

'Handy Andy' Bershak Given NEA Choice For End Berth On All-America First Team

No. 59—Hailed Among Nation's Best

Andrew A. Bershak ("Handy Andy" to you), who, after three years of top-notch varsity play on the gridiron for the University, gained possession of another "All" berth yesterday when Harry Grayson and his NEA lads got together in Cleveland and named him for this season's All-America first team end berth.

Proposed Debate Plans Cancelled

STUDENT COUNCIL TO CHOOSE FROSH HONOR NOMINEES

Illegal Passbook Use Also On Tonight's Calendar

Twenty nominees for the freshman honor council will be selected by the Student Council at its weekly meeting tonight, President Bob Magill announced yesterday.

The council also may consider if students who sell or otherwise illegally use passbooks are guilty of violating the honor system.

Elections

The twenty first year men will be presented in freshman chapel next Monday, and six will be selected by the class in elections the following Wednesday.

The honor council acts as a subsidiary body to the Student Council, and tries freshmen for violations of the honor system. If the honor council finds a student guilty, final judgment is made by the Student Council but if the first-year group finds him innocent there is no further trial.

Experience

Magill said that students elected would also receive much experience in leadership, and would have an opportunity to come in close contact with workings of the honor system.

The passbook topic came to the forefront after it was found that approximately 46 students were caught using their books illegally after the Duke-Carolina game.

PLAYMAKERS WILL GIVE TOUR PLAYS IN TONIGHT'S BILL

Production To Be Last Before Players Depart

The three-tour-bill plays which were previewed by the Playmakers last night will be presented again tonight. This will be the last opportunity which the campus will have to see these productions before the road trip, which will begin on Wednesday in Richmond.

From this point the group will proceed to the Guild theatre in Baltimore, Maryland, on November 25; to Roanoke College at Salem, Virginia, on November 27; to the Salem academy at Winston-Salem on November 29; to Greensboro college on November 30; to the North Carolina college for Negroes in Durham on December 1; to Elon college on December 2; to Goldsboro on December 3; and to the Hampton institute in Hampton, Virginia, on December 4.

Company

The tour company, including Professor Koch and Technical Advisor Professor Harry Davis, is comprised of Janet Pendleton, Lynette Heldman, Bedford Thurman, Vivian Veach, Elizabeth Malone, Fred Meyer, Daniel Nachtman, Joseph Lee Brown, Henry Bluestone, Paul Quinn, and Howard Richardson.

"Funeral Flowers for the Bride," "Leavin's," and "Sunday Costa Five Pesos" are the three plays to be presented.

Message From Wizard Prompts Union's Action

Browder To Speak

For the time being plans for the proposed debate between Communist Leader Earl Browder and Ku Klux Klansman Hiram Wesley Evans are being dropped, it was announced yesterday by Carolina Political Union Chairman Alex Heard.

In explaining the union's action in dropping the matter, Heard made the following statement:

"Despite the fact that both speakers have accepted our invitation to participate in the debate, which was tentatively scheduled for December 2, we have decided to cancel all plans for an affair of this sort.

"Although we had already made a decision in regard to the matter, our action was prompted by a message from the Imperial Wizard, in which he stated that he wishes to hold the debate during 1938, after Mr. Browder had already spoken here."

Heard said that the union had definitely decided to cancel the entire idea because of the following reasons:

Mr. Browder had been offered

CHIANG KAI-SHEK URGED TO SURRENDER BY JAPS

Shanghai, Nov. 22.—Japanese airmen making their first flight over Nanking since the Chinese transferred the capital to Chungking dropped a note today from the Japanese government urging Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek to surrender.

Only a note urging cessation of hostilities, not the usual rain of bombs, was released from a plane by Lieutenant McChifumi Nango, one of Japan's ace pilots. The Japanese fliers were attacked by Chinese pursuit planes, and after engaging them in very spectacular dog fights over Nanking, one of the Japanese scout planes crashed.

During the air battle there was very little anti-aircraft fire from the Chinese defenses. This was interpreted as a possible indication that some of the batteries had been moved to Chungking and Hankow to protect the new government headquarters in those cities.

The new Chinese war planes so nearly resembled the craft used by the Japanese that they puzzled ground defenses. Siren operators mistook the new fighting craft for Japanese, and allowed the danger signals to wail long after the raiders had gone.

Because China has recently received 50 new planes from Russia, it was believed that this demonstration was the debut of reinforcements for China's shattered air forces.

The mysterious message "advised" Chiang to end China's resistance and to surrender himself to the Japanese. A Japanese spokesman acknowledged that a personal message had been dropped at Nanking but would not disclose its contents.

The capture of Wushu, one of the last strongholds of China's Nanking defenses, was reported by Japanese.

STRIKERS LEAVE PLANT AFTER FIVE DAY SIT

Pontiac, Mich., Nov. 22.—General Motors strikers were led from the Fisher Body plant at 11:30 a. m. today by Homer Martin after holding the factory since Wednesday evening.

Martin, international president of the auto workers union, entered the plant at 10 a. m. When he emerged, he said that the strikers had voted unanimously to evacuate the plant.

The strike, which began without warning Wednesday when a few hundred members of the night shift refused to work because the company insisted upon the suspension of four men, blamed for a previous unauthorized strike, ended just as unexpectedly.

After coming out of the plant, Martin stated that "the men are ready to go back to work at any time; it is up to the corporation when they want to start operations."

He announced that all members of the Pontiac local would attend a mass meeting late today.

Honorable Mention Is Payed Co-Captain Little

Hackney On Second

In the fall football experts' thoughts turn to picking All-American teams. Yesterday in Cleveland, Harry Grayson and all the lads got together at a round table and, when everything was said and done, they had picked Carolina's own "Handy Andy" Bershak as first-team, All-America end. Crowell Little, co-captain with Bershak and quarterback of the Tar Heels, received honorable mention. Elmore Hackney of Duke was second-club quarterback.

Center

The other end spot goes to Villanova's Mr. Deeds, John Wysocki, and not Benton of Arkansas or Daddio of Pitt who were considered Andy's chief rivals for the "All" berths at the start of the season. The first string backfield is made up of Clint Frank of Yale, Marshall Goldberg of Pitt, Whizzer White of Colorado, and George Karamatic of Gonzaga.

First-string center is Charlie Brock of Nebraska. Fordham's Alex Wojciehowicz, who was every bit an All-American against Carolina, could only make the third team pivot berth. Other first-team line berths went to Frank Kinnard of Mississippi and Joseph Routh of Texas Aggies, tackles; Vard Stockton of California and Joseph Benior of Notre Dame, guards.

Coach Ray Wolf said last night, "I'm glad to see of Andy get that honor. He really deserved it. I'll be mighty surprised." (Continued on last page)

Students Urged To Contribute In YMCA Campaign

Funds From Drive Will Provide Thanksgiving Dinners For Chapel Hill Poor

Every student on the campus is urged to contribute today or tomorrow to the "Y" campaign for securing funds to provide Thanksgiving dinners for families in Chapel Hill who otherwise couldn't have one.

Boxes will be placed in the "Y" lobby for contributions of clothing, food, and money.

Cheer Homes

President Scott Hunter of the Y. M. C. A. urged that all students seriously consider giving what they could, as a little given by each would go a long way in cheering homes that otherwise might be sad during the holidays. (Continued on page two)

Co-Ed Will Play Joan Of Arc In Tilt With Senate

Game Starts At 3:30

By BOB PERKINS

The Phi Assembly's triple threat, Bobbie Harris, took charge of things yesterday and announced that she would play quarterback this afternoon in the annual Di-Phi football classic to be held on the intramural field at 3:30 o'clock.

Miss Harris spent yesterday afternoon trying to find a suitable uniform with 36 bust, 26 waist, and 36 hip measurements.

Unfair Competition

Members of the Di are said to have raised objections to Miss Harris playing on the ground that their sense of chivalry created a condition of unfair competition. Ted Blount will play quarterback opposite Miss Harris.

A committee was appointed to consult with Mrs. Stacy concerning the matter.

Female Ruling

The dean of women could not be reached yesterday and so far as can be learned has made no statement on the matter. How- (Continued on last page)

Dr. Robinson will consult with various members of the medical faculty concerning details of the construction of the new medical school plant.

FIVE STUDENTS INJURED IN TWO CAR ACCIDENTS

Four University students and Miss Alice Meares, employee at Wooten-Moulton's, were slightly injured in two automobile wrecks this weekend.

Word was received from the Watts hospital in Durham last night that Jim Hutchins and Miss Meares were brought to the hospital about nine o'clock following an automobile accident that happened while en route to Raleigh. No particulars could be learned before the Tar Heel went to press. Watts attendants stated that both of the local persons received head lacerations, but that neither was hurt seriously. Hutchins left the hospital last night following treatment and Miss Meares was expected to remain until this morning.

On Sunday night three other students were injured in a crash when the Model T Ford in which they were riding collided into a Durham bus about 10 o'clock between Durham and Chapel Hill.

Fred Stem, driver, received a sprained left arm, Marion Blount was cut about the face and head, and Owen Perry's hand was lacerated. Frank M. Rogers, fourth occupant of the car, sustained injuries.

The students were driving along the Durham road when the car ahead slowed down. The brakes of their car failed to hold and they turned out to pass but crashed into the oncoming bus and bounced into a nearby bridge.
