BRITISH ASK ITALY HER SPANISH STAND

London, Oct. 6.—The British government today demanded immediate action by the Italian premier Mussolini on the Spanish situation.

He was given 24 hours to reply to an invitation by France and England to talk over the international complications arising from the war in Spain.

It was believed that the new British move was decided upon after cabinet members interpreted the speech yesterday by the President of the United States as opening the way for American cooperation in confining the war to Spain.

The note was prompted by the announcement from Rome that Mussolini's second son is fighting with the rebels.

At the same time, the Loyalists reported that the Italian Black Arrow brigade has returned to the front. It helped the insurgent commander Franco take the city of Santander several days ago.

CHINESE ARMY STOPS JAPANESE ADVANCE

Shanghai, Oct. 6.—Desperate Chinese soldiers today stemmed the tide of Japan's invaders, from Shanghai to the far north. In hand-to-hand combat near the city, the Japanese were driven back by sheer man-power.

In the north a fierce Chinese counter attack forced the invaders to abandon their siege of Tchow and retreat.

Meanwhile, informed Japanese quarters in Peiping said that Japan intends to form a second autonomous state in north China of five provinces, if they are taken. The provinces are: Hopeh, Shantung, Chahar, Suiyuan and Shansi.

ROOSEVELT MAY CALL SPECIAL SESSION

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 6.—President Roosevelt returned home today from his western tour, hinting strongly that he may call a special session of congress sometime between November 8 and 16.

Speaking to reporters on the front porch of his country home here, he listed as his first objective wages and hours legislation, surplus crop control, government reorganization, and regional planning.

The president declined to say whether reorganization of the supreme court would be included or not.

DUKE AND WALLY TO VISIT U. S.

Baltimore, Oct. 6.—American friends of the Duke of Windsor and his wife, Wallis Warfield, formerly of Baltimore, revealed today that the ex-king may bring "Wally" home.

A $300,000 mansion on Chesapeake Bay Island is being remodeled, and may become their home.

At the same time, word came from Paris that the royal pair plans to leave France soon to study labor problems in Germany.

It is understood that they intend to make a more extensive labor survey later in the United States.

Y. M. C. A. POLLS OPEN FROM 9 TO 5:30 TODAY

Chapel Period To Be Dispensed With Today

Though the polls at the Y. M. C. A. will be open from 9 o'clock until 5:30 today for election of freshman class officers, the regular assembly period from 10:30 until 11 o'clock will be dispensed with, Bob Magill, president of the Student council, announced yesterday, allowing the extra half-hour for the first-year men to cast their preferential ballots.

Following withdrawal of four presidential candidates late Tuesday night, six aspirants were left in the field, and among this group the short but vigorous campaigns were waged between nomination Tuesday and election today. In the midst of rumors of political scandals, connected with the mass withdrawals, campaign speeches were heard in the freshman assembly yesterday.

No Meddling

As each of the six aired their views on upperclass participation in freshman politics, they stated, if elected, the office would be absolutely under their control and no outside meddling would be tolerated.

Nominees for the presidency are Russ Hebbard, Simons Roof, Harry Taylor, Christian Siewers, Sid Sadoff and Frank Doty. Withdrawing were J. F. Pullen, Charles Barker, Alan Grimes and Frank Deaver.

Less-spirited campaigns have been waged for the other three offices. Nine candidates are out for the vice-presidency, six for secretary and seven for treasurer.

Vice-Presidents

On the ballots as vice-president nominees are Richard

DIRECTORY STILL MINUS 100 NAMES FOR PUBLICATION

Students Are Urged To Contact
Harry Comer At Once; One
Notice Out

Harry Comer, executive secretary of the "Y," announced yesterday that approximately 100 addresses of students, which are needed for publication in the University directory, are still missing.

With a satisfactory response from a notice issued recently, Comer said he hoped to have all the addresses cleared in the next few days.

Students who have not given their addresses are urged to contact Mr. Comer at the "Y" office immediately.

Reception Planned For Law Students In Graham Memorial

New Men In Law School To Be
Feted At Dance And Theater
Party This Evening

There will be a reception tonight at 8:30 in Graham Memorial by the law school in honor of the first year students.

Members of the faculty and their wives will attend the reception, which will be followed by a dance featuring the music of Freddy Johnson and his orchestra.

Immediately after the dance the incoming students will be the recipients of a free showing of "The Prisoner of Zenda."

Thieving Mouse Yet Untrapped

Thievery by a plutocratic mouse in Steele dormitory is expected to end shortly if the traps set by the dormitory manager, Warren Haddaway, succeed in ensnaring him.

Yesterday a large sum of money was found to be missing from the cash drawer in the dormitory store. Investigation of the various crevices in the store counter in the vicinity of the cash drawer brought forth $16.10.

Five dollar bills were the mouse's prey until the supply was exhausted; then he condescended to steal a one dollar bill and a 10-cent dining hall meal ticket. Last week a five dollar bill was taken from the cash drawer and later discovered. The bills were slightly torn by the mouse's teeth.

TAR HEELS WILL DO "BIG APPLE" "ON THE MALL"

Carolina Headquarters To Be Established At Piccadilly

University students will do the "Big Apple" in New York City Saturday and call for the Carolina boys to "shine" on the gridiron against N. Y. U., according to an announcement from Pete Ivey, who is in charge of making arrangements for the trip to the game.

Miss Constance Fagan of New York, representing the North Carolina society, is negotiating for use of the Mall in Central park for the dancers, Ivey said. The park will thus be used instead of Times Square, as had previously been planned.

"The question of organization must be solved," Ivey declared yesterday. "I would like for all people from here going to the game to meet me in the lobby of the Hotel Piccadilly, on 45th street and Broadway, at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. We have the cooperation of the hotel management, and we can

Brilliant Alumna Has Heart Attack

Graduate Woman Student Dies
In Valdosta, Ga.

Mrs. A. D. Ellison, who was known as Miss Jessie Catledge Langdale, a student in the University last year, died at a hospital at Valdosta, Ga., last week. A heart attack caused the death of the bride of two months.

A brilliant student while enrolled here, she majored in dramatics and was well-known for her dramatic work. Before coming here, she was a student at the Valdosta high school and later at the Georgia State Woman's college. She received her A. B. degree in dramatics here last year.

Mrs. Ellison was the younger daughter of City Councilman and Mayor Pro-Tem and Mrs. Langdale of Valdosta. She was married July 7 to Mr. Ellison at Jasper, Fla.

Some Black Grains Of Sand Creep Into Frosh Elections

JUDGE MEEKINS WILL SPEAK IN REYNOLDS' PLACE

Speaker Was Mentioned
As Likely Candidate
In 1936

Judge Isaac Meekins, prominent state Republican and federal judge for the eastern North Carolina district court, will speak in Memorial hall at 8:30 October 19.

Judge Meekins' speech is called "The Making of the Constitution." He has been working on this speech for several years, and it will be published following its delivery here.

A leading North Carolina Republican candidate for higher offices several times in the past, he was a personal friend of Presidents Coolidge and Hoover, as well as being mentioned as a possible presidential candidate in 1936. He is a leading constitutional authority at this time.

The law school faculty will entertain Judge Meekins at dinner on the evening of his speech here.

Senator Robert R. Reynolds, who was previously asked to speak here on October 19, is unable to come because of a speaking engagement he has in Seattle, Washington, on that day.

Green Explains Origin Of Title: Johnny Johnson

Name Is Representative Of 3200
Members Of The U. S. World
War Forces

"The woods are full of Johnny Johnsons," commented Paul Green while discussing his play which is now in rehearsal at Memorial hall. "The name just seems to be common among the folks out in the country," he continued. "I know of several right here in Orange county."

As an instance to show how "Johnny Johnson's" counterparts are not those people who live in the cities, but those who work with the earth and the sky, Mr. Green mentioned the man who has been working his farm for some time. He casually referred to him as Mr. Johnson.

PERRY EXPLAINS TESTING SERVICE

University Sets Up
Guidance Clinic

W. D. Perry, director of the University testing service, in addressing the personnel group last evening at its regular fortnightly meeting in 110 New West talked about the services which a vocational and educational guidance clinic might offer students of this University.

"The University has made the first step in the setting up of a guidance clinic here with the induction of the University testing service," stated Dr. Perry in his introductory remarks.

Diagnosis

"The University testing service has been organized only to analyze the student through re-

Howell Tells Frosh Of Advantages For Making Friendships

English Professor Speaks On
"Lost Art" Last Night At
Friendship Council

Friendship is almost a lost art, but here at the University is an opportunity to create new friendships, Professor A. C. Howell of the English department, told the Freshman Friendship council in its weekly meeting at the Di hall in New West.

Attendance was considerably less than usual, due to inclement weather and the fraternity rushing season. Five new members were introduced.

Next week's meeting of the council will be a joint session with the Sophomore cabinet at the Y. M. C. A. Bob Carroll, president, presided at last night's gathering.

Six Still In Race

By ROBERT WORTH

They tried to take politics out of the freshman elections and look what happened.

Bill Cole, chairman of the Student party, charged that certain members of the University party were organizing to support a candidate. He inferred that these members would be a "John Doe" party, controlled by the University party.

Joe Murnick, chairman of the University party, said that his group "never has participated in freshman elections and doesn't intend to." He denied that any members of his party would organize secretly under his control.

Siewers

Yesterday afternoon Cole said that Chi Psi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Delta Kappa Epsilon, all members of the University party, were supporting Christian Siewers for president of the

BUREAU FINDS TEACHING JOBS

Need Is Seen For More
Prospective Teachers

Last spring 23 prospective teachers graduated from the University. Positions for all of these were located by the Teacher Placement bureau operated by the Division of Teacher Training under the supervision of Professor G. B. Phillips.

The placement bureau is for the use of all North Carolina teachers, and makes no charge for its services. During the spring and summer 287 teachers registered with the bureau, and 454 open jobs were listed. By matching the teacher's qualifications to the requirements of
