JAPAN MAKES APOLOGY FOR U. S. INVASION

Shanghai, Nov. 1—Kiyoshi Hasegawa, Japanese admiral, apologized to the United States marine commander today after the commander had protested against a Japanese skirmish on the American-protected side of Soochow creek.

Hasegawa apologized to Brigadier General John C. Beaumont, commander in Shanghai, and promised there would not be a recurrence of the incident.

The Japanese bluejackets crossed the creek to the American sector of the international settlement in a rice-laden junk which they had seized from a Chinese crew to pursue other Chinese troops.

The apology was delivered as 7,000 Japanese shock troops, under the protection of heavy gunfire, crossed Soochow Creek west of Shanghai.

Closer to the settlement, Japanese used the Chinese junk and other craft to negotiate the creek and attack Chinese positions along the south bank.

Despite the attempt of the Japanese to encircle Shanghai, General A. P. D. Telfer-Smollett, commander of British troops, refused to withdraw his soldiers from outposts in western sections of the city.

When Telfer-Smollett received information that the Chinese machine gun nests near British outposts along the Shanghai-Hangchow railway would be subjected to intense bombardment, he ordered British Union Jacks flown over all British dugouts and sandbag barriers.

Smollett notified the Japanese that the British would hold their lines regardless of eventualities.

WINDSORS INVITED TO DEDICATE VULCAN

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 1—The Duke of Windsor and his bride were invited today to dedicate Birmingham's god of Iron, Vulcan, a metal figure second in size only to the Statue of Liberty.

The Duke received the joint invitation of the city commission and the Kiwanis club of Birmingham.

The statue, 55 feet high from its feet to the tip of an outstretched arm, stands facing Birmingham on a 124 foot pedestal on Red Mountain.

POP QUIZ

By Bob Perkins

On the Carolina campus it is generally conceded (by the faculty) that a member of the faculty's statement is always true, but that when a student makes a statement he only thinks it is true. Therefore any statement made by a student is subject to doubt, and anything subject to doubt is not necessarily true.

So let us assume the fact that all students lie, and that all faculty members tell the truth at all times.

A stranger ran into three men the other day in Harry's. He asked them what were their connections with the University.

B said "A" says I am a student. . . "C" interrupted and said "A" is a member of the faculty." "B" then said in a deprecating manner, "C" is a student."

Going by the fundamental assumption that all Carolina students lie can you figure who is a student and who isn't?

Answer to Saturday's quiz: Earl Ruth's foot is considered to be a good 12 inches. Whether or not he can get to the designated point depends on geometric progression. Taking one foot as the first term of the progression and  $\frac{1}{2}$  as the ratio we substitute in the formula: sum of distance covered by steps equal to one foot divided by one less  $\frac{1}{2}$ .

Solving this we find the sum equals two, which is the number the sum tends to approach as the number of terms is increased indefinitely. In other words he will never really get as far as double his first step.

What The Graham Plan Has Done; What It Hasn't Done

By STUART RABB
(This is the third in Mr. Rabb's series of four articles on athletics and subsidization. Today the administration point of view is discussed.)

In the fall of 1930, soon after he had become president of the University, Dr. Frank Graham noticed that there were even fewer scholarships to award than he had expected. Feeling that there were more scholarships somewhere, Dr. Graham investigated. He found that some 15 scholarships were being reserved for athletes. Dr. Graham went to work and had those scholarships awarded on the same basis as the others.

Today there are no athletic scholarships at this University. There is no official aid given through the University to athletes. Locally, there can be no cleaner institution participating in intercollegiate sports.

Clean-up

This internal clean-up was not hard to effect and easy to check up on. As far as this activity went, Dr. Graham was successful.

Yet Dr. Graham was not satisfied. He believed this internal house-cleaning should be extended to all members of the Southern conference—and that all alumni and other aid to athletes as such should be outlawed. These ideas took shape in the form of the Graham plan at the Southern conference meeting two years ago.

Sincerity?

Whether all the other schools in the conference were sincere when they adopted this plan is a matter of conjecture. Suffice it to say that in general the quality of football in the conference
