CHINESE STRIKE BACK AT JAPANESE INVADERS

Shanghai, Nov. 17—Japanese invaders today met with a severe counter attack when they attempted to pass the heavily reinforced Chinese "Hindenburg" line defending Nanking some 125 miles away.

Chinese forces southeast of the capital were reinforced by several thousand fresh troops, but the government officials and civilians continued to evacuate Nanking. Chinese commanders said the counter-attack had permitted them to form new lines and declared:

"We will not capitulate or compromise with Japan. We will fight to the last ditch."

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek had several hundred thousand trained troops at his disposal. A force of 150,000 Szechwan province warriors arrived at Nanking from the upper extremities of the Yangtze river.

Today's counter-attack came after the Chinese had held their positions under heavy bombardment. The Japanese military movements were interrupted by the rain, giving their opponents an opportunity to swing back.

According to Chinese army officials, the collapse of defenses at Kunshan two days ago was caused by the failure of former Manchurian troops under General Lui To-Chuan to carry out orders. The troops failed to go to an undefended point of the sector, enabling Japanese to break through the lines.

SENATE BLOCKED BY ANTI-LYNCHING BILL

The program for the senate was upset today by a southern "filibuster" against anti-lynching which shattered Democratic lines almost at the start of the special session.

Senator Connally (D-Tex) directed the clerks to resume reading, where they left off yesterday, a 14-page speech by Justice Hugo L. Black. While serving as a senator from Alabama, Black was opposed to the anti-lynching legislation.

Senate and house agriculture committees still were not ready with farming legislation. Secretary Wallace advised the senate group to adopt a middle course between extreme compulsory control and voluntary control over farm production.

About a half a dozen southern Democrats were ready to follow Connally and indicated they would carry on the anti-lynching debate for several more days; perhaps until the senate agriculture committee completes its farm bill.

The government reorganization bill is the only bill on the President's four point legislation that is ready to be debated, but Democratic Leader Barkley was unsuccessful in an attempt to persuade the anti-lynching sponsors to let this bill come first.

"America For Americans" Is Theme Of Address By Wizard Of Ku Klux Klan

CPU Speaker Talks To Crowd Of 600 In Memorial Hall Condemns Reds

"America must be dominated by Americans and not by Negroes and alien groups," asserted Dr. Hiram Wesley Evans, Imperial Wizard of the Invisible Empire of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, in a talk before around 600 persons in Memorial hall last night.

In his only reference to the Klan's reputed connection with Associate Justice Hugo Black, Dr. Evans said, "He ain't the only klansman ever to sit on a Supreme Court bench."

The Imperial Wizard, in speaking first on "America," and then on "The Klan," gave his audience a well rounded outline of the part that his organization plays in the past, present, and future of this nation.

Delusion

Dr. Evans condemned Communism by saying that it is a delusion. In talking of our past governments, he said, "We went to war at one time to make the world safe for Democrats, and two thirds of the people are Republicans." He spoke of the American system as "a republican form of government." He stated that he is definitely in favor of carrying on trade with other nations, but he advised that we "sell it C. O. D. and get it back C. I. A.," which he de-

All "Y" Cabinets Will Hold Forums On Monday Night

Members And Students To Meet At "Y" At 7:30; No Direct Leaders For Discussion

In the belief that some of the most valuable moments of college experience are found in spontaneous group discussions, or "bull sessions," all "Y" cabinets and the Y. W. C. A. will sponsor a group of fireside forums next Monday night.

Cabinet members and students will meet at the "Y" at 7:30 and then divide in groups and go to separate houses in the town. There, under no direct leader, topics of betterment for

COMER REQUESTS LARGE CROWD AT FORUM TONIGHT

Pictures To Be Taken For Illustration Of Model Forum

An unusually large attendance was urged by Harry Comer, executive secretary of the "Y," at the student forum following the New York Town Meeting of the Air radio program tonight as pictures will be taken and sent to other colleges as an example of a "model" forum.

George Denny, University graduate now in charge of the NBC program, will have the pictures made and supervise the publicity given them.

Topic

Topic for the third of the "Y's" forums will be "Whose Constitution?" Speakers will be Stanley Reed, solicitor-general of the United States, who will present the Roosevelt view on the constitution; Senator Ed-

MONOGRAM CLUB PLANS FALL WORK

Dudley, Murnick Named Committee Heads

The executive committee of the Monogram club met last night in Graham Memorial, to discuss plans for club activities during the remainder of the Fall quarter.

A separate committee was formed to plan the athletic banquet at which letters will be presented to varsity track and football men. Leighton Dudley was appointed chairman of the committee with Bob Garland and G. M. Howe as the other members.

Another committee was appointed, with Joe Murnick as chairman to arrange a Monogram club amateur program.

Prospects for a game between the all-campus football teams from the University and Duke were discussed, but no decisions were made.

Pete Mullis, president of the club, announced that the next meeting of the organization will be held next Tuesday night at the usual time.

Hunter Speaks To Freshman Cabinet

"Y" Head Discusses Religion At Weekly Meeting

Scott Hunter, president of the Y. M. C. A., told members of the Freshman Friendship council at their weekly meeting Monday night that "religion is an experience which will solve most of the problems and survive most of the temptations in our lives."

Hunter declared the church was losing force because "it is lacking the right interpretation of what Jesus wants." He said Christianity was a "young man's religion," as Jesus didn't condemn youth for one misdeed, but gave them many chances.

The club also discussed a joint

REPUBLICANS PLAN INITIAL PROGRAMS

Local Political Group Considers Barrett

Young Republicans, at their weekly meeting yesterday, considered inviting James J. Barrett, well-known Republican, to address a campus gathering or debate a well-known Democrat as their first step towards waking the campus up to the fact that there is a Republican party.

The group also decided to send Miss Frances Johnson, who is responsible for forming the organization, as a delegate to a meeting of the Republican Executive committee in Greensboro Saturday.

Ivey Says Next Amateur's Show Will Be Colossal

Forthcoming Array Of Talent May Be Seen In Hill Hall On Sunday Night

Pete Ivey, genial director of Graham Memorial, declared yesterday even Barnum & Bailey's advertisements, used on his last amateur show, wouldn't be good enough for the performance he's planning in Hill hall Sunday night.

"It's something to tell your grandchildren about and an event you will never regret the rest of your life if you miss it," began Pete.

Next

But he was only getting started. Next he came out with this:

"If the last amateur show was the 'greatest amateur show on earth,' then the other lunar parts of the solar system, including the milky way, had better look to their laurels Sunday night when the amateurs, guest stars, and community sing stars swing into action. Even a satellite or so should be warned to

Buccaneer Staff

Two meetings of the Buccaneer editorial staff will be held tomorrow, one at 5:00 p. m. and another at 7:00 p. m., in the publications office in Graham Memorial. All staff members are expected to be present at one of the meetings to arrange for an early December issue of the magazine.

Final Senior Class Meeting Tomorrow

CAMPUS CABINET CONVENES AGAIN TONIGHT AT 7:30

Leaders To Hold Second Discussion; Thirty-Seven Members

Representative campus leaders will hold their second discussion on pertinent topics to students tonight in Graham Memorial at 7:30 as the Campus cabinet convenes for the second time this year.

At last week's meeting 37 executives declared they were dissatisfied with the hypocrisy in our present athletic situation. Stuart Rabb led the discussion, which was highly publicized in state papers.

Topics

Four topics intended for last week but which were not discussed due to shortage of time are on the agenda for tonight. Clifton Craig will lead the affirmative on a proposal for a campus Student theater and Entertainment center, while Voit

FROSH AGREE TO ACCEPT BUDGET

New Men Not Bothered As Other Classes

Unlike their big brothers and sisters who have had so much trouble in the immediate past in the matter of passing class budgets, the freshmen yesterday agreed to adopt their budget as presented to them by Class President Christian Siewers.

Budget

The budget, which Siewers read over twice in order that there could be no misunderstanding about any of the items, included the following approximate expenditures: $288.75 for class dance; $135.00 for Yackety Yack space; $20.00 for printing; $10.00 for book keeping; and $16.75 for miscellaneous expenses.

Plea

The voting was preceded by Voit Gilmore's plea to the freshmen to refrain from undue disturbances at the Imperial Wizard of the K. K. K.'s speech last night, and was followed by an announcement by a representative of the Y. W. C. A. and a short talk by Dean Bradshaw.

November 29 Named Magazine Deadline

Next Issue Will Be Distributed Soon, Editors Announce

Copy for the December issue of the Carolina Magazine will be due November 29, the first day after Thanksgiving holidays, the editors announced yesterday. Writers who plan to contribute to this issue should confer with the editors before Saturday of this week.

Contents

The November issue will be distributed next week. Among its contents will be an article by Gould Beech on the economic and social crisis in the South today, a satire by Len Rubin on football publicity writers, and a short story, "Miss Susannah Is a Pork Sausage," by Lynn Gault, graduate student in dramatics.

Third Try For Quorum Will Be In Hill Hall, 10:30

Cooperation Urged

Attempting for the third and last time to obtain a quorum to pass their budget, the executives of the Senior class have called a class meeting tomorrow morning at 10:30 in Hill Music hall.

Emphasizing the seriousness of the meeting, President Joe Patterson stated that there can be no Senior functions and no Senior section in the Yackety Yack if the budget is not passed.

President Patterson, speaking for the executive committee, makes the following statement to seniors: "We are trying our best to cooperate with you and we certainly hope that you will help us."

Change

The meeting is to be held in Hill Music hall and not in Memorial hall as were the two previous meetings.

President Patterson earnestly hopes that his class, like last year's Senior class, will be able to obtain a quorum on the third try. He estimates the quorum to be about 270.

The senior section in the Yackety Yack is the major portion of the book, and the seniors carry a great part of the publication expenses. This means that if the Senior budget is not passed, there will probably be no Yackety Yack, according to Patterson.

Local Senior Has Strange Nose Powers

Sam Hood, Victim Of Ethmoid Trouble, Never Fails In All Weather Predictions

"He knows by his nose" is the slogan applied to Senior Sam Hood.

Hood has not missed on predicting the weather before a single football game this year, and hasn't been caught in the rain without a rain coat in the last five years.

A victim of ethmoid trouble, his nose is sensitive to the slightest change in weather conditions.

When it is going to be cloudy with a possibility of rain his nose is partially closed up. Rain closes it all the way, and fair weather is certain when he has no difficulty in breathing.

Hood recently consulted a doctor about the advisability of an operation. Upon learning

POP QUIZ

By Bob Perkins

The other night a professor on the campus was contending that the principal trouble with his math students was not that they did not have thinking ability, but that they did not use it. He said they were all too inclined to start working on a problem without any real knowledge as to what the problem was about.

To back up his statement he asked his class the following
