Carolina-Duke Game Tonight

Tar Heels Have Beaten Devils This Year

The statistical experts are also fogged trying to pick the winner comparatively. The Phantoms have won 14 out of 18 games for an average of .778 compared to Duke's 16 wins in 21 starts for an average of .714.

In the two game rivalry last year, the fives broke even, each dropping one game to the other by a two point margin. Duke won the first in the Tin Can in an extra period, 36-34.

Retaliated

The Phantoms turned around and retaliated with a 30-28 win in Durham.

A capacity crowd is expected to watch tonight's game and students are urged to get to the gymnasium early for seats.

Individual attention will fall mainly on the two captains, Ruth and Podger. Both direct play from the guard position. Though Ruth, perhaps, is the more colorful Podger's regularity has made him an outstanding candidate for the All-Southern choice.

Old West, Zeta Psi Get Wins; To Play For Mural Crown

Dormitory and Fraternity Champions Will Play for Campus Court Title

Old West and Zeta Psi yesterday earned the right to oppose each other Tuesday for the campus intramural basketball championship. Last year's titleholders, Old West, went on a scoring spree to completely outclass Aycock by a 46-21 margin for the dormitory division title while Zeta Psi was vanquishing S. A. E. 30-17 to garner the fraternity crown.

Old West started slowly and neither team found the range until after three and a half minutes when Parker of Old West connected from in close. Old West, with Meroney and Hamilton showing the way, shot into an 8-2 lead as the initial quarter ended.

Halftime

Limiting Aycock to three field goals during the second chapter Old West proceeded to run wild and chalked up 10 more points to lead 18-8 at halftime. From then on it was a rout as Meroney and Hamilton brought the final tally up to 46-21 with 12 points each.

A sharpshooting Zeta Psi aggregation ran off with the fraternity championship as they tallied from all corners of the court to completely bottle up any S. A. E. threat to come out on top 30-17. Zeta Psi shot into the lead at the start and it was never close after that as Blaylock and Clark copped the scoring honors with eight and seven points respectively.

Track Squad

There will be an important meeting of the varsity and freshman track squads this afternoon at 5. Coaches will give final instructions and details of meet-time, schedule, etc. Everyone must report. Men are to take their work-outs and dress before meeting.

Mattmen To Fight-Wolfpack Tonight

Win Will Give Tar Heels Claim On State Title

The 1937 varsity and freshman wrestling teams will complete their regular schedule tonight when they meet the N. C. State teams in Raleigh. Both varsity and freshman squads are working for a win in order to have a claim on the state title.

Outstanding

The two outstanding bouts of the evening will probably be between Gholson and Shiver in the 145-lb. class and Williams and Troxler in the 165-lb. weight. These two State opponents have been rated among the best wrestlers in the conference but Gholson and Williams have been working hard all the week and promise to give them a good fight before leaving the mat.

Captain Frank Umstead worked out again yesterday although he has not fully recovered from his injury. The match tonight will close his career as a college wrestler.

Colorful Indoor Spectacle Will Be Run Here Saturday

Day's Program To Begin At 1:30 p. m. With Preliminaries

The most colorful track spectacle below the Mason-Dixon line will be run this Saturday as conference, non-conference, freshman and scholastic teams invade the Tin Can to compete for the crown of their division. The day's program will be divided into two parts, the first starting at 1:30 when many of the preliminaries and some finals will be run and the second part consisting of the major conference and non-conference finals.

Favorite

The Duke Blue Devils, who won the Southern Conference Indoor track crown from the Tar Heels last year, are favored to repeat over the conference contenders.

Sprints

The sprints seem to draw the top in the conference and non-conference divisions. Perhaps the most colorful of all the sprinters entered in either section is Bob Packard of Georgia, who copped first honors in the non-conference division last year when he was clocked in 6.4 for the 60-yd. dash. Packard was a member of the 1936 Olympic team.

He will meet some real competition in Billy Hopkins of Virginia, who ran the 100-yd. dash in 9.7 last summer and narrowly missed securing a berth on the Olympic team.

"Why I Choose CAMELS"

SMILING JIMMIE FOXX—hard-hitting first baseman of Boston Red Sox, says: "I smoke Camels with meals and after for the help they give my digestion."

SIDNEY S. WETZEL, tunnel engineer: "My work involves constant danger. That's why I always smoke Camels. Camels don't frazzle my nerves—ever."

"CAMELS HELP MAKE THE FEELING OF NERVOUS PRESSURE FADE OUT," Says Herbert West, Sophomore.

MENTAL WORK—especially long hours of intensive study—can slow up digestion. Herbert West, Class of 1939, says: "Camels are a real aid. They help make the feeling of nervous pressure fade out, and get me set for a hearty meal. I work better, too, since I've discovered I get a refreshing 'lift' in energy with a Camel. Camels set me right." Enjoy Camel's costlier tobaccos the whole day through. At mealtimes Camels are an aid to digestion—speeding up the flow of digestive fluids—increasing alkalinity—bringing a sense of ease and well-being. Steady smokers prefer Camels. They are so mild! They don't jangle the nerves, tire the taste, or irritate sensitive throats.

"I'M A SECRETARY," says attractive Joselyn Libby, "and often have to eat in a hurry. When I smoke Camels at mealtimes I feel on top of the world."

CHIEF ENGINEER George J. Buckingham says: "It's a great strain keeping tons of high-powered machinery under control. Camels help ease the tension."

"CAMELS help me keep pepped up," vivacious TWA hostess, Betty Steffen, says. "In my work I see many famous people. And most of them smoke Camels."

"I WANT A CIGARETTE that doesn't jangle my nerves," says master welder Dan Rafferty. "And Camels don't. They go fine with meals too."

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.
