a series of winter quarter trips to North Carolina cities.

Jimmy Dees, Bill Stronach, Brooks Patten, Frank Turner, Cleve McGowan, and Carey Sparks form the team going to Dunn.

Other students will compose teams that go next week-end to Wilmington, and later to Fayetteville and Washington.

In Dunn the team will make talks and sing before school groups and civic and religious organizations. It will be joined Sunday morning by "Y" Secretary Harry Comer and Dean R. B. House, and will return that afternoon.

Seris Comments On Spanish Situation

Mammoth Liner In Mooring At Port New East

Geology Department Proud of S.S. Arenosa, Six Foot Replica of Modern Ocean Liner

The department of geology has an ocean liner. The S. S. Arenosa, complete from stem to stern and keel to mast-head, her sleek lines shrieking with latent power, lies at dry-dock in 304 New East, one of the geology department's laboratories.

Originally designed as a wind machine with the primary purpose of studying the separation of angular sand from spherical sand in the Sahara desert, the device has now blossomed forth as a six foot replica of a modern ocean liner.

Wind Tunnel

The nautical additions to the geologist's wind tunnel evolved as an effort to improve the none too sensible appearance of a technical machine, and the S. S. Arenosa is the result.

Flying the house flag of the Sahara line and the motto "From Dune to Dune," the ship's home port is given as Addis Ababa. Boasting anchors, life boats, a radio antenna and a speed of 36 knots, the sand-ship is powered by an electric fan which her inventor claims enables her to make the complete scheduled runs on one kilowatt of Duke power.

Mangum To Speak In Venable Tonight

Dean to Present Status of Two-Year Medical Schools

Dr. C. S. Mangum, dean of the University medical school, will speak tonight at 7:30 in room 206 in Venable hall to all pre-medical students and other members of the student body interested in the study of medicine.

His subject will be on "Medical Education" with special reference to the present status of the two-year schools. All medical students who possibly can do so are urged to be there for the lecture.

Dr. Adams Lectures To Symington Club

Dr. Raymond Adams, head of sophomore English, made the second of a series of two lectures on the "Modern American Novel," to the Symington Book club of Winston Salem.

In his first lecture Dr. Adams discussed American novels and novelists of the 19th century and the drift toward realism and sociological novels. In his lecture yesterday Dr. Adams further traced the development of this movement into the 20th century and discussed Sinclair Lewis, Theodore Dreiser, Willa Cathers, and their novels as being representatives of the 20th century.

Philosophy 21

All philosophy 21 students are required to meet their instructor tomorrow morning at 10:30 in the lounge of Graham Memorial.

Art Connoisseur Tells Of Hiding Spanish Chef d'Ouvres

Will Speak Today

With an increasing tempo of emotion, Dr. Homero Seris last night climaxed a description of present-day Spain in Memorial hall with the cry, "Today it is a scene from Dante's 'Inferno'."

An advance speaker of the Human Relations institute, Dr. Seris vividly told his 300 listeners of his recent experiences in war-torn Spain.

"Cannon are an alarm clock to wake you in the morning," he said, with a difficult Spanish ac-

He will discuss "Possible Subjects for Theses in Spanish." All Spanish-speakers are invited to attend.

cent. He reported returning to his work of salvaging broken museums in Madrid after an hour-and-a-half stay in an air-raid cellar, only to be forced back into the ground by the siren-warnings of police.

Works of Art

As a member of two fine arts societies in Spain, Seris's chief interest has been in preserving works of art. He stated that the most important paintings of Velasquez and Goya in Toledo have been saved.

Masterpieces of El Greco have been exchanged for munitions, he said. Part of his work before he left for the United States last fall consisted of storing rare paintings and books un-

New Amateur Show Planned

Pete Ivey To Sponsor Bill February 18

The exploitation of campus amateur talent, begun by Pete Ivey last session, will be continued next week, according to the Graham Memorial director.

The first amateur night of the year will be held February 18 at 8:30 in the lounge of Graham Memorial and will be sponsored by the student union board of directors.

Prizes

Three prizes will be given each program. A first prize of five dollars will be given the best student amateur appearing on the program. Two second prizes of $2.50 will be given to runners-up in the contest.

Between performances a community sing-song program will be conducted. Words of popular songs will be flashed on a screen and a piano will furnish the music for the singing.

All those interested in performing have been asked to get in touch with Pete Ivey or Leonard Levitch.

Band In Union

David Bennet and his Lily of the Alley band will play the rest of this week through Saturday night from 7:15 to 7:45 in the lounge of Graham Memorial.
