RUSSIA WANTS SPANISH ARMS PATROL ABANDONED

London, Oct. 2.—Demanding that the Spanish non-intervention pact be abandoned, the Russian government was reported today to have asked that the Iberian civil war be thrown open to sympathizers of both factions.

Lord Plymouth, chairman of the non-intervention committee, received the note from Moscow which suggested that any interested nations be permitted to send arms and assistance to the Spanish combatants.

According to diplomats, the obvious intention of the demand was part of Russian negotiations which would give them greater opportunity to aid the Spanish loyalist forces.

It is understood that Italo-German forces already operating in Spain are planning a crushing offensive to begin before winter sets in.

CHINESE TO ASK ECONOMIC SANCTIONS AGAINST JAPAN

Nanking, Oct. 2.—The Chinese government today openly asked for economic sanctions against Japan, culminating a campaign of secret nature which lobbied international councils to gain such a sanction.

Nanking leaders believe world opinion to be backing their side in the Sino-Japanese undeclared war. The request asked for something more than the moral sanction against Japan which has been given by the League of Nations.

Tuesday the League of Nations, by a moment of silence, condemned Japan for her activity in China. Chinese delegates to the League are asking that the family of nations declare Japan the aggressor and China the defender.

GREEN DECLARES WAR ON CIO LABOR UNIONS

Denver, Oct. 2.—William Green, A. F. L. president, today declared open war on the C. I. O. and described conflicts today as "preliminary skirmishes."

Green will seek to: 1. Expel from the A. F. L., by retraction of charters, all those unions who left the parent organization to join John L. Lewis in his Committee for Industrial Organization.

2. Invade C. I. O. territory with new and old A. F. L. unions.

3. Carry on a publicity campaign against John L. Lewis, emphasizing the C. I. O. head's "political ambitions."

ROOSEVELT SAYS NOTHING ABOUT BLACK'S ADMISSION

Ephrata, Wash., Oct. 2.—President Roosevelt had nothing to say today, after learning that Justice Hugo Black admitted that he once joined the Ku Klux Klan, but later resigned.

Although he did not hear Black's radio address, his son, James, reported it to the President, who was receiving military honors at the gates of Fort Lewis at the exact moment the new justice began his speech.

Meanwhile, a former federal judge, Albert Levitt, planned to contest the seating of Justice

Frosh Elections Set For Thursday

Game Marks 21st Victory For Heels

Carolina Scores Twice In Second Period, Once In Final

16,000 Attendance

By FLETCHER W. FERGUSON
Riddick Stadium, Raleigh, Oct. 2.—Paced by the brilliant performance of Co-Captain Andy Bershak, the University of North Carolina scored its 21st gridiron victory over N. C. State college by a 20-0 margin here this afternoon. Some 16,000 fans saw the Tar Heels cross the goal line twice in the second period and once in the fourth despite the valiant fight staged by the Wolfpack for a Homecoming Day victory.

Repulsed twice within inches of the State goal in the first, Carolina sent Co-Captain Crowell Little across from the three-yard mark midway through the second stanza. Tom Burnette's placement was good. Five minutes later the score mounted to 13 as Burnette passed to Bershak from the 37 for a touch-down, a play which saw the Tar Heel bid for All-America outsmart three State boys who had apparently cornered him in the coffin corner.

Final Score

Burnette missed his second placement attempt, but made up for it in the final period when he raced out around State's right end from the 24 to elude a trio of Wolfpack defense men and cross the goal standing up. This time his placement kick went true between the uprights and the game's scoring was completed.

Although the scoring was all Carolina, State put up a hard fought game and was in there all the time. With Eddie Berliniski and Art Rooney heading the offense, the Wolfpack staged several brilliant advances, but each time the Tar Heel forward wall stiffened or its improved pass defense came into action to halt the threats. As was expected, State hoped to capitalize on the weak pass defense shown by Carolina last week.

The Wolfpack aerial artists tossed 13 forwards, but only two were completed for gains amounting to only 10 yards. Meanwhile the Carolinians kept their attack on the ground, with the exception of three attempted passes. Only one was complete, but on that toss from Burnette to Bershak, Carolina added six points to its total.

First Downs

In the matter of first downs, State held the advantage—12 to 8. Carolina outrushed its rivals 292 to 218 yards, being thrown for only three yards loss while the Wolves lost 33. The net gains saw Carolina favored 326 to 195.

The Tar Heels threatened twice in the opening minutes, but a fumble and some fine work by the State forward wall thwarted both attempts. Following Burnette's kickoff, State was unable to gain on two

RUSHING CAUSES DI, PHI TO STOP WEEKLY MEETING

Both Groups To Hold Regular Sessions Next Week

Neither the Di senate nor the Phi assembly will meet Tuesday night, it was announced last night by the respective heads.

Fraternity rushing was given as the reason for discontinuing the meetings for one week by John Ramsey, Di president, and Drew Martin, Phi speaker.

Fraternity rushing extends from 7 to 10 o'clock each week night. As much of the membership of the two societies is composed of fraternity men or freshmen who are under fraternity rushing, it was decided to postpone the regular sessions.

Both societies will meet Tuesday a week, however.

Girls Quizzed On Husbands

By LAFFITTE HOWARD
"Gentlemen, you must be neat!" Such was the almost unanimous verdict of a group of Carolina coeds when questioned concerning their future husbands. Interviews with a group of our better looking females revealed some rather interesting facts.

A demure-looking brunette working in the Institute for Research in Social Science says she wants a dependable man dressed in neat, conservative clothes. He's not to want too much home life or to be too interested in the so-called "finer things" of life, such as operas, Shakespeare, or art. Whether or not he has much money is not of importance but he's got to be a lot of fun and nice to have around.

No Husband

Sarah Starr, a second year law student, was most emphatic about not wanting a husband. When asked if she didn't think (Continued on last page)

Preferential Ballot To Be Employed This Year

Outside Meddling

By DONALD BISHOP
To assure an election of, by, and for the freshman class, the first-year men will elect their officers next Thursday following nominations in assembly Tuesday morning, Bob Magill, president of the Student council, announced yesterday.

The freshmen will thus go to the polls two months earlier than usual and will make their selections with preferential ballots.

By calling the elections before the University political machines, composed of upperclassmen, start rolling, the council, through its president, expressed the belief that it will be an interesting experiment in freshman self-government.

Nominations

Nominations from the floor will be made in Tuesday morning's freshman assembly period, the session to be presided over by Magill. Keith Eutsler, secretary of the council, will also be present.

Between Tuesday and Thursday the campaigns will be conducted. On Thursday, from 9 o'clock until 5:30, the polls will be open in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. Council members will count the votes Thursday night and expect to be able to announce the winners in Friday's DAILY TAR HEEL.

A president, vice president, secretary and treasurer will be elected.

New Ballot

For the first time in the history of class elections, the preferential ballot will be used. By thus introducing two changes in the election system, the council will be conducting two experiments which should prove beneficial and more desirable, said Magill.

First and second choices for each officer will be indicated on the ballots, he stated, and when the count is made, unless one candidate holds a majority of the first choices, second choices will be counted for the two top men and the winner decided. If only two candidates should be nominated for a position, only one choice would be marked on the ballot.

To minimize upperclass participation in the elections was the purpose of the council in calling the election for an early date.

Steam Roller

However, light skirmishing has already begun preliminary to the actual campaign. Allegations by Bill Cole, chairman of the Student party, that the University party would participate in the approaching election under another name, drew from Joe Murnick, head of the rival University faction, a vehement denial and claim that if any University party members are (Continued on page two)
