EMBASSY DEPART FROM NANKING

Shanghai, Sept. 20.—In the face of a Japanese threat to lay waste to the Chinese capital and as the result of a morning aerial raid in which 40 civilians were killed and 40 homes destroyed, the American embassy staff fled from Nanking tonight.

Ambassador from the United States Nelson Johnson, with his aides, boarded the American patrol boat, Luzon, stationed in the Yangtze river and turned up the river.

The Japanese had warned that foreigners would face danger of death from the air beginning at noon Tuesday. Japanese officials declared that Japan would not be responsible for loss of foreign life after that hour. The Americans planned to withdraw to Wuhu, 30 miles from Nanking, thereby observing the demand of the Japanese naval force.

Johnson's decision to withdraw roused bitter disappointment among Nanking officials, some of whom felt that the ambassador should remain as a gesture of loyalty and sympathy with China's cause in the conflict with Japan. The British, German, Russian and Italian embassies decided to remain at least for the moment.

SPAIN FAILS TO GAIN RE-ELECTION TO COUNCIL

Geneva, Sept. 20.—The Spanish government's request for re-election of the league council, was voted down by the assembly of the League of Nations today.

By nine votes (23 to 32) the civil war-torn country was removed from the council seat she had held for years. Spain's present three-year term expires this year. She remains, of course, a member of the league and may send a representative to council sessions dealing with matters concerning her—but will lack the right to vote in council.

The vote came at a session wherein British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden deplored that "peoples of the world seem as far as ever from attaining peace."

Dance Leaders Take No Stand On 'Big Apple'

The University dance committee aired the Big Apple last night.

"We decided to take no stand on the issue," said Member Joe Patterson after the session. "If the organization giving the dance okays the Apple, then we will permit it. If it opposes it, we shall enforce its will," said he.

Members of the Grail, who were deciding its 1937-38 dance policy, couldn't decide about the Apple. Some said the Apple is "the thing;" others called it "inappropriate."

Everyone agreed that the Tin Can might shake a little if 300 couples renew the craze.

Senate Makes John Ramsay New Di Head

Freshmen Invited To Session Tonight At 7:15

John Erwin Ramsay was elected president of the Dialectic senate Sunday night by a unanimous vote of the group. He is a senior in the University, and has been exceptionally active in Di work during his three years of membership.

Ramsay was elected to succeed Newton Craig who recently resigned in order to tour the British Isles.

Active On Campus

At the time of his election Ramsay was holding the next highest position in the senate, that of president pro-tem. He has been active in various other fields than Di work, holding a manager's position on the track team and being an active official in the Sigma Nu fraternity.

After his election President Ramsay immediately set about formulating plans for getting new members for the senate from the freshman ranks. A committee was appointed which will visit the first year men at an early date.

A cordial invitation is extended to all freshmen interested in debating and public speaking to attend the first regular meeting of the senate tonight at 7:15 in New West.

Griffin, Welch Change Posts In Faculty Shakeup

Administration Shift Places Former Psychology Instructor In Griffin's Old Post

A shake-up in University administration this summer has placed I. C. Griffin, Jr., as head of the Central Records office and S. W. Welch, Jr., as director of the bureau of vocational information.

Welch, last year a psychology instructor, will this year direct Griffin's old job of handling letters of recommendation, interviews between personnel agents and job-seeking students, and vocational guidance for upperclassmen.

Koch Invites You

Professor Frederick H. Koch, head of the University department of dramatic art, who will tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Playmaker Theater, deliver his lecture "Adventures in Playmaking" before an audience of young and old prospective thespians.

Koch To Make Annual Talk At 7:30 Wed.

Playmaker Theater To Be Scene Of 1937 Lecture

Tomorrow night at 7:30 Professor Frederick H. Koch will deliver his annual lecture, "Adventures in Playmaking," in the Playmaker theater.

As has been the custom for the past several years, everyone who is interested in the theater, whether student or not, is cordially invited to attend the lecture which will be illustrated by over 100 slides covering the folk-drama history.

The talk will mark the formal opening of the 1937 Playmaker season. It has not as yet been decided whether the first play will be Paul Green's "Johnny Johnson" or Maxwell Anderson's "High Tor," but announcements as to the selection and try-out dates are expected within the week.

Enrollment Record

Carolina's record registration figure rose yesterday to 3,136.

Late registrations are being handled on the second floor of South building.

Carolina Had More Students Than Any Southern School North Of Texas

By OLIVER CRAWLEY

Just 38 years ago the University had a total enrollment of only 480 students. This number made up the academic, law, medical, and pharmacy departments, was said to be the largest enrollment ever reached during any regular term to date. The summer school enrollment, omitting duplicates, was expected to carry the total up to 609 in 1899.

The University had more students enrolled than any other southern university north of Texas. During the years 1897 and '98 it had loaned almost six thousand dollars from the Deems fund with security and

Grail Program Will Feature Four Dances

First Of Series Comes After S. C. Game This Weekend

Four dances, with music by the three leading campus bands and one "import" will feature the fall social program of the Order of the Grail, it was decided last night.

First of the series will come next Saturday night when Jimmy Fuller's organization plays after the South Carolina game.

November 13

Members of the honorary organization also voted to sponsor a dance on the night of the Duke game, November 13.

The remaining two dances will come as a "set" on either the week-end of the Tulane or the Fordham games, according to which is reserved by the German club for its fall dance series. The Grail "set" will include dances both Friday and Saturday nights, one sponsored by the Holy Order and one by another campus organization.

Freddy Johnson and Jere King are other campus orchestras that will be engaged.

Freshmen will not be permitted to attend Saturday night's dance because of fraternity "silence" rules.

Magazine Men To Meet Today

Editor Calls Staff To Memorial Office

Plans for an issue to be published in late October will be discussed, and conference engagements with the editors will be made at the first Carolina Magazine staff meeting of the year tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Magazine office on the mezzanine of Graham Memorial.

All former and prospective contributors who hope to write copy for the first issue should be present, as an early deadline, October 11, makes it imperative that preliminaries be disposed of immediately.

Office Hours

Beginning today, Bill Hudson, the editor, will keep office hours of 3 to 5 on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays. Nick Read, associate editor, will be in the office from 3 to 5 on Fridays.

The Magazine, published eight times during the University session, serves two functions 1) as a means of communication among members of the University community about

Tryouts Today For Buccaneer Staff

Hayden Clement, new editor of the University humor publication, "Carolina Buccaneer," announced yesterday that all freshmen and transfer students interested in trying out for the business staff of the magazine to report to the office in Graham Memorial today at 3 o'clock.

"No previous experience is necessary for working on the technical side of the publication, however, those who have had experience in this type of work are especially urged to come and try out for a place," the editor said.

Money Man

University Controller C. T. Woollen, who has in a large measure been responsible for the erection of Carolina's new gymnasium, stated yesterday that students will definitely be using the new structure by May.

Balding Calls First Meeting Of Spirit Club

University Club Will Make Fall Plans Tonight

University Club President Jim Balding yesterday called for the first meeting of his spirit organization tonight at 7 o'clock in the small lounge of Graham Memorial.

"With the football season nigh upon us," Balding stated yesterday, "it is urgent that all club members be present at the meeting to begin plans for the fall quarter's activities."

Radio Programs

Balding further stated that in addition to the usual pep rallies always sponsored by the University club on the eve of all games, a series of radio programs will be inaugurated over neighboring radio stations in order to create interest outside the

'Lights Out' Is Theme For Lower Quadrangle Rioting

'Shoeless Charley' Leads Pajama Clad Mob While Harry Roth Calls For Date

Harry Roth was asking for a date over his dormitory telephone last night when his conversation was interrupted by sudden darkness over the entire lower quadrangle.

In all of Lewis, Graham, Everett, and Aycock there wasn't one electric light shining. University "trouble shooters" hastened to the scene for a repair job, but meanwhile things were happenings.

"Shoeless Charley" In Graham dormitory Joe Wilson and Elliot Kaufman were organizing a riot squad. Some 250 residents poured out, half dressed in pajamas, and led by "Shoeless Charley" English, paraded to the two coed dormitories.

New Gym To Be Completed By Next May

Announcement Made By UNC Controller Woollen

"Carolina's new gymnasium will be open some time during the winter quarter," said Controller C. T. Woollen yesterday.

The Greater University's money man agreed that there is some justification to the reasoning of students that finishing the gym by January 11, the PWA deadline, will be a difficult job.

Part Completion

Some portions of the large structure and adjoining pool will be completed by that date, he asserted, although perhaps not all.

"Students will definitely be using the entire equipment before May," said Mr. Woollen.

Last winter the University secured $283,090 from P. W. A. to match its own $346,000 in the construction of the gym, pool, and new women's dormitory.

Women's Building

Under the contract, the women's building was to be finished last August. Mr. Woollen stated that a slight time extension was secured in view of a five weeks idle period during spring rains. It is now occupied, although all painting will not be completed until the Christmas holidays.

AED Will Convene At 7:15 Tonight

First Program Schedules Discussion For Holding Smoker

Officials of the University's honorary pre-medical fraternity, Alpha Epsilon Delta, announced last night that the group will hold its first meeting of the fall quarter at 7:15 tonight in the Y. M. C. A.

All members have been urged to attend the meeting which is being held to lay plans for the year's work. The program for tonight calls for a discussion of the possibilities for a smoker some time this quarter to be held in honor of all pre-medical students.

The honorary organization also hopes to further plans this year for presenting several medical movies here.
