Speaker List For Institute Is Announced

Fifteen Noted Leaders Definitely Secured For Study Week

A tentative schedule of speakers, including nationally and internationally known men and women who will appear here during the Human Relations institute week of March 28-April 3, was released by the institute program committee during the past week-end.

Listed as speakers definitely secured to speak as of March 10 were the following: Dr. Stanley High, John G. Winant, Dr. E. W. Zimmermann, Dr. C. T. Murchison, C. A. Hathaway, Dr. Grover Clark, Professor Pennington Haile, Dr. Ramon Grau, Y. T. Wu, Dr. James T. Shottwell, Dr. Thomas Jesse Jones, Dr. James Weldon Johnson, Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, Dr. John A. Rice, and Secretary Henry Wallace.

The program committee's preliminary announcement described the institute as "a week of extensive review and study of present day problems in the fields of international relations, industry and business, interracial relations, and education and social needs."

Many Speakers

Approximately 20 speakers will visit the campus during the week, making public addresses, conducting classroom seminars, and holding private interviews.

Visiting Soprano Will Be Feature Of Club Cantata

Virginia Hufty, George Britton Have Solo Roles In "Fair Ellen"

Miss Virginia Hufty and Mr. George Britton will be the featured soloists in the presentation of the cantata "Fair Ellen" tonight at 8:30 in Hill Music hall by the Chapel Hill choral club. There will be an admission charge of fifty cents.

These two artists have come to Chapel Hill to participate in the choral club recital at the invitation of John E. Toms of the music department.

Not New Here

Miss Hufty has sung in Chapel Hill before in the two performances of the "Elijah" given by the choral club. As a soprano soloist, she opened the American Legion convention at Philadelphia and has done extensive concert work. She has studied under Frank La Forge in New York.

George Britton of New York has studied at the Juilliard school of music for the past five years. He has sung with the New York Civic orchestra, and at the Worcester Festival, as well as at the Montreal Bach festival. For two years he sang over WEAJ with Sigmund Romberg, on George Gershwin's and Alexander Woolcott's program.

Tar Heel Editors

The following Daily Tar Heel editorial writers are asked to meet today at 4:30 p. m. in the Grail room: Voit Gilmore, Gordon Burns, Allen Merrill, Mac Smith, and Stuart Rabb.

Choral Club Soloists

Virginia Hufty, left, and George Britton, right, who will be featured artists on the program of the Chapel Hill Choral club tonight. Miss Hufty and Mr. Britton will sing the soprano and baritone parts of "Fair Ellen."

Play Tryouts Set For Today

Wigue, Masque Comedy Cast To Be Chosen

Tryouts for the coming Wigue and Masque musical comedy have been set for today and tomorrow at 4 and 7 o'clock in Memorial hall, according to an announcement Monday by Carl Fistel, president of the organization.

The show is being named "Say the Word," and will be presented in May.

"We hope that all women and men students who are interested in acting, singing, dancing or working behind the scenes will come to one of the tryout periods," said President Fistel. "Since this is an all-campus organization, backed and supported by the campus, I hope the students will continue their support by coming to these tryouts."

Gene Irwin, who directed the last successful production of the Wigue and Masque, is now a resident of Chapel Hill and has agreed to act in an advisory capacity in the direction of the show. The rehearsals will start Monday.

"Say the Word," which is a musical comedy satirizing college life, will require a cast of 40 persons, in addition to an orchestra and a stage crew. The names of those who have been selected from the tryouts will be announced over the weekend.

Medical Students To Sponsor Movie

Alpha Epsilon Delta Will Present Various Medical Films

Medical movies of interest to all pre-medical and medical students will be shown in Venable hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Subjects of the various films will include, "The Values of the Heart in Action," "Plastic Surgery," and "Methods of Blood Transfusion."

This will be another in a series of programs being sponsored by the Alpha Epsilon Delta fraternity. Joe Patterson, president of the fraternity, yesterday expressed a desire that all interested members of the student body as well as medical students be present.

Petitions

Students circulating petitions on regard to staff election of editors are asked to bring their signatures to the DAILY TAR HEEL office before lunch today.

Nye To Open CPU Series Here Friday

Nye Will Be Followed Next Week By Holt And Talmadge

The appearance of three prominent political figures in Chapel Hill, Senator Gerald P. Nye Friday, Senator Rush D. Holt, the following Tuesday and ex-governor Eugene Talmadge on Wednesday, is the Carolina Political union's first offering of the spring quarter to the campus.

The first in the series of addresses will be that of Senator Nye, who will speak on "Preparedness for Peace" in Memorial hall Friday night at 8:30. Senator Nye, North Dakota's ardent advocate of peace and head of the recent Senate munitions investigation, will be entertained at a banquet of C. P. U. members immediately preceding his address.

Coast-To-Coast

Following close upon the heels of the senator from North Dakota, Senator Rush D. Holt from West Virginia will speak here on a coast-to-coast hook-up on March 23 from 2 until 2:30 p. m. Upon hearing the recent address made here by Postmaster General Farley on the Supreme Court issue, "Baby Senator" Holt immediately wired the Carolina Political union and asked to be allowed to reply against the plan. Both networks of the National Broadcasting company will be utilized.

No Grades Yet

The administration announced yesterday that no grades will be ready for announcement before the end of this week.

A Daily Tar Heel notice will be given announcing the time and place that grades will be distributed.

The delay has been caused by the failure of some professors to enter students' grades as yet.

P. U. Board To Hear Plea

Tar Heel Editors Will Submit Petitions

The Publications Union board will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock to receive the petition of 107 students asking that the board propose for campus vote an amendment to its constitution relative to staff elections of editors of campus publications.

Before exams, the P. U. board agreed to present such an amendment at the general spring election if 100 or more students petitioned them to that effect.

Don McKee and Reed Sarratt of the DAILY TAR HEEL circulated the petition during the past week and said yesterday that they expect to have well over the required number of signatures before today's meeting.

Amendment

Under the amendment which the board will present, it will be provided that election of editors-in-chief of the four student publications be made by their particular staffs and not by the campus at large as is now the custom.

If passed, the amendment will go into effect in the spring of 1938.

Student Groups Consider Formation Of Legislature

Idea Emanates From Conversation Of Steele And McGlinn

President of the Student Body John Parker called a meeting of a group of students last night in Graham Memorial to consider plans for the introduction of a campus legislature into student government.

It happened this way:

Presidents Frank McGlinn and George Steele got together last fall to consider the problem of raising the standards of the Phi assembly and Di senate on the campus. Out of the discussion was born the plan for the new student legislature whereby the Phi and Di would vote themselves out of existence and bequeath their names to new bodies composed of student representatives vested with the power of campus legislation.

Surviving the pessimism of some student opinion and still framed in a batch of obstinate problems, the plan won the support of Parker, who declared yesterday that he "hoped" for student council approval.

Student Council Authorizes Ballot On Staff Elections

Swamped

Dr. Ernest R. Groves, University sociologist, whose course on marriage has been closed temporarily due to over-crowding, announced that space would be made for more students as soon as a larger class-room is available.

Read Greet New Clubmen

Old Members To Hold Farewell Banquet

"A potentially great organization" was the phrase used by President Nick Read in describing the work and activities of the University club in his welcoming remarks to the new members who met for the first time with the old members of the club in Graham Memorial last night.

Plans were made at last night's meeting to sell tickets to a movie to be sponsored by the University club next Tuesday. The club will receive a percentage of the proceeds from the tickets sold by the members.

Banquet

The date for the farewell get-together banquet for the old members was set for next Friday night at which time keys will be awarded.

Initiation of new member into the club will take place next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock and the new members will have their first meeting alone the following Thursday night.

Treasurer Frank Rogers will be in the "Y" at 10:30 Thursday and Friday mornings to take money from tickets sold. Members are also requested to bring their money for the banquet to the "Y" and also to notify Rogers as to whether they are taking dates to the banquet.

Debaters Argue Wage, Hour Laws

Second In Dual Series To Be Held At Greensboro Tomorrow

In the first of a series of two dual debates on the question, "Resolved, That the Congress of the United States be empowered to enact minimum wage and maximum hour legislation," Hermine Caraway and Maxine Gardner, of W. C. U. N. C., defended the affirmative, while Clarence Klutz and Sam Earle Hobbs upheld the negative for the University of North Carolina.

Miss Caraway opened the discussion by pointing out the great need for such legislation, and proposed a constitutional amendment as a solution for the problem.

P. U. Board Must Ratify Student Petitions To Hold Vote

Effective In 1938

The Student council after a session in Graham Memorial last night authorized a student ballot on the pending amendment to the Publications union's constitution relative to staff elections of editors.

The council decided that a vote will be held at the time of spring elections, provided that the P. U. board ratifies the petition of 100 students to propose for campus vote an amendment to their constitution before the time of elections.

If the petition is not ratified before the date of elections, a subsequent date for a campus vote will be set by the council.

The motion passed last night reads: "If and when the P. U. board ratifies the petition for an amendment to the P. U. constitution, the Student council authorizes a ballot on that proposal at the time of spring elections, provided such ratification precedes said date of election, otherwise that the Student council set a subsequent date for voting on the proposal."

President of the Council John Parker explained that the date of spring elections was approved because more members of the student body would be voting at that time and, consequently, campuswide opinion might be registered more accurately.

If the approval of the student body is gained, the legislation will take effect in 1938.

The council completed the session by placing one student on bad-check probation for the remainder of the year; one student was readmitted; and two were placed on conduct probation.

Groves Promises Marriage Course Will Be Enlarged

Annual Spring Quarter Course Is Reported To Be Closed Only Temporarily

Dr. Ernest R. Groves of the University sociology department yesterday announced that his annual spring quarter course on marriage is filled, but that there will be room for a few more as soon as he can obtain another class room.

"About 117 have registered for the course," he said, "and it was closed temporarily. Now, I have planned to get another class room and should be able to take in about 20 more men."

The course on marriage is offered to University seniors every spring quarter. There are sections for both men and women and those planning to take the course are asked to register for it an once.

A Deduction

L. B. Rogerson, assistant controller of the University, said yesterday that the amount of 50 cents has been deducted from the spring quarter bill of every student as compensation for the overcharge made on the publications fee.

Students who have already paid bills which included the publications charge of $2.30 will be given a credit slip for a cash refund.
