RULES COMMITTEE MAY MEET IN ADVANCE

Washington, Oct. 14.—Chairman O'Connor, of the house rules committee, said today that he may call all of the committeemen to discuss terms for releasing their hold on the wage-hour bill before the special session of congress in November.

Failure of congress to enact this bill last session was one of the reasons why President Roosevelt called the extra meeting.

When the measure was first brought up, it was passed by the senate and the house labor committee. The house rules committee was able to hold the bill up, however, after Republicans teamed up in the opposition with southern Democrats.

O'Connor indicated that it would be impossible to hold the legislation any longer because, if necessary, the house will bring it to vote by a petition. It is required that two hundred eighteen members sign the petition.

The wage-hour bill would provide for a labor standards board with the power to fix minimum wages up to 40 cents an hour and a maximum work week of not less than 40 hours in industries engaged in interstate commerce.

Due to the lower living costs in the south, opposition from the southern committeemen has been centered largely on the wage feature of the measure.

HEAVY SHELLS RAKE WAR TORN CITY

Shanghai, Oct. 14.—The international settlement today received the worst bombardment in Shanghai's bloody warfare, resulting in the death or injury of scores of Chinese civilians and wounding a United States marine.

The two huge cotton mills, in which the marines were quartered, were hit by shells soon after being evacuated.

There were no injuries reported from the marines living in the mills, but Milton Hiati, private in the fourth regiment, was struck in the left shoulder by a rifle bullet while on duty inside a machine gun defense works.

It was reported that American property in Shanghai suffered considerable destruction from the Japanese air raids.

VATICAN TO HELP JAPS AGAINST CHINESE

Vatican City, Oct. 14.—Reports from reliable Vatican sources said today that in order to carry out the campaign of the Catholic church against bolshevism, the church had instructed its missions in the Far East to co-operate with the Japanese action in China "wherever bolshevist danger appears active."

These orders have been sent out in a private memorandum defining the Vatican's position in the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Publications Union Policy

When there is a matter of fundamental policy to be decided, the Publications Union board feels that its right and duty is to submit that matter to the members of the Publications union for consideration. Each student who has paid his publication fee is a member of the Publications union. The union actually owns all four University publications, is the actual heir to a surplus valued last June at $18,831.

The P. U. board feels that its problems are the problems of every student. Here is our problem:

During the terms 1933-34 and 1934-35, our four student publications lost a total of $4,285. Because another loss seemed impending in the fall of 1935, the board felt that its credit was endangered. Without ample credit the board cannot get the best terms on contracts for big printing jobs, such as the one for the Yackety-Yack.

There were three alternatives:

(1) To continue to lose money and endanger the credit of the board.

(2) To curtail by making the Magazine back into a supplement of the DAILY TAR HEEL; or making the Yackety-Yack smaller; or largely eliminating pictures from all the publications.

(3) To increase the student publications fee, then $6.00 a year.

Because the members felt that the standards of the publications should be held at current levels, the P. U. board proposed an increase of 90 cents a year in the publications fee. In a letter to the students, the board, two falls ago, said: "There is every reason to believe that we are confronted with a more or less permanent situation for the next few years."

The student body voted the increase on itself, 229-116.

Now the four publications are out of the red. Last year they made $2,271.

The Publications Union board can do one of two things:

(1) It can turn over the increase in profits to the publications. The editors and managing editors say the quality of their enterprises can be raised by so doing.

(2) It can reduce the publications fee from $6.90 back to $6.

The board is submitting this matter to the students because the students did not vote that 90 cents increase back in '35 to improve the publications. They voted it to maintain the quality of the publications at the current level of those publications. That is why the board wants to know the opinion of the campus before it takes any action. It is the responsibility of the members of the student union to make their opinion articulate either through letters or through personal contact with the members of the board.

STUART RABB,
President, Publications
Union Board.
