The freshman football teams of Carolina and State meet on Fetzter field today at 3 o'clock to start what promises to be one of the most eventful week-ends of the fall quarter. For after the yearling game today comes the Germans, and tomorrow the Fordham tilt and more Germans.

The Tar Babies will go into their third start of the season with a record of one win and one loss. They lost their first game of the season to Wake Forest 19-6 in a bruising contest. Two weeks ago the Skidmore club romped over the William and Mary freshmen, 8-0.

Below Average

The Wolflets have played and lost two contests. Wake Forest took them into camp, 14-0, while Belmont Abbey scalped them, 27-7. The Staters have a fair line with two strong ends. Their backfield is fast and capable, with powerful reserves.

Three Tar Baby backfield men injured in the William and Mary contest will start today. "Sweet" Lalanne is slated to be at quarterback, John Doyle at left half, and Syd Sadoff at full-

VARSITY TENNIS TEAM WILL PLAY THIS AFTERNOON

Presbyterian Team To Invade Carolina Net Squad

Offering as competition to an invading Presbyterian tennis team six members of last year's Southern Conference championship squad, the North Carolina net team will play its first inter-collegiate match at 2:15 this afternoon on the varsity courts.

Both the varsity and freshman teams of both schools will see action in the opening meet.

Fuller No. 1

With the withdrawal of Co-Captain Ramsay Potts from the University, Co-Captain Eddy Fuller will automatically take over the number one berth. Carlton Rood, Johnny Foreman, Gordy Robinson, Al Doyle and Bill Rood will play the remaining rankings in order.

Early, Croom, Harnden, Cutler, Neill and Berk will fill the singles post for Carolina in the freshman meet. Coach John F. Kenfield had not disclosed late yesterday afternoon which men would be teamed to play on the three doubles matches.

It was impossible to determine yesterday which six of Presbyterian's 200-odd students would represent the college on the Carolina courts this afternoon.

back. Sadoff hurt his shoulder and Doyle his leg in the Papoose tilt, but both have come around enough to start.

Mallory

The Carolina front wall will be big and rugged. Mallory will start at right end in place of Lindsey who was hurt in practice. Brantley will be back in at center, while Hales will take Sievers' place at left tackle. Sie-

Fullback Mike Hearn

"Sleepy Jim Crowley brought two fullbacks to Durham this morning, a left handed one and right handed one. While John Lock, the right hander, is the first string fullback, Mike Hearn, above, is apt to see lots of work against the Tar Heels in Kenan stadium tomorrow.

Hearn is also a baseball player and one of the fastest men on the Fordham squad.

Frosh Half

Harriers Unbeaten

Carolina's undefeated harriers will take on the N. C. State runners this afternoon in an attempt to register their fourth consecutive win. Coach Dale Ranson announced that the meet would start five minutes prior to the end of the first half in the freshman football game, so as to enable the spectators to view the finish of the meet.

The race will go over the same course as run in the Guilford meet which is approximately 3.4 miles. Coach Ranson announced that the men to compete for Carolina would come from the following: Baden, Crockett, Gordon, Hall, Fink, Mauter, Russell, Troutman, Wakely.

Predictions

Spokesmen on Pete Smith's radio program last night favored the famous Fordham Rams over the Tar Heels when they meet tomorrow afternoon.

What is more, most of the sports writers throughout the country have picked the Rams as favorites.

However, tomorrow's battle may prove to be as big a surprise as was the Tulane tilt last Saturday. Only time will tell.

Team Shows Improvement In Spite Of Weak Pass Defense

MURAL CONTESTS CHUCK FULL OF BIG SURPRISES

Phi Delt, S. A. E. Game Most Startling Of All Contests

Beneath a setting sun and a brisk breeze, one of the most eventful days of the current mural season came to a close yesterday afternoon. Heading the big show was the close Phi Delta Theta-S. A. E. battle which ended 2-0 in favor of the Phi Delt. Manly turned the tables on undefeated Old West 6-0 to surprise even the most ardent fans of the winning organization while Z. B. T. pulled another fast one, but not as startling as the previous game, when it nosed out Sigma Delta 7-6. Grimes finally broke into the win column yesterday by beating Mangum 6-0, and Chi Psi trounced Alpha Epsilon Pi 14-0 in the other games.

Everyone anticipated a real, tough battle on field three yesterday afternoon where undefeated Phi Delta Theta would meet campus titlist Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and the expectations of one of the largest crowds in many seasons which stood through the cold and the wind till the final whistle were certainly fulfilled.

Maynard Blocks Punt

The game really got under way in the second half when Maynard blocked an S. A. E. punt and fell on it in the end zone giving Phi Delta a 2-0 lead and ultimately the ball game. With the second period a little more than half over, S. A. E. made a serious threat in enemy territory. After a concentrated drive down the field, it landed on the Phi Delt's 5-yard line. In four downs, Phi Delta Theta not

Past Games Place Tar Heels Behind In Most Phases

Rams Pass Better

Carolina's Tar Heels spent another long afternoon in attempting to stop the freshmen running Fordham plays as Coach Ray Wolf pushed his grid charges through their final tough workout in preparation for the Fordham Rams.

The Tar Heels were slightly improved in breaking up Fordham plays but still showed weaknesses in pass defense which has bothered them all week. Wolf wound up the session by giving the varsity several new plays to work on. The Tar Heels were back at full strength again yesterday and indications are that both teams will be in top flight condition.

Past performances indicate that the Tar Heels are far behind Fordham in all phases of the game except rushing. The Rams have shown more power on pass defense than the Tar Heels. Fordham has completed 20 of 48 passes for a total gain of 331 yards as compared to the Tar Heels 17 out of 40 for 173 yards. On defense Fordham opponents have been successful in only 14 out of 48 aeriels while Tar Heel opposition has made good 31 of 85 passes.

Statistics

Statistics based on five games for the Tar Heels and four for Fordham give the Tar Heels 1,165 yards via the ground as compared to 964 for Fordham. The Tar Heels have been scored on by New York University and South Carolina while Texas Christian University dented the Fordham goal line for the first time last week.

The Tar Heels will take a light workout this afternoon and then await the starting gun in their toughest assignment to

Tennis Tournament

Rider defeated Henderson 6-2, 3-6, 6-2 in the semi-finals of the upperclass tennis tournament yesterday and advanced to the final round.

Rider will face Strain, who defeated Gragg in the first of the semi-finals, for the championship honors.

THE INQUIRING RE-SPORTER

Student Union Barbers Predict Outcome Of Big Games

Barbers turned sages yesterday as your persistent inquirer wrung the truth about next Saturday's gridiron results from Graham Memorial's close-shavers, A. L. D'Elia and T. M. Greene.

With the prospect of winning free passes to the Carolina theater, the grandstand quarter-backers made some impressive predictions on six of the week-end's big games.

Greene's scores were: Carolina 7- Fordham 6; Minnesota 13- Notre Dame 6; Princeton 6- Harvard 6; Yale 14- Dartmouth 13; Colgate 13- N. Y. U. 7; and Vanderbilt 14- Georgia Tech 13.

D'Elia picked Carolina over Fordham 7-6; Minnesota over Notre Dame 14-0; Princeton over Harvard 7-0; Dartmouth to defeat Yale 14-13; Colgate to tie N. Y. U. 7-7; and Georgia Tech to take Vanderbilt 18-13.
