Second Student Fall Entertainment

The early Wagner operas have been drawn upon largely as a basis for the program. Excerpts from "The Flying Dutchman," "Tannhauser," "Lohengrin" and "Rienzi" will be sung by the very artists who have been singing them at the State Opera in Vienna and at the Salisbury musical festivals.

Miscellaneous groups calling for the music of "Don Giovanni," "Samson and Delilah," "Carmen," etc., with the lighter Strauss waltz music will also be included in the program.

For the communities where orchestral accompaniment cannot be managed, special two-piano arrangements have been made by Mr. Hageman.

Junior Garden Club Shows Nature Movies

Extension Division To Circulate Movies Throughout State

Students of Chapel Hill grade and high schools were yesterday shown two educational movies on wild life and flowers that are being circulated throughout the state by the Extension division of the University.

The local program was sponsored by the Junior Garden club of Chapel Hill, which hopes to present other Extension division movies throughout the year. Mrs. A. H. Totten, chief adviser of the club, introduced yesterday's program.

Two Art Exhibits To Open In Person Hall Next Sunday

Works Of Chiura Obata, Russell Smith To Be Shown On Campus Until November 28

Two exhibitions of water color paintings will open in Person Art hall Sunday, it was announced yesterday.

In the main gallery a group of about fifty pictures, by Chiura Obata of the University of California, will be shown, while an exhibit of the more recent works of Russell T. Smith, head of the University Art department, will be shown in the small gallery.

First Exhibit

Smith's paintings, which number about twenty, have been done during the past year, and this is the first time they have been on exhibit, while those of Obata make up a famous group that has been shown all over the country.

On Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock Mr. Smith will give a gallery lecture.

Both exhibits will close on November 28.

Mural Contests Spring Surprises

One minute left to play, enough time for four downs, S. A. E. again got in scoring position when a pass was ruled completed due to interference with the receiver from Fleming to Poe, the S. A. E. passing combination throughout the contest, on the Phi Delt 18. Four passes were tried, Fleming to Poe, but none came near completion.

Clark—A Brilliant Game

Clark of Phi Delta Theta played the most brilliant game of his '37 career yesterday. On the offense, he accurately tossed them to his ends but the S. A. E. defense was a bit too strong for any of the receivers to break free while he broke up many plays on the offense with his five interceptions. Fleming's strong-arm hurling was outstanding except that there rarely was a receiver waiting for the high soaring pigskin.

Manly upset Old West to hand the latter its first setback. Scoring early in the opening half on a blocked kick by Boak on the two-yard line, the Manly eleven held its precious lead with a staunch defense led by Boak to garner the victory.

Oettinger Converts

Oettinger's extra point in the first half for Z. B. T. gave the Zebes a winning edge when Sigma Delta failed to convert after a touchdown. Illman crossed for the defeated while Udell scored for Z. B. T.

Grimes dormitory broke through its losing streak extending from its defeat in the campus playoff last year until yesterday afternoon. The victim of the Grimes rebound was the Mangum team which gave a fine showing, but a last period tally by M. Allen, Grimes guard, made it 6-0 for the dormitory champs.

Luckless A. E. Pi

A. E. Pi just doesn't seem to get the breaks. Chi Psi did display a bit more polish than did Alpha Epsilon yesterday, but the breaks in the game, expected but disappointing, played a prominent part. Johnny Foreman, Furman Bisher and Harden of Chi Psi were among the stars on the winning squad while the generalship of Ed Karlin was a determining factor in A. E. Pi's holding of Chi Psi to only two scores. Foreman made seven, Harden six, and Bisher one point for the winners.

FORDHAM SQUAD, BAND NEAR HILL

Reservations Made At Duke Hotel

Durham, Oct. 28—The Fordham Rams will not be without their rooting supporters in their clash with the Tar Heels of the State university Saturday in Kenan stadium. One hundred bandmen, plus a number of students and alumni of Fordham university will attend the game.

Reservations have been made in the Washington Duke hotel for 65 people, including the team, expected to arrive here by train tomorrow morning. The bandmen, 100 strong will travel by train to Raleigh, arriving there Saturday morning from where they will be transported by bus to Chapel Hill.

The Fordham team, officials and coaches, numbering 35, will be on the train that will arrive here early tomorrow morning. They will be quartered in the Washington Duke hotel and the team will undergo a period of drills in the Duke university stadium. The trip establishes a precedent for Fordham teams, marking the first invasion by an eleven from Fordham university of the south. It also will mark the first out-of-town game since 1934.

Local hotel men reported many reservations for Friday and Saturday nights and many of them came from supporters of Carolina.

According to Williamson's scientific football ratings and predictions, the Tar Heels will defeat the Fordham Rams, although a possible tie game or close outcome is predicted.

Dean House Speaks To Freshman Class On "Concentration"

Cameron McRae, Vice President Of First Year Men, Conducts Devotional Service

Dean R. B. House yesterday spoke briefly in freshman chapel on the subject of study concentration. His talk followed the devotionals conducted by Cameron McRae, vice president of the class.

Dean House said students frequently came to him and asked how to concentrate. These students, he pointed out, simply need to stop worrying about the matter and transfer their concentration to study.

Take Notes

He stated that many become sleepy while reading, and as a remedy for this the dean suggested taking notes.

Dean House said, above all, to have a system of study and learn to control your mind for use in study.

Probably the most welcome announcement of the program was that freshman chapel will not be held this morning due to a meeting of the senior class in Memorial hall.

Frosh Play State Today

As an added attraction of the game, the finish of the Carolina-State cross country meet will be run off during the half. After today's game, the Tar Babies will be idle for two weeks before meeting Virginia at Charlottesville.

The Smithsonian Institution was named for James Smithson, an Englishman.

"Contact" Committees Drawn Up At Meeting

Co-Op Patronizers Plan To Avoid Liquidation Threat

At a meeting attended by dormitory managers, interested faculty members, and the employees of the local Co-op Cleaners last night the chief action taken to prevent the establishment from liquidating was to draw up a committee to contact students and townspeople who will today attempt to drum up trade sufficient to keep the cleaners in operation.

The meeting last night was called by Professor F. W. Hanft, one of the resident trustees, who said that the Co-op could not continue under present business conditions and declared that "if the Co-op closes, cleaning prices will probably be back up to 75 cents."

Professors Russell, Lear, Taylor were elected as the faculty members on the resident committee to contact local people.

It was stated by one of the group connected with the Cleaners that the present financial situation of the organization was due to bad management and inadequate service in the past. He added that the present staff set-up was entirely new and that the problem confronting the cleaners was to again renew confidence among customers.

"Johnny Johnson" Starts Tonight

(Continued from page one) of comedy, tragedy, grotesquery and insanity embodied in an atmosphere of music, the play itself has come through four arduous weeks of rehearsal. It is being staged by Samuel Selden, and John Toms of the University music department has directed and coordinated the music. John Roughton, of Old Fort, N. C., heads the all student cast, sic.

Leads

while the feminine lead is taken by Ruth Mengel of Chapel Hill.

Eighty four persons are in the cast of "Johnny Johnson," and the stage crew, musicians, and others connected with the production bring the total up to over 120, which is one of the largest groups ever to take part in a thing of this kind here on the campus.

Days Of 1919

The production tonight will be a far cry from the days of back in 1919, when the Playmakers presented Mr. Green's first play, "Last of the Lowries," on a makeshift stage in the local high school building.

This is the fourth full length play by Mr. Green to be presented by the Playmakers.
