Eight Songs Are Written For Musical

Curtain At 8:15

By BOB PERKINS Following seven years of inaction the Carolina Wigue and Masque club will throw off its shroud this evening at 8:15 o'clock in Memorial hall and in its reincarnated attempt to live up to the reputation gained when Hal Kemp and Kay Kyser were leaders in the organization. As in the past the musical, comedy presented will be an allstudent-written - produced and latest musical production. cast production. "Say the Word" was conceived in Everett dormitory by Carl Fistel, David Leiberman, and Fred Tunick who were also the principals behind the revival of the club.

Eight Songs

The musical comedy contains eight songs written by student members in its two acts and eight scenes. Arthur Hinett, in playing three of these selections over an NBC hookup Saturday, stated that on the basis of the songs he would predict a great success for the Carolina production.

The first scene opens in the evening on a University campus. A rock wall borders the street, and underneath the lighted lamp post stand three students. In (Continued on page two)
