CHINESE CAPITAL MOVED TO HANKOW

Nanking, Nov. 16.—The Chinese government decided tonight to move 300 miles to the west of Nanking to Hankow, on the Yangtze river, because of the threat to destroy the capital made by Japanese advancing from Shanghai.

The ministry of communications took the lead today by evacuating staff and records to a Hankow bound steamer, and League of Nations technical experts were to leave tomorrow.

Three of four cities will be used to harbor various Chinese civil departments in order to lend greater security and freedom from Japanese attacks.

The ministries of foreign affairs and finances will probably be placed at Hankow, the main point of the new capital, Nanking will be occupied by military establishments until the very last. While other departments will locate temporarily at Changsha, south of Hankow in Hunan province, and at Chungking in the southwestern province of Szechwan.

Although the civil departments are leaving the city, officials emphasized that this did not mean that the capital had been abandoned, and indicated that the army would defend Nanking until the last under the command of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

One high official stated, "If the Japanese break through our defenses, our army will retreat fighting for China, determined against compromise or capitulation."

SIT DOWN STRIKERS LEAVE FISHER PLANT

Pontiac, Mich., Nov. 16.—Sit down strikers who had occupied the Fisher Body corporation plant for nearly 12 hours left today at 8:25 a. m. when the management took charge of the factory.

President Dorr Mitchell of the United Automotive Workers of America said that the union officials ordered the men to evacuate the building because the strike was "unauthorized." He said a conference had been arranged for 1 p. m. between union and company officials to discuss the causes for the sit-down at 8:30 last night.

Mitchell said that the principal grievance was the laying-off of 500 employees.

Approximately 2,000 men marched from the plant and there was no demonstration of any kind to follow. Many of them were day shift workers who had replaced night shift employees at 7 a. m.

ELEVEN MEET DEATH IN BELGIAN AIR CRASH

Ostend, Belgium, Nov. 16.—Eleven persons, among whom five were members of the former royal family of Hesse, were killed today in the flaming wreckage of a Belgian airliner which crashed near Ostend while trying to land at Steene airport during a fog.

The plane, owned by the Sabena airlines, fell into a brick yard near the Ostend airport while en route from Frankfurt-on-the-Main to London.

The pilot had attempted to land by using the airport lights to guide him, but the plane

ASSEMBLY GROUP VOTES IN FAVOR OF SUBSIDIZATION

Phi Passes Bill For Students To Take Wasserman Test

When Speaker Drew Martin opened the Phi Assembly last night, a large number of persons showed keen interest in the debates.

Secretary Townsend Moore introduced the first bill, Resolved: That every student in the University should be required to take the Wassermann test yearly. This caused much spirited discussion, but the bill was passed by a vote of 33-15.

LEAGUE TO HEAD BIG PEACE MOVE

Group To Send Speakers Over Country

The League of Nations council will open its big gun on the isolationists at its meeting tonight. Plans will be made to send speakers to all campus organizations as well as state and out of state schools.

"The only way that the cause for international cooperation can be founded in this country is by the cooperation of all such groups as ours with each other. The Carolina council is going to lead the way," said Chairman Nigrelli yesterday.

Tonight's meeting will call for a vote on a membership quota for the Council. Nigrelli said that membership and executive committees will also be announced.

COKER TO GIVE TALK ON BOTANY CLASSICS TODAY

University Professor Will Discuss His And Library's Collection Of Works

Dr. W. C. Coker of the Botany department will speak at 4:15 this afternoon in the Bull's Head Bookshop on "The Classics of Botany."

In his talk, Dr. Coker will discuss his own private collection of botanical volumes together with the University's collection, both of which are now on display in the library.

Dr. Coker, himself a well known author of botanical works, will speak chiefly of early American botanical volumes contained in the collections.

The collections hold many of the most famous volumes of botany ever printed, including Gerard's "Herball" and a copy of Hans Sloane's "Flora of Jamaica," the most famous of all flora. A copy of Perkinson's "Theater of Plants," the second most famous of botanical volumes, has been ordered for the collection.

Freshmen Will Pass Class Budget Today

Christian Siewers, freshman class president, requested yesterday that all first year students be present at chapel this morning.

This is a very important meeting, as the 1937-38 budget will be brought up for approval.

The meeting is scheduled to be very short.

Mischievous Ape Will Aid Coeds In Ticket Sale

Chico Among Mrs. McGirt's Pets Of Dogs, Chickens, Cats, Canaries, And A Horse

By BOB PERKINS

As the lady opened the kitchen door, a steaming hot baked-potato zipped past her head, and a yelping dog dashed between her feet and escaped into the living room. Shrieks of delight and abuse were hurled down from the top of the stove.

"Helen!" she called, "come get Chico. He's loose in the kitchen again."

Mrs. McGirt was not angry. She never is with her pets, although 4 pigs, 15 dogs, 50 chickens, 4 cats, 2 canaries, a horse, and a pet monkey named Chico, who has the ability to get in and on everything, might try most people's nerves.

When the Y. W. girls asked if they might have Chico as a drawing card to their ticket sale this morning in the "Y," Mrs. McGirt agreed, but with one (Continued on last page)

Student Forums Held Here Create National Interest

Denny Gives University Publicity Over Broadcast Network Because Of Discussions

Student forums on the New York Town Meeting of the Air radio programs created more excitement off the campus than they did on.

The University took the forums more or less in stride, but they attracted quite a bit of national attention. George Denny, University graduate who is in charge of the programs, praised the local forum over an NBC network and read part of a letter from Harry Comer, executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A., telling of the forums here.

Denny declared the local set-up was a "model situation," and began a drive for other colleges (Continued on last page)

Union Plans For Big Show Sunday

Program Will Feature Guest Stars, Community Sing

Graham Memorial Director Pete Ivey announced yesterday a show that will even surpass his last "Greatest Show on Earth."

Top campus amateurs, celebrated guest stars, a community sing, and a master as master of ceremonies will make the Student Union show in Hill hall Sunday night the best thing the union has sponsored this year, he stated.

The show is being moved from Graham Memorial to Hill hall to accommodate the large crowd expected. At an amateur show recently in Graham Memorial lounge, all available space and standing room were taken and some students had to be turned away.

Campus entertainment stars as yet uncrowned were asked to apply to Ivey's office in Graham Memorial before Friday night. In the amateur division of entertainers, $5 will go to the top performer, $3 to the runner-up, and $2 to third best.

Several popular stars were being considered by Ivey as guest performers, but no definite announcements were made. (Continued on last page)

DI SUFFERS LOSS OF AMENDMENTS FOR CONSTITUTION

Main Resolution For Discussion Held For Next Meet

Because of other business, which took up an excessive amount of time at the regular meeting of the Dialectic senate last night, the topic for discussion was bound over until the meeting next week.

After the reading of the minutes, Senator Hobbs was called upon to give a report from the Constitution Committee which was supposed to have several amendments to the Di constitution ready for discussion and (Continued on last page)

JUNIORS PASS CLASS BUDGET

Wolf, Kline, Watson Make Talks

Answering President Jim Joyner's urgent plea, more than three hundred and twenty-five juniors gathered in Memorial hall yesterday to vote on the class budget.

As Coach Wolf, the first speaker, was introduced, the juniors sat munching apples which were used to lure them to the meeting. Wolf smilingly admitted that it was the "first time I've been decoyed." Footballer Chuck Kline, the second speaker, said, "Juniors, I haven't much to say..." Footballer George Watson, the last speaker, declared, "I think Chuck covered about everything."

Budget

Joyner then announced the proposed budget as follows:
Income	$4,100
Wooten-Moulton	600
Yackety Yack	1,700
Auditing and Book-keeping	10
Marshall's expenses	50
Dance	1,250
Joe Cheatham
Commemoration	75
Class Function	200
Miscellaneous	100
Total	$4,025
Balance	85

The budget was passed unanimously.

THEATER TO RUN SHOW TOMORROW FOR SOPH BENEFIT

Tom Pitts Urges Campus To Cooperate In Drive For Funds To Make Up Deficit

Featuring Jimmy Cagney and Evelyn Daw, "Something to Sing About," Hollywood's latest musical production, will be shown tomorrow at the Carolina theater for the benefit of the sophomore class.

Asks Support
Tom Pitts, president of the sophomores, urged that every member push the sales of the tickets and asks the support of the campus in raising enough money through the sales to make up the deficit in the class treasury caused by the small amount of fees collected this year.

In connection with the activities of the class, Pitts issued the statement that "everything possible is being done to have the sophomore dance this quarter, probably some time in December. However, until the emergency, created by the lack of funds, has been overcome, the date of the dance is uncertain."

Imperial Wizard Of K. K. K. Will Speak Tonight At 8:30

Klan Leader

Dr. Hiram W. Evans, Imperial Wizard of the Invisible Empire of the Ku Klux Klan, who is being brought here by the Carolina Political Union tonight.

Former Texan Dentist Now Heads National Invisible Empire

Is C. P. U. Guest

From a dentist to Imperial Wizard of the Invisible Empire of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is the record of Dr. Hiram Wesley Evans, who has been brought here by the Carolina Political Union to speak in Memorial hall tonight at 8:30 on "America and the Klan."

Dr. Evans, a fifty-six year old native of Ashland, Alabama, practiced dentistry in Dallas, Texas, until 1920. A graduate of Vanderbilt university, Dr. Evans lives on famous Peachtree Battle Avenue in Atlanta, Georgia. He is an author of some note, having written "Menace of Modern Immigration" and "The Klan of Tomorrow."

Attempts Chapter Here

The speech tonight will remind some of the older persons here on the "Hill" of an attempt, back in 1921, to form a Ku Klux Klan chapter in the community. The DAILY TAR HEEL for January 28, 1921, carried the following account: "Mr. Smith, organizer for the Ku Klux Klan, came to Chapel Hill Monday with the purpose of organizing a local chapter of the Klan, after having established a chapter in Durham, but the plan was met with very little enthusiasm." The paper went on to say: "Although the Klan received a rather chilly reception here in some quarters, it has ardent supporters in others, and it is not beyond supposition that a chapter may be established here in the near future."

That chapter has not made its appearance in Chapel Hill, but since that time the Invisible Empire has grown to be the strongest secret non political organization in existence.

Hugo Black
It has played a prominent part in the controversy over the selection of Hugo Black as associate justice of the Supreme Court. "Time" magazine, in an article about Black's affiliation with the Klan, is quoted as following: (Continued on page two)

Patterson Calls Third Session In Try For Quorum

Senior Class Head Says Budget Will Be Passed Friday —Or Never

In special session last night the executive committee of the Senior class decided to try for the third and last time to obtain a class quorum at a meeting of the class Friday morning at chapel period.

Unless a quorum is obtained at this meeting the budget will not be passed on and all senior functions which are dependent upon it will be dropped, including the Yackety Yack which is largely dependent on the senior section.

"We are appealing to all members of the class on the seriousness of the situation, and what it will mean to the class as a whole if the quorum is not obtained," stated President Joe Patterson last night.

"There will be no other program presented besides the business to be transacted."

Four Initiated In Pre-Med Society

National AED Conventions To Be Held Here Soon

Four new men were initiated into the Alpha Epsilon Delta, honorary pre-medical fraternity, last night. Dr. William deB. MacNider read the Hippocratic Oath. The four new members are H. H. Baird, Reid Bahnsen, Lee Large, and Harry Allen.

Pictures of the campus and letters of invitations from several prominent people were sent to the national president in preparation for the national convention of AED which will be held here in the near future. Members of the AED will come from all over the country where a chapter of the honorary fraternity is established.

Colored medical sound movies will be shown to the campus on the night of November 30.

Sick List

Students confined to the infirmary yesterday were: Charles Butler, Milton Geer, Harold Daniels, Virginia Lee, Roslyn Dince, B. R. Carroll, and J. C. Kimrey.

MAGAZINE COPY FOR DECEMBER ISSUE IS DUE NOVEMBER '29

November Issue Of Publication Will Be Printed Next Week, Editors Announce

Copy for the December issue of the Carolina Magazine will be due November 29, the first day after Thanksgiving holidays, the editors announced yesterday. Prospective contributors to this issue should confer with one of the editors before Saturday of this week.

The November issue, which will be published next week, has among its contents an article, by Gould Beech, on the economic and social crisis facing the South today; a short story, "Miss Susanah Is a Pork Sausage," by Lynn Gault, graduate student in dramatic art; and a satire, by Len Rubin, on football publicity writers.

Psychology Students

No morning psychology classes will be held today. However, all afternoon classes will be conducted.
