30 MEN MEET DEATH IN MINE EXPLOSION

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 16.—Early today a disastrous coal gas explosion brought sudden death to 30 men working four miles underground in a Mulga mine shaft.

Fallen rock debris, from the blast, which occurred at about 2 a. m., in a section where 32 men were working, hindered rescue workers.

Ivan Fox, who was working near the elbow crumbled by the explosion, was seriously burned and, according to Fire Marshal Sam Williams, was the only person working near the blast "who did not lose his life."

The number of blast victims was about equally divided between Negro and white miners, R. M. Marshall, vice president of the Woodward Iron works, reported.

As about 500 persons looked on, the first bodies were brought out in coal cars at 6:45, about five hours after the explosion.

The rescue workers were led to the scene of the tragedy by a crew of the United States bureau of mines. Their work was hindered, however, by the presence of coal gas and lack of oxygen.

State highway patrolmen, who were called to the scene as anxious relatives and curiosity seekers began to create traffic jams, quickly cleared the way for 12 ambulances from Birmingham and Bessemer.

Sophomores Star In Field Day Meet At Gore Stadium

Play Before 10,000

By FLETCHER W. FERGUSON

Gore Field, Wake Forest, Oct. 16—Striking by ground and through the air, the University of North Carolina football team gained its second "Big Five" and Southern Conference victory here this afternoon when it subdued Wake Forest 28 to 0 before 10,000 Homecoming Day fans.

Scoring once in every period, Carolina was never in danger, Wake Forest being able to gain only 2 first downs. Instead of the usual "name scorers," the Tar Heel point registering was done by George Watson, Jack Kraynick, Wally Winborne and George Stirnweiss. Burnette made three conversions good and Stirnweiss one.

Easy March

Burnette kicked off to Wirtz to open festivities. The Deacon back was nabbed on the 38. Following three exchanges of punts, Carolina was off on an 83-yard march to the Deacon double stripe, Stirnweiss, Watson and Burnette doing most of the carrying.

With the ball on the Wake 19, Stirnweiss then fought his way over left tackle and picked up six yards for a first down on the eight-yard marker.

Score

Stirnweiss stepped back and tossed an aerial to Watson in the end zone, but it was incomplete. Try again was the pass word and this time Watson took Stirnweiss' pass for the touchdown. Burnette converted.

Wake Forest stiffened and held Carolina deep in its own territory until mid-way in the second period when the Tar Heels drove from their own 35
