PASSENGERS AND CREW OF "MAINLINER" DEAD

Salt Lake City, Oct. 19.—Workmen began removing the bodies of 19 victims of the United air lines "Mainliner" today after the flying palace was found wrecked on a 10,000 foot level.

The plane struck a ridge about 80 miles east of Salt Lake City, and scattered the bodies of the passengers about the wreckage.

Removal of the bodies, mail, and recoverable parts will be very difficult as the plane crashed in an almost inaccessible area.

There is no trail to the scene of the wreck, therefore it may be necessary to carry the bodies in stretchers until a lower level is reached. At such a level it will be possible for mules and horses to take up the work.

No report as to the condition of the victims' bodies was received, and officials of the air line declined to estimate how long it would take to bring the bodies down. It was indicated, however, that it may be possible to complete this task by night-fall.

When the "Mainliner" crashed, the storm had swept it 15 miles off the regular airline between Cheyenne and Salt Lake City.

NINE-POWER'S SUCCESS DEPENDS ON HITLER

London, Oct. 19.—The success of the formula for withdrawal of foreign soldiery from Spain today rested on the decision of Germany's Chancellor Hitler.

Hitler's attitude was first brought to the top, when Joachim Von Ribbentrop, reich's ambassador to London, made a secret flight to Germany to obtain his views.

The departure of the German representative in the London negotiations was not known until he had reached Germany yesterday evening.

While the committee waited to hear from Hitler, France and England argued for complete withdrawal of troops from Spain, but Italy still held to her agreement of partial withdrawal.

COASTAL SHIPPERS SUSPEND OPERATION

New York, Oct. 19.—Due to strikes between dock workers and longshoremen at six southern points, four coastal shipping concerns announced today that all shipping handled by them would be suspended until a settlement is reached.

The strike is effective in ports starting at Wilmington, N. C., and extending around the Florida peninsula to Tampa.

It was indicated by Joseph Curran, general organizer for the National Maritime union, that 8,000 men, members of the International Longshoremen's association, had joined in the walkout for higher wages, overtime pay and shorter hours.

REBELS VICTORIOUS ON ASTURIAN FRONT

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Oct. 19.—According to reports received from Spain today, the insurgents had won fresh victories on the Asturian front.

An insurgent communique asserted that Generalissimo Francisco Franco's troops drove to new positions in three sectors southeast of Gijon—southward from Carrandi, westward toward Infiesto and northward from Campo de Caso.

Meekins Praises Present Constitution In CPU Talk

Judge Says Constitution Is A Southern Document

Makes Comparison

"The Almighty might have known of a better form of government than in our constitution but he has not as yet given it to mankind," said Federal Judge Isaac M. Meekins in his speech on "The Makings of the Constitution," last night.

"You can read the original of the constitution in ten minutes," Judge Meekins said, "and I defy a one of my listeners to say that it is written in a way that he cannot understand."

Southern Document

Early in his speech Judge Meekins surprised his audience by saying, in reference to the constitution: "It is essentially a southern document, it was southern inspired and southern executed." He said that "southern influence dominated the convention," and he backed up these statements by quoting Franklin,

SENATE UPHOLDS ACTION TO USE '31 CONSTITUTION

Senators Hold Heated Discussion Over Recent Loss

After a heated discussion on the floor of the Dialectic senate in New West last evening, a motion was passed upholding the action of last week by the senate in putting the 1931 constitution into effect.

The president opened the meeting with a reprimand to the whole senate and to Senators Busby and Cochrane in particular for the action of last week. These senators were fined and after a lengthy discussion the fines were repealed by a large majority of the senate. In defending themselves, Busby and Cochrane established definitely that there was last week no constitution to be found.

Ramsay Overruled

President Ramsay attempted to have the actions of last week stricken from the minutes, but was overruled by the action of the senate in passing the bill rescinding Busby's and Cochrane's fines, in an amendment.

Senator Helms introduced a motion to give the officers of the senate another week to produce the copy of the missing constitution, which the presi-

ASSEMBLY VOTES AGAINST CUT OF PUBLICATIONS FEE

Phi Condemns Action Of Monogram Club For Homecoming Day

Last night the Phi assembly, which may be considered as one of the unofficial organs of campus opinion, took a definite stand upon two controversial subjects. They were, in the form of the resolutions: Resolved: That the assembly approve of the plan for the building up of better publications at the present fee rather than to lessen the amount, and, Resolved: That the assembly will condemn the Monogram club for its actions against the cheerleaders at the Tulane game.

Stuart Rabb, a member of the publications board, addressed the group upon the first motion. He explained the stand of the board, and answered questions from several members. Charles Gilmore, representing the DAILY TAR HEEL, stated that any additional financial consideration would be used to increase the present payroll. The assembly passed the motion by a unanimity.

POP QUIZ

By Bob Perkins

Dr. Dashiell proposes this one: A man (probably the psychologist himself) went bear-hunting and seeing one of the critters 50 yards to the east of him walked 70 yards due north, then 70 yards due south and killed the bear.

The problem comes up, what color was the bear and why? Solution of the three family tangle:

(1) Henry is Al's brother because (a) he couldn't be Charles' brother as Charles makes one-third of his oldest brother's salary and he could not make one-third of $5; (b) he is not Bud's brother for Bud's brother is Gus, the only one of the "oldest" brothers not in either the newspaper or sandwich business.

(2) In point (1) we have shown that Gus is Bud's oldest brother. By elimination, then, Irving is Charles' oldest brother.

(3) Ed's mother is Charles' aunt and so he must be either Bud's or Al's "middle" brother but he can't be Al's brother for his (Ed's) father goes bowling with Al's father (who is also, as we have shown, Henry's father).

(4) Dave is not the brother of Henry for Dave's father is dead (his stepfather is a dog catcher.) while Henry's is not, and since he cannot be the intermediate brother of Gus (we already know that he is Ed) then he must be, by elimination, the brother of Irving.

(5) The last answer then is that Frank is Henry's intermediate brother. In summary: Al, Frank, Henry are brothers; Bud, Ed, Gus are brothers; Charles, Dave and Irving are brothers. Easy, huh?
