INVESTIGATION OF BLACK CASE ASKED BY SENATOR WHEELER

Washington, Sept. 17.—Latest to join the critics of Justice Hugo L. Black's supposed membership in the Ku Klux Klan is Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana who yesterday declared that President Roosevelt should appoint an impartial investigating committee.

Wheeler, field marshal of the senate opponents of the Roosevelt court bill, told reporters that if the charges are true, the President should certainly ask for Black's resignation.

"This is a good illustration of what happens when an administration acts hastily and what happens when senators vote blindly for every suggestion made by the White House," the senator said.

Among the staunch supporters of Black is Senator Robert R. Reynolds, of North Carolina. He declared that opposition to Black was "a lot of spite and political propaganda."

The furore created by published reports alleging Black a life long member of the Klan became so broad Rep. Fish of New York hinted an inquiry might find several southern congressmen "on the Klan payroll or affiliated with the organization."

JAPS CAPTURE CHINESE ADVANCE BASE

Peiping, Sept. 17.—An announcement from Japanese army headquarters tonight stated that Chochow, Chinese advance base 40 miles south of Peiping, had been captured in a steam roller Japanese offensive along the Peiping-Hankow railway.

The Japanese mechanized forces, now estimated at 60,000 men, gained 12 miles in the last 24 hours after spectacular crossings of the Yungting and Chuma rivers, south and southwest of the city, according to a report from Japanese army officials tonight.

The capture of Chochow cut off some 50,000 Chinese troops along the railway north of that city.

In Shanghai today it was reported that additional Japanese reinforcements for the halted drive against the Chinese defense line had been landed on the lower reaches of the Yangtze river.

DURHAM TOBACCO MARKET SALES ANNOUNCED

Durham, Sept. 17.—Sales were resumed on the Durham tobacco market today as the official average for the opening yesterday was announced at $24.02 per hundred pounds.

L. G. Cheek, sales supervisor, said 907,854 pounds of the golden weed were sold in the opening break, netting growers a total of $218,116.48.

Cheek said the sales today would clear the warehouse floors. No sale will be conducted on Saturday.

New Division Of Education May Build Strong Center

Program To Inaugurate Special Teachers Training

Douglas New Head

This fall the University is inaugurating an extensive teacher-training program which, if carried out, is expected to build up a strong southern center for the professional training of teachers in this unit of the Greater University.

The program calls for the creation of a Division of Education in which other University departments will cooperate with the Department of Education through special courses and activities.

New Head

Dr. Harl Douglass, professor of secondary education at the University of Minnesota, has been selected as new head of the department and division of education.

The new division is said by President Graham to be the culmination of the "long range plan" of the administration and the trustees, which brought about the consolidation of the three state institutions for higher learning several years ago.

New Set-Up

On presidential recommendation the trustees abolished the school of education and established the department and division of education, not as separate from but as a part of the (Continued on page two)

Registration Figure Nears Record Mark

3002 Students Enroll In All Branches Of University

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the registration figure reached a total of 3,002 students enrolled in all departments and divisions of the University for the fall quarter.

The Central Records office predicted that the figure would reach a total of nearly 3,200 before the process of matriculation is finished. Last year's total registration for the fall quarter was 3,026 students, and if the expected figure is reached this year, Carolina will have the largest student body in its history.

Coed Attends Wrong Class

Many are the stories of freshmen who have confused Saunders and Manning or Steele, but Miss Perdita Arnette is a senior and ought to know better.

Yesterday morning, on the first day of classes, the diminutive, blonde coed was seen scurrying through the rain in the general direction of Phillips hall. She was wet and she was late to class.

Miss Arnette, who usually has an answer to such things, wondered why in the world she wandered to Murphy hall when she knew all the time that her class met in Phillips.

Membership Numbers Ninety-Six University Officials

Ninety-six of the 106 members of the University service force today have joined the recreational and social club founded this summer.

Largely through the sponsorship of Assistant Controller L. B. Rogerson and other members of the administration, "The Cabin" near the Buccaneer club has been recently rented as the new clubhouse for service force members.

After a summer's success of dances, bridge, checkers, ping-pong, and social activities in general, the club has gained solid social footing and members of the force are provided with social opportunities equal to students.

Senior Takes Course Twice

Professor O. J. "Skipper" Coffin, head of the journalism department, was calling the roll for the first meeting of his class in headline writing—Journalism 57.

"Skipper" was weeding ing out, trying to cut the size of the class down to workable proportions.

It was soon after a sophomore had left the hall of junior and senior courses that Professor Coffin called the name of Bill Harrison.

"Skipper, I believe I've taken this course before," Harrison said.

Harrison agreed that it was headline writing, that last year he had taken headline writing, and slowly walked out of the room.

Phi To Begin New Program

Martin To Inaugurate Assembly Changes

When the Philanthropic assembly convenes for the first time this quarter next Tuesday night, it will inaugurate a program which, according to Speaker Drew Martin, is one of the most extensive in assembly history.

In the first place Martin hopes to uproot a deep-seated Phi tradition when he delivers his "inaugural address to end all inaugural addresses."

Campus Topics

Topics of general campus interest will replace the old form of discussion bills. Light bills which were introduced formerly will be eliminated as far as possible, Speaker Martin said.

A special call was sent to all freshmen interested in forensics and an invitation was extended to be present at the Tuesday meeting. A freshman committee has been organized and will visit first year men in their rooms.

Martin hopes to place increased emphasis on the annual Di-Phi freshman debate. Plans for the organization of a forensic fraternity are under way.

Large Audience Hears Convocation Talks Yesterday

Dr. Graham Speaks

An audience of faculty, students, and townspeople filled Memorial hall yesterday morning to attend the formal opening exercises of the University with Dean A. W. Hobbs, Dean R. B. House, and President Graham delivering the convocation speeches.

Opening the 143rd session of the University, Dean Hobbs proclaimed that only through the proper education of American youth, and only through such means, will this country be able to ward off the menace of Fascism and Communism.

Train Youth

"It has been said many times by men in many ages that the proper education of the youth is the most important function of the state, but we have never actually committed ourselves to this job," Dean Hobbs declared. "Rather we have tried to give just enough support to education to close the mouths of those who hammer at the gate, but not enough to find out what can be done."

Dean of Administration Robert B. House, who presided over the meeting, invited the newcomers "into the consciousness of a University community" and directed attention to the fact that the students just enrolled represent the "hopes, ambitions, and aspirations of 3,000 new homes."

Graham Speaks

President Graham, in a brief address which closed the exercises, stressed the importance of a well-rounded development of body, mind, and spirit.

"What you do here, depends on what you do with these three (Continued on page two)
