Holt To Talk Here Tuesday On CPU Bill

Ex-Governor Talmadge Makes Appearance Wednesday

In a reply to Postmaster General Farley's recent address here, West Virginia's "baby" Senator Rush Dew Holt will address the student body here Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Memorial hall over a coast-to-coast radio broadcast, sponsored by the Carolina Political union.

Holt's request to speak here came immediately after Postmaster General Farley's nationwide broadcast from Chapel Hill recently at which time he gave an ardent defense of President Roosevelt's proposal for revision in the membership of the United States supreme court.

Talmadge

Following close upon Holt's appearance, Georgia's now-famous ex-governor, Eugene Talmadge, will make an address in Chapel Hill on Wednesday, also under the union's sponsorship.

Senator Holt, who was elected into the United States Senate before his age requirement had been reached, was born in Weston, W. Va., in 1905. He received his A. B. degree from Salem college in 1924 and began his career as a teacher in the Bedford City (West Virginia) high school. He was next an instructor in Salem college and athletic director in St. Patrick's school.

In 1927 he became an instructor in the Glenville State Teachers' college. He was a member of the West Virginia House of Delegates from 1931 through 1935 and became a member of the United States Senate in 1935, his term ending in 1941.

Daniels Group Meets Tonight

Committee Will Submit Material To Board

Jim Daniel's original committee on staff elections will meet tonight in Graham Memorial at 10 p. m. for the last time before submitting material for a constitutional amendment to the P. U. board tomorrow.

The DAILY TAR HEEL sub-committee, composed of Sarratt, Smith, Barksdale, and McKee, and the Yackety Yack sub-committee, Henry Lewis, Smith, R. Yates, and David Thorpe, drew up rules to govern elections on the two publications and found them approved Thursday in a meeting of the original committee.

Mag, Buc

Daniel, Barksdale, and Sarratt of the Magazine sub-committee and Hinkle, Craig, Puckett, and Clement of the Buccaneer sub-committee met yesterday to formulate election proposals which will be considered at the meeting tonight.

The publications have composed their rule-reports in complete form, detailing qualifications for the candidates, qualifications for voters stating the "staff" constituency at election time, and the technicalities of conducting the ballot.

Graham To Speak

Dr. Frank Graham will be the guest of honor and will deliver the principal address at a district meeting of the Knights of Pythias in Greensboro tomorrow night.

Baritone

Sherman Smith, known to several hundred freshmen as an assistant professor of chemistry, but more widely known for his musical abilities, who sings this afternoon at the 5 o'clock informal Graham Memorial concert.

Smith To Give Union Recital

Venable Hall Baritone Will Give Program

Sherman Smith, Venable hall's baritone who sings this afternoon on Graham Memorial's regular Sunday afternoon program at 5 o'clock, will give a program ranging from salt-water-ballads to grand opera.

The opera selections include an aria from "La Juive," and the serenade of Mephistopheles from "Faust." The serenade is from the second act of the opera. Mephistopheles explains to Faust how to make love to Marguerite, and then stands outside her window and sings a typical serenade of love, but each verse ends satirically with, "Thus your lover calls you, but don't open your window until you have a ring on your finger."

Rest Of Program

Two songs, "The Dark Forest," and "A Dissonance" are by Borodin, the chemist. "Port o' Many Ships," "Trade Winds," and "Mother Carey," by Masefield with music by Keel are the ballads. The rest of the program includes "White Horses of the Sea," Warren; "When the King Went Forth to War," Koenemann; and selections by Caldarà, Sarti, Pergolesi, and Legrenzi.

Pre-Med Students To Have Banquet

Banquet Is Inaugural Move To Unite All Pre-Medical Men

After the showing of medical movies in Venable hall Thursday night University pre-medical students met and unanimously decided to hold a banquet this spring. April 27 was set as a tentative date.

Joe Patterson, president of Alpha Epsilon Delta, now has the name of practically every pre-medical student in school. Those whose names he does not have should see him immediately.

This attempt at a banquet will inaugurate a move to group all those students in the University contemplating a medical education. Definite plans for the meal and program will be made later.

Dr. Wingate Johnson, president-elect of the North Carolina Medical association, has accepted an invitation to be the principal speaker on the program.

Invite Three As Speakers To Institute

Committee To Fill In Gaps, Make Final Preparations

With two fields of their program unrepresented by speakers as yet, the Human Relations institute committee met yesterday to fill these divisions before tomorrow and to make final preparations for the week's program.

To represent the conservative business man, the committee voted to invite Graeme Lorrimer of the Saturday Evening Post to speak. A prominent university president has not yet been secured and to fill this post, invitations are being extended to President James B. Conant of Harvard and President Ernest M. Hopkins of Dartmouth.

May Get Powell

Failing to secure Robert Jackson, assistant United States attorney general, Dean M. T. Van Hecke of the law school will attempt to bring Thomas Powell of the Harvard law school to speak on the court question.

Harry F. Comer, executive secretary of the committee announced that publishing houses are responding to the request for current books and that a large group would be on exhibit relating to major issues.

A complete program of institute week, containing the history of the event, the speaker schedule, and topics for discussions will be released by Friday or Saturday of this week.

Drama Director Will Read Hart, Kaufman Play

"You Can't Take It With You" Created By Authors Of "Once In A Lifetime."

Harry Davis, assistant director of the Carolina Playmakers, will read "You Can't Take It With You," the newest comedy by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, at 8:30 this evening in the Playmakers theater. This is one of the regular Sunday evening playreadings open to the public.

Mr. Davis' ability as a director of modern comedies has been shown through his work here with such productions as "Three Cornered Moon," "The Young Idea," and others, and his reading of "Boy Meets Girl," last year was considered one of the most popular of the Sunday evening readings.

Photographer To Stress History Of Each Old House Which She Has Pictured

Frances Benjamin Johnston will again discuss her photographs in Person hall art museum this afternoon at 4:00 p. m.

With particular emphasis on the history of the houses she has represented in the exhibit, Miss Johnston will tell in detail something of the story attached to each house which aroused her interest to photograph the building.

North Carolina's past is well represented in the exhibit. The old buildings from Winston-Salem, Edenton, New Bern, Rocky Mount form a large part of the exhibit.

New Faction Is Organized; University Party Will Meet

Joe Grier's Committee To Complete Slate This Evening

The University party will meet tonight to complete its slate for the coming election.

Most of the evening will be devoted to selecting candidates for minor offices; class vice-presidents, secretaries, treasurers, and positions on the P. U. board and Debate council.

According to Chairman Joe Grier, the party will not be able to continue its former policy of sounding out campus opinion with its organization of 15 sub-committees, because the steering committee does not want publicity of its selections to reach the campus until the entire slate is drawn up.

Cross Section

The sub-committee system was suggested by Albert Ellis, now withdrawn from the party, as a means of finding out what candidates the campus thought best qualified for the various positions.

Each man of the steering committee was to have an assistant. Each of these assistants was to lead a committee of five, chosen geographically by dormitories. The committeemen were to interview men in their dormitories as to the best candidates for each job and report back to the 18 politicians on the steering committee.

Coming Dramatic Festival Causes Housing Problem

Parker Urges Students Willing To Share Their Rooms To Contact Him

The housing of approximately 400 students and players from high schools, colleges, community groups and little theaters over the state is the problem facing John W. Parker, head of the Bureau of Community Drama.

The various groups will begin arriving Wednesday and will continue to put in appearance throughout the week to attend the 14th annual festival and drama tournament being held in the Playmakers theater.

Names of Delegates

Parker has the names of those taking part in the festival, and requests any Carolina students who would be willing to share their room or could furnish rooming space to boys from their home towns to get in touch with him in his office, the Bureau of Community Drama, 314 South building.

Some of the groups will remain for the entire four days of the program while others will probably be here for only one night.

Groups from the following places are presenting plays at the festival: Biltmore, Mars Hill, Raleigh, Durham, Burlington, Rocky Mount, Goldsboro, Lenoir, Asheville, Aulander, Salisbury, Boone, Marshville, Pau Creek, Tabor City, Hickory, Wilmington, Concord, Norfolk, and Black Mountain.

Coeds To Vote For Officials In Y Tuesday

Only Two Nominations Made From Floor Thursday

Election of women officers will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday, and the polls will be open all day. Nominations for offices were made at the Woman's association meeting Thursday by the council's nominating committee. Only two nominations were made from the floor.

The nominating committee is composed of the council and additional assistants whom it selects. The present committee was chosen by Margaret Jordan, president of the Woman's association, and represented town girls, the two sororities, the graduates, and Spencer hall. Included on the committee were Margaret Jordan, Nancy Smith, and Jane Ross, Chi Omegas; Anita De Monseigle, Lyal Boice, Pi Phi; Evelyn Faust, graduate; Nancy Kyser, Elva Ann Ranson, stray Greek; and Erika Zimmermann and Marion Tayloe, non-sorority.

Root Withdraws

At the meeting Thursday Olivia Root, non-sorority, withdrew in favor of Nancy Nesbit, non-sorority, who was also nominated by the committee for president. Virginia Lee, Chi Omega, was then nominated for president from the floor.

Marion Tayloe, non-sorority, and Lyal Boice were nominated by the committee for vice-president. Miss Boice is a Pi Phi and Miss Tayloe appears to be supported by the Chi O's.

Lillian Hughes, Chi O, was nominated by the committee for secretary, as well as Nell Booker, who was forced to withdraw since she was elected town representative on the council by the advisory board Wednesday. Olivia Root was then nominated from the floor.

The committee nominated Louise Camp, Chi Omega, and Eloise Broughton, Pi Phi, for treasurer.

Athletic Association

Athletic association nominees were Evelyn Barker, non-sorority, president; Polly Pollack, Chi O, and Phyllis Hawthorne, Pi Phi, secretary; and June and Jean Bush, treasurer, acting as one.

The campaign for officers appears to be dividing itself into two factions, the Chi Omegas

Student Party Selects Magill And Loomis To Head Ticket

Bob Magill and Chuck Loomis were selected yesterday to run as president of the student body and vice-president of the senior class respectively on the ticket of the recently organized Student party.

The party, through its chairman Bill Cole, yesterday revealed a number of its policies and announced several of its candidates for campus officers in the spring elections.

Magill's Record

Magill, present junior representative to and secretary of the student council, is a student advisory committeeman, member of the Grail, and past president of the sophomore Y. M. C. A. council. He is also a member of Amphoterothern, a member of the student committee on education, and president of the International club.

Loomis' Record

Chuck Loomis, president of Graham dormitory, is a councillor and freshman adviser, member of the junior-senior cabinet, track man, contributor to the Carolina Magazine, and one of the four students chosen to teach at the Orange county night school.

According to Chairman Cole, for president of the senior class, "the Student party will follow its policy of selecting the man best fitted for the office regardless of party affiliations" and will back Joe Patterson, candidate of the University party, for this office.

Magill will be opposed by Marvin Allen, University party candidate, who is now president of the Monogram club, chairman of

ASU Makes Plans For Peace Meet Middle Of April

Meder Urges Students To Participate In Demonstration Next Month

The American Student Union unanimously voted Wednesday night to stage an anti-war strike April 22.

According to first plans which were discussed at the meeting, the demonstration will be similar to the one put on last spring which was attended by a large number of students.

Asks Support

The union will ask support for the program from leading campus organizations, and will urge those who agree with the plans to send two members from their groups to form a committee which will manage the demonstration.

Several prominent political leaders are being contacted to speak. The members voted to ask Duke and the Woman's college to sponsor a similar strike, and if they are unable to do so, to send delegations to join the University program.

President Tommy Meder urged that all students interested in assisting with the strike, especially those with artistic tendencies, attend next week's A. S. U. meeting.
