NEVER TO ACCEPT JAP PEACE "AT ANY PRICE"

Brussels, Belgium, Nov. 3—“China can not accept peace with Japan at any price,” declared Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, today, “because she would not be contributing to the cause of international law and order.”

The Chinese representative to the conference held in Brussels on the Sino-Japanese conflict predicted:

“If Japanese aggression in the far east is not checked and faith in the pledged word is not restored, then there is every danger that Japanese forces will overrun the boundaries of China and throw the world into a general war from which no important power will long be able to keep itself.”

In a 14-page speech, Koo indicated that the Japanese were using the “most utterly ruthless methods of warfare” the civilized world has ever seen, and he also maintained that the invading armies have tried to break the principle of the open door, or equal opportunity in China for the commerce and industry of all nations.

According to the spokesman, China regrets the absence of Japanese participation in the conference. Other members of his delegation, however, told the Associated Press that the Chinese objected to extending a new invitation to Japan because it would result in delay.

Delegates of the United States, Great Britain, and France joined in an appeal for the Chinese and Japanese to settle their conflict “by peaceful processes.”

NAVY PLANE CRASH TOLLS FIVE KILLED

Seattle, Nov. 3—A collision of two navy planes in mid air to the south of Boeing field today resulted with the death of five men.

Eye witnesses of the crash reported that two fliers, in the smaller craft bailed out with parachutes and landed safely. The five men reported killed were in the other plane.

Tentative identifications of the five victims of the larger plane, an amphibian, were Lieut. H. B. Twohy, Aviation Cadets Schmidt and Henneth Rhoddy, Machinist Mate McCrowdman, and Radio Operator Reagan.

J. H. Goodsell and a flier named Bolke were listed at the field after floating to the ground in chutes.

INSURGENT RAIDS CLAIM 125 IN MADRID

Madrid, Nov. 3—Searching bomb-shattered buildings of the Catalan city Lerida today rescue workers sought to find additional victims of an insurgent air raid already reported by the government to have taken 125 lives.

Scores of men, women and children who had been targets for the raiders were rushed to the hospitals.

School days for more than 50 children were cut short when nine tri-motored bombers roared in from the west and dumped a portion of their explosives on a primary school just before closing time.

According to a government communique, the raiders were not satisfied by merely bombing the city and flew low enough to

FRAZER TO LEAD DISCUSSION OF ORIENT TONIGHT

Open Forum To Be Held Following Radio Program

K. C. Frazer, government professor, will be in charge of an open forum discussion following the New York Town Meeting radio program in Graham Memorial lounge tonight, Harry Comer, executive secretary of the “Y,” announced yesterday.

The program will begin at 9:30 following the Student union's amateur show. Four internationally known speakers will discuss the topic, “What Should Be America's Policy in the Far East?” after which students will discuss the views presented.

The speakers are: James S. McDonald, League of Nations commissioner, who will present the Roosevelt administration's viewpoint; Frederick Moore, American adviser to the Japanese embassy, who will give Japan's side of the conflict; Nathaniel Peffer, who will present China's views; Edwin Borahard, of Yale, who will speak in favor of complete isolation.

Denny To Direct
The radio program should be particularly interesting to University students, as George Denny, Carolina graduate, will act as master of ceremonies. Denny is director of the League for Political Education of the New York Town Hall.

A. Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. committee headed by Sam Hobbs and Margaret Henderson is in charge of the forum. The committee will post bulletins in fraternity houses and rooming places, urging those there to hold private discussions following the radio programs.

Anti-War Picture To Be Reshown In Graham Memorial

Popular Demand Causes “Deal- ers in Death” To Be Given Again Tomorrow Night

“Dealers in Death,” a sound movie part of the “Y's” anti-war program, will be shown a second time in Memorial hall tomorrow evening at 7:30 due to popular demand.

The picture was shown in Graham Memorial lounge Tuesday night, but since a large number of students and others interested were unable to attend, it is being given again.

The film exposes activities of war lords and munition makers and declares “they are all united in a common cause, the provocation of war in the interests of selling munitions for huge profits.”

A number of actual war photographs bring out the gruesomeness of war.

Sophomore Cabinet

Members of the Sophomore “Y” cabinet will meet on the South building steps this morning at 10:30, provided there is no precipitation.

Those Confined . . .

Those who were confined to the infirmary yesterday were: S. T. Forrest, E. G. Outlaw, A. S. Link, Tommy Hall, J. W. Hinkle, Harvey Hines, Robert Ray, Mary Lillian Speck, and Brant Bonner.

CPU Invites Japs, Chinese To Send Spokesmen Here

Contributions Mount To Pay For Expense Of Bringing Nor- man Thomas To Campus

In an effort to give students an opportunity to get first hand information concerning the Sino-Japanese war, the Carolina Political union has invited the Chinese and Japanese governments to send speakers here who can give their official views.

The Japanese embassy in Washington has already agreed to send a man here, and according to Alex Heard, chairman of

Patterson Calls Swing Session To Get Seniors

Incidentally, Class Will Pass Budget While Listening To Freddy Johnson

Members of the senior class will gather in Memorial hall at 10:30 this morning to hear some swing music by Freddy Johnson and his orchestra.

President Joe Patterson feels that the fourth year men haven't been getting together much lately. So, in the interests of class unity and the presentation of a Popular Front, he has called the swing session.

All seniors are cordially invited to attend and hear the music. “It would be fine if we could get over 700 seniors there,” Patterson said yesterday. “It would make Johnson and his boys feel like they were doing something.”

Oh! Yes, we almost forgot. The class will also pass on a senior budget.

American, British Novels Featured In Library Exhibition

Some 60 Original Editions In- cluded In Case Display In Lobby Of Building

An exhibition on the early American and English novel is on display in the library. Around 60 books are being shown in the three cases in the main entrance, including American novels before 1850, and British novels before 1820.

All of the books, which belong to the libraries collection, are original editions.

Title Series

The majority of the titles are published in series of from three to five volumes. There are several hundred such books in the collection, but only the most interesting are being included in the exhibit.

The exhibition will be on display for three or four weeks.

Representative Viewpoints To Be Found By Tabulation Of 400 Questionnaires

In order to sound out campus opinion of several weighty and important controversial topics, the DAILY TAR HEEL will distribute today 400 questionnaires, 100 going to coeds and the rest to men students.

The responses to the 12 controversial questions will be tabulated and published with the belief that an accurate cross-section will be established and thus an insight into student opinion be made available.

The questionnaire will be a welcome relief to many who have been answering trivial questions such as: “Are you in favor of war? What is your political outlook? Do you think F. D. R. should run for a third term?” etc.

Expert Preparation

The DAILY TAR HEEL Questionnaire of Important Controversial Topics was prepared by a group of experts under the advisership of the economics and psychology departments. It is a scientifically arranged series of questions and should pro-

Experimental Bill Postponed Until Tomorrow Night

Playmakers Change Date Of Group Of Productions To Avoid Conflict With Amateurs

The Carolina Playmakers' opening bill of experimental productions will be given in the Playmaker theater at 7:30 tomorrow night, instead of tonight, as had previously been announced.

The change was made to avoid conflict with Pete Ivey's amateur program, which will be held this evening.

No admission will be charged (Continued on last page)

GEOLOGISTS WILL TAKE TRIPS INTO TRIASSIC BASIN

Prouty To Leave With First Group Saturday Morning At 9 O'clock

In connection with the meeting of the Carolina Geological society here this week, field trips through the Triassic basin near Chapel Hill will be conducted under the direction of the University geology department.

Dr. W. F. Prouty of the University will leave with the first trip Saturday morning at 9 a. m. from New East building. Assisting him with these trips are State Geologist Herman J. Bryson, Dr. J. S. Stuckey of State college, and Dr. Willard Berry of Duke university.

This is the second annual meeting of the association, the purpose of which is to give its members a better understanding of the geology of North and South Carolina, and to promote scientific interest and discussion in our more local scientific problems.

League Will Hear Ericson And Frazer

Foreign Policy Group To Meet Tonight At 7:30

The regular meeting of the Foreign Policy league will be held tonight at 7:30 in the meeting room of the Y. M. C. A. John Kendrick, the president, will preside.

Dr. E. E. Ericson of the English department will speak on “The Rise of Nationalism in China.” Last week the Japanese viewpoint was presented.

STUDENTS WILL VIE IN AMATEUR SHOW TONIGHT

Field Marshall Olsen To Act As Master Of Ceremonies

An unusual array of student talent will go on the stage tonight at 7:30 in Graham Memorial lounge as the Student Union presents its first amateur show of the year.

William A. Olsen, public speaking professor and noted campus humorist, will act as master of ceremonies for “The Greatest Amateur Show on Earth.” Olsen, designated a “field marshal” after superlative efforts in a previous show, will be awarded the highest possible title, “Great Mogul,” if his performance tonight is as good as is expected.

Six students have been selected to vie for $10 in cash prizes. A community sing and members of the union's Student School of Talent will also offer entertainment. The student school, making its debut to the University, will offer songs, dances, and short skits but will not compete for prizes.

Ivey
Director Pete Ivey of the union guaranteed everyone a good time who would come out. Ivey studied Barnum & Bailey's advertisements and termed his show the “Barnum & Bailey, John Robertson, Ringling Bros., Cello-Floto, Chas. Sparks, and Pete Ivey Combined Lounge Performance Featuring Students and Faculty of the University of North Carolina.”

POP QUIZ

By
Bob Perkins

“Any labour I do wants time,” a very conscientious objector remarked the other day to his professor who was berating him for being late with a term paper.

“Just a minute,” said the professor. “The very letters of your statement are a rearrangement of a very well known proverb to the same effect. If you can figure out what the proverb is, I will not take anything off your grade for the paper being late.”

However the boy was merely lazy and had no idea of the length of time and labour it takes to build or shape great things. He could not spot the proverb. Can you?

Answer of Dr. Ruark to Lewis Carroll's propositions:

To save time we number the propositions in the order they were listed in yesterday's paper, 1 through 9. Then supposing that Carroll's conclusion is false and that any wise young pig can go up in balloons.

We start off with number 3, which tells us that a wise balloonist takes an umbrella with him. By proposition 8 he looks ridiculous, by 5 he is liable to giddiness, by 2 he is treated with respect, (for he is liable to giddiness), by 7 he does not dance on tight ropes, by 9 he is fat (for he also is treated with respect and does not dance on tight ropes), by 6 he may lunch in public.

But in proposition 4 we have his activities limited in that he cannot eat penny buns, for if he did he would not be allowed to lunch in public, contradicting 4.

However all who neither dance on tight ropes or eat penny buns are old, according to the first proposition. Therefore our assumption that any wise young pig can go up in balloons is false because of this contradiction and the original conclusion that “No wise young pigs go up in balloons” is true.
