NATIONAL GUARD UNITS SENT TO STRIKE AREA

Akron, O., Nov. 20—Units of the Ohio national guard mobilized today for service at the Good-year Tire and Rubber company, where 12,000 workers are idle because of a sit down strike.

Following the announcement of company officials that the plant would reopen Monday, union officials immediately said that picket lines would be placed around the plant which covers hundreds of acres in the heart of Akron.

Although no national guard units have been sent to the scene of the strike as yet, Adjutant General Emil F. Marx said that troops were being prepared for a possible mobilization. Two observers for the national guard are at the plant to watch progress of the strike.

Nearly 12,000 employees were affected as operations in all plants of the company were paralyzed by sit-down strikers, protesting against scheduled layoffs.

President John House, of the Goodyear local, of the united rubber workers of America said the strike lacked U. R. W. A. authorization. He announced, however, that a special meeting has been called for Sunday and should the majority call for a "strike vote" it would be necessary to authorize such a step.

House indicated that the company had violated seniority rights in a retrenchment schedule calling for the layoff of 1,600 employees.

Union officials ordered evacuation of the plant and all but a few, who refused to leave, came out. The remaining strikers were expected to come out some time later in the day.

Go Back To What?

By Stuart Rabb

"The thing to do," said the Very Republican Young Lady, "is to get rid of this Communist New Deal that is leading us to bankruptcy and go back."

"Go, back to what?" I asked.

"Why," she said as if the meanest fool ought to know, "go back to prosperity, of course."

Easy

It was just as simple and easy—just like that! Now it is hard to reason with people who see prosperity dangling in space just eight years behind them. They see no constitutional reason why they shouldn't just turn the clock back and reach back after it.

"Why, look at the Coolidge administration," chided the Very Republican Young Lady, "tell me why we can't have something like that now?"

"Going Back"

All the answers didn't occur to me at the moment and maybe they haven't occurred yet. But I got to thinking about this idea of "going back" and here's the way the reactions came out. Most of the results are fairly obvious, but maybe society ought

Ivey Presents Gala Amateur Show Tonight At 8 O'clock

Master Of Ceremonies For Performance Kept Secret

No Big Apples

Master of ceremonies for A. Guy Ivey's "Greatest Show in the Universe" tonight in Hill hall at 8 o'clock was shrouded in mystery yesterday. The Little Napoleon of the Student union refused to release to the press who the auspicious personage would be.

Ivey did announce, though, that in opposition to the Junior class, there would be no big apples at the gathering. Also, since quorums are more or less in everyone's mind, Ivey said the show would not start until a "quorum" was there.

Music

Once the necessary number is there, things are going to begin to hum, declared Ivey. Freddy Johnson and his orchestra will start things swinging, and amateurs, guest performers, community sing specialists, and others will keep things moving at a fast pace.

Among the far-famed guest performers being brought here is Jack Payton, former national champion xylophonist, who acquired quite a reputation here last year and returns in answer to many requests.

Also on the musical side are Mrs. G. A. Harrer, well-known Chapel Hill singer, Mrs. A. E. Burnham, violinist, James Dees,

S.C. Student Paper Urges Subsidizing

"Gamecock" Advocates Open Pay For Athletes Or Withdrawal From Conference

Open subsidization of football players was editorially urged yesterday by "The Gamecock," University of South Carolina student newspaper.

We stand "as heartily favoring open subsidization," the student editorial said.

"No one, not even the round-eyed freshman, imagines that the large squad of 40 grid stars, selected from all sections of the country, come here for the love of alma mater.

"The Southern Conference has adopted a conglomeration of by-laws, statutes, and resolutions to banish subsidization of the athletes. If they want to hypocritically state to the public that there is no payment for the athletes, yet underhandedly aid them, then let us step out—not gently—from the conference."

John Johnson Is On Campus

For some time several playgoers have been arguing over the actual meaning of Johnny Johnson, in Paul Green's play of that name.

Some sought an allegorical meaning, others thought that he was merely an ordinary American boy.

John Johnson, it was discovered yesterday, is a first year law student here in Chapel Hill. And what is more, he is a "B" student. Which may startle Mr. Paul Green no end.

Bob Doty Designs New Illustrated Campus Calendar

Booklet Will Be Composed Of 12 Scenes, Schedules And Will Sell For One Dollar

Bob Doty, an enterprising young man about the campus, has brought forth something unique in the way of calendars. It is known as Carolina in Portrait, and will sell for one dollar.

The booklet is composed of a series of 12 art studies by Wooten-Moulton, under each of which will be the calendar of the appropriate month.

These pictures include studies of the library, Gingham castle, a campus view, the arboretum, Spencer hall, the alumni building, the Playmakers theater, Graham Memorial, the Bell Tower, the Old Well, Kenan stadium, and the Carolina inn. The front piece will be a portrait of Frank Graham.

The back of the calendar will be comprised of schedules, sports programs, and forecasts of events.

John Roughton designed the cover-sketch.

Change

The Friends (Quaker) group have changed their place of meeting for worship on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock from Room 113 Bingham hall to the Y. M. C. A., first floor room on the right as you enter the building. Any person who is interested in attending will be most welcome.

Di, Phi Will Clash In Classic Gridiron Battle Tuesday; Game Called At 3:30

Silence Reigns In Di Camp As Senators Desert Hill

Frankly, the DAILY TAR HEEL was unable to contact the board of strategy of the Di football team late last night. In fact, the DAILY TAR HEEL was unable to contact the Di.

But the DAILY TAR HEEL knows that the Di is going to play the Phi in football Tuesday afternoon. If they don't, the Phi will have to choose up sides and pit their checker team against their chess team, which will be very embarrassing to all parties concerned.

We could say that reliable sources report that the president of the Di was in Salisbury and the captain of the football team in Washington—but we

"Y" CABINETS TO SPONSOR FORUMS TOMORROW NIGHT

Informal Discussions Will Be Held In Private Homes

A large crowd of guests is expected to join the "Y" cabinets tomorrow night in a series of informal group discussions at homes in Chapel Hill. Students will gather at the "Y" at 7:30, and then be divided into groups before going to town houses.

Scott Hunter, president of the Y. M. C. A., yesterday expressed the belief that some of the most valuable moments of college experience were found in such spontaneous group discussions, or "bull sessions," and said anyone attending would almost cer-

Evans May Debate Earl Browder Here

Rides

People wanting passengers and people wanting rides are urged to list their names at the "Y" office, headquarters for such information. Several rides and riders are now listed at the "Y" for the Thanksgiving holidays but lack of co-operation from the student group as a whole has made these attempts unsuccessful to date.

Playmakers Will Give Preview Of Plays Tomorrow

Showing Of Three Productions On 35th Tour Bill Set For 8:30 In Theatre

Tomorrow night at 8:30 in their theater here, the Carolina Playmakers will give a preview showing of the three plays in their 35th tour bill.

Again Tuesday night the plays will be presented in Chapel Hill and on Wednesday, November 24, the troupe will give its first performance on foreign ground, in Richmond, Virginia.

Schedule

From then on the schedule includes performances for the Guild Theater in Baltimore, Maryland, on November 25; for Roanoke College at Salem, Virginia, on November 27; for the Salem Academy at Winston-Salem, on November 29; for Greensboro College on November 30; for the North Carolina College for Negroes in Durham on December 1; for Elon College on December 2; in Goldsboro on December 3; and for the Hampton Institute in Hampton, Virginia, on December 4.

Those going on the tour beside Professor Koch and technical adviser Professor Harry Davis, are Janet Pendleton, Lynette Heldman, Bedford Thurman, Vivian Veach, Elizabeth Malone, Fred Meyer, Daniel Nachtman, Joseph Lee Brown, Henry Bluestone, Paul Quinn, and Howard Richardson.

Comedy

"Funeral Flowers for the Bride," one of the three plays included in the bill, is a comedy

Communist Leader Says Willing To Face Klan Head

National Hook-Up

The possibility of a Dr. Hiram Evans versus Earl Browder debate became stronger today following an acceptance telegram sent by Browder to Alex Heard, chairman of the Carolina Political Union.

Dr. Evans, Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, who described communism as a "delusion" in his talk Wednesday night, challenged the head of the communist party and urged Heard to arrange all the details.

Radio Hookup

The Klan chieftain said his organization would pay the expenses for a nation-wide radio hook-up if Communist Browder would accept the challenge.

Yesterday morning Heard received the following telegram from communist headquarters in New York City:

Telegram

"As representative of my party I am willing at all times to explain its policies under auspices of such institutions as yours in public debate on radio or otherwise.

"If you wish simultaneously to present other positions in contrast, I have no objection provided it is clearly understood that I have no responsibility whatever for your choice of opposing speakers. Earl Browder."

Heard made clear yesterday that all plans were tentative. He has wired Browder's acceptance

POP QUIZ

Answer to yesterday's quiz: The certain day which was "yesterday" when the day before yesterday was "yesterday," turns out to be the day before yesterday itself. Two days ago, then, the professor promised to give his class a grat two days from then which is today, if it didn't rain the next day after the promise, which was yesterday, (are you following?). It rained the day before yesterday, but nothing was said about its having rained yesterday, so today the class had a grat.
