Phi To Elect New Officers

Martin, Dudley Figure In Fight To Win

Phi Assemblymen will meet in New East at 7:15 Tuesday night to elect officers for the coming year, an action which, according to Frank McGinn, prominent Phi leader, promises more fireworks than ever before.

Two factions, one backing Leighton Dudley, Maine Republican, and the other pushing Drew Martin, Phi floor debater, seem to control the limelight in the fight for speaker.

Political Circles

According to Phi Assembly members in touch with the organization's political circles, Dudley, if elected, will continue the assembly's work along the same lines as in the past. If Martin is elected many feel that startling innovations will take place in Phi procedure.

Other officers to be elected Tuesday are speaker pro tem, secretary, treasurer, representative to the debate council, chairman and members of the ways and means committee.

Women Force Old Westers From Homes

Women Rule Campus For First Time In 143 Years Of Male Dominance

Shifted around from pillar to post, the residents of Old West spent worried hours yesterday trying to find refuge for themselves while their ladies took over the men's dormitory.

Some of the students could not see their way clear to vacating in favor of the fair visitors, and secured special permission from the authorities to remain in their own quarters in the North section of the building. There is no internal connection between the different entries of the dormitory.

Officially the dispossessed students took up residence in the basement of Steele, but in reality not many were rugged

Plans For Annual Alumnae Meeting Made Yesterday

Women Leaders Select May Day As Tentative Date For Future Affair

Forty alumnae of the University and a group of women leaders on the campus at a luncheon in Graham Memorial yesterday, sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma made plans for an annual alumnae home-coming day each year at the time of the May Day festival.

Mrs. R. O. Everett of Durham, presided at the luncheon and welcomed the visitors, recalling the names of the first women students who entered the University forty years ago. Ruth Crowell played a piano solo, and Jane Ross then spoke for Alpha Kappa Gamma, welcoming the alumnae, and presenting the background of the day's plans.

Speeches

Nancy Nesbit spoke on women's activities on the campus and again welcomed the visitors for the Woman's association. Mrs. Marvin H. Stacy presented the plans for the new woman's building. Dean House discussed the problem of women on the campus and the University's relation to them.

During the discussion period that followed the alumnae decided to make May Day the date of the mutual convening in Chapel Hill.

Big Crowd Sees Eliza Rose Made Queen Yesterday

Alpha Kappa Gamma Entertains Crowd Of 1200, Dogs At May Day

A crowd of about 1200 people and two small dogs sat yesterday afternoon in the Arboretum to watch the second annual May Day celebration sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma.

As the first notes of Stravinsky's "Sacre du Printemps" beat across the Arboretum the pageant began with the entrance of the torchbearer, Mary Lindsey, bearing a bowl of smoking incense. Dances by the two high priestesses, Mary Haynsworth and Janie Britt, and the spring-god, danced by Christine Maynard, followed by an ensemble of the May court formed the body of the dance-drama. A group of young girls, faculty children, escorted the court.

The bright costumes of the May court with their swirling capes formed a picturesque group against the green of the
