SENATE FARM COMMITTEE NEARS AGREEMENT

Washington, Nov. 18—The senate agriculture committee made progress toward agreement on the farm control legislation today, bringing with it some promise of a break in aimless debating which has held the interest of the special congressional session.

The southern filibuster against anti-lynching legislation was carried on further in the senate by Senator Bailey (D-NC). Chairman Smith (D-SC) reported, however, that an "ever-normal granary" farm bill—patterned after administration recommendations—would be ready Monday to displace the lynching measure.

If Smith's prediction is correct, the first of the four point program recommended by President Roosevelt will be brought before the special session one week after convening. The other points are wage hour, regional planning, and executive reorganization legislation.

Granting of some exemptions, to all corporations, from the undistributed profits tax which has been assailed by business was discussed by a house tax sub-committee. No final agreement was reached on such an issue.

Chances for the wage-hour bill depended largely on breaking a deadlock in the house rules committee unless a discharge petition, signed by 105 house members, gets 113 more signatures.

Because of the time wasted in filibuster, leaders indicated that the prospects for government reorganization and regional planning were greatly dimmed.

The Negro Menace

By Stuart Rabb

Policeman L. W. Bowlin looked at the negro walking down Charlotte's West Trade street. That was him all right—that was William Connor who had stolen that suit of clothes.

"What you want, boss man?" "Stealin' again, hunh? We got you this time. Get in this car."

As the police car pulled into the driveway at headquarters, William Connor jumped out of the car and ran down an alley. Policeman Bowlin pulled his gun and followed. The gun exploded and William Connor died running, his head blown open.

Policeman Bowlin filled out his report. He was chasing the culprit. He accidentally stumbled. He accidentally pulled the trigger. The gun was accidentally aimed at the negro. The bullet accidentally shattered the negro's skull. William Connor was dead—accidentally.

Less than a month ago, another Charlotte negro was running from motorcycle policeman

Members Approve

Dr. Evans asked Alex Heard, chairman of the C. P. U., to wire the communist leader immediately, asking him to agree to the proposed debate. Heard took the matter up at a union meeting yesterday afternoon, and the members voted in favor of a program of this sort. It was decided that Browder be contacted at once.

Campus Cabinet Approves Student Theater

Student Representatives Defeat Patterson Proposal

By ALLEN MERRILL

The campus cabinet, a body of representative student executives organized to advise the president of the student body, assembled into the year's second session last night in Graham Memorial and voted down a proposal of President Joe Patterson of the senior class to abolish the ruling that a quorum be necessary to pass a class budget.

The cabinet earlier in the meeting had already unanimously approved the plan by Clifton Craig for changing Memorial hall into a student theater for two days out of the week. Second run and campus movies would be shown, Craig stated, for an estimated cost of 15 cents.

Defeating Vote

A 13-10 vote defeated Patterson's motion to abolish the old ruling of "no-quorum-no-budget" and to hold a meeting after three days publication of a class budget in the DAILY TAR HEEL.

46 PASS BOOKS TAKEN AT GAME LAST SATURDAY

Students Violate Honor System By Selling Tickets

Herman Schnell, athletic official, hotly protested yesterday against illegal use of student passbooks and declared it was one of the greatest breaches of the honor system he could imagine.

Schnell made the comments after it was found that approximately 46 students had passbooks taken from them at the Duke-Carolina game for illegal use. He said the number caught last Saturday was greater than at all other games combined.

Fuss

"Much fuss has been made lately on the athletic department's breaking the honor system, but students who pay $3.33 for a passbook, use it for every game but one and sell it at that time for $5 certainly break it as flagrantly as can be done," he said.

"If I had my way, everyone of them would be brought before the Student council and tried for breaking the campus code," he continued.

Some Lost

It was believed students caught selling their passes or

No Yackety Yack?

This morning in Hill Music hall at 10:30 the seniors will attempt for the third and last time to obtain a quorum to act on their budget.

If Unsuccessful

Urging the seniors to consider the seriousness of the situation, Patterson explained that "not
