UNC Band Goes To Rocky Mount Tobacco Festival

Bandsmen To Participate In Durham Educational Celebration Friday

As guests of the Rocky Mount chamber of commerce, the University band will participate in the annual Rocky Mount gallopade today.

The band left Chapel Hill by bus at 8:00 a. m. today. This afternoon they will participate in the tobacco parade and tonight at 7:00 they will present a concert in the band pavilion in the center of the business section of Rocky Mount.

This is the second year the band has been invited to participate in the Rocky Mount festival.

In Durham Friday

Friday night the band will go to Durham to take part in the Centennial Celebration of Education in North Carolina.

The celebration will be held in the Duke stadium at 7:00 p. m. Beside the enormous pageant cast there will be twenty-two bands to play for the event. The bands of Duke, Davidson, State College, and the University will be assisted by eighteen high-school bands playing en masse.

One of the features of the pageant will be the playing of Harold Cone's "Centennial March" composed especially for the occasion. This composition won first place among North Carolina composers in a contest conducted for an original composition to be played at the celebration. Earl Slocum arranged the composition for band.

Students To Gather Today In Anti-War Demonstration

Voss To Deliver Talk In Memorial Hall At Ten-Thirty

Meder Is Chairman

University students will assemble this morning at 10:30 in Memorial hall to participate in an anti-war demonstration simultaneously with students in colleges and universities over the United States.

Speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Carl Hermann Voss, minister of the United church in Raleigh, who will make the address of the morning. The program will last half an hour.

The demonstration is being staged by the Carolina Peace committee, composed of the American Student union and representatives of the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and the League of Nations association. Chairman of the demonstration is Tommy Meder.

Comer On Program

Harry F. Comer, secretary of the "Y," will introduce the speaker, who is flying by plane from Jacksonville, Fla., in order to appear here today.

Posters and banners expressing students' view of war will be held by various people throughout the audience. Colored posters secured from World Peaceways are on display in buildings on the campus.

The library is cooperating with the peace movement by displaying an exhibit of books pertinent to world affairs and pacifism. The Intimate bookshop also has a display of literature in the same field.

Handbills have been distributed throughout the dormitories addressing students as "potential cannon fodder" and urging them to appear at today's demonstration to register their protest against war.

Tonight at 8 o'clock in the main lounge of Graham Memorial there will be an open forum discussion for students, professors, and townspeople to give their opinions of war and peace and the student movement against militarism.

Union Plans Second Sing

Levitch Promises More New Talent Sunday

Songsters and Graham Memorial officials sponsoring the Community sing to be held in the main lounge of Graham Memorial Sunday night at 7:30 expect a capacity audience of students and townspeople to "pack up their troubles" and join in an hour of song-singing frivolity.

When the last sing was held April 4, a crowd of people made their way through a Sunday night rain to Graham Memorial's shelter, and, when the seats were filled, crowded the doorways just to hear themselves harmonize "Sweet Adeline."

Those who could contribute only discords to the harmony enjoyed hearing the solos of the guest artists anyway. Mary Nachomson of Durham and New York vocalized "Coro Nome" from Verdi's "Rigoletto," and to relieve the classical strain, Geddie Monroe followed with a novelty aria, "The Evils of a Young Man Drinking," as a warning to college undergraduates.

Dean House cast aside his administrative dignity to captivate the audience with his harmonica, and Eva Nachomson accompanied her sister Doris who sang "Copper Colored Gal."

From a group of All-American standbys such as "Frankie and Johnnie" and "So Do I," the audience of singers acclaimed their enjoyment of the old favorite "Sweet Adeline" by demanding a double singing.

Song Leader Leonard Levitch yesterday promised outstanding guest artists for Sunday night's program.

Policy League

Election of officers for 1937-38 will feature a meeting of the Foreign Policy league tonight at 7 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A.

George MacFarland, president of the league, stated last night that the guest chairman of tonight's program will be John Kendrick. The topic of discussion will be "Philosophy of Dictatorship."

Annual Staff Banquet Set

Carolina Inn Is Scene Of Dinner Tonight

Because of unforeseen difficulties, the annual DAILY TAR HEEL banquet, originally scheduled for Graham Memorial, will be held at the Carolina inn tonight at 7 o'clock, it was announced late last night by the chairman of the banquet committee.

The nature of the entertainment program, planned by Stuart Rabb and Bob du Four, was not disclosed at the time the paper went to press, but it was said that the evening "will be full of fun and frolic for every member of the staff." It was further rumored that Mac Smith, Ed Kahn, and Lytt Gardner were planning activities, the nature of which also was not disclosed.

All Be Present

Chairman du Four asks that every member of the DAILY TAR HEEL staff be present at the dinner.

Baity Considered For Chairmanship Of Highway Group

Coan, Waynick Also Mentioned For Appointment To Disputed Office

Reports from Raleigh yesterday asserted that Dr. Herman G. Baity, head of the University's engineering school, is being considered by Governor Hoey for the disputed chairmanship of the state highway and public works commission.

Political observers hinted that the past director of the state P. W. A. might be a "dark horse" appointee. Baity was a visitor in Raleigh Tuesday.

The governor's pending appointments have taken the spotlight in state politics. Others reported in line for the highway and public works commission post are George W. Coan, present state W. P. A. administrator, and Capus Waynick, present chairman of the commission who is reputed to wish a reappointment to the same job or nothing.

Council President

Francis "Boo" Campbell, who recently stepped into the shoes of Albert Ellis as president of the Interdormitory council. Quadrangle Frolics this weekend will be another victory for these two.

Annual High School Week Draws Many

Debate Finals To Take Place Tonight In Memorial

Approximately 700 North Carolina high school students had arrived in Chapel Hill yesterday for participation in the annual high school week sponsored by the University's bureau of high school debating and athletics.

Over 250 debaters, representing 63 high schools, are on hand for competition for the Aycock cup debating contest. Many athletes are here for track and tennis tournaments.

Debate Topic

All yesterday afternoon debate preliminaries were held in various University buildings. The debate topic is, Resolved: That the government should own and operate all electric light and power utilities.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the 25th annual debate for the Aycock cup takes place in Memorial hall. Last year's winner was Kinston. President Graham and E. R. Rankin, secretary of the high school bureau, will appear at the assembly. Following the cup's presentation by Dean R. B. House, a student union and University club reception for visitors will be held in Graham Memorial.

Quadrangle Frolics To Open Tomorrow

Undergraduates May Occupy New Coed Dormitory

Mrs. Stacy Hopes To Place All Junior, Senior Coeds In University Halls

All undergraduate coeds may have a dormitory roof over their heads next year.

Mrs. Marvin Stacy, adviser to women, stated yesterday that the administration is "making attempts to place all undergraduate women in a dormitory" by next fall.

She explained that at present 32 undergraduate coeds are staying in town homes other than those of their parents or relatives.

The new dormitory for graduate women, scheduled for completion by September, will house 104 students. At present there are 108 graduate women, including the 21 library science graduates.

Spencer

Spencer hall, the undergraduate women hall, houses 74, although there are 192 undergraduate coeds enrolled this quarter.

Mrs. Stacy explained that housing all junior and senior coeds in dormitories offers a major problem. If no other solution is seen, she said, there may be created a "senior hall" within the new graduate building.

She stated that the new building will be equipped with one lounge, three parlors downstairs and a kitchen and laundry on each floor. It is now under construction on Hillsboro street, opposite the arboretum.

Men's Glee Club To Sing Tonight In Memorial Hall

Choral Group To Entertain Delegates; Dr. Haden Will Direct The Program

As a contribution toward various programs being given over the campus for the visiting high school debating teams, the University Men's Glee club will give a concert in Memorial hall tonight at 7 o'clock before the debates start.

Toms Absent

Dr. W. L. Haden will direct the singing in the absence of Professor John E. Toms. A quartette made up of Jack Peterson, Brooks Patton, Frank Turner and Carey Sparks will also entertain with a couple of numbers.

The numbers chosen for the glee club program include "Old Man River" by Jerome Kern, "Land Sighting" by Grieg, "Chit Chat" by Moffat, "One Who Has Yearned Alone" by Tcharkonsky Riegger and "Ye Maids of Helston" by Treharne.

Thanks To All

Henry Clark, president of the Interfraternity council, yesterday expressed thanks to the 14 Greek houses that turned rooms over to visiting chemists during the past week.

He stated that checks in payment of each room rented to the visitors will be mailed fraternities today or tomorrow.

Clark also expressed thanks for other houses that offered accommodations for chemists which were not used.

Bids For Set Available From Members Of Council

Extra Bids Issued

Adding another brick to the House that Albert built, the two lower quadrangles start tomorrow night with the first of a set of Quadrangle frolics to be given in the Tin Can this week-end. Freddy Johnson and his orchestra will furnish the music.

Chairman of the Interdormitory council dance committee Billy Robertson announced in a council meeting last night that residents of the two lower quadrangles may secure their bids from the council member on their floor for 50 cents. This includes both Friday and Saturday night's dances.

Extra Bids

Robertson further explained that there would be 75 extra bids issued which will be sold to the campus at large at a price of $1.00 per set. These bids may be secured from the following people: Billy Robertson, Aycock, Tom Bruce, Old East, Fred Tetor, Pettigrew, and Beaty Bass, Grimes.

The dance Friday night will be from 9 until 1 o'clock and the Saturday affair will take place between 9 and mid-night.

Mrs. Stacy stated that the University Dance committee would probably not comply with the request that coeds be allowed two hours after each dance.

The Quadrangle frolics, an idea that came out of the Interdormitory council, is another step in Supervisor Albert Ellis' plans for bringing the occupants of dormitories in closer contact with each other and, according to Ellis, of raising the status of the individual dormitories to a higher place in campus activities.

Last night, Robertson said that many of the bids in the dormitories had been sold and, as there would be no bids sold at the door, expressed his belief that the few extra bids would go quickly.

Lindsay Outlines Varied Programs For Senior Week

Dates For Events Not Decided Yet; Ivey Assures Successful "Stunt Night"

When University seniors don their regalia for the annual senior week May 2-8, they will attend and participate in a varied group of programs just outlined for them by Mary Lindsay and her senior week committee.

Definite dates for the particular events have not been decided upon as yet, but will be announced by the committee next week.

Stunt Night

Pete Ivey said yesterday that the out-going class would be assured of another successful "stunt night." "We're not only going to be entertained by Geddy Monroe and his trumpeted mouth," explained Pete, "but C. P. U. Speaker Frank McGinn will talk to us and a couple of coed quartettes will sing."

The Chapel Hill billies, graduate girls who entertained the graduates last year, will be on
